Services Are Held For Mrs. Kenefick on Monday

Several from Belmond attended the funeral of Mrs. Anna Kenefick, former Belmond resident, at Eagle Grove Monday morning. Mrs. Kenefick died Friday morning, and services were held at the Sacred Heart Church at Eagle Grove on Monday morning.

Burial was in the St. Francis cemetery in Belmond. Those from Belmond who attended the services were Mrs. Nora Underkofler, sister of Mrs. Kenefick, Mrs. Margaret Bailey and Maye Tracy.

Veterans And Beginners Talk About Gardening

All Report Good Yield Of Vegetables

Belmond residents have always raised vegetable gardens, but this year veteran gardeners have doubled their efforts, others who gave up gardening because they thought it didn't pay have returned to digging in the soil and some brand-new gardeners are having a fling at planting seeds, cultivating the ground, pulling weeds and reaping the harvest.

Mrs. Roy Henderson has managed a big garden for several years, but this year she has had to depend largely upon her own efforts to get the seeds in and keep the weeds down. The Henderson garden is equivalent to about one and one-half city lots in size and supplies a family of five with all the vegetables used on the table during the summer. Expectations this year are that about 300 quarts will be canned from the garden.

About everything that grows in a vegetable garden in this climate can be found there. So far there has been an abundance of peas, beans, carrots, beets, potatoes. This week, a head of cabbage was found that weighed approximately three pounds, and tomatoes are starting to ripen. Even Roy, who has no taste at all for gardening, has found time occasionally to help pick peas and beans.

Among the new gardeners are Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Larson, who started this year in quite a big way with about a half lot under cultivation. Of course, there was the time when the Larsons first moved to Belmond and Eva had a little garden, where, according to Dr. Larson and Ed Riggs, she tried to raise radishes in bunches such as she bought at the store.

In an interview with Mrs. Larson, she said "When we first talked about having a garden, my husband wondered if it would pay for the expense involved." She revealed that it has already paid for itself with the fresh vegetables it has supplied and the many cans of peas and beans preserved for winter use already. There are 109 tomato plants in the Larson garden besides sweet corn, potatoes, beets, carrots, cucumbers, as well as a small mellon patch which is the private project of son Larry.

Mrs. Donald Grillo, who had never raised a garden before this year and had never canned fruits and vegetables until this summer, told us about her little garden, and she says, "I guess I am having beginner's luck because my garden has done very well." She has had lots of advice from neighbors and friends and she remarked, "When I didn't know just what to do, I peeked through the bushes at the back of our yard to see how Mrs. Herman Schultz planted her garden."

Mrs. Grillo and sons: Donny, Gene and Jim have been making their home in Belmond since Feb. 1, while Dr. Grillo serves with the armed forces. They had lived in South Bend, Indiana, for eleven years before coming to Belmond this year. Mrs Grillo said, "The children never had a chance to watch things grow before. Donny wants his father to buy a farm when we go back to South Bend to live so that I can continue putting up jelly and beans."

Another active gardener this year, who isn't enthusiastic about the job, is Dr. L. R. Parsons. Remarks one hears about the Parsons' garden are all to the good, but Doctor himself has this to say, "I figured up all the time my wife and I spend in that garden pulling weeds and petting the peas so that they will grow, and it is worth about three cents an hour. Dr. Parsons estimates, however, that the potatoes he and F. L. Wagner planted together on the garden plot near the City water plant should produce about 75 bushels.

Dr. Parsons insists he doesn't like to garden and says "It certainly is no hobby of mine. Fishing is my hobby, but I thought this year with gas rationing and other complications I might as well make up my mind to spend my leisure hours in the garden fighting bugs and weeds instead of wrestling with a pike or a bass on the end of a fish line."

Dr. J. E. Wallace Was 90 Years Old July 8

Honored With Birthday Card Shower

Friends and relatives of Dr. J. E. Wallace remembered his 90th birthday on Thursday, July 8th, with approximately 125 birthday cards as well as gifts and flowers.

No special plans were made to hold open house on the occasion but many friends, neighbors and relatives called during the day. The birthday card shower was arranged by his two daughters: Mrs. Edwin King of Winner, South Dakota, and Mrs. Edward Wilkins of near Alexander.

Among the cards Dr. Wallace received was one from his Alma Mater, New York University, and one from the present governor of South Dakota, M. Q. Sharp, who as an attorney at Oacoma, became acquainted with Dr. and Mrs. Wallace about 12 years ago when they were living on Dr. Wallace's ranch in that state. Gifts included three birthday cakes and a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

At 90 years of age Dr. Wallace is in good health, is mentally alert and physically active.

J. Elliott Wallace was born near Cadiz, Ohio, in 1853. In 1855 he came to eastern Iowa with his parents, and in 1861, the year the Civil War broke out, the Wallace family moved to a large farm near Hampton, Iowa.

During the early years of his life, everything seemed to point towards medicine as a career, although he had no particular ambition to be a doctor. He enrolled at the Cedar Valley Seminary at Osage in 1877. After that he taught school for a time northeast of Osage and then studied medicine at New York University. He was graduated from the Bellevue Medical School in 1890.

After graduating from Bellevue the young doctor came to Belmond as surgeon for the Rock Island railroad from Dows to Estherville. Here he was married and had one daughter, Leona, born in 1892. His first wife died, and in 1899 he was married to Mae Dasforth of Des Moines. There was a son. Bernard born in 1901 and a daughter, Jessie, born in 1908. Bernard was graduated from Hampton high school in 1917. He contracted pneumonia and died shortly after enrolling in the University of Iowa for a course in pre-medicine.

In 1904 the Wallaces left Belmond for a trip to Colorado. They made their home for a short time in Sioux City and in 1908 moved to the Doctor's 2500 acre ranch near Chamberlain, S. Dak. For about 10 years he managed his ranch, served as justice of the peace, president of the school board, and as physician to a large territory. After the fall of 191[illegible] Dr. Wallace divided his time between Belmond and the ranch in South Dakota, but in 1931 came back to Belmond to stay.

COSTING LESS

There is one thing that is costing us less instead of more in these higher-living times: the operation of our automobiles.

We don't drive nearly as hard or nearly as far as we used to do, so of course we don't spend as much on gas and oil and upkeep of our automobiles. Furthermore, less driving means less expense otherwise. We don't eat as often, we don't play as often and we don't shop as often away from home. Even our automobile insurance premiums have had a substantial reduction because fewer accident claims have been made with people driving slower, safer, saner.

Incidentally the combined savings made from the more limited use of our automobiles should go a long ways in meeting war bond quotas and exceeding them.

—V—

WE ADMIRE HIM

Although we don't understand the trouble that has caused the arguments between Vice-President Henry Wallace, of the Board of Economic Welfare, and Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, we do have at least one remark in this connection. We admire Vice-President Wallace for his courage in speaking out publicly against groups or individuals on matters on which he disapproves, particularly in view of the forthcoming national election in the not so distant future.

Contrary to the practice of too many of our politicians who look forward to re-election to public office, Wallace apparently spoke out on what he believed instead of voicing the opinions of powers that might help him in 1944. He is receiving both criticism and commendation. For our part, regardless of politics, we admire him.

—V—

HELPFUL, ISN'T IT?

Peacetime requirements of canned vegetables are around 100 million cases. The requirements for war are unquestionably greater. Canned goods for soldiers, canned goods for families where the cook is doing war work, canned goods for increased eating away from the homes which ordinarily raise vegetables. All along the line there is need for increase. In face of these greater needs here is a digest of what a Wisconsin canner got in Washington trying to solve his help problem:

Question: Can you supply male help for our canning plant to preserve food?

Answer: No, no help for canning plants, only for farmers.

Question: Then will you allow me to pay enough wages to get the help?

Answer: No, not for the canning plants. You can increase wages on the farms and in defense plants, but not in the canning plants.

It is small wonder that congressmen have been getting up on their heels in demanding fewer braintrusters and more business men in running bureaus of regimentation in Washington.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Mark Sullivan, veteran commentator, said a true word in one of his syndicated letters the other day. He was discussing the need that James F. Byrnes, new war management czar, stand firm against pressure groups of which at the present moment labor is the chief and he added the following pregnant remark: "Resistance to group pressure is a thing in which the president has not been strong, on account of both his temperament and the politics involved."

The statement is restrained, but we think that it is absolutely true and bears out our contention that no man can meet such problems adequately if considerations as to his own re-election are in the back of his mind. "Politics as usual" ought not to be permitted in a situation like ours but the big question is how to obliterate it.—Grinnell Herald-Register.

—V—

Public banquets should be frowned down for the duration. Too much food is wasted at banquets. More is served than necessary and what is left goes into the garbage can. Not only is food wasted at such functions, but the banqueters eat more than is good for them. When it comes to eating and drinking we believe the American people on the whole are the most foolish in the world. And we believe that is also true of the use of tobacco.—Webster City Freeman.

—V—

Another foolish idea that has crept into our political practices is that an office holder is entitled to a second nomination, regardless of his first term record. It is regarded as rather impertinent for a republican to ask for the nomination to succeed a one-termer in office and he is met with the "argument" that "the incumbent is entitled to a second term." It was quite generally conceded by republican leaders that Herbert Hoover could not be elected to a second term in 1932, but they insisted that he was entitled to the nomination nevertheless.—Webster City Freeman.

—V—

W. Earl Hall in the M. C. G.-G. is still belaboring "our miserably long grab and bag" election ballot, and in that connection Tom Purcell of the Hampton Chronicle renews the suggestion that all candidates for minor state offices (say all but governor and lieutenant governor(be nominated at state party conventions, as in the old days. But what's the use of talking about it any more? Practically everybody is for it, but for some mysterious reason the legislature takes no action.—Algona Advance.

—A—

Uncle Sam is an easy mark when it comes to money. It seems perfectly legitimate to charge him the limit when he makes a purchase. Especially is this true in time of war. The price he pays for war equipment will make you gasp. For instance he pays up to half million dollars each for one of the large four-motor bombers; airplane carriers cost up to $71,000,000 and big battleships $25,000,000 more than that. It cost $145,000 for a 60-ton tank, and $45,000 for a bab y tank. An airplane engine costs from $12,000 to $14,000, and the larger airplane propellers cost up to $3200 each—the price of a modern cottage. Each Garand rifle costs $80 and we use millions and millions of them. To equip our larger planes with radio costs $20,000, and every time a battleship fires a salvo from its sixteen inch guns, either in fight or practice it costs $13,000. Is it any wonder that we are being called on frequently to buy more bonds, and will be called on to pay tax burdens through all the years to come?—Marian Sentinel.

"Only because civilizations collapse do we learn to build them better," says A. Powell Davies, a clergyman of Summit, N. J. "Otherwise human life would be incurably corrupted by what it would complacently endure." The one compensation for the miseries of the war is its prospect for ridding the world of cancerous evils of the past.—Mankato Free Press.

Whether Willkie runs again for presi'nt or not he has proved he can go places and see things and tell a convincing story about it all. "One World" has helped Wilkie's cause since it proves he does understand world problems. We can use men as president who have eyes that can see and ears that can hear.—Marshalltown Times Republican.

I just got off guard duty and I am really tired. This morning I went through my mail and re-read all the letters. I want to keep them as long as possible, but when we leave here, all letters will have to be destroyed.

I received letters from Claude, Bert and Doc Nelson this morning, was happy to learn that Don Benson had received his commission and had a furlough home. Maybe we'll meet in Tokio! !.

I have been wonuering how the C & H Hog Raisers are getting along? (Christie and Hake). Probably I can help them corral their four-legged porkers in the hills south of Belmond some time in 1945. Hake may think I can give him a lift in 1944, but I have another job to finish before that.

It is probably hard for Hake to Shanghai his help now, especially since I left town. He used to circulate the word about town how he got his cheap labor. I am referring to a little incident that happened several years ago.

Hake asked me if I would like to take a little ride, and said he would be coming right back. We went to a field north of Belmond where he had purchased some hay to have baled and sent down to his farm. After working for him about three hours on a tractor, I guess he thought I had done enough because he then made arrangements for me to get back to town on one of the trucks.

Prittle... Prattle....

Well, last week was quite a week at the Independent. A holiday the first day of the week always upsets the regular schdule of a newspaper and makes the following week almost as bad. But that is only part of the story .

P—P

Rochester has been giving our Wallace the "twice-over" for the past two weeks and Barney is our contribution to the shortage of help on the farm. With that handicap to start with the Independent proceeded to sponsor its own version of "Spitalny's All-Girl Orchestra.'

P—P

Eva led the hana on her typewriter, Sofie kept the rhythm with the linotype while Louise added to the harmony on her typewriter. All the old man, himself, had to do was fill in the breaks in the back shop. On Thursday, Imogene Fjetland, became, not our printer's devil, but our printer's demon-ess and began tapping out a few light notes as she threw in the type.

P—P

Yep, there'll always be an Independent and though a notice that we would be one day late last week, because of the holiday, appeared on the front page, forty some subscribers had called by Thursday evening wondering what had happened to their copies of the Independent.

P—P

A poor father in the draft age group doesn't rate either at home or in the powers-that-be in Washington. His feelings are not considered. For instance—one day the big shots say they'll draft fathers by August—the next day they'll go by September—then congress starts saying they won't go at all—and then the selective service says they'll go soon—and then they won't. If it wasn't for the fact that fathers are accustomed to being bewildered by feminine changes of mind the poor goops would lose their minds trying to figure it out. —Hodge Podge, Kossuth County Advance.

P—P

We aren't sure, but it is our guess that the M. E. pastor, Harlan W. Faris, remembers most distinctly the stint he did one morning on a neighboring farm not far from his home in Aredale. The incident must have happened some 12 or 13 years ago but age, as it does sometimes, has improved the story.

P—P

It seems that Harlan offered to help with the discing one day and was confident he could hitch up the team and go ahead without any help. At noon he came in and exclaimed that discing apparently was a waste of time, that he couldn't see where it was doing any good. His employer slipped out to the field after dinner and discovered that Faris had gone over the field without setting the discs.

Declare War On Waste!

6 Wartime Lighting Suggestions-----

1. Clean lamp bowls and lamp bulbs frequently to get from 25 to 30 per cent more light from lamps you have.

2. Use white shades or shades with white linings (repaint them if necessary). Dark shades waste light.

3. Sit close enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes. A difference of a few inches may mean 50 per cent less light.

4. Avoid direct glare from lamp bulbs or bowl by using shades that are deep enough and big enough.

5. Place each lamp so that it puts no glare in the eyes of either person using it.

6. Arrange lamps and furniture so that each lamp can serve two or more people, if possible.

OBITUARY

Mary Evelyn Dochterman

Mary Evelyn Dochterman, nee Trees, oldest daughter of James and Alice Trees, was born on August 30th, 1875, in Champaign County, Ill.

On the 13th of September, 1900, she was united in marriage to Henry Dochterman. To this union was born one daughter, Lucille, and later another child, Arlene, was taken into the home.

She was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal church all her life and was faithful until death.

In 1936 she left Belmond to make her home in Washington, D. C. with her daughter, Lucille, where she passed away Tuesday morning, June 29, 1943, at the age of 67 years, 9 months and 29 days.

Her husband preceded her in death in January, 1935.

One of her outstanding characteristics was her goodness and thoughtfuless in doing for others. Her first thoughts were always for others in spite of the self-sacrifice it often meant. She was a kind and loving mother and will be missed by all who knew her.

She leaves to mourn her departure her two daughters, Lucille C. Frederick, Washington, D. C., Arlene A. Dochterman, Washington, D. C. one grandson, Robert Glen Frederick, two sisters, Mrs. Cora Madison, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Estella Forristall, Des Moines, Iowa, and one brother, Howard Trees, Belmond, Iowa, and many other relatives.

Jacob Franklin Henn

Jacob Franklin Henn, son of John and Priscilla Henn, was born at Ackley, Iowa, May 25, 1875, and died at his home in Belmond on July 3, 1943, making him 68 years, 1 month and 8 days old.

When but six months of age he moved with his parents to the vicinity of Belmond. Here he grew to manhood. As a young man he spent five years in Minnesota and South Dakota. He then returned to Belmond, rented his father's farm, and went to farming for himself. He batched for four years and then was married to Grace F. Schuler on Feb. 22, 1906. To this union were born five children. In December, 1936, he retired from the farm and moved to town. Here he lived until his death.

Mr. Henn is survived by his wife and five children, John of Belmond, Harley of Belmond, Mrs. Tillie Meints of Belmond, William of Terril, Iowa, and Elmer of Norville, Michigan. He also leaves a brother George, whose address is at present unknown. There are also twelve grandchildren. In addition to his parents two sisters, Mrs. John L. Pals and Mrs. George Ell, preceded him in death.

A kind and good father, Mr. Henn will be greatly missed by his many relatives and friends.

Burial was in the cemetery in Belmond immediately following the service.

You call it Bread . . .
your ancestors would have called it Cake

Your daily bread is nutrition in one of its finest and most appetizing forms—and today it saves ration points. We Americans can be grateful that our country produces an abundance of this perfect 'staff of life'.

We can be grateful, too, to science for the greatly improved quality of our daily bread. It has been tremendously enriched. Its texture is finer, its appearance and flavor more inviting.

Did you ever wonder how many millions of pounds of yeast are required each year to leaven the nation's bread? Did you know that yeast must be absolutely fresh when it reaches the baker? Thanks to a network of specialized delivery services plus modern refrigeration, bakers in even remote parts of America get their yeast fresh and on time.

The Baker's Yeast Division of Anheuser-Busch supplies bakers with yeast for a large part of the nation's bread. Now nearly 15 percent of our entire output goes to the Army. This service to civilian bakers and our armed forces resulted from applying to food the knowledge gained from years of laboratory work in producing the world-famous Budweiser.

Mae Chapman Weds Robert Drury

Miss Mae Irene Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, was united in marriage to Robert Fowler Drury, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Drury of Kanawha at the Belmond Congregational church on Sunday, July 11 at three o'clock.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Foster Beck, pastor of the church, while soft strains of organ music were played by Mrs. C. C. Griesy. Mrs. Inga Steele sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length dress of navy blue with tan accessories and her corsage was of pink roses and baby breath .

Miss Lucille Chapman, sister of the bride, and Marjorie Rosheim of Mason City, were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were navy blue trimmed in white. Miss Chapman wore a corsage of yellow roses and baby breath and Miss Rosheim wore a corsage of red roses.

The groom was attended by Raymond Cline of Goodell. They both wore dark brown suits. Mr. Drury wore a red rose boutonniere and Mr. Cline wore a yellow rose boutonniere.

The ushers were Merle Ruka and Donald Norris.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement for around one hundred friends and relatives. A three tiered wedding cake served as the centerpiece for the bride's table, and garden flowers completed the decoration. Hostesses were Jean Ahlstrom, Ruth Hinman, Abbie Doris Bonte, Bernadine Barry, Arlene LaValle and Arlene Sheriff.

Mrs. Drury is a graduate of the Belmond High School with the class of 1941. She has been teaching in a rural school.

Mr. Drury is a graduate of the Goodell High School with the class of 1939 and has been farming on his father's farm since graduation.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Kanawha.

Those present at the wedding reception from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ruka and Gary of Goodell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hadley and Celeste, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hadley and Miss Esther Fowler of Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cox of Popejoy, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Truesdale, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris, Mrs. Mary Drury and Mr. and Mrs. Almon Drury of Dows, Mrs. Albert Schlichting of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stevens and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stevens and Darlene, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevens, Mrs. Harriet Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Darland all of Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor of Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. George Norris of Mason City and Mrs. Harlan Mellott of Goodell, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Watkins and family of Iowa Falls.

Surprised On Birthday

A group of ladies surprised Mrs. Henry Eide on Monday, July 12, the occasion being her birthday. An enjoyable afternoon was spent. The ladies furnished a delicious lunch. Those present were Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. Julius Johnson and Margery, Mrs. Glenn Russell and daughter, Mrs. Tom Toft, Mrs. Helge Eide and Sharon, and Mrs. Harland Eide and Ronnie The group presented her with a gift.

Are your cows switching flies or making milk?

THE SUMMER slump in milk production is not entirely a natural phenomenon. Cows that are eternally aggravated by flies don't have much time to graze and chew their cuds and make milk. Fly time is milk-slump time.

Protect your cows from fly torture with Dr. Hess Fly Spray. This product is both a fly killer and a fly repeller. It kills flies in the stable and it protects cows from flies in the pasture.

Dr. Hess Fly Spray has been tested as a fly killer and a fly repeller. Costs little to use, 1 tablespoonful of milk, per teat, at each milking, pays for the Spray.

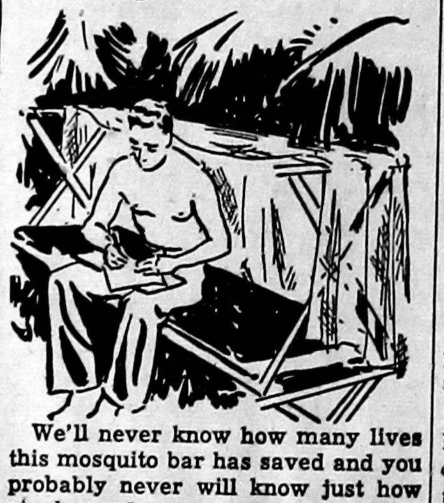
What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Mosquito Bar

Among the casualties returning to the United States from the Solomons are men who have lost their hearing, not from injury, not from shock, but from attack by insects upon men who have been without mosquito bar protection.



We'll never know how many lives this mosquito bar has saved and you probably never will know just how much good your purchases of War Bonds have done, but you should know that regular and increasing purchases are necessary.

U. S. Treasury Department

Ninety-six cents out of every dollar goes for War expenditures. The other four cents goes for Government expenses "as usual."

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Although wounded by a Jap's vicious hooked bayonet in hand-to-hand combat on Guadalcanal, Marine Pfc. Harold Pazofsky of Brooklyn, N. Y., finally succeeded in cutting his opponent down with his machete. Our boys are willing to spend their lives. How much more can you afford to lend by increasing your Payroll Savings allotment? Take a pencil and figure it out.

QUARTER CENTURY

For 25 years, the same officers and board directors have served School District No. 2 Palermo township, Grundy county. The school has been closed for 30 years, but the pupils are sent to the Grundy Center school with the rural district paying the tuition. The school board holds regular meetings each year. The average age for five directors is 74 years—the oldest one is 91 and the youngest is 64.

NOT TOO OLD

Whooping cough has no respect for age, B. F. Rittgers, of Humboldt has learned. The 80-year-old man recently contracted the disease—the second time for him during his lifetime.

LARGEST YIELD

A new world corn yield record of 79 bushels per acre was reached in Palermo township, Grundy county, last year. An average yield of 75 bushels per acre was attained by 36 other Iowa townships.

CORNELIA

Robert Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brooks, was home on Sunday from the navy. He is at Great Lakes. Other callers at the Brooks home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Maace and family of Dows, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Benson and son, Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Buchan, all of Clarion, and Mr. Pete Benson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Belmond and Mr. and Mrs. Beenen of Latimer were Sunday dinner guests at the Clyde Ambrose home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Wilson of Forest City were dinner guests at the Reece Redmond home Sunday.

LARGE BOUNTY

During the past two and one-half months, 3,028 groundhog scalps have been turned into the office of Fremont county auditor. The bounty for each groundhog scalp has been increased to 50c per scalp in that county and many individuals are making use of a little extra spending money. Ed Wallace has turned in 340; Jim Yonke turned in 113 at one time, and many small boys are earning bounty money in their spare time.

ONE WAY OUT

Donald Cornelius, Jamaica, and Francis Harris, Bagley, were fined $10 and costs for driving a car without a driver's license. Because they lacked money to pay the fine, they sold the car to obtain the cash necessary.

TWO ROOFS

For a while the house belonging to Clem Diers of Bancroft could boast of having two roofs. A recent wind storm carried part of the roof of an implement shop to the Diers house and deposited it on the roof. Other parts of the implement building roof landed on Leonard Hatten's garage, wrecking the building and turning over the Hatten automobile.

What You Buy With

WAR BONDS

Prevents the "Bends"

Before our fighting pilots take to the air for stratosphere flying they must be "suped-up." To do this the pilot just before he takes off pedals a stationary motor driven bicycle to reduce the amount of nitrogen in his blood. Otherwise gas bubbles would collect in his blood stream.

The stationary bicycle is an inexpensive piece of equipment, but the vast quantities of this and other materials of war make it imperative for all of us to keep our fighting men well supplied by greater and greater purchases of War Bonds.

GENERAL FORREST Said It!

"Get thar fustest with the mostest," General Nathan Bedford Forrest's famous victory formula was followed by Hitler and the Japs for a while. Now it's our turn . . . and how WE'RE following it . . . more than 100,000 war planes already in the air . . . eight million men under arms and more coming up . . . America is turning out the most of everything.

America is depending upon the railroads to get there first with the most . . . the most men and planes . . . tanks and jeeps . . . guns and munitions . . . food . . . supplies. The long trains speeding by—night and day, week in and week out—getting there first with the most NOW, must bring a smile of satisfaction to General Forrest's ghost.

The railroads are now handling the world's toughest transportation job . . . and it's going to get tougher. Rolling stock and roadbeds are taking more punishment than they have ever had to take before. They'll keep on taking it—keep on delivering. And they'll do an even better job when needed replacements are obtainable.

ROCK ISLAND'S Program of Planned Progress, begun seven years ago to serve a nation at peace, is vital in serving the nation at war. After the war when victorious America and her heroic sons will demand . . . and deserve . . . the finest, in transportation as in everything else, that Program must continue. We must establish now the financial reserve from which to supply the facilities for the finer transportation peace-time America will expect.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

LEFT TO WRITE

By Lou Gardner

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily conform to the editorial policy of this newspaper.

LACK OF CANDOR

Senator Geo. A. Wilson, back from Washington to meet his two sons home on furlough from the army, deprecates a lack of candor and frankness in Washington. He says this is causing confusion in the war effort, and exists not only between the President and congress, but also among the many agencies. One has only to follow the daily press casually to arrive at the opinion that the Senator is quite right. The Wallace-Jones bickering, the Chester Davis resignation, and the blanket of seclusion which has suddenly been thrown around James Byrnes recently heralded as the czar of all agencies, emphasizes the correctness of Senator Wilson's observation.

Changes His Mind

Senator Wilson called attention to a piece of inconsistency on the part of Assistant Secretary of War Patterson which shows something of the lack of candor to which he refers. The Assistant Secretary appeared before a congressional committee in June and said that 100,000 civilian employes could be dropped from the payroll. When an appropriation bill was drawn with that figure in mind, Patterson explained that what he meant was that 100,000 could be spared until June 30th. Somewhere between the two dates Patterson evidently changed his mind. Perhaps he had heard from above. This administration is not willingly dropping men from any payroll; not so long as the fourth term is in the schedule.

Cost Of Administration

In his observation on the roll-back subsidies, Senator Wilson struck at the very core of the problem when he said: "It is better to give the farmer parity in the market place than to collect it from the taxpayer. Cost of administration would be tremendous." Inflation cannot be met by spreading gifts for production at piled up costs for administration.. The most direct thrust that might be taken at inflation would be to cut to the bone the costs of administering every governmental department and agency.

Does Not Ecourage Strikes

The Senator, speaking of the labor situation, denied that the anti-strike bill will encourage strikes. He voiced the layman's idea of this problem when he declared that it is "incongruous that people should stand around thumbing their noses at the commander-in-chief, refusing to mine coal used in our vital war industries." It is just beyond understanding that any group of individuals should stand in position, by means of strikes or any other action, to imperil the service of men who have been drafted to offer their lives in behalf of their country. As the father of two sons, both of whom volunteered, the Senator could not in his expression be far from the opinion of others with sons or relatives in army or navy.

QUARRELING BUREAUCRATS

That feud between Jesse Jones and Vice President Wallace has all the bitterness of a quarrel which has been brewing for months. The boys have been talking very frankly. Their charges and countercharges substantiate a lot of the criticism which has been hurled at Washington bureaus. Perhaps the airing will do some good in tightening up the lines in our war effort. Really, nobody cares about their personal piques. The public merely wants action which will not impede the war effort. If one may judge from the Wallace-Jones quarrel there is something to do in that direction.

DOES NOT LOWER COSTS

The appeal for the spreading of millions in subsidies to prevent inflation by "saving the housewife" five cents a pound on butter is very misleading. Paying subsidies does not lower prices. It merely hides the true price, a part of which is thus buried beneath the red tape and salaries of administration. Taking five cents a pound from butter or any other article at the buying market only calls for selling bonds to get back the five cents and along with it salaries of those who are on the payrolls. Subsidies are a continuation of the New Deal method of spreading borrowed funds. Borrowing and spending have been just about the only remedies the New Deal has offered for the ills of the country during the past ten years.

PACKED AND WRAPPED

The Iowa-Nebraska boundary dispute, neatly packed by the legislatures of both states, has been wrapped and tied by congress. It is now delivered to these two neighbors and will be the basis of all their future relations bearing on the dividing line between them. The Missouri river had changed its course and made the original boundary line a matter of dispute by throwing Nesraska land onto the Iowa side, and Iowa land onto the Nebraska side. The center of the Missouri river channel is now the boundary line with the exception of the town of Carter Lake which remains in Iowa although west of the center of the channel. In the agreement Iowa gave up 9,000 acres of land to Nebraska, and took over 4,100 acres. The agreement is in line with what good neighbors should do to get along in peace and harmony. It will simplify the work of taxing lands along the river, and also the problems of law enforcement.

A VERY SOUND OUTLOOK

Iowa starts the 1943-45 biennium under most promising conditions in its state finances. With combined balances of over 54 millions there is every reason to believe that the coming two years will be marked by efficiency and economy in the administration of state affair. Collections of special taxes which form the support of the several funds, show indication of holding to excellent averages. War requirements have cut into some of them, but not to any injurious extent as yet. There is reason to believe that the past fiscal year has been a fair test of how these funds will withstand the challenges of war during the next two years. A most significant sign that reduced or abated state property taxes will continue to be a possibility, is found in the fact that appropriations for the 1943-45 period are $1,215,997 lower than for the past fiscal year. The coming biennium should mark the continuance of a sound fiscal condition of the treasury under Republican administration.

.... THE VITAL POINT ....

Senator Vandenberg wrote a constituent that the Smith-Connally anti-strike bill "has just one purpose, namely, to prevent interruptions in the production of war goods necessary to sustain our sons at the fighting front. Whatever may be the political consequences (to which you refer) of supporting such an objective, let the chips fall where they may. What happens to be politically is of no moment to me or to the country, but what happens to our fighting sons is of vital concern to all of us."

Well written, Senator.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Pig Boat

At sea on a submarine isn't exactly the "life of Riley." In the Battle of the Atlantic, or on the great stretches of the Pacific these sailors know the hazards of their work.

One of the spots aboard these "Pig Boats" that all crew members enjoy is the galley, or kitchen. Space limitations prevent an elaborate setup, but cooks aboard these vessels are justly proud of the meals they prepare for their crews. Your increased purchase of War Bonds helps make submarine life as pleasant as possible. U. S. Treasury Department

Vegetable Clearing House At Independent

Will Keep Information On Surplus Vegetables

Cooperating with the local Victory Garden committee which distributed information about gardening and urged Belmond people to do their utmost this year, the Belmond Independent will act as a clearing house for surplus vegetables during the next few weeks.

Many Belmond families are finding that their Victory gardens are supplying them with more vegetables for table use and canning than they need, while others are either running short or did not have an opportunity to raise a garden at all.

In order to handle surplus vegetables efficiently and dispose of them quickly when they are at their best, the Wright County Victory Garden committee has suggested that some organization in a community take the responsibility of taking the names of people who want vegetables and also the names of persons who have them for sale. This is what the Belmond Independent will attempt to do. A card file will be kept at the Independent office beginning immediately, and persons wishing to dispose of vegetables or to buy vegetables are urged to leave the information here.

All About Men And Their Victory Gardens

Some Like the Job While Others Give Credit To Their Wives

Last week we found out what some of the Belmond ladies think about caring for a Victory garden. This week we asked some of the business men up and down Main street about their gardening interests.

We found that Belmond men are either definitely enthusiastic about working in a garden or emphatically against being roped in on the job. It has been our observation, however, that the men who just can't be bothered with gardening—even with a lot of pressure this year both from within and without the home—are so swamped with other patriotic duties for their community or their country that they have neither the energy to wield a hoe nor the inclination to discuss the matter.

B. C. Hewlett doesn't care to mix gardening with banking. He says, "I don't like gardening. Years ago my wife gave up trying to get me to help raise vegetables." We happen to know that Mrs. Hewlett herself does a good job in the garden.

Ben Fetrow says, "I have the finest bunch of Kentucky Wonder pole beans you ever saw and shall be glad to exhibit them to anyone who doubts my word. We have had lots of fresh vegetables from our garden this year and a good variety including endive, broccoli, beets, kohlrabi. The only trouble with our garden is that it isn't big enough. We eat everything as soon as it's ready and haven't enough left over to do any canning."

Ben says that his brother, Albert, has a real garden, about three times the size of his own and that he takes care of it almost entirely by himself.

We found out how Al Mennenga manages to have such a good garden from his wife, who happens to be chairman of the local Victory Garden committee. It seems as though Al is always telling Mrs. Mennenga how much he likes to garden but never finds time to do it. One can't blame him this year because in the evenings after he finishes work he has been going out in the country to help some farmer with his harvesting, working as late as 10:00 o'clock on clear evenings.

Louis Foss, Hoyt Klemme and Ed Kennedy all give credit to their wives for the gardening that is done at their homes. Hoyt says, "Our garden is in my wife's name." Asked if he ever helped his wife out when she got swamped with canning he replied, "I'm not much good around the house. Very poor help really."

Harold Nielsen has a fine looking potato patch this year and doesn't hesitate to take the credit for it. He estimates that the potato crop from his garden will supply the family with enough to last all winter.

Didn't get a chance to talk to C. C. Benson, but we have seen him working in the garden often this summer. Early in the morning before breakfast is the time Claude enjoys gardening the most, although he and his wife spend many evenings working together.

Was surprised to see what a big garden George Hake boasts. We can't reveal just where it is located, because it includes a melon patch, but it is part of the "C & H Ranch" in south Belmond. Hake's truck garden covers about four acres and includes sweet corn, squash, cucumbers, potatoes, melons, and at least 150 tomato plants. He has so many great northern beans that he talks about having someone come in to combine them. What we didn't find out from Hake was whether he actually does the gardening himself or whether he "Shanghai's" his help.

Burglar Alarm At First State Bank Arouses Quiet Belmond Tuesday

A little excitement and curiosity aroused folks on Main street from the usual quietness of noon hour on Tuesday when the burglar alarm at the First State Bank sounded and continued ringing for about five minutes.

It is thought that a short in the wiring caused the bell to ring when the lights all around town went out for a short time. During the many years that the alarm has guarded the safety of the local bank, it has rung but a few times, and all of these times the cause was accidental.

Pete Made Good Catch And Brought Fish Home From River to Prove It

Pete English and Henry Johnson came back from fishing in the Iowa river recently with a good fish story. This one was different from some of the fish stories one hears because they brought the fish along home to prove it.

Pete landed a six pound northern pike which, according to experienced fishermen, is a pretty good catch for these parts. It measured about 30 inches in length. Where in the Iowa river can one catch such fish? That is a secret Pete won't reveal.

Former Belmond Teacher Trains for Work As Hostess With Airline

Miss Harriett Marshall of Glenwood who was formerly fourth grade teacher in the Belmond school will begin service as hostess on the airplanes of the Mid Continent Airlines August 1st. Miss Marshall has been taking training for this service at Kansas City for the past several weeks.

Mid Continent Airlines fly the Lockheed Lodestar planes carrying 14 passengers. The regular schedule is from Kansas City to Minneapolis with short flights to Tulsa, Oklahoma and Des Moines.

To Conduct Drying and Brining Demonstration Here Next Wednesday

Miss Elizabeth Deihl, county extension home economist, will conduct six drying and brining demonstration in Wright County in the weeks of July 26th to August 5th. Demonstrations will begin at 2 p. m. and will be over by 4 p. m. Everyone who wishes to provide variety in wartime meals through different home preserved fruits and vegetables may want to attend one of the meetings.

The meetings will be held as follows:

Friday, July 23—Eagle Grove—school house.

Tuesday, July 27 — Clarion—basement of Odd Fellows hall.

Wednesday, July 28—Belmond—basement of Odd Fellows hall.

Thursday, July 29 — Vernon township—Norway church basement.

Friday, July 30—Norway township—Mrs. J. C. Ahrends home.

Wednesday, August 4—Dows —school house.

There will be an opportunity for discussion of current canning and freezing problems. Canning and freezing calendars will be available to those who did not receive them at the canning demonstrations held earlier this year.

Iowans Urged To Double War Bond Quotas

Is Necessary To Supply Increased Needs

Des Moines, Iowa, July 14, '43

Iowa's County War Finance Committees were today called upon to more than double their sales quotas for the remainder of the year in keeping with the needs of the Government for increased funds with which to fight the battle of Europe.

In place of $25 bonds, Iowans must start buying $50 and $100 War Bonds, a special bulletin to all County Chairmen says.

The U. S. Treasury Department is now preparing new quotas for all states in keeping with the new

Cpl. Green Writes From Germany

Cpl. Roy C. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Green writes his first card from a prison camp in Germany March 25 which arrived here this week. Cpl. Green says that he is well and will write more later and indicates that he would like to get some letters from home. Mr. and Mrs. Green had received word on March 10 that their son was missing in action in North Africa February 17, and didn't hear again until May 10 when they learned he was a German prisoner of war.

Begins Training

Gordon R. Lonning is enrolled in the State Teachers College at Maryville, Missouri, under the Navy's V-12 program. He enlisted in the naval reserve last winter while attending Waldorf College at Forest City, Iowa.

Arthur P. Traeger has been transferred from Jacksonville, Florida, to the air fleet at Alameda, Calif. He is now a petty officer, second class.

Receive First Word From War Prisoner

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jenison of Belmond, this week received the first letter from their son, Kenneth, since his imprisonment somewhere in Germany.

Kenneth writes: "Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and fine and wish you a happy Easter. Hope you have received my other letters and have gone to the Red Cross to see how and what kind of a box you can send. I still prefer those chocolate bars. Try to include a packet of coffee or cocoa too. Well, folks, everything is still about the same with me here. How is everything there? It has been quite some time since I've heard from you so when you write tell me all the news because I sure am looking forward to your letters. I guess next Easter I will be there with you. Say hello to everyone for me. Because my letters are limited I'll write them all to you and you can say that you have heard from me. Well, I'll close for this time and hope this finds you all in the best of health and spirit. Love, your son, Kenneth.

Visits Father

Donald Finn is home on leave from the navy visiting his father, John Finn, until August 1. He has been in the U. S. Naval hospital at Long Beach, Calif., for the past twelve weeks with a broken leg.

Hear From Sons

Mr. and Mrs C. H. Hass received a letter from their son Lowell, on Monday. Lowell is in Australia and this was the first letter they had received in a month. Their son Walter has recently been transferred from North Carolina to Iowa City, and another son, John, has just been transferred from Maryland to California.

Friends Meet

Pvt. Wm. Duane "Hap" Corwin has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Corwin at Sheffield, that he is somewhere in England. He had a pass to meet Eli Pearl in London on July 19th. Both of these fellows worked at the Hub Garage in Belmond.

Is Transferred

Peter A. Steenblock, first class petty officer, and son of Mrs. Harm Steenblock, was recently transferred from Chicago to the Unisity of Minneapolis.

Resumes Training

Eugene Johnson has resumed his studies in college through the A. S. T. P. and is now enrolled at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. He will receive eighteen months further training for the army.

Visits Parents

Arrives In Iran

A letter received this week from Curtis Chamberlin reports that he is now stationed in Iran, after a voyage of about two months He spent a few days in Perth, Australia, and Bombay, India. The temperature in Iran on the day the letter was written was 150 degrees.

Eggers In Army Air Force Cadets

Delos H. Eggers, age 17, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Benson of Belmond, has successfully qualified for future aviation cadet training for the Army Air Forces, according to an announcement today from the aviation cadet examining board in the Des Moines army recruiting headquarters.

When he is called for training, preparatory work includes five months of study at a selected college. Then training as a bombardier, pilot, or navigator begins.

Former Belmond Boy Now Plane Mechanic

Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss, July 19.—Pfc. Milford F. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peters, Route 2, Dows, Iowa, was graduated as an airplane mechanic this morning from the B-24 Liberator bomber school at this unit of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

Private Peters, with 17 weeks of intensive training behind him, is now ready for assignment to line duty wherever the big Liberators are operating. It will be his job, not to fly them, but to keep them in good flying condition so they will perform effectively.

Lloyd Wagoner was home from Seattle, Wash., for a few days. He was enroute to Chicago where he will go to school for four months. Then he will return to Seattle.

ALEXANDER

Pvt. Walter Blau of Camp J. T. Robinson near Little Rock, Ark., arrived here Thursday morning to spend a five-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blau, and other relatives and friends. He left Tuesday to return to his camp.

Report Made On Scrap Taken In And Sent Out

Covers Period of First Six Months

L. M. Helland, chairman of the local Scrap Salvage Drive held in this vicinity during the month of June, has made a report of the amount of scrap collected by local junk dealers during the first six months of 1943 as well as the amount sold from the yards by the end of this period.

Amount of scrap taken in the local yards from January 1 to July 1, 1943, includes 151½ tons of iron, 6¼ tons metals, 19⅓ tons tin, one and one-third tons rubber, one-third ton rags and seven-eighths ton paper.

Amount of scrap sold by the local yards during this same period is as follows: 176 tons iron, eight tons metals, 16 tons tin, five and one-fourth tons rubber, one and one-third tons rags, two and one-half tons paper.

Scrap on hand in the yards at the first of the year makes up the difference between the amount taken in and the amount sold by July 1.

Business Men In Wright County Help Shock Oats

Business men and individuals in many of the towns of Wright county are coming to the rescue of farmers who are in dire need of oat shockers.

Shockers, working in small groups of from four to twenty, have gone out to aid the farmers that were unable to obtain help. This has been done with the reservations that the farmer must be out in the field with the men and that the individuals receive pay for the time spent.

Schedule For Trains From Blairsburg Changed

An annuouncement has been made of the change of time for the trains leaving from Blairsburg. Since many people from Belmond have been using these trains, the new schedule is being printed here. The east bound train No. 16 from Sioux City to Chicago leaves Blairsburg at 11:24 a. m., and the west bound train going from Chicago to Sioux City leaves Blairsburg at 10:51.

The night trains that leave Webster City will be the same as before.

Detasseling Is Under Way In County

Will Be In Full Swing End of Week

Most of the fourteen Hybrid seed corn growers of Wright County have started detasseling their corn and with the weather conditions favorable, detasseling will be in full swing by the end of this week.

The methods of transporting detasseling crews from the towns to the fields will be mainly by trucks of the Hybrid companies and individuals' cars secured by the seed producers. People driving their own cars are to be sure their car is filled with passengers and then have it okayed by the company for which they are detasseling.

The condition of the corn to date has been almost perfect and it is estimated that by the end of the week there will be approximately twenty crews at work, the size of which will vary from eight to about fifty or sixty.

Detasseling is started when the silks from the ear-shoots are ready to emerge and catch the pollen from the tassel. When the silks are within an inch or two from the top of the husks all the tassels in the field must be pulled.

The small tassel, as it begins to show, is wrapped in one or more leaves. As the tassel grows it emerges from those leaves. The tassels that have emerged far enough that a detasseler can easily grasp the tassel and one leaf and pull them out clean are the one that are removed. One leaf is always pulled with the tassel. If this is not done, the tassel often will break in two and leave spikes of the tassel in the stalk, which may grow, ripen and scatter pollen.

Legion Completes Plans For Victory Bond Day

Dedication Of Honor Roll Board Is Main Event

Ted Zook Elected New Commander

At a meeting of Eimbrink Post of the American Legion Monday evening plans were completed for the Victory Bond Day and Honor Roll board dedication on Saturday evening, July 31.

A program has been planned which will begin at 9:00 o'clock p. m. with a concert by the Belmond band on Main street in front of the Library. This will be followed by the dedication of the Honor Roll Board. J. Leslie Leonard has been secured as speaker for the occasion. Other features of the program will be a drill by the Boy Scout troop and a mounted horse parade under direction of Fred A. Hunt.

The Honor Roll board has been increased in size to make room for many more names of service men and women from this community. Families and friends are urged to turn in names to the Independent office immediately so that the list will be complete for the dedication on July 31.

At the Legion meeting Monday evening, new officers were elected as follows: Ted Zook, commander, succeeding T. A. Townsan; Dr. H. J. Classick, vice-commander; Duane Dorr, Sergeant at Arms; C. C. Christie, chaplain. Fred Fulton was re-elected financial secretary, and Stephen Hardwick was re-elected adjutant.

Victory Bond Day in Belmond has been set aside as a special day to emphasize the sale of War Bonds. A bond booth will be set up on Main Street for the evening where visitors will be urged to buy War Bonds, extra War Bonds.

County Liquor Stores Sell $18,206 Bonds And Stamps In Six Months

$18,206.05 is the total amount of war stamps and bonds sold by Wright county liquor stores in the first six months of 1943, according to a report released by the Iowa Liquor Control Commission.

The Clarion liquor store showed the highest sale with $9,757.30, Belmond was second with $6,950.45, Eagle Grove third with $969.70 and Dows last with $528.60.

War stamp and bond sales in the four county stores during the month of June were as follows: Eagle Grove, $406.40; Belmond, $323.00; Clarion, $154.70; Dows, $ .50.

SNAP JOBS?

It was announced last week that 900 Italian war prisoners were being moved into Iowa from Missouri prison camps as an expedient to help solve the problem of securing enough labor to detassel Iowa's big Hybrid Seed Corn Crop.

It will no doubt seem strange to many Iowans to use prisoner of war labor.

It may seem strange to the Italians to be placed in Iowa corn fields to do a type of work unfamiliar to them.

We would be willing to wager, however, that Italian prisoners of war in the United States are having snap jobs detasseling corn compared to what is expected and demanded of American prisoners of war in Axis countries.

SUGGESTION FOR PEACE PLANNERS

Effective cooperation of American and British military resources is said to be one of the big factors contributing to the unusual Allied successes in the Sicilian campaign.

British and American officers are said to work in the closest harmony. The teamwork, which makes the complex operations of land, sea and air forces of the two nations click accurately, is remarkable.

It is our suggestion, therefore, that PEACE PLANNERS, both now and after the war, might study this present cooperation between the British and Americans. If cooperation in its finest degree can win a war the way the Allies are winning now in Sicily, then the same type of close cooperation is a possible attainment which should be planned to win lasting peace.

GOOD YEAR TO GARDEN

'Tis a good thing folks everywhere went at this gardening business seriously this year. The War Food Administration announced a few days ago that in the next twelve months civilians will have to get along with 37 per cent less commercially canned fruits and fruit juices and 21 per cent less canned vegetables.

If civilians didn't get busy and supplement rationed foods such as canned fruits and vegetables, meats, fats, etc., many of them would have to depend to a larger extent on good old mush and milk or corn bread and molasses—good foods, and enjoyable once in a while, but not containing enough variety in food elements to make up an all round nutritive diet.

—V—

DON'T WORRY!

Folks have responded very well in Wright county to the request for Emergency farm help. When children from 10 years of age up to men and women between 60 and 70 years express willingness to go out in the fields to help harvest our precious crops, there is no need for anyone to worry about the United States getting the necessary cooperation to win the war, no matter from what angle or location problems may arise.

IN HIDING

Once estimated to have a fleet on a par with that of France, the Italian fighting fleet at present includes a total of three battleships, seven light cruisers, a few torpedo boats and possibly 25 destroyers, according to naval observers.

It is no wonder the Italian fleet is trying to stay in hiding just now from the combined naval forces of the British and Americans, which are backing up and aiding the air and land operations in the invasion of Sicily.

Wartime Advertising

We occasionally run into merchants who say they don't have any reason to advertise since they are already short of merchandise and can't get replacements fast enough. They are in the minority because all progressive businesses have planned advertising programs tailored to meet wartime conditions.

They advertise war bonds, ration information, available merchandise that is needed for war-time jobs, etc. But it is the transportation and communication industries that take all prizes for war-time advertising. They are advertising to keep the public from becoming customers.

Telephone and telegraph companies have been urging that private messages not be sent so that the wires can be kept open for more urgent uses. Railroads and airplane companies have been advising people when to travel and when not to travel. Then came the Interstate Transit bus company with a Fourth of July ad which read as follows: "Make this a truly patriotic July Fourth. PLEASE DON'T TRAVEL unless absolutely necessary on Saturday, Sunday and Monday."

All of which goes to show that advertising possibilities are unlimited.—Jefferson Herald.

The corn is growing so fast that you can see the stalks get taller as you watch for a few minutes. That rumbling noise you have heard the past few hot nights was the corn growing in North Iowa.—Klemme Times.

Roosevelt is still trying to make the people believe that he is keeping down the cost of living by taxing the people to pay the producers and then taxing the people again to pay what has been subtracted from the producer. It's a real merry-go-round, but only a nudealer on the payroll can figure it out.—Hampton Chronicle.

A man lives by his own efforts. Some work harder than others, some are more thrifty than others, some have a knack of making money while others can't even hang on to what is given them. If the government took all the land and divided it into 40-acre tracts, one tract for each family it wouldn't be long before half the farms had mortgages on them and the owners would be in California for "a vacation." And it wouldn't take long before one thrifty neighbor had bought the near 40 to add to his own. How can the man you elected to a government office change this.—Sioux City Capital.

According to the automotive industry, "in spite of war time difficulties, motor trucks continue to perform the Herculean service for the 54,000 communities not served by railroads. Many of these rural towns, located as far away as 100 miles, are relying on highway transportation to bring in the necessaries of living—food, shelter, clothing and heat—and take out war materials, agricultural goods and other products." Many people will be surprised to learn there are 54,000 communities in the United States not having railroad connections.—Webster City Freeman.

Heard an intelligent man say the other day that too many persons are paying too much attention to trying to make a fortune as the result of the war. The little fellow wants to make thousands while the "biggie" is concentrating on making millions. If this man's observations are correct, and we have no reason to doubt them, our war efforts are being relegated to second place.—Toledo Chronicle.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

Prittle... Prattle....

From the Eagle Grove Eagle's column of Human Interest comes this chuckle as told by the president of Princeton U.

A cook in a marine outfit near Guadalcanal did not want to go back to the folks in the good old republican Maine until he had killed a Jap. His buddies informed him the woods were full of Japs They told him to go out into the bushes that afternoon and stick up his head and yell—

"To hell with Hirohito." Then a Jap would raise up his head in unrestrained anger and he could shoot rim easily. He went out that afternoon. "Did you get your Jap," a marine asked when he returned. "No, I did like you said and yelled, "To Hell with Hirohito,' and a Jap got up and yelled back, 'To Hell with Roosevelt,' but I couldn't shoot a republican."

Speaking of republicans, when W. R. was away for several days for an inspection trip, one of the local wags asked us when the 'Grand Old Party' was coming back. The democratic stories were piling up and there wasn't any other republican around to tell them to.

The dumb rookie had reached the physical inspection room. Asked the doctor: "How are your bowels?" Rookie: "They didn't issue me any." Doctor: "I mean are you constipated?" Hookie: "Naw, I enlisted." Editor Sherman Needham, of the Ames Milepost, has a nose for news, says R. R. Roberts in the Britt News-Tribune. One day he smelt fresh bakery goods and following his nose into a bakery was met by a sweet young thing; said she was the baker's daughter "You know, Mr. Needham, I got one of the sweetest letters from my boy friend over in Africa. Want to read it?" This is what the editor read:

"Sweet Tart: "You're waffle cute, and you're roll the world to me. I'm a well-bread young fellow, and that's the raisin why you should marry me when I raise the dough. Be my batter half and everything will pan out all right. Icing your praises day and night because I loaf you. Doughnut refuse me, honey bun, or you're cruller than I think you are. I deserve a little oven. for you're the flour of my eggistence."

The labor situation on Pete Svendsen's farm was so bad the other day, was so bad that it was shocking, which is what five of us from the city proceeded to take care of.

Pete had about 33 acres of bundles scattered around when Harold Johnson, Clair Bonte, Wayne Springer, Les Classick and yours truly arrived stripped down for action in the evening. When the sun went down Pete's morale had gone up about 75% since only 8 acres remained untouched, and every shock remained upright. Of course the cold bottle of beer we would find under a bundle now and then helped some.

AWAY BACK WHEN

TEN YEARS AGO—

Fred McBride, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. A. D. McBride, and Miss Sadie Ter Hark, motored to Des Moines Sunday to bring home Mrs. McBride and Billie, who had spent ten days there visiting relatives and friends:

1933

FORTY YEARS AGO

The electric storm, Thursday evening was the worst that has visited our community for a number of years. Ole Ellingston, living about four miles north-west of Clarion had a son killed and Cornelius Van Osting's young daughter was badly burned by lightning. Mr. Van Osting and three others were standing in the barn door when a bolt of lightning struck the barn and came down through, knocking them all unconscious. They all quickly recovered but his daughter and she is now considered out of danger.

—1903—

Mr. Hanson of Pocahontas, the gentleman who purchased the shoe store of W. I. Rosecrans, arrived Wednesday and as soon as he has secured a suitable residence he will bring his family to Belmond. Mr. Hanson is a pleasant gentleman to meet and we feel that he will make a desirable addition to the business circles of Belmond. There's a rumor that Mr. Rosecrans will take his family to California to locate. It is to be roped that this will not prove necessary, Belmond can ill afford to lose such deservedly popular family either from its social or business circles. However we wish both gentlemen success.

—1903—

Misses Jennie Wolcott, Laura Pritchard, Daisy Cameron, Anna Anderson and Mrs. Carrie Brooks went to Clarion Wednesday to see the ball game.

—1903—

Duke Wilson fell out of one of the large trees near the Kern House last Saturday and was badly injured. We believe that no bones were broken and we understand that the patient is getting along nicely.

—1903—

The Indians played the local ball team Wednesday and after the game the official scorer took to the tall weeds hence we cannot give the score.

FIFTY YEARS AGO—

While getting sand out of Bartholomew's pit Monday I. V. Earheart had a side cave in on him pinning him down from the waist. Ike had to dig like smoke with his bare hands for about an hour before getting loose.

—1893—

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fulton are rejoicing over a nice bouncing baby boy born to them last Friday. All are doing well but grandpa Davis, but he will recover.

—1893—

J. N. Johnson has commenced on his new house, having the foundation laid, and will commence carpenter work this week.

—1893—

This section was favored with a needed rain last week. It came without any wind, or thunder or lightning and insured a bounteous corn crop.

—1893—

G. W. Humphrey has been painting some of C. A. Church's farm buildings in Hancock county.

—1893—

We take pleasure in being able to state that S. N. Hinman, of Belmond township has decided to allow his friends to present his name as a candidate before the coming representative convention. Mr. Hinman does not ask any pledge from his friends—what he wants is for them to help choose a food candidate, and if they think he is the one needed he will gladly accept the honor.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

While getting their son, Joseph, ready to take to the hospital for an emergency operation. Mr and Mrs. Ed Schilling of New Hampton had to take another son at the same time. John Schilling fell, injuring his arm badly enough that it was necessary to have it placed in a cast.

BIG GAIN NEWS

"I have fed Big Gain Mineral Stock Food for over a year and I have some of the best hogs I ever raised. I put 35 head of pigs in the feed lot March 3. 1943, averaging 79 pounds each. May 27, 1943, they weighed an average of 210 pounds. During this time they consumed approximately ¾ of a ton of Big Gain Mineral Stock Food and 245 bushels if corn. I feel these results speak very well for Big Gain Mineral Stock Food self-fed as a supplement to corn."

Harold M. Cress,
Riverside. Iowa.

Under normal farm feed lot conditions these pigs gained over 1½ pounds per day. For each 100 pounds of pork gain Harold fed a fraction over 32 pounds Big Gain Mineral Stock Food and a little less than 5½ bushels of corn.

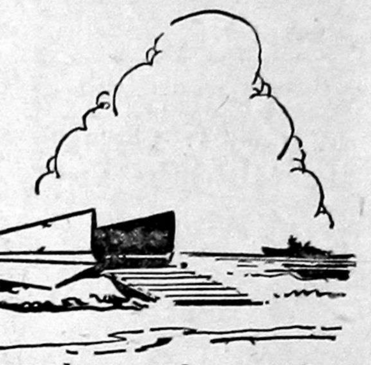
What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Down in the Solomons and on the African coasts the Crocodile Boat or tank lighter played a most important role in landing our invasion armies. These self-propelled, light . . . fast boats haul tanks, artillery and other equipment from the big ships off-shore to the beach heads.



We need more and more of them, for they are essential to the successful operation of the war. They are made in several sizes from small fifty-footers, costing about $2,400 to the big 500-tonners costing around $37,000. Your purchase of War Bonds every payday will help pay for them.

IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using. Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.

Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.

Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.

Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.

Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.

ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.

And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

Be it remembered that on this, the 6th day of July, 1943, the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in session for the purpose of filing and considering the estimate for the local budget of said county. There was present a quorum as required by law. Thereafter and on said day there was filed the foregoing estimate.

Thereafter said estimate was duly considered by the board. The Board being fully advised finds that a date of hearing on said estimate should be fixed and it does fix the 3rd day of August, A. D. 1943, at the hour of 1:30 P. M. of said day as the date of hearing, said hearing to be had at the courthouse in Clarion, in Wright County, Iowa. The County Auditor was directed to publish the estimate and notice of hearing as required by law in the official newspapers of the county.

Publication to be for one insertion and to be at least ten days prior to the date set for hearing.

For the sum of $20.00 in hand, bid by S. S. Schroder, it is moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that Wright County sell and convey all its right, title and interest in and to Lots 3 and 4, Block 4, Galt, and the chairman is hereby authorized and directed to sign quit claim deed conveying Lots 3 and 4, Block 4, Galt, unto the said S. S. Schroder.

It is mutually understood that this price includes all taxes that are a lien at the present time, also the recording of the deed.

Upon roll call all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet July 7, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, July 7, 1943.

TRADED CARS

Conrad Abels of Holland parked his automobile alongside one of similar make and model belonging to Lee Chandler, Dike banker. Upon returning to the car, through error Abels got into the Chandler car and started homeward. Mr. Chandler called the Abels home and asked if Conrad had arrived, advising them he thought he had the wrong car as Abels's car was still parked. Conrad was soon back in town with the Chandler automobile. Within a few days, Mrs. Chandler received a $1.00 check from Conrad Abels marked "experience", plus a ration stamp for the gasoline used.

Court Notes

State of Iowa vs Royce Frakes, it was ordered that the defendant pay a fine of $300.00 and the costs of this action and in default of the payment of said fine that he be committed in the county jail not to exceed one day for each three and one third dollars for the unpaid portion of the fine, provided further that the commitment herein imposed be and the same is hereby suspended during good behavior of the said Royce Frakes and he shall be paroled to Sheriff R. E. Wilson and that he refrain entirely from the use of intoxicating liquor, including beer.

Norma Biondahl et al vs Floyd V. Polmateer et al, an order confirming the sale and approving deed. It was ordered that the sale of said property to T. A. Knight for $1250.00 be confirmed. The referee's deed was approved.

R. E. Wilson, complainant vs Jerry Peterson, defendant. The matter was continued until August 30th at 10:00 a. m.

State of Iowa vs Ronald Chas. Yoder. Juvenile court ordered that this matter be continued until July 16th, 1943 at 10:00 o'clock a. m. at the court house in Clarion.

C. A. Kastler et al vs Lyman B. Middleton et al. A decree ordering the executors to sell certain real estate for not less than the appraised value for the purpose of paying debts. L. E. Beer, Ben W. Olson and J. W. Robinson appointed appraisers. The court shall retain jurisdiction of this case for purpose of entering any supplementary decrees which the circumstances might make proper.

THREE IN CAR THEFT ARE SENTENCED

Jerome Dallie of Eagle Grove, Robert Cavanaugh, 23, of Dubuque and James Christianson, 17, of Eagle Grove were accused of the theft of a car from the Christensen Motor Company at Eagle Grove last week. Christianson was turned over to Sheriff R. E. Wilson, was arraigned in juvenile court before Judge Peisen of Eldora on Friday, the 16th, and committed to the Eldora Training school. Dallie and Cavanaugh will be turned over to Sheriff Wilson after completing a thirty-day sentence at Fort Dodge on the charge of petty larceny. (c)

Curtis Espe of Webster City was arrested at Woolstock on Saturday, July 17, by R. E. Wilson Wright County sheriff, on the charge of disturbing the peace and entered a plea of guilty in the court of Arthur Richards, Justice of the Peace, and was fined $25.00 and costs.

Buford Bankes was arrested at Dows by the Sheriff of Wright County on Friday, July 16th, on the charge of false pretenses. It is alleged that Bankes hired out to Howard Schwieger, a Franklin County, Iowa, farmer, who advanced Bankes a sum of money and wearing apparel and Bankes failed to appear at the farm for work. A hearing was held in the court of J. H. Martin, Mayor of the City of Eagle Grove Monday, July 19th, and the defendant was bound over to the grand jury of Wright county and the bond was fixed at $1000.00, which he failed to furnish and is now in the Wright county jail.

Slightly Injured in Car Accident

Mrs. Archie Lee of Belmond township overturned her 1941 Ford coach in the ditch a mile east and one mile south of Olaf on the eve of July 16th. She lost control of the car while attempting to dodge a truck over the crest of a hill. Mrs. Lee was slightly injured and there was considerable damage to the vehicle.

Elmer Rear, age 38, a trucker from Clermont, Iowa, was arrested by Sheriff R. E. Wilson on Friday, July 16, on a charge of operating a truck without a chauffeur's license. He entered a plea of guilty in the court of Arthur Richards, Justice of the Peace of Clarion, Iowa, and was fined $20.00 and costs. (c)

Miss Elizabeth Deihl Takes Over Duties As County Home Economist

Miss Elizabeth Deihl who was recently appointed County Extension Home Economist for Wright County by the Wright County Farm Bureau and the state Extension Service began her duties in the county on July 1st.

Miss Deihl graduated from Iowa State College in 1941 with a bachelor of science degree. For the past two years she has been teaching vocational home making in the Rippey consolidated school at Rippey, Iowa, and attained considerable success in her adult night school classes for women in that school.

Miss Deilh's parents at the present time live in Des Moines. She graduated from Roosevelt high in that city.

The home project work and the girls 4-H club work of Wright county will be largely under the supervision of Miss Deihl as county extension home economist. At the present time she is giving assistance in preparing girls 4-H club demonstration teams for the achievement show at Eagle Grove and arranging for the demonstrations on drying and brining of fruits and vegetables.

FOUR PEOPLE

"Johnny's Been Shipped Out"

.... FOUR WORDS. The news went from Johnny's mother to Johnny's married sister who phoned Johnny's sweetheart, Mabel. Mabel ran into one of Johnny's old college professors on a crowded corner next day and told him about it .... FOUR PEOPLE.

All of them were intelligent, loyal Americans who would have died before betraying a secret to the enemy. It wasn't their fault that the fifth person to get the news was an encmy agent who heard the street corner remark and happened to know who Johnny was and what division he was with. That little piece of information didn't mean much, but it wasn't the agent's job to figure it out. He just turned it in to the files—files which contained other bits of information such as the fact that Johnny's whole division had recently been inoculated for tropical diseases. Pieces of the jigsaw fitted together and the planned attack was blown up by the enemy subs lying in wait. Official lists said .... FOUR MEN MISSING. In some other story it might have been four hundred missing! Nobody gave vital information —BUT THE PIECES FITTED TOGETHER- Don't repeat anything about the "where, how, when, how many of what kind" of war matters unless you hear it on the radio or read it in your newspaper first!

GOODELL

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McNutt received word Monday that their great grand daughter, Judy Anne Clark, age 3, was fatally injured Sunday morning. The Clarks live in Los Angeles, Calif., where Gerald is employed in a war factory. Mrs. Clark and Judy came to Iowa July 1, to visit relatives and they were visiting her brother, Carl Roth at Nashua. Mr. Roth backed his car out of the garage while the child was on the porch. Bushes around the porch prevented him from seeing the child run behind the car. She was taken to a hospital at Charles City with head and chest injuries and passed away in the afternoon. Funeral arrangements are incomplete awaiting the arrival of the father. Gerald lived in Goodell with his grandparents while attending high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burke and Kay went to Ventura Thursday eve to attend a family birthday party at the parental Jay Griggs home. Birthdays celebrated were Mrs. Raphael Kernan's of Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Griggs' of Miller and Mrs. Griggs' of Ventura.

Mrs. Carl R. Sandberg and Bll of Hampton spent Sunday at the parental O. Sandberg home.

Ted Barkema who is in army training at Camp Pickett, Va., has been enjoying a furlough with relatives and friends.

Mrs. T. R. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wesenberg, were entertained to dinner Sunday in the Butts home.

Mrs. Evans of Joice spent Wednesday in the home of her nephew, O. C. Evanson. The latter's mother passed away when he was small and he lived in the Evans home several years.

Joe Mehus, who is in army training in Nebraska is having a 15 day furlough with relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. E. Sherwood, Mrs. Henry Emmons and Sonja Ann went to Emmons, Minn., Sunday to spend the day with the latter's grandmother.

C. O. Fitts of Marshall, Minn., visited Wednesday with relatives, the Newgard family.

Mrs. L. G. Avery suffered a slight stroke Thursday and is being cared for at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bier. She is improving at this writing.

Mrs. Boone of Boone is spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Hermna Cunningham.

Mesdames John Chambers, Joe Burgess and Lee Robbins attended a defense stamp meeting Wednesday evening in the Ray Jurgenson home at Klemme.

Twenty young folks went to Kanawha Tuesday evening and charivaried Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drury at the parental Drury farm. They were treated to cigars, candy bars and ice cream.

Elizabeth Faulbasch of Chicago, came Wednesday for a two weeks' visit in the Savogue home.

Mrs. Walter Boller and Mrs. Paul Halfpop were hostesses to the U. B. Aid Wednesday in the church dining room. Olive Butts led the devotions. During the business meeting the members voted to pay bills for having the church cleaned, parsonage kitchen papered and curtains for the church dining room. Out of town guests were Mrs. Vincent Allaben and Elizabeth Faulbasch of Chicago; Mrs. Shaw of Portland, Oregon; and Mrs. Fred Bachman of Belmond. The next regular meeting will be August 11, and will be the annual election of officers.

Mrs. Shaw of Portland, Oregon is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Alvis Bernow.

Mesdames George Ruka, Arthur Ruka, Cal Thomas, Earl Ruka, O. Sandberg, Harry Carpenter, Amos Hanson; Misses Olive Butts, Eleanor Ruka and Edith Sandberg, took cake and ice cream to Klemme Thursday afternoon and made the acquaintance of Doris and Dale Schreiner at the home of their grandparents, E. J. Schneiders.

Mrs. Marvin Hanson accompanied them to Klemme and visited the Lyle Hanson family.

The town council met Monday night and purchased a water fountain. Matt Holtzbauer of Belmond is installing it in front of the water station.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Mason, Marilyn and Leola, went to Kanawha Friday to visit in the parental Oscar Lein home.

BACK in 1940, an American news correspondent named Carroll Alcott, broadcasting from the international settlement in Shanghai, used to begin his program with the words: "This broadcast is brought to you by courtesy of the Bakerite Company, Shanghai's leading bakers and makers of better bread. The jam tonight is by the courtesy of Mr. Suzuki and the Japanese Army."

CARROLL ALCOTT

Interrupting his radio program was just one phase of the persecutions Alcott endured from the Japanese during his fifteen years in the Far East. He had too much curiosity about what was going on and too much willingness to make known what he found out to suit the warlords of the Land of the Rising Sun. They tried every means they could think of to make him go home — and when that failed they even attempted abduction and assassination. For many months he went around in a bullet-proof vest and with an armed guaard. He tells his amazing story in "My War With Japan."

The first lesson Alcott learned about Japanese ethics was taught him by a Japanese bootmaker in Manila, from whom he had ordered a pair of shoes. They were to have broad toes, rubber heels, and the color was to be tan. A few days later the bootmaker brought him a pair of black shoes with pointed toes, insisted that was what the newspaperman had ordered and refused to take them back. Alcott responded with a tongue-lashing in which he accused him of being, among other things, a liar. The bootmaker departed from his habitual immobility at that and retorted, "It is no lie to speak improper to white man." Immediately, as though he regretted this outspokenness, he became silent. But in that remark, Alcott believes he got the key to why the Japanese deal so openly in prevarications and the game of double cross without feeling any shame or guilt.

In "What You Should Know About Spies and Saboteurs," Will Irwin and T. M. Johnson advise the layman to inform the F. B. I. or Army and Navy Intelligence of any reasonable suspicion of sabotage or spy activity. They also offer suggestions as to what does and does not constitute a reasonable suspicion. Among the hysterical notes which have reached official headquarters from well meaning civilians was one which reported that Japanese disguised as salmon were swimming up the Columbia River. Another asserted that German spies were communicating with one another through water faucets.

BIG FIGURES FOR QUICK READING

For those who take information about government finances on the run we give the following condensed breakdown of appropriations made by the present congress:

3 billion, 600 million for agriculture. District Columbia, Independent offices and Interior Departments.

1 billion, 137 million for labor-federal agencies.

86 billion, 672 million for military and navy expenditures.

1 billion, 110 million for Treasury and Postoffice Departments.

17 billion. 580 million for deficiency and supplemental expenditures.

3 billion, 791 million in permanent appropriations.

15 billion in funds re-appropriated.

40 million in legislative and judiciary appropriations.

220 million for State, Justice and Commerce Departments.

63 million for War department civil activities.

On Ways To Trillions

Appropriations for the Treasury and Postoffice departments are nearly as much as the entire cost of federal government was in 1917, the first year of the first world war. The appropriations for labor-federal agencies is larger by 12 million than the entire cost of government in 1917. The increase in federal spending for general purposes in the 23 year period between the two wars is not due to our growth as a country, but to the growth of the New Deal ideas in the uses to which government spending and financing shall be put. In these figures are found the reasons why official Washington has just spent some thousands of dollars to remodel adding machines to take sums in trillions.

ROOTS IN 22 COUNTIES

Governor Bourke B. Hickenlooper has taken action to revitalize Iowa coal production. Here is a great industry with its roots in 22 counties that contain 25 per cent of the state's population. It was stated somewhere, sometime, that the mining industry of Iowa was second only to that of agriculture. This may have been true at one time. We do not believe the statement fits the situation of today. The mining industry has suffered a terrific slump. The causes for this have been ascribed to a number of factors. We mention these offhand when we refer to reduced use of Iowa coal by rail lines, failure of our own people to include Iowa coal in three-fourtths of their fuel needs. introduction of oil and gas for heating and cooking, and the development of hydro-electric plants to supplant steam power. These, without question, all enter into a serious production and marketing problem which faces operators and workers of Iowa mines.

A Commendable Step

The Governor has certainly taken a commendable step in trying to revitalize an industry which is of importance. It needs revitalizing. Great stores of coal are hidden beneath the fertile fields of Iowa. A plentiful use of supplies from these stores would bring the coal industry to a place second only to agriculture. The Governor's conference committee, made up of operators, miners and state officials close to the industry, may well devote study to anything which will point the way to revitalization.

Effects Are Far Reaching

We have not taken the time to go back to the relief figures of past years, but venture a guess that a close relationship might be established between such figures covering the depression years, and the shrinking coal industry in 22 Iowa counties where business and living were built upon more prosperous days for Iowa Coal production. We are led to this observation by the somewhat appalling figures which reveal how workers in Iowa coal mines have been affected. Just as a sample, in the peak year of Iowa mining, 1917, there were 246 mines in operation in employing 15,197 miners who brought to the surface over nine million tons of coal. Compare this with 346 mines in 1942, employing only 5,556 workers and producing slightly over three million tons. Here is an increase of 100 mines, a decrease of 10,000 workers, and a slump of two-thirds in market consumption. Such figures can only spell disaster to any industry, regardless of its character.

Limited Working Days

Another appalling situation resulting from the decline of the industry is the limited employment open to mine workers. The average number of days some of them worked in 1942 was as low as 162. In other words some workers and their families had to live on an income derived from 62 per cent of their possible working days, plus whatever additional income they could gain from other sources. Herein lies a problem worthy of the sympathetic attention of all men who have the welfare and the contentment of the people of Iowa at heart. This, of course, is not a problem which affects the workers alone. Any problem which affects them, also affects the operators. It affects all others who by the nature of their business and work, profit or lose by the general economic condition of our people.

Wrapped In A Package

In the figures we have used we have not been too explicit. There are exhaustive statistics which emphasize general need for action along the line which the Governor now leads the way. The subject has many ramifications and many angles. However, they are all wrapped up in a package of general welfare. The Governor has made a timely move to attempt solution of the problems. These reach beyond the boundaries of the state. They are intermingled with questions of labor, its needs and its demands. They lead to the indifference of railroads which have dealt Iowa a severe blow in diminishing their uses of its coal. They go to the very doors of Iowa factories and homes which have ignored Iowa coal in [illegible] of their fuel needs.

Awaits An Opportunity

The Governor's conference committee begins work with a [illegible] purpose in mind—that of "[illegible]izing" the coal industry. His [illegible]cultural conference did [illegible] for the farmers. Let us [illegible] the coal conference may [illegible] do much for the operators and the miners in an industry which [illegible] awaits an opportunity to regain its place in Iowa business and contribute to the general welfare of the entire state.

We still have less rubber than the country requires..your cooperation is especially needed during these hot, tire-punishing days

It will probably be a long time before you can relax your efforts to save tires. Military and naval needs for rubber are enormous. Filling those needs is vital to victory. Right now extra tire care is paramount while the weather is hot. Remember that at 90°, tires wear out 4 times faster than at 40°. Follow these suggestions: Drive under 35, ease up around curves and when starting and stopping; check pressures weekly—keep them at 32 lbs.; have wheels checked for misalignment, etc.; get your Standard Oil Dealer's advice. When Pearl Harbor burst upon us our great expanse of territory was protected by a one ocean navy of about 350 first line ships with an addition of an approximate number building.

Now we are in a five ocean war and we are required not only to pay for the building of enough ships of the line but also for hundreds of Liberty ships and auxiliary craft. The amount of money you invested in War Bonds when we had a one ocean navy was all right then, it isn't enough now. Buy more and more War Bonds.

Iowans Urged—

demands, and the new quotas will be based on the increases in income to the people of the states.

"Old quotas are out," the Iowa War Finance Committee says, "and indications are that the new quota, when ready, will be over twice as much as the quota set in January." The 1943 quota set in January was $216,000,000 in E, F and G Bonds for Iowa based on computed income at that time, which proved to be an under-estimate.

Basis for part of the increase in quota is estimated cash farm income for 1943 of $1,650,000,000, as compared to actual 1942 cash farm income for the state of $1,297,789,000. Payrolls are also showing increases—in many cases family income with two or three members of a family receiving pay checks where in the past only one member received a pay check, accounting for further increased income in Iowa, the War Finance Committee says.

Evidence that the money is here is also indicated in increased bank deosits for the first six months of the year. The state War Finance Committee said that in some instances deposits have increased 20 per cent in the face of higher taxes and bond purchases. A complete study is being made of Iowa bank deposits, and Iowa bankers will give their cooperation to the War Bond effort to help the state reach the new goal.

Word from Washingon, D. C., contained in a memorandum from Henry Morgenthau, Jr., asks state War Finance Committees to take "on the job of getting twice as much money from individuals as we did in the first half of the year."

Outlining the need for money, Morgenthau estimates that a total of $52 billions will be spent from July 1 to the end of the year. "Right now, today, it is costing $250 million a day to equip our men and take care of other necessary war expenditures," his memorandum says. "This is nearly $100 million a day more than we were spending last year at this time."

As soon as quotas are received from the Treasury Department the State War Finance Committee will break them down by counties, V. L. Clark, State Executive Manager said. Monthly quotas will also be set. During August, Payroll Allotment on the new "Figure It Out Yourself" Plan will be further promoted.

The State War Finance Committee also will ask its county leaders to hold from 10 to 20 farm meetings in each county in the state during August and September to present the needs to farmers, and to ask them to further step up their purchases of War Bonds, Clark said.

'We believe the money is or will be in Iowa, and we are certain that Iowans will meet the call for increased purchases of War Bonds' Clark said. "We will make every effort to present the facts to the people of Iowa from week to week, and we earnestly hope that by working together and keeping the bond program on a voluntary basis, we can do the job. In the last analysis, that is up to the people of Iowa. For the present, we hope every Iowan financially able will immediately go to his local issuing agent and step up his bond purchases."

MAYBE IT'S GOLD

Rocks with a yellow cast were found by workmen excavating on a lot in Humboldt. The verdict by some individuals was that the yellow flakes in the rocks are gold.

MORE GASOLINE NEEDED

Last week thieves moved four Waverly automobiles from their parking places, uncoupled the gas lines and drained all of the gasoline out.

TWINS

A two-year-old heifer on the Oscar Sample farm near Floris gave birth to twin calves recently. Each calf has the letter "V" plainly marked on its head.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Two hours after the ill-fated destroyer Hammann was sunk, her skipper, Comdr. Arnold Ellsworth True, was rescued from the water and found to be supporting two enlisted men. He himself was so exhausted that he did not realize both men were dead. Comdr. True, who was awarded the Navy Cross and the Distinguished Service Medal for heroism, typifies the spirit of our men in arms. They give to the limit of their endurance. Do YOUR part! J. L. Leonard To Speak At Victory Bond Day

To Dedicate Honor Roll Board

Legion Stresses Sale Of War Bonds

An address by J. Leslie Leonard at the dedication of the Belmond Honor Roll board will feature the program at the American Legion Victory Bond Day, Saturday evening, July 31.

The Honor Roll board, which was sponsored jointly by the Legion and the Community Club was rebuilt recently to make room for many more names. A total of 263 names of men and women from this community in the service of their country have been placed on the board to date.

The patriotic program will start at 9:00 o'clock p. m. with a concert by the Belmond band on Main street in front of the library lawn where the Honor Roll board is located. Following this will be the dedication of the Honor Roll Board with the address by Mr. Leonard, a drill by the Boy Scout troop and a mounted horse parade under the direction of Fred A. Hunt.

Following is the patriotic band concert which will be presented Saturday evening.

Victory Bond Day has been planned by Eimbrink Post of the American Legion to emphasize the sale of War Bonds. A bond booth will be set up on Main Street, Saturday evening where visitors will be urged to buy War Bonds, extra War Bonds.

The Legion committee in charge of arrangements includes C. C. Christie, Chairman, Ed Kennedy, C. C. Benson, T. A. Townsan and T. D. Robinson.

Congregational Church Elects New Committees

New church committees were recently elected for the Sands Memorial Congregational Church. The chairmen of these committees, together with Mrs. Arthur Hinman who was elected Sunday morning to represent the Women of the church, Theodore Johnson, elected to represent the men of the church, and Carl Val Griesy, president of the Pilgrim Fellowship, will form the Congregational Church Council. Each committee is expected to meet once a month and will report its findings to a monthly meeting of the Counil. The Council, in turn, will report to a Quarterly Meeting of the members of the church.

The committees are: Finance: William Trafford, chairman; Geo. Elder, Cato Griesy, C. P. Luick, Herman Schultz, C. I. Williams, C. N. Hildebrand, Ben Fetrow, W. P. Tyrrell.

Music: Mrs. J. Leslie Leonard, chairman, Mrs. W. P. Tyrrell Mrs. Addie Boughton.

Religious Education: Mrs. William Tyrrell Jr., chairman, Mrs. William Trafford, Mrs. Mabelle Townsend, Miss Grace Reed, Mrs. Theodore Johnson.

Building: Ben Fetrow, chairman, C. N. Hildebrand, C. P. Luick, Mrs. Alex Smith.

Membership: Arthur Hinman, chairman, Mrs. Herman Schultz, J. Leslie Leonard, Mrs. Stephen Hardwick, Mrs. G. F. Elder.

Recreation: Claire C. Christie, chairman, Henry H. Larsen, Mrs. Mildred Piper, Mrs. Tillie Parsons.

JOHN QUIGLEY TO LEAVE BELMOND THIS WEEK

John Quigley, who has been employed by the Central States Electric Company in Belmond, will move to Boone where he has accepted a position on the Fort Dodge and Iowa Southern Interurban.

He will move his family to Boone this week.

Want Honor Roll List Complete — Turn In Names Immediately

263 names appear on the Legion Victory Bond Day and Honor Roll dedication advertisement on page five of the Independent this week.

These are the names of men and women from this community in the armed services of the United States which will appear on the Honor Roll Board at the time of its dedication Saturday evening, July 31.

The honor roll list has been compiled from the names of service men and women that have been turned in by their families or friends. It is the desire of the Legion that this list be complete before Saturday night. If you have a son, or a brother or a husband in the service whose name is not included in the honor roll list on the Legion ad, you are urged to turn the name into the Independent office immediately.

Wright County Farmers Can Get Limestone Now

The County A. A. A. Office has received notice from the Limestone Products Company of Fertile, Iowa, and the Ideal Sand and Gravel Company of Mason City, Iowa, that they are now ready to deliver and spread limestone in Wright County for orders received from farmers who wish to earn their soil building allowance by this practice.

Some lime was received last spring but after the oats had made a growth where it was not practical for the trucks to travel over the fields, it was decided to discontinue this practice until after harvest.

Anyone who wishes to earn their 1943 soil building allowance by spreading limestone should get in touch with the county office. (c)

Iowa Liquor Stores' Sales Are $1,618,382 During Month of June

Total sales in the 177 Iowa liquor stores for the month of June were $1,618,382.85 which represents a decrease of about $38,000 from sales the previous month, according to a report issued recently by the Iowa Liquor Control Commission. The report also showed a decrease of 63,661 gallons sold in June 1943 as compared with June, 1942.

Sales in Wright county stores during June were as follows: Eagle Grove, $7,006; Clarion, $5,-201; Belmond, $3,669; Dows, $2,-975.

500 Detasselers Work In Thompson Fields

Must Go Through Corn 10 Or 12 Times

Approximately 500 detasselers will be working in the seed corn fields of the Thompson Hybrid Corn Company by the end of this week, R. B. Thompson stated today. About one-third of this number will be working in this immediate vicinity. Thompson fields are scattered in a 30-mile radius around Belmond and include about 1500 acres.

The detasseling process, which is the pulling of tassels as soon as the silks from the ear-shoots are ready to emerge and catch the pollen from the tassel, will require that the fields be covered from 10 to 12 times. This work was started July 15, and it is estimated that the job should be finished in another two weeks.

In addition to local help, 37 boys have been brought here from Mason City to help with the detasseling. These boys, between the ages of 15 and 20, work under a crew foreman in the fields. A government supervisor lives with the boys and is responsible for them during the hours when they are not working. While in Belmond, the Mason City boys are living in the A. Kenneth Hanson home, which has been fitted with bunks to accommodate them.

Asked about the 1943 corn crop, Mr. Thompson had this to say, "Our prospects in the seed fields look very good this year."

Merle Obrecht Writes From North Africa

Merle Obrecht has written the Independent a letter from North Africa where he is with the U. S. Army. The letter is being printed here.

'Received your letter yesterday, so I will try and give you a return answer. There isn't very much news around here, so don't know how good this letter will be.

We still get the good old hot weather around here day and night and next month is supposed to be the hottest month of them all, so don't know what I will do then. I guess I will just have to sweat it out till winter time.

Yes, we are having quite a time in Africa visiting the different towns and seeing so many strange things. You ought to see the way they do their threshing here They sure do it in a different way than we do. Sure wish I had a camera and film, so I could get a few pictures of this country.

I bet that the old home town is really a dead town by this time. I guess I will have to drop George a line in a day or two. I do not know if he will get it, but I will write and say hello anyway.

How is the new baby getting along, now that George isn't there there to play and give it nickels every once in a while?

I sure will be glad to receive the paper when it arrives here, as I am always interested in the folks back home. So thanks a lot for thinking of me, as I will really enjoy receiving the paper.

Did I ever tell you about my two French girls I have over here, sure cute. They sure don't let me get into any trouble either. They tell me what to buy and what isn't good to buy, and they see that I get the right change back. I give them candy and gum every once in a while. They keep me on the right side of the law, so guess I am safe for awhile anyway.

Well. I have to go to dinner and then to work, so will close and finish this and mail it out.

When you have time and don't know what to do with it, I would like to hear from you again.

Best Wishes,
Merle O."

Safe In England

M. A. Holtzbauer received a V-mail letter Saturday, the day of Martial's birthday, from his son, Cpl. Martial Holtzbauer, which indicated that he had arrived safely in England. Cpl. Holtzbauer is with the Personnel Department of the Army Bomber Squadron.

Receives Commission

Lieut. Reese Townsan spent a few days the first of the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Townsan. He was given a fourteen day leave following his graduation from Officer's training at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds at Aberdeen, Md., which took place last Saturday. His sister, Veona Townsan, who is in charge of a recreational center at Washington, D. C., was present at the graduation ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wallace received word July 11 from their son Robert, who is serving in the Southwest Pacific, that he had made a new rating and is now Electrician's mate, second class. He also stated he was going to attend an army-navy football game that afternoon.

Reports For More Training

Private David Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Barry of Belmond, reported July 20 at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., for reclassification in the army specialized training program. He received his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Is Promoted

Mrs. Omar Kelley received word this week that her son Omer. Jr., has been promoted to electrician's mate. This is his fourth promotion.

Sgt. Leo Wagoner, who has been in Trinidad, has recently been shipped back to the states and is now in South Carolina. Mrs. Wagoner, who has been employed at Ankeny, is now with him.

Mrs. Emory Galloway received word last Saturday that her husband, Emory Galloway, P. O. 2|c, has been transferred from the University of Chicago to San Francisco, Calif.

GOODELL

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ahlstrom received word that Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ahlstrom are living at Logan, Utah, where Carl is in charge of the dispensary of the State Agricultural College.

Stanley Ahlstrom, coast guard, 1st class radio man of Curtis Bay, Maryland, came Friday for a 19 day furlough with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur White came Friday from Alameda, Calif., and are guests at the parental Herman Ahlstrom home. The former left Monday for Rochester, New York. He is a chief petty officer and will be physical training navy instructor at the University there.

MESERVEY

Herman Fischer, Sr. and Lydia received word that Sgt. Franklin Fischer has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant.

Cpl. Herman Lauen, Jr. left on Friday for Pennsylvania, after spending a six day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lauen, Sr.

KANAWHA

Duane Yeakel Receives Award of Purple Heart

Mr. and Mrs. James Yeakel received the Purple Heart from their son, Duane, which he had received recently. Duane advised his parents that he has been promoted to Motor Sergeant. He also enclosed foreign coins to his parents.

The Purple Heart is of gold color and has numbers on it, a purple ribbon being attached to the medal. In his letter Duane told of a trip to the seashore while on leave. He and his friends fished by throwing German hand grenades into the water and then diving after the fish. Duane was fortunate enough to get one

W C. Tyrrell, Sr. Dies After Week's Illness

Body Lay In State Here Last Friday

Services Held In Texas Monday

Services for W. C. Tyrrell, Sr., who died at the family home near Belmond at midnight Thursday, July 22, at the age of 71 years, were held Monday afternoon in Beaumont, Texas, and burial was in the family mausoleum there. The body lay in state at the Tyrrell home at Belmond on Friday from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Tyrrell's death followed a week's illness of pneumonia. Called to Belmond during his illness were his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Kyle, jr., of Beaumont, and his sons, Harry Tyrrell, Beaumont, and Lieut. (j. g.) David C. Tyrrell, Norfolk, Va. They accompanied Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell, sr., back to Beaumont for the funeral services. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell, jr, W. P. Tyrrell and Dwight of Belmond also attended the services at Beaumont.

Born on the Wright county farm where he died, Mr. Tyrrell was, at the time of his death, a legal resident of Texas where he had large land and oil holdings. He was active in community affairs in Belmond and Beaumont, took a leading role in Young Men's Christian association work and was a member of the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. W. W. Kyle, jr. of Beaumont, and four sons, Harry F. Tyrrell, Beaumont; Lieut. (j. g.) D. C. Tyrrell, Roanoke, Va., now stationed at Norfolk, Va., and W. P. Tyrrell and W. C. Tyrrell, jr. who operate the farm interests here.

Independent Urges Gardeners to Register Surplus Vegetables

Last week the Independent announced that it would act as a clearing house for surplus vegetables raised in this community. The plan is to keep a card file on which can be registered the names of persons wishing to dispose of surplus vegetables and also the names of people who desire to secure vegetables for canning purposes or immediate use. So far only one person has taken advantage of this service, but has a good variety ready at the present time.

This week the Independent would like to urge people again to take advantage of this service, which is free. Local, county, state and national committees are urging civilians to conserve all food. Call the Independent immediately if you have surpluses, or make inquiry if you want vegetables.

Wright County 4-H Girl To Attend State War Work Conference

Miss Shirley Hodgson, president of the Wright county 4-H girls organization will represent Wright county girls in a state war time work conference August 2 and 3. This conference is scheduled to give the county presidents information and help them. Ordinarily it would be part of the state 4-H girls conference program. State 4-H officers and members of state 4-H staff will meet with the county presidents.

Aims are to give added training and a broad viewpoint of the responsibility of the county officers in helping to develop an efficient war time program for 4-H girls clubs. Registration will begin at 9:00 a. m. August 2nd in Memorial Union at Ames. The open session which begins at 10.00 a. m. will be held in Great Hall, Memorial Union. The entire group will go to Des Moines for dinner, an evening session and a second days activities.

Point Values Changed On Several Items

Announcement Made By OPA This Week

A news release from the OPA office in Washington this week indicates changes in point values in tomato juice, many frozen fruits and vegetables, as well as butter, fats, oils, dairy products and some meats.

Frozen fruits and berries increased from six to nine points per pound, but frozen fruit juices reduced from four to two points per pound. Frozen green and lima beans, cut corn, peas and spinach increased from four to six points per pound, while canned tomato juice increased at the rate of one point per pound. Smaller cans of tomato juice up to 14 ounces remained unchanged.

OPA boosted the ration price of butter two points a pound but reduced the value of shortening, lard, salad and cooking oils by one point.

August blue stamps will be good until September 20, overlappin[illegible] the September stamps by [illegible] weeks. New red point valu[illegible] remain in effect through[illegible] ber 4.

Governor's Day At Clear Lake August 7-8

AHLMAN FINISHES ARMY HOSPITAL CONTRACT

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ahlman came Saturday from Temple, Texas, where they have been living for several months. Mr. Ahlman had just finshed a contract as general manager of the construction work for the Hegstrom Construction Company of St. Paul, Minn., on a $4,000,000 army hospital there. The Ahlman's will be living in Belmond for the present.

Merchant Marine Offers Many Opportunities To Serve On The High Seas

Many unusual opportunities are offered today for service in the Merchant Marine because of increased shipbuilding and increased safety on the high seas, according to an announcement issued by the Maritime Service.

The service is open to men between the ages of 17½ and 50 and is the only service still accepting volunteers between 18 and 39. Volunteers receive their uniforms, food and quarters, plus $50.00 per month while in the three-months training period.

Not only will these men have good jobs today, but will be offered the opportunity of becoming ship's officers with a life-time career in shipping, the announcement said.

Further details and information can be obtained by writing to the Maritime Service Enrolling Office, 214 Medical Arts Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

PEOPLE'S PARTNERSHIP—

Belmond Chapter of the Red Cross has received a special word of thanks from the American Red Cross for oversubscribing the 1943 War Fund which read as follows:

"You have proven again that your American Red Cross is truly a people's partnership. Your generous support enables you to share in supplying blood plasma to wounded, fighting men . . . in bringing new hope to forlorn prisoners of war . . . in shouldering many personal worries of soldiers and sailors and in providing help and comfort for their families . . . in serving suffering humanity throughout the world . . . to you who have made this partnership possible, THANKS.

The Red Cross began its service to mankind many years ago and the continuation of that service down through the years has been successful because communities like Belmond all over the country believe in it and respond generously when calls for help come.

POLLY, PUT THE KETTLE ON!

Polly, put the kettle on, and we'll all have COFFEE.

Millions of real coffee drinkers, who never could be satisfied with the one or two cups a day that our coffee ration would allow, will be glad to know that coffee rationing will be ended soon, according to an announcement by the OPA.

More important than satisfying the appetites of coffee topers, however, is the implication made by the removing of restrictions on the sale of coffee. This is just another bit of evidence that we are well past the turning point in the war, especially in one branch, the vigilant fight against the deadly, sneaking enemy submarine.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE—

After last week's Allied air raids on Rome, Pope Pius XII said that he had hoped Rome would be spared "the horrors and destruction of bombing" because of its historical, cultural and religious importance.

We don't like to see historical, religious Rome bombed any more than we liked to see historical, beautiful London destroyed.

There is a difference, however. When the Nazi allies of the Italians bombed London, they respected nothing—history, tradition, beauty. In the bombing of Rome, our air forces are using their greatest skill in trying to hit military objectives without unnecessary destruction to sacred and historical spots.

BOUNTIFUL GARDENS—

Readers of the Independent should not forget to take advantage of a new service it will attempt to give during the next few weeks: keeping a file of information on surplus vegetables from local gardens as well as the names of persons wishing to secure such vegetables either for canning or table use.

If the gardeners and the homemakers in this community will take advantage of this service, there should be no reason for need and no reason for waste, because this year Belmond gardens are bountiful.

BUY BONDS—PAY

On Saturd ... ek

the local American Legion Post has planned a program in connection with the dedication of the Honor Roll Board of Belmond, which pays tribute to the men and women from this community in the service of our country.

On this same evening the Legion is also emphasizing the sale of War Bonds and asks you to buy an extra bond. There is no better way we can pay tribute to the boys who are fighting for us than to dig deep in our pockets and buy all the bonds we can.

Boost—Not Knock—Service Men

This writer does not believe that young men who were of good character and habits in civilian life are becoming reckless because of their military service—certainly not viciously so. What soldiers or sailors were in business or the professions—even in college—they MAY be in the Army, the Navy, the Airforce, the Coast Guard, or wherever placed.

Many, if their own statements are to be believed, have found their new life improving in both a moral, physical and mental way. Some molly-coddles have been defeminized; some civil life tough huts have been cracked—and glad of it—so they frankly admit.

I am for the young service men—first, last and all the time. Before bringing censure to bear on some who occasionally step a little too fast—drink a little too much on a special occasion, perhaps—we older people should mentally put ourselves in their places. What would WE do—how would we conduct ourselves if suddenly pulled away from our home environment and placed among strangers in an element entirely foreign to our accustomed activities?

That is the real test of the service men who are deserving of all our help instead of our squawks. Military officials are rather prompt to correct detrimental situations in service which threaten to get out of hand. And one or two bad eggs, when handled soon enough, do not necessarily spoil an entire basketful.—Northwood Anchor.

Today's American soldiers, sailors and marines require annually the production of appproximately 1,500 pounds more steel per man than their fathers did in the first World war. Another reason why the shutting down of coal mines is disastrous to the war program.—Boone News- Republican.

Add to list of war heroes: An old man, joints creaking, his back wilted, sticking to the seat of a horse-drawn cultivator in a Guthrie county, Iowa cornfield, long after quitting time; a 10-year-old boy, struggling with a bluegrass stripper in Madison county; in Montgomery county a young farm woman in overalls, balancing on the top of a hay wagon as she worked like mad to beat a July shower.—Wallace's Farmer.

There is considerable editorial comment on who is to be the next republican candidate for president, as if it were a cinch he would be elected. When all is said and done, isn't government a matter of business? And should not the candidate be a man with a record of good management in business affairs behind him?

Selection of candidates for president should be a matter of wise selection of a business man, even if the elections themselves are highly emotional.—Britt News-Tribune.

The psychology used by Congress is responsible for throwing the delivery of corn to market into reverse. Had congress merely suggested the possibility of a lower, rather than a higher ceiling on corn, the elevators in central Iowa and Illinois would now be flooded with corn. "Truly, one-half the world doesn't know how the other half eats," was the observation recently about a man seen at breakfast the other morning who started with a glass of orange juice. He then sipped a cup of black coffee, followed with half a cantaloupe well salted, a dish of red raspberries generously sugared, a dish of cereal well sweetened, and a sweet roll. With these he downed two bottles of milk and two large creamers of cream. Part of the milk went into a glass a third full of whipped cream. At the finish he took what was left of his butter straight. He lighted a big, black cigar and climbed onto the scales on his way out. We wondered how we felt so good as we glanced down at our two strips of bacon, a few fried potatoes, roll and coffee.

Another and recent addition to the faddish moron stories, says the Northwood Anchor, is the one about the young wife, who, upon being told by her husband that the bank had failed, comforted him with: "Isn't that too bad, but isn't it lucky you've been leaving your check book at home?" Which is remindful of the other young woman who when told by the doctor that the first step in physical repair was to remove her complex protested: "Oh doctor, how dreadful. Isn't there anything you can do to help me without an operation?"

The closer it gets to the time for our first ear of sweet corn the harder it is to wait. There's something about a steaming platter full of this toothsome vegetable that makes the palate ache for more. A meal of "corn on the cob", as the daughter calls it, is one meal when we mean business. Before you know it, our stomach is bulging, our face is covered with butter and salt from ear to ear and the pile of cobs is large enough to start a good fire. So bring on the sweet corn, we're ready.

Have you noticed the assortment of buggies being driven by a couple of youngsters who come from somewhere in the north part of town. I'm not sure but I believe the outfit and the one boy belong to Chris Uhlenhopp. It's surprising that more of this method of getting around hasn't been used.

Here we are with but a month of summer vacation left and still no supervised and decent place for the youngsters of Belmond to swim, yeh, and the oldsters, too. Something should be done, just what we don't know, but with a river and gravel pit or two it seems that something could be worked out without too much trouble. It's a project for the Community Club.

The ancients thought that their Sun God alone was responsible when they enjoyed health and vigor. They made many sacrifices which they hoped would keep him in good humor.

Apollo got the Glory ...the Vitamins did the work

Fortunately, we do not have to depend upon the whims of an Apollo for safeguards for our health. Science has demonstrated over and over again that sensible living and proper nutrition are the first steps toward a robust body and an alert mind.

The entire nation looks eagerly for news about Science's continuous studies of vitamins. One fact that has been determined is that the B Complex vitamins are the least plentiful in the foods that come to your table. Physicians say that your body is quick to feel a B Vitamins deficiency, but unharmed if you get more than enough.

The home of Budweiser is one of the world's biggest sources of B Complex vitamins. They are contained in brewer's yeast, which we supply to leading pharmaceutical manufacturers. From them, our armed forces and our civilian population obtain millions of B Complex vitamin units to supplement the daily diet when necessary. The perfection of this vitamin-rich yeast is one more result of laboratory and research work that has helped to produce the world's most popular beer.

VOL. 24 NO. 41 — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1943 — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Reasons Given For Increasing Bond Quotas

Covers Purchases During Last Six Months

Four major reasons were presented this week by the local county War Finance Committee for the increase in the county's quota for the purchase of War Bonds for the last six months of the year.

The four reasons were announced in a special statement to the press of the county as follows:

1. Bank deposits are up sharply not only in this county but throughout the state. The increases have come in the face of purchases of Bonds and are in the commercial banking field as well as individual customer bank accounts. Hoarding of money will not win the war. It should be loaned to Uncle Sam.

2. Farmers are getting bigger net incomes now than in 1918, 1919 or 1929. Latest Government figures based on farm income for Iowa for the first five months of the year would mean $1,650,000,000 in farm income for 1943, as compared to $1,297,787,000 for 1942.

3. Wages and salaries to labor showed an increase of $124,000,000 for 1942 over wages and salaries received in Iowa in 1941. Estimates by the Department of Commerce also indicate huge increases in salaries in Iowa so far during 1943. In addition to this so many families, which formerly had one pay check, are now receiving two and three pay checks with several people in a family working. This is resulting in increased savings and bank accounts and increased spending which is bringing on inflation.

4. Indication of increased wealth in Iowa which is not being put into bonds and the monthly increase in farm sales—increase in price of land has risen 17 per cent in some sections of the state in a short time. Investment in bonds to meet the new quota for the county will guard against land boom and dangerous depressions which follow.

The statement of the County War Finance Committe says that we definitely believe that the people of our county have the necessary money to meet the quota and the call of Uncle Sam for increased purchases of War Bonds.

AIDS IN EPIDEMIC

Meredith Nordschow, formerly of Belmond, has been sent by the Iowa Methodist Hospital at Des Moines to Oklahoma City, to assist in the Sister Kenny Treatment of infantile paralysis. There is an epidemic of this disease and around five hundred people are under treatment in that city. She expects to be there a few months.

Congregational Church Opens Office Five Days Weekly For Counselling

In line with other planned improvements, an office was opened this week in the small room upstairs on the east side of the sanctuary of the Sands Memorial Congregational Church. The office will be open daily Tuesday through Saturday of each week from 9 in the morning until noon and 2 in the afternoon until 5. Mr. Beck, the minister, will be in charge. Appointments, for other than office hours, can be made by telephoning the Church Manse, phone 224. Emergency calls will be gladly answered at any hour day or night.

The opening of this office is in line with the latest practice of church administration. Mr. Beck will be available for counsel by any one desiring such service, regardless of church affiliations. He has done considerable work in this field and has taken special work in counselling under Professor Ralph L. Woodward of Yale Divinity School; Smiley Blanton, M. D., engaged in private psychiatric practice in New York City since 1931, and Assistant Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at Cornell Medical College, Ithaca, New York; and Otis R. Rice, since 1940, Rector of St. Luke's Hospital, New York City and, since 1933, Instructor in Pastoral Theology at the General Theological Seminary, New York City.

No charge will be made for Mr. Beck's services.

O. D. Jenison Resigns As Secretary-Treasurer Of Farmers Creamery

O. D. Jenison, who has been Secretary of the Farmers Creamery Company since 1926, handed in his written application for resignation to the Board of Directors July 31. He found it impossible to continue his work with the creamery and at the same time carry on his farm work and chores. He wishes to thank the Board for accepting his resignation.

Mrs. Alyce Thompson was hired as bookkeeper, and A. F. Bohning was appointed as Secretary and Treasurer for the balance of the year.

Hope Hackett left Tuesday to spend a two weeks vacation at her home in Marshalltown.

Mrs. C. C. Christie and Jeanne Anne spent a few days last week in Minneapolis.

Faith Can Move A Mountain - Man Can Move A Church

Moving of the Fundamental Church building from its old site on highway No. 69 north of the Farmers Creamery Company to its new location on the corner east of the Belmond Lumber Co. on Main Street aroused the interest of those who happened to be down town Wednesday morning.

(Ed. note)—We'll venture to say that nothing as big as the Fundamental Church building ever proceeded up Belmond's Main street before, and though the process of moving so large a structure down the highway two blocks, and up Main street four blocks sounded complicated, it was accomplished in a remarkably short time.

Spectators noted, when the building was being moved down the highway, that if it had been two or three inches wider it would not have passed between the highline poles on either side.

Excavation for a full basement was made some time ago on the spot where the church will stand, and many other improvements are expected to be made.

Mr. Holgate Is Injured In Fall From Light Pole

Raymond Holgate, who is employed by the Central States Electric Co., was injured last Wednesday afternoon while working near Mallard, Iowa.

He received an electric shock while working on transformers and was thrown from the pole, and received a broken pelvic bone in the fall. He was brought to the Belmond Hospital where his condition is improving.

35 Students In Recital Friday Night

Luin Cox Writes From Northern Camp

Friends in Belmond received a letter from Luin Cox who had just received his first copy of the Independent. He says, "Your paper always takes me right back to Belmond for the period it takes me to read it from the first column, front page, to the last column of the last page. I even read the county board proceedings when you publish them, and I'll bet there are darned few who do that. I'm always particularly interested in your column about the other fellows who are in the armed services, and naturally follow George's column closely. Tell him if he ever gets to APO 728, to make it a point to look me up. I noticed in your July 8th issue that Bob Dempsey is up this way, probably quite a little farther from home than I am. Would like to see his APO number if you can get it from Bill.

We've a nice camp here, with a theatre, chapel and gymnasium. The American Red Cross is doing a swell job here, too, and believe me, the money you put into it is doing its work among the men stationed at the post. They have a beautiful little library, two ping pong tables, two pool tables, a fine radio and record player, and lots of swell, overstuffed chairs and davenports, making it a place like home in which to read. The Field Director for recreation here has his hand in everything, and is constantly promoting something for the amusement of the men. Of course, we do not have the cities to which we can go on week ends, so most of our pleasures have to be self-manufactured, which gives him plenty to do."

Receives Promotion

Leonard Johnson, who is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., has recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Graduates from Gunnery School

Norris Wilson was graduated from the Arial Gunnery School at Harlington, Texas, last Saturday. He received his sergeant's rating and his wings. He was medalist for his class and was third highest in his class of 350. He will now go into cadet training.

Augustin Rocha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Rocha, was home visiting his parents prior to his departure to the United States Army. Mr. Rocha graduated from the local high school with the class of '33 and has been employed as a linotype operator in Kansas City for the last five years.

Attend Dinner In London

Private First Class Walton Peterson of Belmond and Private First Class Virgil W. Koenen of Meservey attended a dinner together at the American Red Cross Mostyn Club in London recently. This was the second dinner meeting for soldiers from Iowa who joined to exchange stories about home and their experiences in the European Theatre of Operations. There were seventeen soldiers present.

Mr. Peterson and Mr. Koenen have lived within six miles of each other, they were inducted into the army together, were trained together, are stationed at the same camp and are in the same outfit.

Walter J. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson of Norway Township, is now somewhere with the army in Alaska as a radio operator.

Friends Get Together

Roy Pals, who is stationed at Camp Stoneman at Pittsburgh, Calif. had a week end leave last week and went to see his friend, Bernard Smith, who is stationed at a camp one hundred miles from there. Bernard was very much surprised and Roy was the first person he had seen that he knew since he has been in the army.

A. W. Schmidt has been moved from Lowry Field near Denver, Colo., to Boca Raton, Florida.

Friends Visit In North Africa

Mrs. Samuel Crabtree received word last Wednesday that her son, Sgt. Geo. Crabtree and Lieut. R. E. Banning had seen each other and visited in North Africa. Mrs. Banning had sent Crabtree's address to Richard who looked him up. They are just 12 miles apart.

Ensign Roger Brady spent from Tuesday to Saturday last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brady. He was recently transferred from Annapolis to Philadelphia.

Receives Wings . . . .

Roy J. Hake, formerly of Belmond, has received his silver wings and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the army air corps Saturday, July 29. He had received his training at Altus flying field in Oklahoma.

MESERVEY

Ardell E. Rooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rooks of Meservey received a second lieutenant's commission Wednesday at the Army Air force advanced flying school at Douglas, Ariz. Lt. Rooks, who is a graduate of Meservey High school, entered the service June 8, 1942. He received his primary training at Santa Ana, Calif., basic training at Merced and Moore, California, and his advanced at Douglas. Lt. Rooks spent from Friday until Monday with his parents and sister, Marilyn.

Charles Fischer of the U. S. Air Corps spent the week end at the parental Walter Fischer home. Charles was enroute from Ellington Field, Texas, to Boise, Idaho, where he is assigned to a four motor bomber.

Russell L. Gaetz, S. 2|c U. S. C. G. of Santa Rosa, Florida, is spending a furlough with his mother, Mrs. E. Langlitz and other relatives and friends.

GOOODELL

Mrs. Peter Steenblock just received a letter from her son, Harvey, which is printed here.

July 20th.

Dear Ma:

Well, I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know

Confusion Existed In Last Week's Blackout

Wardens And Residents Urged to Understand Air Raid Signals

Because of misunderstandings of the signals, considerable confusion resulted in the blackout in this community last Friday evening, which was part of the state-wide surprise blackout held at that time, according to a statement by Thomas Hood, air raid controller for Belmond.

Mr. Hood, as well as Mayor Ed Kennedy, local defense chairman, stated that all block wardens should read the air raid signals published below and explain them to each property owner in their block, so that everyone will be prepared to blackout completely and at the proper time when the next blackout is called. It has been announced that we may expect a surprise blackout about once each month.

Only one change has been made in the signals for Belmond and that is the sounding of the fire siren for two minutes for the all-clear signal together with the turning on of the street lights.

At the ringing of the fire bell last Friday night, which meant complete blackout and immediate stopping of all traffic, a large percentage of the lights in the business district came on. Mr. Hood made the following statement, "It is apparent, from the confusion that existed at the last blackout, that residents of the community as well as the block wardens haven't taken time to make themselves familiar with the air raid signals."

The blackout signals which will be used in Belmond are as follows:

CAUTION SIGNAL

Steady sounding of the fire siren for two minutes. Block wardens are to begin their patrol. All business and residential district lights are to be turned out. Automobiles may proceed with caution with lights dimmed and pedestrians are to seek shelter.

ACTION SIGNAL

Ringing of the fire bell for one minute. All lights must be completely blacked out and all traffic must stop at once. Block wardens are to see that this is done.

CAUTION SIGNAL

Ringing of the fire bell for the second one-minute period. All lights are to remain blacked out. Traffic may resume with caution. Automobile lights must be dimmed.

ALL-CLEAR SIGNAL

To Start National War Fund Drive October 1

E. F. Bisbey of Clarion has been appointed chairman for Wright county for the 1943 campaign for the National War Fund, which combines 16 war relief appeals including the USO into a single national drive for $125,000,000 to meet the 1944 needs of these agencies. Iowa's share of the national goal will be approximately $2,275,000 which will be divided on a quota basis among the 99 counties of the state.

Mr. Bisbey was appointed by Carl Weeks of Des Moines, president of Iowa War Chest, Inc., at the suggestion of Gov. B. B. Hickenlooper, honorary president of the state chest. The Iowa War Chest will coordinate all county solicitations for the 26 agencies in the National War Fund.

The National War Fund, through its Iowa affiliate, the Iowa War Chest, will coordinate all funds raising activities for the various war relief appeals. The campaign will be held from Oct. 1 to Nov. 20.

HELLO WORLD

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Fetrow of Chicago are the parents of a girl born July 22. She has been named Harriett Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hinman are the parents of an 8¾ pound girl born Sunday, Aug. 1 at the Oscar Gartin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Kessler are the parents of a girl born July 28 at Portland, Oregon.

Special Meeting For Beekeepers Is Called For Friday Evening

A special meeting of the Wright county beekeepers on bee management and equipment is called for Friday evening, August 6th at 7:30 p. m. at the Hugh O'Neil home in Clarion.

Mr. Earl Daniels and Mr. Lyle Anderson, inspectors for this area will be on hand to discuss the various phases of the management of bees. Gerhard Thompson, president of the Wright County beekeepers Association will have charge of the meeting. The demonstration apiary for Wright County is located at the home of Hugh O'Neil where the meeting will be held. Mr. O'Neil has been cooperating with the state apiarist, Mrs. F. B. Paddock in the proper forms handling package bees and the right use of bee equipment.

This meeting is open to the public to any who is interested in the handling of bees whether it is for one stand or many stands of bees. The proper management of bees is very important for the conservation of honey for sugar replacement and beeswax which is used extensively in our war industries.

Victory Bond Sale Nets Total Of $43,600

Honor Roll Dedication Was Feature

A record crowd attended the American Legion Victory Bond Day Saturday evening, which resulted in the sale of $43,600 in Bonds.

The feature of the program, which came at the end of the evening was the dedication of the Honor Roll board with J. Leslie Leonard as speaker for the occasion. Belmond's Honor Roll contains the names of 273 men and women from this vicinity who are in the armed forces.

The rest of the program was conducted according to schedule with an hour's concert of patriotic music by the Belmond Band under the direction of Miss Edith Jensen, with Lorraine Quigley as vocal soloist. Following this there was a drill by the local Boy Scout troop under the leadership of Assistant Scout Master Duane Dorr and William Dempsey, who has been drilling the boys in practice.

Immediately after that F. A. Hunt exhibited the horses and ponies from the Hunt training stables in a parade which was [illegible] by Jean Aldrich and Ed H[illegible] carrying the colors, and [illegible] 13 other riders participat[illegible]

75 Wright County 4-H Girls Have Preliminary Health Examinations

Miss Wilma Soehren, county health nurse, has completed the preliminary examination of the 4-H club girls. 75 girls were examined by the nurse. This represented more than 75 per cent of the girls from 8 clubs. One club had their examinations by their local physician.

The girls with the highest score from each club are: Violet Wilson, Woolstock Sailors. Marjorie LaBounty, Iowa U-Go-I-Go; Dorothy Collins, Lincoln's Lassies; Shirley Modgson, Troy Thrifties; Marion Martin, Liberty-Boone Modern Lassies; Evelyn Kuhn, Grant Go-Getters; Maxine Martin, Day-le Club; Margaret Nelson, Eagles Red Peppers and Donna Mae Anderson, Lincoln's Loyal Ladies.

In order that the girls may compete for health champion of Wright County she must be 15 years of age. Any girl who has had her preliminary health examination may enter into the health improvement class at the fair. The health improvement champion will be a girl who has entered a previous year.

Of the girls examined 33 per cent were 10 pounds underweight and 20 per cent were 10 pounds overweight. The factor that discredited the girls the most in their examinations were poor teeth. This might be explained by the fact that two-thirds of the girls drink less than the required amount of milk for good nutrition.

Any girls who did not have their preliminary health examinations but wish to have them before the fair should contact the county health nurse, Miss Wilma Soehren, at her office in the court house on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 21.

Ann Goplerud Tells Of Experiences In Africa

Ann Goplerud, formerly a music instructor in the Belmond school, has written to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goplerud of Osage, the following interesting information concerning her work with the American Red Cross in north Africa, which was published recently in the Mitchell County Press and Osage News. She writes:

"The other day on my day off I went for a long ride on the beach in an open jeep—there were huge locusts all over everything; I've never seen anything like it, and knowing how I enjoy bugs you can imagine what a time I had—the fellow with me nearly died laughing at me. The Arabs catch the locusts and cook them, or some even eat them raw. Imagine!

I play the piano and sing by the hour. It's so much fun. The best musicians come in here. The pianists with Ted Lewis, Red Nichols, Artie Shaw, Teddy Powell, and lots of other big-name bands, come in real often—also many others who played other instruments in big bands and did arranging, come in.

Easter Sunday I had dinner—chicken and everything — at a French home. I certainly enjoyed it. They serve wine with meals all the time. That's all they drink over here.

Arab Wedding

I saw part of an Arab wedding Saturday night. They dance so funny to a squeaky violin and a drum. They had a great big fire and were making some special Arab food for the wedding feast. The groom never sees the bride's face before they're married. Wouldn't that be a crazy deal, tho?

Monday, on my day off, I flew to Agadir. The Red Cross and the army run a big air corps rest camp there. It's really swell. Surely enjoyed the trip down. Beautiful mountain scenery—but on the way back it was terribly rough and I got so sick I thought I'd never get back—just like being seasick—didn't feel so ashamed of being a sissy when I noticed a French pilot across me was just as sick as I was.

Went to sing at the opening of a new Red Cross club in a nearby town an hour's ride from here. You see everything from funny little old huts that the Arabs live in, to big beautiful, country villas; and there are big cactus, orange and lemon trees; stork nests, etc., to say nothing of the Arabs with their funny little carts and camels, goats and mules.

Capt. Andre Baruch of radio, was master of ceremonies at the program, and after it was over asked me to sing on the North African army radio program, which he runs. That'll be fun, I think.

"I told you about the Arab wedding I saw. I also spent an evening with a soldier in a lovely Arabian home. The man is a merchant and very wealthy. It was a huge home, with all kinds of lacy cut-out decorations, and fancy tile work all over. They served us Arab spice tea and almond

WE THINK ABOUT THE WAR—

News has been breaking fast in the last week or more regarding the European theater of war, almost as fast as the war itself. And in connection with this good war news, there is comment, prophecy, opinion, question, advice. We too, wonder and think a lot about what is going on over there, and we too have our thoughts on the subject of the war, some of which are as follows:

Further Our Cause

The folding up of Mussolini in Italy is causing a lot of strife inside the country which we expect to further the cause of the Allies. What has happened in Italy since Mussolini gave up the reins of power can be expected to happen also in Germany when Hitler gets crowded too far.

Bitter Medicine

We have often wondered if dictators ever pause in the midst of their ruthless plundering, killing, stealing and terrorism to remember that the fate of all their kind down through the ages, if not a ghastly death, has been the greatest sadness and loneliness that can be imagined in old age. All evil people who have harmed others must sometime take a dose of their own medicine, which for dictators and their like must surely be very bitter.

Sanctuary.

We quote from one news story, "The accounts of Mussolini's arrest recalled a report in London...that Adolf Hitler has promised him sanctuary at Vienna." Does Hitler really think that either Mussolini or himself can find safety at Vienna or other spot when the Allies march into Berlin?

Italy Counted More

We wouldn't have thought it of Mussolini! A recent news story included a paragraph which indicated that Mussolini thought he must resign in view of heavy opposition because it was agreed that Italy counted more than the Fascist party.

The Meanest Man

Hitler is still thinking only of himself. He cares no more for his allies than he does for his enemies. One of his latest strategys in Italy angered the Italians and is making us madder and madder. When it became apparent that the Allies would hold Sicily, "Hitler's plan was to create a great defense line behind the Po valley in northern Italy, and he suggested that all Italian troops, munitions, rolling stock and food be transferred behind this line, to leave the Allies the heavy burden of supplying the civilian population."

—V—

ROOSEVELT TALKS ABOUT THE WAR

President Roosevelt's address last week, like all Roosevelt talks to the people was timed just right to enlist the continued utmost support of the American people on the home front as well as to sway the opinion of the people in Italy, in occupied countries and in the nations still maintaining neutrality.

Roosevelt's address contained many reassuring remarks. He said, referring to Mussolini (and including Hitler and Hirohito), criminal will be allowed to esc he expedient of 'resignation'. erms .... 'unconditional surrender'."

The successful waging of the war is a slow process as Roosevelt's explanation reveals. "It is a little over a year since we planned the North Africa campaign. It is six months since we planned the Sicilian campaign."

Another statement mentions his confusion regarding the prophecied end of the war. "I confess that I myself am sometimes bewildered by conflicting statements....One day I read an 'authoritative statement that we shall win the war this year, 1943—and the next day comes another statement equally 'authoritative'. that the war will still be going on in 1949."

Whatever prophecy may be true concerning the winning of the war, we hope that when it is over, Congress will see fit to perfect plans suggested by Roosevelt which will provide for the adjustment of millions of service men and women back into civilian life. These suggestions include mustering-out pay sufficient to tide service men over a period of unemployment, U. S. employment service to help in securing jobs, opportunity for further education or trade training, improved medical care and sufficient pensions for disabled veterans.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

One barrier to having harmony and understanding between all types of people in our country is the fact that we are all specialists and don't give much thought to the specialties of others.

The farmer, for example, is vitally interested in legislation and regulations which affect farming, but he is not much concerned over what the government is doing to help solve the problems of the laboring man or the businessman. The laborer, on the other hand, doesn't care too much what is done about the farmer so long as it doesn't raise the price of the food he buys.

The businessman is interested in the problems of the farmer and the laborer to the extent that solutions to their problems affect his prices and his supplies, but in most cases he doesn't bother to analyze their difficulties from their standpoint.

All of us have our own type of problems and can't expect too much sympathy from other groups who don't understand them. But we would have a higher standard of living in this country if each of us would make a real effort to try to see the other fellow's problems through his eyes as well as our own.—Lake Mills Graphic.

The third biggest corn refinery in the world, which is located at Clinton, Iowa, closed last week for lack of corn. Think of that in the heart of the corn belt! Why? Farmers are saving $1 corn to feed to $13.75 hogs. $13.75 hogs make $1.35 corn. —Clarion Monitor.

The government has sent out a notice to newspapers and magazines offering to furnish mats for advertising the bond selling campaign for the balance of the year. The request calls for 66,000 pages, over 11 million inches of free space. The government asks for this space which is the same as merchandise, free for nothing. When it comes to clothing, shoes, food, gas, oil, steel and other merchandise necessary to win the war, the government pays for it right on the line.—Eagle Grove Eagle.

Have you heard about one local victory gardener who led a neighbor to his tomato patch and pointed to what looked like a ripe tomato hanging from the vines. Not until his company had spread the word along of his prowess as a gardener. did they learn that a Christmas tree decoration had been tied to the vines. Sounds like the annual rivalry over who can raise the first ripe tomato, between Jim Mariga and Lunk Helland.

"I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free.
A girl with hungry eyes all fixed
Upon a drink that's being mixed.
A girl who doesn't like to wear,
A lot of junk up in her hair.
Girls are loved by men like me,
For who would want to kiss a tree?"

Addendum to the whisker talk, Don Berry's Indianola Record has this to say.

"The Saturday Evening Post devotes good space to an editorial suggesting that after this war men will again cultivate whiskers. It cites the custom after the Civil war when men kept up the hirsute appendages which had been accumulated during the war when they had poor facilities for shaving. But there is a better reason than that for returning to the chin brush. It is a good deal like the Chicago stenographer said. when her employer dictated a letter about a bull going through a sale ring. She supposed it referred to "The ring they put in a bull's nose so you can tell that it is a bull!"

Women can now run turret lathes, arc welding machines. they can smoke, chew, cuss, tell livery stable stories, wear breeches, vote, join the army, stand more cold on their bare legs than a man would think of—but, by golly, they can't raise whiskers. So come on, boys, be men-" . . . .

Stoffer-Trafford Vows Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. Simon J. Stoffer of Alexander announce the marriage of their daughter, Annabelle, to Cpl. Lowell T. Trafford of Camp Campbell, Kentucky, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Trafford of Belmond.

The ceremony took place in the Scarritt College Chapel, Nashville, Tennessee Monday July 19, 1943, at 7:30 p. m. with Hugh C. Stuntz, D. D. President of Scarritt College, officiating.

The bride and groom took their places before the altar to the soft music of Lohengrins Wedding march, and Dr. Stuntz m his academic robes performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a blue tailored gabardine suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom was dressed in the regular army uniform.

They were attended by Cpl. and Mrs. Roy G. Whitaker of Nashville, close friends of the groom. Mrs. Whitaker wore a yellow tailored suit with white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

Guests present were Mrs. H. C. Stuntz and daughter and 14 members of Cpl. Trafford's Company at Camp Campbell.

A 9 o'clock dinner was served to the bridal party at the Cross Keys in the Hotel Hermitage, Nashville, after which the bride and groom left for Chattanooga and Lookout Mountains in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains in southeastern Tennessee.

The past four years Mrs. Trafford has been operating the Anne-Gray Beauty Shop in Belmond. Plans for the bride's immediate future are indefinite, pending Cpl. Trafford's graduation from Officer's Candidate School at Camp Campbell.

Mr. Trafford is a graduate of the Belmond high school and of Drake University in Des Moines. He taught in Indianola from September to December 10, 1942, at which time he enlisted in the armed forces.

NOW
IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL
SELL
Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using.
Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.
Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.
Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.
Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.
Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.
ALWAYS REMEMBER — Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.
And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

When our mortars were pounding Maknassy Hill near Sidi Bu-Sid in Africa, Private James Rugolo of Brooklyn, New York, was one of the men bringing up the ammunition. Struck by shrapnel, he kept going until he dropped, was awarded the Purple Heart. On every battlefront men like Rugolo press the attack relentlessly, regardless of personal cost. Are you doing enough to keep our attack rolling through Payroll Savings?

OBITUARY

Ervin Dippel

Ervin Dippel was born Nov. 7, 1886, in Putnam County, Illinois, the son of Henry and Marie Dippel. He was baptized Jan. 23, 1887 at St. John's Lutheran church at Granville, Ill. He was confirmed in the same faith on April 17, 1904, at Belmond, Iowa.

He was united in marriage in 1906 to Gertrude Greenlander. Mr. Dippel was the father of five children, two of whom with his first wife, preceded him in death.

Those surviving are Edward of Belmond, Louis overseas, Wylma (Mrs. Wilbur Fulks) of Waterloo, three grand children, two sisters and two brothers.

He passed away suddenly of a heart attack on Friday July 23, 1943, at Clear Lake, Iowa, at the age of 56 years, 8 months and 16 days. Burial was at the German Reformed church at Belmond.

Ernest Wilkins

Ernest Wilkins, son of Henry and Rachel Wilkins, was born at Albion Jan. 12, 1885. At the age of ten years he came to Hancock County and has lived at Goodell the past forty-eight years where he has been a painter. During the last few years he has been suffering with diabetes and on July 15, he entered the Lutheran Hospital at Hampton. His left leg was amputated below the knee on July 21 and his condition was favorable until a blood clot set in. He died at four o'clock Monday morning, July 26.

The immediate relatives who survive are his brother, Lester of Mason City, a brother Albert, and a sister, Lulu, of Goodell. He was preceded in death by his parents and three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, July 28, at the United Brethern Church in Goodell with Rev. Knight in charge. Burial was in the family lot.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mrs. Lois Hammond and son entertained at Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thomas and Verneda and Cloe of Goodell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Williams expect their granddaughter, Nancy Nicolet of Evanston, Ill., on Friday. She will spend several weeks with them.

BELMOND SCHOOLS

Will Open August 30th

Wartime Makes No Difference

Every boy or girl still needs a high-school education, the surest guarantee of future security. In changing times like these the very desire to DO something often leads to students leaving school for defense jobs. That, however, is false and misguided patriotism. As leaders of our country have advised, keep on with your education UNTIL YOU ARE CALLED. And in the meantime learn to become a useful citizen.

Belmond High School offers the student an opportunity to get the education and fundamentals so necessary in the future development in the chosen vocational field. In addition, extra - curricular activities are thoughtfully designed to add pure fun to schoolwork. And they all add up to one thing....students in high school learn the whys and wherefores of practical democracy.

Registration Dates for all new Students will BE ANNOUNCED IN the NEAR FUTURE!

TUITION & TEXTBOOKS

There is absolutely no cost to the student from the country, or his family, for tuition. This is paid by the school district from which he or she comes, and enables the student to take advantage of a higher education without any extra financial burden.

The textbook problem is made simple and inexpensive by the rental plan adopted throughout the entire school system some years ago. All textbooks are purchased by the district and are rented out on a yearly basis for a small fee.

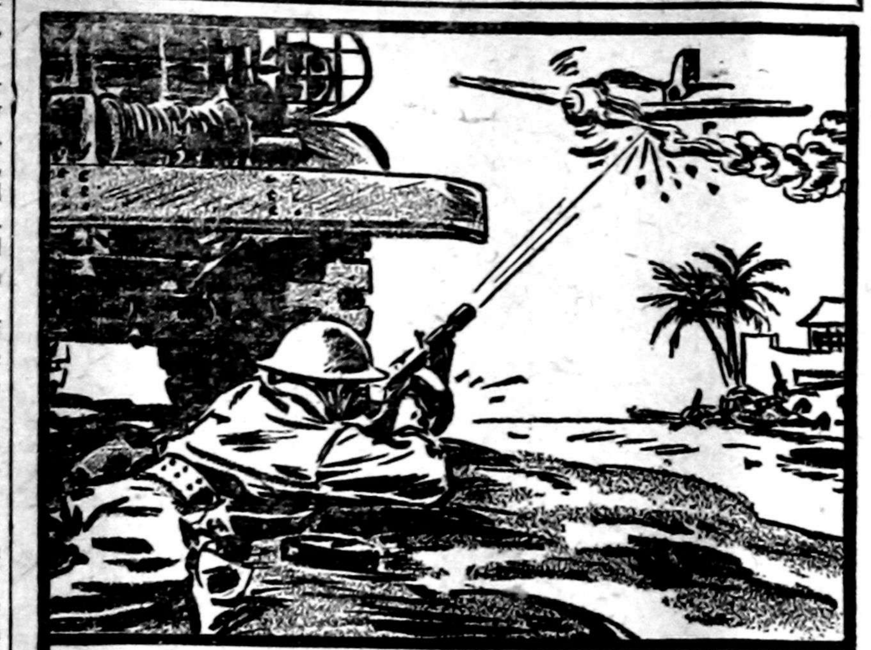
AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF



The Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded Staff Sgt. Doyle Kimmery of Huntington, Texas, for manning a sub-machine gun and returning the fire of low-flying enemy planes during the Jap attack on Hickam Field. When his ammunition was gone he ran from the cover of his truck to get more, and kept firing until the truck was bombed. He showed bravery beyond the call of duty. Figure out for yourself how much you can invest in War Savings beyond what you are doing now.

Court Notes

George Doliver Fairell who has been employed south of Belmond was arrested July 22nd by Sheriff Roy Wilson on a charge of embezzlement by agent. A hearing was held on July 23rd and Fairell was unable to put up $2500.000 bond. He was placed in the custody of Sheriff Wilson and is being held in the Wright County jail until a meeting of the grand jury on August 30th.

Lena Rosvall vs Martha Inman et al, a petition in equity. The plaintiffs ask that the court confirm the rights of the various parties interested in certain real estate; also appoint someone to appraise the assets of the estate and authorize the sale of certain assets belonging to the estate.

Julien D. Hills vs. Frederic R. Hills et al. An order fixing the time and place of hearing and prescribing notice. Hearing on the report of sale to E. M. Cook to be held at the house house in Clarion on the 31st day of July at 10:00 a. m. It was ordered by the court that E. O. Turk, referee, may receive additional bids for the purchase of the property at the time and place of hearing and the property to be sold to the highest bidder for cash subject to the said mortgage.

State of Iowa vs. Ronald Yoder. Juvenile court finds the child neglected and dependent. Ordered to the custody of Mrs. M. M. McCollough of Webster City. Any dependency allotment which Gwendolyn McCollough Yoder receives from the U. S. government shall be paid over to Mrs. M. M. McCollough for the support of the child. This order is without prejudice to Donald Yoder, who is in the military service of the U. S. to move for modification of this order and for custody of the child upon his leaving military service.

Donald Yoder vs. Gwendolyn Marie Yoder. Plaintiff asks that he be granted an absolute divorce from the defendent, and that the defendent's right to support or maintenance from the plaintiff, or any right or claim for alimony be denied, and, that the court grant such other and further relief to the plaintiff as is just and equitable.

On July 26th court convened pursuant to schelule with Judge Sherwood Clock presiding. Donald Yoder vs. Gwendolyn Marie Yoder, a decree. The court finds that the allegations of the plantiff's petition true, and that the plaintiff is entitled to a decree of absolute divorce from the defendant: that the minor child of the parties, Ronald Chas. Yoder. under an order heretofore made by this court in juvenile proceedings, is in the custody of Mrs. M. M. McCollough at Webster City, and that no further order should be made at this time relative to the care, custody and control of said child. Plaintiff was granted an absolute divorce, and all liability of the plaintiff for the support or maintenance of said defendent is hereby fully terminated; and the costs of this action are taxed to the defendant

THE HOME FRONT IN IOWA

The August quota of new passenger car tires for the Des Moines District, Office of Price Administratioon, is 15 per cent lower than the July quota. The August quota is 8,859 as compared to 10,422 of July. The passenger tube quota is also reduced for August with only 7,877 as compared to the July quota of 8,467.

x

In announcing the lower August quotas, R. E. Walters, Des Moines District Director, emphasizes that the total stocks of passenger car tires are the lowest since rubber tires came into general usage many years ago. This tire shortage forces reductions of the quotas. Virtually all remaining tires are now in the hands of dealers as the large warehouses and factories have shipped nearly all of their tires to dealers.

The manufacture of synthetic tires has begun but the production rate is so much lower than the demand that the tire shortage will become worse for several months.

As a result of the tire shortage, it has been necessary since July 1 to deny tires of any kind, either new or used, to "A" book holders unless their cars are used for occupational purposes and have a ride-sharing arrangement. This duling applies to running wheels as well as to spares.

Another new ruling caused by the tire shortage prohibits issuing certificate for a new tire for a spare. If a car has four serviceable tires, it is not eligible for a new fifth or spare tire .Neither is it eligible for a used or recapped tire if it has four serviceable tires and a spare capable of being driven only a few miles in an emergency. However, nearly all rationing boards in the Des Moines District have so many more tire applications than their quota of tires that they are unable to issue spare tire certificates even for used tires.

Car owners who fail to recap or repair their tires when needed or who are reported as driving at speeds of over 35 miles per hour are abusing their tires, and local boards may deny them tires when needed. Such action is necessary because of the critical tire situation.

The August quota of truck tires is also smaller than July, with only 4,384 as compared to a July quota of 4,507. Hot weather increases the number of tire failures, and this will make the current quota doubly inadequate. Truckers must recap and repair their tires, avoid overloading, and drive under 35 miles per hour, or else risk being denied tires.

Other August quotas are 7,599 used and recapped passenger tires, 5,457 truck tubes, and 3,974 farm tractor and implement tires. The July quotas were 6,224 used and recapped passenger tires, 3,990 truck tubes, and 3,432 tractor and implement tires.

The quota in this area of Wright and adjoining counties for August is as follows: Wright, grades 1 and 3, passenger, motorcycle, etc. tires 182, farm tractor and implement tires 85; Hancock, passenger, etc. tires 152, farm tractor and implement tires 79; Franklin, passenger, etc. tires 211; farm tractor and implement tires 72; Cerro Gordo passenger, etc. tires, 502, farm tractor and implement tires, 109.

WILLIAM CASPER TYRRELL

William Casper Tyrrell, 71, member of a prominent Belmond and Beaumont, Texas family, died at the Tyrrell farm home near here at 11:45 p. m. Thursday, July 22, after an illness of about 10 days.

As was his custom each summer, Mr. Tyrrell had come to Belmond a few weeks ago. About 10 days before his death he suffered a slight stroke and was believed to be recovering satisfactorily, when he was stricken with pneumonia, from which he died.

A native of Iowa, Mr. Tyrrell returned each summer to spend several months at Belmond, although he had maintained his home at Beaumont for the most part since 1901 when he went to that city with his parents, the late Capt. and Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell.

W. C. Tyrrell was born in Rowan, Iowa, on Feb. 29, 1872, and was educated in the public schools of Belmond, graduating from the high school here. He later took his law degree from the University of Iowa. When his father, Capt. W. C. Tyrrell went to Texas in the early oil boom days he went with him and was associated with the elder Tyrrell in his business enterprises, never engaging in the practice of law. They were identified with the oil development there, were active in much of the business development in that area and were also interested in real estate.

Mr. Tyrrell was a member of the Congregational church, was director of the American National bank, belonging to the Beaumont Rotary club, the Country club, the Beaumont club, the War Dads and the American Red Cross. He was also connected in an official capacity with the YMCA.

Surviving Mr. Tyrrell are his wife, Mrs. Ella Christie Tyrrell, whom he married in Belmond, Iowa, in 1900; four sons, Harry Tyrrell of Beaumont, W. Preston Tyrrell of Belmond, William C. Tyrrel, Jr. of Bemond, and Lieut. David C. Tyrrell of Norfolk, Va., and one daughter, Mrs. W. W. Kyle, Jr. of Beaumont.

All of his children were in Iowa at Mr. Tyrrell's bedside when he died.

Surviving also are one sister, Mrs. J. W. Garth of Beaumont, and one brother, Harry C. Tyrrell of Tulsa, Okla.

He also has several grandchildren including Pvt. Harry F. Tyrrell, Jr., of Camp Roberts, Miss Elizabeth Tyrrell of Beaumont, Jeanne, Lynne and Frances Tyrrell of Belmond, Emily Kyle of Beaumont and David C. Tyrrell, Jr., Sybil Tyrrell of Roanoke, Va., and Dwight and Marion Tyrrell of Belmond.

Funeral services were held at Beaumont on Monday, July 26th, and the body was interred in the Tyrrell mausoleum in Magnolia cemetery in Beaumont.

I am in England. It is sure better than I thought it would be. We had a good trip over. I sure am a long ways from home now. The country is very pretty. It is hard to get used to the money and the way they drive. They have little cars and trains. They sure treat us good. We have a good place to sleep and it stays light until 11 o'clock. We cant' write too much because it is all censored but your letters aren't. Your letter will get here much quicker if you send it V-mail. They have some swell fields of grain here. I am going in town tonight if I get a pass. The people are sure friendly here.

Love, Harvey.

ALEXANDER

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Arends received word from their son, Orville Arends, M. P., that he had been awarded a medal for good conduct. Orville is in French North Africa, and it took just ten days for the letter to reach Alexander.

Arab Boys

"One of the funny things that happened was that one of the Arab boys wanted to know where we lived and got out his geography book to have us show him on the map where our towns were. Alex said he lived in Wilmington, Del., and the boy said, 'Let's see, that must be fairly close to Buenos Airyes, isn't it?" In the geography book there was only a tiny map and it was of both North and South America. The States looked about as big as a dime.

So the people here have about as much of an idea of what the U. S. A. is like as we did of what Africa was like when we came here. On the map they had the queerest places in the U. S. listed. Places like Hampton Roads, Virginia, etc., along with New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. We really got a kick out of that.

"A G. I. drew the cleverest cartoons on the walls of the Snack Bar at the club. Stuff like bombing a spam factory and seeing a mirage of coca colas, etc. We're serving ice cream at night now in the snack bar and it is popular.

Saturday night we had a big party in the garden at the club for all fellows from the New England states. It worked out fine. We're 'gonna' have 'em for all groups of states now. Everyone that way sees some one he knows or someone who knows some one he knows. We had a G. I. accordion player, served ice cream, doughnuts and coffee, and the whole thing was a good deal."

August 30 Is Opening Day Of Belmond Schools

Registration Is Required Only For New Pupils

Rural Children Wishing Bus Service Report Next Week

Belmond schools will open on Monday, August 30, according to the announcement of Superintendent Theodore Johnson.

Registration will be required this year only for new pupils. These would include kindergarten pupils, children who have moved into town since last May and rural pupils who will be entering Belmond high school for the first time.

High school pupils may register with Mr. Donald Faris, principal, any day the week of August 16 to 20. Mr. Faris will have office hours from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 4:00.

Parents of kindergarten children are requested to make an advanced registration either by telephone or calling at Supt. Johnson's office any day the week of August 16 to 20 during regular office hours. At this time the information needed will be the date of birth of the child and the preference of morning or afternoon attendance. Mr. Johnson will then arrange a schedule of interviews with Miss Tokheim, kindergarten teacher on the opening Monday and Tuesday of the school year. This will afford parents an opportunity to go over with Miss Tokheim, problems concerning children attending school for the first time.

New elementary pupils will also register at the office of Superintendent Johnson.

All rural children who plan to take advantage of the school bus service are asked to report to the Superintendent's office some time next week. This may be done by telephone or post card. It is very necessary that this information come in immediately so that the bus routes may be organized in time for the opening of school. Bus rates will be the same as last year.

Harris Is "Glad Man"

Don Harris, known as the man with the "Green Thumb" might also be called Belmond's "Glad Man."

Mr. Harris planted 20,000 gladiolus this spring. Asked if it were not a pretty big and tiresome job to put that many bulbs in the ground just so, he replied, "Why no, we just drop them in rows like we plant potatoes."

Harris' gladiolus include some new and unusual varieties. Producing approximately 30 dozen budded stalks daily, which Mr. Harris ships to Kansas City, the glads are really going to town.

Hokels Receive Letter From Receiver of Cookies

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hokel received a letter this week which informed them as to what happened to the box of cookies which they had sent to Earl Huntington at Christmas time. Mr. Huntington had been home since that time and said he never received the cookies.

Then the letter came to Mr. and Mrs. Hokel from another Earl Huntington thanking them for the cookies they sent him. During the Christmas rush, the box had been sent to another person having the same name.

The Mr. Huntington said, "I can't remember of ever hearing or seeing your names anywhere. I am from Iowa, my home is in Strawberry Point in the northeastern part of the state. Although I have heard of Belmond, Iowa, I can't remember of ever being there.

"I am very curious as to how you knew my name and address. The cookies were very good and my tent mates and I really enjoyed them."

Mr. and Mrs. Hokel were glad to know that even though the cookies hadn't reached the correct destination, some service man had at least enjoyed them.

Norwegian Sailor Ate Eggs From Belmond

Aldrich Children Write Names on Eggs

(Clarion Monitor)

Last March Larry, Donnie and Lois Aldrich, sons and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Aldrich of Belmond wrote their names and addresses on eggs they were bringing to Clarion. The eggs were shipped out of Clarion and the children received no word from their addresses until last week when Larry received a letter from a Norwegian sailor who had eaten some of the eggs. The letter was sent air mail from Egypt and was Egytian censored.

Larry's letter follows:

At Sea, May 27, 1943

Dear Unknown Friend:

I bet you will be surprised to get a letter from overseas from a stranger.

A week ago somewhere in the Indian ocean the cook showed me a couple of eggs with a name written on. I noticed it was the same second name so guess you are brothers.

First I will give your eggs my best recommendation. They are very good and kept well. We have had them on board for 75 days now and still have a dozen cases. We had 35 cases when we left and that is as much as we can take in cold storage.

You will understand this is a freighter, a Norwegian ship, and all the men are Norwegian, except five Chinese in my department.

This time we are having eight American passengers and from one I learned that Belmond, Iowa, is only a small place and that the address on the egg was sufficient so I thought it would be fine to write you a little note.

If it had been peace time I could have written and told you a lot about various things that would be interesting to you. But these times we all must be careful in talking and writing.

Last summer I spent a vacation in America. That was the first time for 3½ years. I had a good time but because of gas rationing I had to stay in one place. I had planned to travel around in the different states. Perhaps some time after the war is over that dream will come true.

I am glad we have come this far on our voyage for it has been a very dangerous cargo. Indeed we have much to be thankful for. Will close this little note now. I hope you will understand my writing. You know this is not my language.

My regards to your brother.

Sincerely,
Karsten Aasheim.

String Bean Grows To Length of 25 Inches

You all know the story about "Jack and the Bean Stalk." But have you heard about Mrs. Ben Vierkant of Thornton and her Bean?

A neighbor of Mrs. Vierkant, Mrs. George Groen, brought a string bean to the Independent office this week which was picked from one of Mrs. Vierkant's pole bean vines, and it measured a little more than 26 inches in length. All of the other beans produced on the same vine were of ordinary size.

The bean may be seen at the Independent office.

Thieves Enter Ray's D-X Service Station

Thieves broke into the D-X filling station last Wednesday night and took what change had been left in the cash register. Entrance into the station was gained by breaking a pane in a window and unlocking the window.

The discovery of the burglary was made Thursday morning when Ray Barry, proprietor, arrived for work. A number of finger prints were left and Sheriff Wilson was called to work on the case.

FIREMEN CALLED

The Fire Department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Olsen last Thursday afternoon when a stove had caught ablaze. The department arrived immediately and no damage was done.

OLD MOTHER HUBBARD

The Important Job -- Buying War Bonds

(By B. B. Hickenlooper, Governor of Iowa.)

In connection with the War Bond effort, may I say that it is one of the very important jobs we must meet as a free people and every cooperation should be given by all of us.

Loose and uninvested money always offers the opportunity for extravagance and spending that can lead only to inflation and raised prices upon commodities and services, and I believe that in addition to the vital necessity for money and the armed forces and the war effort, so much can be done by everyone having surplus funds to guard against inflation by investing in War Bonds to the greatest possible degree. In fact, all surplus funds and idle funds should be invested in these War Bonds, the proceeds of which will go toward supplying the fighting fronts and the men who man them.

It seems to me that emphasis can be constantly put upon the fact that there will be a great need for money in the hands of the individual to cushion the readjustment period that will come after this war, and War Bonds, that are really savings and investments, seem to be the big answer.

Farmers will need money to renew their equipment on their farms, workmen will need money to readjust themselves from war time employment to peace time employment and to maintain their homes and their families, business men will require a cushion and capital to re-establish their business; together, we as a nation will need the security of War Bond investments then, just as the armed forces need the money these bonds represent now to complete the job they have so magnificently begun.

I hope every citizen can invest in War Bonds to his greatest possible ability.

HOWARD FINN BOMBS JAPS AT MUNDA AIRFIELD

Lieut. Howard Finn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Finn of Belmond, helped to dive bomb retreating Japs from the Munda airfield. A group of 24 planes bombed and strafed the enemy as they apparently tried to evacuate their trapped forces by boat.

Finn said "The only trouble was we were so anxious to get at the barges we almost got in each others way to take a crack at them." Two other Iowans were in the group.

ENTERS SERVICE AS CHAPLAIN IN U. S. NAVY

Mrs. B. Brunes received word that her son the Rev. B. Bruns has entered the service as chaplain in the Naval Reserve, and is at present taking training at Williamsburg, Va.

Rev. Bruns has been working in the Virgin Islands the past few years. Mrs. Bruns and their three children are remaining there for the present.

IRENE THAYER PROMOTED TO YEOMAN SECOND CLASS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thayer received word that their daughter, Irene E. Thayer, who is among the Women Reservists now on duty with the Navy in the Nation's Capital, has been promoted to Yeoman second class.

Yeoman Thayer is attached to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, where she reported aboard on March 21, 1943. As an enlisted woman in the U. S. Naval Reserve, she is one of several thousands of women who have been assigned to Washington to serve as direct replacements for navy men, releasing them to fight at sea with the fleet.

Women Reservists in the Capital, as trained Naval Personnel, are fulfilling responsible assignments in every type of Naval work under the jurisdiction of the Potomac River Naval Command.

All enlisted women on duty there are quartered by the Navy in special barracks where living is comfortable. In liberty hours, they are free to visit the many places of interest around the capital and to enjoy the social opportunities open to men and women in the armed services.

A letter from George C. Hansen, S 1|c, editor of the Independent, which was written July 26 indicated that his ship had arrived safely at destination somewhere in the south Pacific.

Y 1|c Lyle Jenison and wife of Iowa City are visiting at the O. D. Jenison home. Jenison is on a nine-day leave from the Naval Training station at Iowa City. His son, Dayton, who has been living with his grandparents, will return with them to Iowa City on the 16th to make his home with them.

Wm. Johnson, who has been spending his leave from the navy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, left Monday night for Chicago, where he will visit a few days before returning to Florida.

Harm D. Gruis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Klaas Gruis, was recently promoted to Corporal. He is now stationed at San Francisco.

Pfc. A. W. Schmidt has recently been transferred from Boca Raton, Florida, to Miami Beach, Florida, where he is to be a permanent party.

Pfc. John W. Albers of Camp Irving, Calif., is spending a two weeks furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Luick returned to Minneapolis Wednesday, Aug. 11 from where he will go on active duty in the U. S. Naval Reserve midshipman's school at Evanston, Ill.

BRADYS NOW HAVE THREE SONS SERVING IN NAVY

Executive Committee Named For War Chest

Chairman Bisbey Calls Meeting For Monday Night

An executive committee, representing a cross-section of the business, agricultural and civic institutions of Wright county, was announced today by E. F. Bisbey, Clarion, chairman of the Wright County War Chest. This committee will direct the local campaign in October for the National War Fund.

E. F. Bisbey, Chairman.

Clarion—F. Ross Henry; Frank Riley, H. Vanderlip, A. A. A. chairman; Dean Jergeson; L. E. Day, Dr. E. L. Sizemore, Clarion Red Cross chairman; Claude Banwell, Commercial Club, chairman; B. J. Eiers, Legion Commander; R. L. Davison; Verne Allen, Monitor; Gene Allen, Reminder.

Belmond—B. C. Hewlett, First State Bank; R. H. Gowdy, Belmond Independent; C. Christie, Community Club chairman.

Dows—Harold G. Griffith, Mrs. Sheldon Thomas, Wright County Reporter.

Rowan—Charles Keith

Goldfield— Earl Bartley, Commercial Club chairman.

Committee members from Eagle Grove and Galt have not yet been appointed.

Chairman Bisbey stated the group will meet on Monday evening, August 6, at 8:00 o'clock at the court house at Clarion to begin active planning of the fall drive which will raise Wright county's quota of the $125,000,000 National War Fund. The campaign will be conducted through Iowa War Chest, Inc., which has been set up to co-ordinate all war relief fund-raising activities in Iowa through locally constituted War Chests and Community Chests.

The initial job of the executive group will be to name town and township chairmen throughout the county. These latter chairmen will then select school dictrict, ward and block workers who will be organized into an effective solicitation unit to conduct a simultaneous public subscription drive this fall.

The campaign will be the only such drive to be held until October, 1944, for the 17 agencies, incuding the USO, which make up the National War Fund. Other war morale and relief agencies included are Russian and Chinese relief, War Prisoners Aid, United Seaman's Relief, French, British, Belgian, Dutch, Norwegian, Greek, Jugoslav and Czeckoslovak relief, the U. S. Committee for the care of European Children, Refugee Relief Trustees, Friends of Luxemburg.

No Shooting In City Outside Own Premises Is Order of Mayor

Because of numerous complaints, local officers have been ordered to enforce the city ordinance that prohibits anyone from shooting a gun or air rifle outside of their own premises, or at an object or target outside their own premises, inside the corporation of the city of Belmond. This includes adults as well as chidren.

By order of the Mayor.

Pilots Army Bomber On Fifty Combat Missions

Richard Banning Has First Furlough In Two Years

Richard Banning, First Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, is home on his first furlough in two years. He is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bannng. His wife and infant daughter, Mary Ann, who live at Britt, are also with him at the Banning home.

Lieut. Banning enlisted in the Army Air Corps in July, 1940, was transferred to aviation cadets in July, 1941, and commissioned a Second Lieutenant February 20, 1942 and a First Lieutenant in March this year. He is now on a 20-day leave which started August 6.

Banning has been in North Africa for the past eight months, and his job piloting a "Flying Fortress" bomber has taken him on 50 combat missions over Sicily, Sardinia, Italy and Tunisia. He and his bomber crew have returned to their base from all these missions without a scratch, but Banning himself was hurt when hit with a piece of shrapnel while at rest camp. Banning said, "Some of the boys were nervous when they returned from a trip, after a heavy raid, and skinned their knees getting out of the plane."

Asked to comment on his work with the air force, Banning said, "It is hard work and a lot of excitement. Contrary to popular opinion, however, it is not a lot of fun. Anyone who says he doesn't get scared when in a fight up in the air is either a fool or a liar."

Banning was much impressed by the excellent coordination of the various allied forces in the Sicilian campaign, and said "It makes you understand what a small part just one man is playing in this war."

Lieut. Banning had little to say about the native population of North Africa which is predominantly Arab with some French, Italian and Spanish. He said "The Arabs are a filthy lot, but they really don't have a chance to be different."

While in Belmond Lieut. Banning is spending much of his time getting acquainted with his four months old daughter, Mary Ann, whom he hadn't seen until his present furlough home.

GOOD HEALTH FROM CONSTANT VIGILANCE—

In a recent daily paper some comments of Dr. C. C. Franks, state veterinarian, were quoted in regard to the good health of Iowa livestock in spite of the unusually large numbers which are creating crowded conditions of handling this year. Dr. Franks warned, however, that the threat of disease is always present and especially so this year with the greatly increased numbers. He points out that the low percentage of infection, compared with the increased numbers of livestock is due to the vigilance of individual stockgrowers and better husbandry.

This phase of the war effort—increased production—might be compared with another phase—the unprecedent size of the United States' armed forces—so far as health is concerned. Though Uncle Sam's army, navy and air force are many times greater than they have ever been before, careful study of health conditions in crowded camps, together with the taking of every known precaution against disease, has kept the sick list among service men at a minimum.

—V—

DANGEROUS JOBS—

There are jobs just as dangerous as those with the armed forces that put the man behind the gun.

The Webster City Freeman printed some interesting figures recently which are as follows: "War correspondents seem to be suffering considerably, though they are not soldiers. It is reported that 12 have been killed, 60 wounded, 28 captured and 3 missing."

We don't have at our command figures showing the total number of war correspondents scattered all over the world at this time. We are quite certain, however, that the above figures represent a far larger percentage of casualties among the war correspondents than the percentage of sick, wounded and captured among the fighting forces.

—V—

LOSS OF HUMAN LIFE—

They tell us now that in Sicily the loss of American life in the battles there is running smaller than was to be expected in view of the difficulties involved in the invasion.

On the other hand, here as home the loss of human life from various causes during the past week seemed staggering.

In Iowa within just a few days there was a cowardly murder, a suicide, two drownings, and two airplane crashes that took the lives of several. And there is a kind of war going on too in New York City with continued rioting among Harlem's negroes which has already taken its toll of human life and which, at this writing is still out of control.

—V—

SURPASSES SULFA—

A few years ago the medical profession was elated over the discovery of the sulfa drug which since its perfection has been used so successfully in the treatment of a large variety of infections. Now we learn about another drug cure, discovered in 1929 but not used on humans until 1941, which is even surpassing the power of the sulfa drugs in the treatment of serious and stubborn infections among wounded soldiers.

Derived from mold found in bread and cheese, the new drug—if its remarkable cures continue—should have an inexhaustible source of supply.

SEPTEMBER 15 TAX

When are we going to learn just how to make the estimation of our 1943 incomes for the Federal income tax returns which are due to be in the hands of the Collector of Internal Revenue by September 15 ? ?

—V—

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Talk of post-war planning sometimes leaves a Pocahontas county citizen in doubt, but when you bring up the subject of spending money on building public highways after the war, we can follow. Taxpayers know this kind of conservation, he's been there before! When the Association of State Highway Officers got together to discuss the post-war plans, they spoke for the state highway departments and federal roads. In mentioning how ten billion dollars might well be spent which goes to maintain repair, rebuild the highways, they also spoke of the construction furnishing direct employment for 750,000 people. War has shown us the need for good roads. Much of the work done during this war was hurried and not under favorable conditions, generally. More will be needed after the heavy traffic of army equipment and travel. But this is just a discussion of things to come and important since the auto stands as an economic feature in our national income. —Pocahontas Record-Democrat.

—V—

If this war leaves us with a national debt of 300 billion dollars, and it probably will, that will mean six billions per year for interest and what will the pension bill and the hospitalization of injured soldiers amount to Perhaps as much or more per annum. At any rate we are going to have a large tax bill for many years. Some complain because considerable expense of the war will be carried on to future generations. But in our opinion that is the correct policy. They will reap as much or more benefit out of the war than the present generation and the financial burden is the only part of it they will help bear.—Webster City Freeman.

—V—

One of the saddest features of this global war is that it is destroying all the time honored Shangri-Las, the tranquil, idyllic escapist refuges of which we all dream wistfully when the trials of life become unusually harrowing. Those tempting South Sea islands, our fighting men are finding out, have more over-grown cooties than saronged cuties. War in all the niches and corners of the world is demonstrating nothing so convincingly as that there's no place like home.—Cedar Rapids Gazette.

—V—

The president complains bitterly about the newspaper reporters stirring up trouble by writing up disputes and things for their papers. Well the reporters are not responsible for the row between Wallace and Jesse Jones. They, (the reporters) do not create the news, they merely report it. The president's entire complaint about the press is well written off by the Shreveport, Louisiana Times with this observation:

"It is not the press which hurts Washington. It is the facts."

—Eagle Grove Eagle

—V—

We have for years thought that the United States navy was the best afloat, man for man and ship for ship, and the record it is making in the Pacific confirms that opinion. The Japs have done a lot of blowing about their navy, but when it comes to delivering the goods the Japanese are so far outclassed by the Americans that their efforts seem puny in comparison. And afforts seem puny in comarisopn. And that is just as it should be.—Webster City Freeman.

I suppose there will be a big rush by some workers in non-essential industries to the plant at Ankeny since the story appeared in a Des Moines newspaper about the need for hundreds of workers in that industry and then coyly mentioned that a beautiful blond from Tama with long tapering fingers had been hired there just the other day.

Wonder if it will be the blond or the bigger wages that will attract some of the fathers that expect to be called by October first? As we said several weeks ago, selective service officials are doing their best to keep us fathers in a dither. And the cartoon picturing a father pulling petals from a daisy and muttering to himself, "Hershey will, Hershey won't, Hershey will," sums up our situation very nicely.

Somewhere in the South Pacific July 18—

Today is Sunday, and we are having our worst day since we left San Francisco . You will be surprised to know that I have stood the rolling and dipping of the ship very well. In fact, I feel fine.

There is a boy in our crew by the name of Keen from Algona. He was a classmate of Kenneth Anderson and Douglas Klemme at Coe College.

July 19—

The storm is over, the old blue Pacific is calm again. It really was rough and gave me a very peculiar feeling athough I didn't get seasick. I feel fine again now.

July 26 (South Pacific)

At noon today my ship pulled into the bay and dropped anchor. How long we shall be here, I don't know. After we get to the docks, it shouldn't take very long to unload and then load the cargo we take back. I am happy that everything went O. K. .on my first trip.

July 27—

I am now on the receiving end of something that I always preached about—that is mail to the boys in the service. Mail is the biggest morale builder we have oday as far as the boys are concerned.

Today we had our first mail call and I hit the jack pot. Nine letters and a card from home. They really have done wonders and were surely appreciated.

Not much that I can write about but can say that it has been quite an experience.

Obituary

Nellie L. Relliban-Green, daughter of Mary Ann and Patrick Rellihan, was born Sept. 14, 1877 in Hampton, Iowa. Here she grew to womanhood, attending the public schools at Hampton. Later she attended a Pharmacy School in Des Moines, graduating in 1905, and locating at Alexander.

On February 22, 1911 she was united in marriage with E. Ray Green. Together they continued in business at Alexander for a good many years. For some years they were also in business in Chicago, returning to Alexander in 1939. They soon met again many of the old friends, and added many new ones.

Mrs. Green became ill in August, 1942, and was confined to her home from Nov. 28 until her death. During all her hours and days of trial, her courage was noble, her fortitude unending, her geniality touching, and her spirit was an inspiration. The community, and all the surrounding area, feels a distinct loss at her going from our midst, for not only has a good neighbor and citizen departed, but a unique friend. The utmost that loving hands could do was done cheerfully and hopefully by those nearest to her. The days of her years having been fulfilled, she passed away quietly at 11 a. m. August 3, 1943, reaching the age of 65 years, 10 months and 19 days.

She is survived by her husband E. R. Green, and one sister, Josephine Clark of Chicago, Ill. A host of friends also mourn her departure.

The funeral services were held Friday, August 6, at the St. Patricks church at Hamptotn at 10:00 a. m. with Father Ormsby in charge. Burial was made in the Hampton Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our apreciation and thanks to the neighbors, friends, and relatives who so willingly assisted us during the illness and death of Mrs. Green. Also for the Spiritual bouquets and floral offerings.

E. Ray Green.
Josephine Clark.

Livestock Feeders:

Have you ever fed BIG GAIN MINERAL STOCK FOOD or BIG GAIN 24% CONCENTRATE. Both of these concentrates are mineralized combinations of protein, exactly balanced and both are packed with vitamins, which are today considered so necessary in efficient and successful livestock feeding. Both give you the maximum in feeding value. Both are made for all classes of livestock.

When you feed BIG GAIN MINERAL STOCK FOOD or BIG GAIN 24% CONCENTRATE you really make big gains and big profits, too. Put them in your feed lot—in self-feeders for hogs and sheep, and feed one-half to one pound per day to feeding and fattening cattle. Be assured of MAXIMUM results and PROFITS with a big saving of time and labor.

Ask your dealer about BIG GAIN QUALITY FEEDS.

Be sure...
All the essential B Vitamins give You a full day's work

If you would be active, productive and of good morale, a new shift of wonder workers must report each day for duty in your diet. These wonder workers are the mighty B vitamins and there are more than a dozen besides the well-known B_1. Whether obtained from your food or from other sources, they spend the day improving your efficiency and keeping your wits sharp. Then they vanish mysteriously . . . and must be replaced.

Nature is none too generous with these essential vitamins in the food that comes to your table. Besides, the best of cooks can easily destroy them. That is why more and more people are supplementing their daily diet with the B complex vitamins in concentrated form.

• • • The Home of Budweiser is one of the world's biggest sources of natural B Complex Vitamins. They are produced from brewer's yeast. We supply food and pharmaceutical manufacturers with a huge volume of this vitamin yeast each year. They in turn supply our armed forces and civilian population with millions of vitamin units. This contribution to your welfare resulted from years of research, laboratory and clinical work in quest of better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer.

Two Are Wed In California

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruka received announcement of the marriage of their son, Lyle to Betty Freerksen. Chaplain George E. Moeller performed the ceremony in the Axton Chapel at the Santa Ana Army Air Base in California, Saturday, July 31, at 6:30 p. m.

Avition Cadet Newman Reichman of Camden, Arkansas, served as best man and Eleanor Ruka of Goodell, only sister of the groom was maid of honor. They were attended by a Guard of Honor, members of Squadron No. 48 of which Lyle is a member. They were Nick Soulis, Jamestown, N. D.; Edward W. Marz, Ellis, Kan.; Glen St. Aubyn, Russell, Kan.; John McMahon, Fort Dodge; John Webb, Spirit Lake; Francis Rusbelt, South English; Bill Keenan, Reno, Nev.; and Richard Woodward, Davenport.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Freerksen of Kanawha. She s a graduate of the Kanawha high school and in June received her B. A. degree from the state university at Iowa City.

She chose as her wedding gown, a white marquisette, styled in Princess line with lace insets and a floor length veil caught in a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a small Bible and a single orchid. Eleanor, the maid of honor, wore pink organdy and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and pink carnations.

Aviation Cadet Lyle Ruka is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruka of Goodell. He is a Belmond high school graduate and was in business in an electric shop in Goodell. A year ago he entered college in Iowa City. He was called into active service in February and was in training at St. Cloud, Minn., before being transferred to Santa Ana Air Base, Calif. He and his best man and the guard of honor wore their uniforms.

A luncheon was served to the wedding party.

Mrs. Ruka has accepted a position as music teacher in the consolidated school at Terril and with Eleanor Ruka will return to Iowa this month.

Information Available On Proper Storage of Vegetables For Winter

Larger home production of vegetables through victory gardens has increased the number of requests for information on storage of these vegetables for winter use.

Most vegetables should be stored as soon as they reach maturity. Vegetable tissues break down most rapidly under warm, moist conditions usually found in the ground at this time of the year. A supply of pamphlet 70, "Storing Victory Garden Vegetables", can be obtained free from all victory garden chairmen and also at the county extension office at Clarion.

The victory garden chairmen are: Mrs. Al Mennenga, Belmond; Mrs. J. S. Stewart, Clarion; Mrs. N. C. Nickelson, Dows; Mr. J. H. Martin, Eagle Grove; Mrs. Glen Braden, Goldield.

Register Your Surplus Vegetables at Office Of Belmond Independent

More people are urged to take advantage of a service the Bemond Independent is giving, that of acting as a clearing house for surplus vegetables.

At a time when everyone is asked to conserve every bit of food, persons who have more vegetables from their gardens than they need for their own use can easily register such vegetables at the Independent office where calls also come in from people wanting vegettables for table use or for canning.

Call the Independent if you have vegetables. Call the Independent if you want vegetables.

The physician also performed similar operations on four sisters of Mrs. William Verwald, mother of the boy.

BADGER FOUND

Union park custodian Lou Burnside, Denison, was surprised to find a 32-inch badger staring him in the face the other day. Rocks wouldn't dislodge the animal, but a gun did. It is not known where the animal came from.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Free the Seas

Before we win the final battle with Hitler's Nazis all navy men are agreed we must win the battle of the Atlantic; that is to free the sea lanes of the German U-boats.

A year ago we were building 54 cruisers and nearly 200 destroyers or just about enough for a two ocean navy.

Now we have come to realize that this war is to the finish, "winner take all," and our Government is building a five ocean navy.

That is why we are being asked to increase our subscriptions for War Bonds. That is why we must do it.

On Sunday, August 29th, the last Sunday of the month and the last Sunday before the start of the Public Schools again, there will be no services of any kind in our church here in Belmond. Instead we are making it Congregational Belmond Day at the Methodist Camp at Clear Lake. There will be a worship service on the grounds at 11 o'clock when Mr. Beck will preach. This service will be followed by a pot luck picnic dinner together. Then before we come home later on in the day there will be an opportunity for those who want to go swimming to do so. All members and friends of this church are invited to spend Sunday, August 29th, with us at the Methodist Camp at Clear Lake.

Back the attack by upping your payroll savings your very next payday. Measure your savings by your new higher income.

The Rubber Crisis IS STILL AHEAD!

William Jeffers, Rubber Administrator, has stated that the real rubber crisis will come this Fall and may continue until next Spring when the synthetic program is hoped to take care of our tire needs. This straight-forward talk reminds us that we cannot relax in our diligence in conserving rubber on our tires.

Mr. Jeffers stated recently that had it not been for the independent recappers and repairmen, the nation would have found itself in serious difficulty. We assure Mr. Jeffers that we will never lessen our service nor forget our obligation to the riding public.

CONSERVE EVERY MILE OF TRAVEL AND — CONSERVE YOUR TIRES
Follow These Steps

Drive under 35 miles per hour
Don't scrape against curbs
Have minor repairs made promptly
Have tires inspected regularly
Keep tires properly inflated
Check tires for balance
Don't make sudden stops.

Brandt - Kampmann

Miss Caroline Kampmann, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. Kampmann, became the bride of Stanley S. Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brandt of Ackley, at the Meservey Reformed church on Wednesday, August 4th at 7 p. m. The bride's father officiated at the double ring ceremony and her uncle, Merle Knight of Ackley gave her in marriage.

The maid of honor was Miss Peggy Catlin of Larned, Kansas, a classmate of the bride. Miss Shirley Brandt sister of the groom served as junior bridesmaid. Conrad Schodt of Iowa City, fraternity brother of Mr. Brandt, attended him. The ceremony was performed by candlelight, during which the organist played softly. The wedding marches were used as processional and recessional Miss Irene Knight, a cousin of the bride, of Knoxville, Tenn., sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride was dressed in white silk marquisette with a pearl midriff. The gown was made with a sweetheart neckline and a train. She also wore a finger tip veil and carried a shower bouquet of mixed flowers.

Miss Catlin wore a blush pink marquisette and carried a nosegay, while the bridesmaid wore a similar dress in pale blue.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony after which the couple left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home in Iowa City.

Mrs. Brandt is a graduate of the Meservey high school. She attended Iowa State Teachers college for 2 years and later the Hamilton School of Commerce in Mason City. She has been employed as assistant clerk in the office of the alien property custodian in Chicago Ill.

Mr. Brandt is a graduate of the Ackley high school. He took his first three years of college work at Iowa State college at Ames where he majored in chemistry. He then enrolled at the Iowa university and became affiliated with Alpha Chi Sigma, national honorary chemistry fraternity. He is now an assistant instructor in the university and is also enrolled in the graduate college where he is working for his master's and Ph. D. degrees.

Jamaican Boys Detassel Corn

Repaying Old War Debt

312 Worked Around Humboldt

(Humboldt Republican)

Several of the colored boys brought here as a part of the group from Jamaica to detassel corn for the DeKalb people, called at the newspaper office and presented the following to show their appreciation of the treatment they received in Humboldt.

Humboldt City, DeKalb Headquarters—I wish on behalf of the crews of Messrs. Tom Johnson and George Hill, to express our sincere appreciation to them and to the big boss of the DeKalb corn plant, for the kind hospitality meted out to us during our stay in Humboldt City. We happen to be on the Big Boss farm and I think we have satisfied him, if not we would like to have him say it.

I must mention from the depth of our hearts that the people of Humboldt city have been just too good to us, but we know why; they had something on their minds about us, but we have erased that by our actions in this city. A couple of us might have had some misundertanding, but the majority counts.

I suppose that you all must have heard about us. We are from a British West Indies Island, a peaceful and law-abiding country as you are in Humboldt city. America has helped us during the 1914 war for which we owe her a debt and that's why we are here to pay what we can in our little way and to see to it that we get our enemies under our feet, and let Uncle Sam's flag wave forever.

I must say when we were called from home, we voluntarily decided at once to come although we did not know where we were going, how far we were going. All we knew was we were going somewhere and thanked God we reached there and on the job doing our best. I can assure you all that when we ge back to our sunny Jamaica homes we will always remember America, especially Humboldt city where you have treated us so good that the only difference between us is color and that's nature's work, we have no control over. Men are judged by their minds, as an old writer said.

I think I must say something now of our Jamaica boys:

The detasselers are doing a good job. The cooks have done their best. Last but not least our dear supervisor has had a hard time taking care of us all. You will realize that his job is one of the most strenuous tasks—to see that the 312 of us keep together, eat together, work together and don't get lost. We must congratulate him.

In conclusion we the 312 Jamaicans say God bless America, especially the people of Humboldt city.

Signed, Adolphus Williams, 7449

NOW

IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW
YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using.
Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.
Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.
Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.
Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.
Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.
ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.
And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

OBITUARY

George Martin Polhemus ..

George Martin Polemus was born in Oakland Valley, Iowa, on February 25, 1869 and was the youngest of eight children born to George Arnold and Mary Shepard Polhemus. He was the last member of his immediate family.

On February 10, 1881, he was united in marriage to Ella Hay Bullis of Belmond, Iowa and they made their home at that place until November, 1907, when they went to Canon City, Colo. hoping that the climate would prove beneficial to Mrs. Polhemus' health, but she passed away the following January. Five children were born to them, two passing away in infancy.

Soon after the death of his wife, Mr. Polhemus returned to his old home in Iowa and again took up his former business, a dray and transfer line.

In August, 1913, he was married to Mrs. Lydia Pitman of Harmany, Penn., and in 1920 the family moved to Canon City again, where Mr. Polhemus was associated with a brother, H. C. Polhemus, in the coal business, later assuming management of the entire business which he conducted until ill health forced his retirement in April, 1943.

Mr. Polhemus was in his earlier years a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge and in more recent years the B. P. O. Elks of Canon City. He was a loyal and devoted member of the Methodist church.

He had been in ill health for two years and submitted to numerous operations. Since May 9 he had been in the St. Thomas More hospital with no hope held for his recovery.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, Lydia, three children, Ralph A., Mrs. C. A. Kragh, Mrs. V. C. Garrett and 11 grand children, all of Canon City, besides five step children and many nieces and nephews.

Iowa Short on Scrap Quota For First Six Months In The Year

Iowa fell 13 per cent short of reaching its quota of 100,000 tons of scrap for the first six months of 1943, is the statement coming from the War Production Board. The reason for this can be attributed partly to weather conditions, manpower shortage, and partly to the complacency of Iowa people.

Too many people are too complacent about the scrap situation. It should be the responsibility of every American citizen to see that every available pound of scrap in his community is picked up. The need for scrap is too vital to saddle the entire job on a few volunteer workers. If we are to maintain our production of needed war material, then we must be ready with our scrap piles when the steel mills call for metal.

Some unthinking people have been loud in their criticism of the scrap collection program. "Why" they say, "are we asked to pile up more scrap when we still have a huge mound of scrap from the last drive? If the Government needs scrap so badly, why don't they ship out what we have on hand"

A thorough survey of scrap piles remaining in a few Iowa towns shows most of it to be light tin and wire for which there is little or no market in its loose and miscel--laneous state. Wire and tin, to be usable by steel mills, must be baled, otherwise it will burn to an ash instead of melting when placed in the smelting furnace. Baling equipment for tin and wire is scarce, there being but five such machines in Iowa. The cost of loading and shipping tin and wire to these balers is prohibitive, which explains the reason why tons of this type of metal still are to be seen where patriotic citizens piled it.

Why is scrap so important? As an example let's use some figures based on producing last year's steel requirements. To make America's steel quota of 80 million tons for 1942, without using scrap it would have required 165 million tons or ore, 120 million tons of coal, and 36 million tons of limestone. But steel is made with scrap, so only the following quantities were actually needed; 109 million tons of iron ore, 78 million tons of coal, 30 million tons of limestone, and 44 million tons of scrap. You can immediately see that by using scrap to make 86 million tons of steel we save 56 million tons of iron ore, 42 million tons of coal and 6 million tons of limestone.

Iowa's quota of heavy farm scrap for fall and winter 1943 is again 100 thousand tons. If each county will collect 1000 tons by Christmas, we will be able to demonstrate to our Iowa boys in the Armed Forces that the Tall Corn State folks are backing them up with real scrap activity. So let's each one be a self-appointed scrap locater and help the salvage committee do the job we all have a definite obligation to perform. Remember—100,000 tons by Christmas.

Herbert C. Plagman,
Executive Secretary for Iowa.

IRON TOO HOT

A hot flat iron forgotten and left on at the home of Mrs. Iris Needles of Chariton caused considerable damage to the house. It burned through the ironing board and dropped to the floor where it started a fire in a rack of clothing. Firemen kept the fire confined to the room but some bedding and furniture were badly damaged.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Ten years ago the only government offices in Decorah was the Farm Bureau office, employing two people, of course the post office and a few other such long established offices. Today, there are 18 government agency offices, employing between 50 and 55 persons.

COSTLY FUN

Joe Lakner, Ute, erred when he tried to race with Crawford county Sheriff N. P. Cavett. Lakner at one time slammed on the brakes of his car immediately in front of the sheriff's car, almost causing Cavett to crash into him. When Cavett tried to pull around him, Lakner speeded up, ignoring the siren on the sheriff's automobile. Sheriff Cavett drove into a driveway and found Lakner blocking the drive when he wanted to drive out. Lakner was arrested and charged with reckless driving. It cost him $25 and costs for his few minutes of "fun."

GOOD RECORDS

The oldest ledger known to be in existence in Ringgold County is on display at the Todd Hardware in Mt. Ayr. The first entry in the ledger was made on July 14, 1857. At that time the ledger was in the possession of Henry Crabb & Co., general merchandisers. It has been the original company until today handed down to the successors of it is owned by the Todd Hardware.

TALL CORN

The corn this year may not be as tall as it has been in past years but J. F. Teal of near Keosauqua has this story to tell: One evening recently he measured his corn about 5:00 p. m., and staked two hills. The next day at 5:00 p. m. he measured the same two hills and found that one had grown ten inches and the other 12 inches.

TOSSED OUT OF ARENA

George Den Beston, 45, farmer near Birmingham, forced by an irate animal to become a bull fighter, figures he came out victor, in that he came out of the encounter all in one piece. While driving hogs to pacture, Mr. Den Beston was attacked by a young bull. He was forced back against a barbwire fence, and at the third lunge the bull tossed the farmer head first over the fence but with the fence sticking to him. From this position Mr. Den Beston resolved to get rid of the bull next day and this he did.

paid to the club treasurer. No exhibit will be accepted unless the complete 1943 record book accompanies the entry. All entries must be in by 12:00 noon on August 23, 1943. Only exhibits from club members residing on farms are accepted. 4-H club members who exhibit must be between the ages of 12 and 21. The judge selects blue, red and white ribbon entries. There are fourteen classes in the oven products.

Demonstrations shall consist of two club members who are in good standing in their club and whose record books are up to date at the time of the contest. No one who has been a member of a county championship team may compete. Girls shall be from 12 to 21 years. Demonstrations are limited to 25 minutes but must be at least 15 minutes in lenght.

In order for girls to exhibit in the individual 4-H Canning Contest Division it will be necessary for each individual girl to have exhibited 8 different classes in Oven Products at her local achievement day. Girls must belong to active 4-H Clubs. One best jar from each club in all or part of the 4 fruit classes or 10 vegetable classes.

There are 6 classes in the record book contest division. Record books will be judged in blue, red and white ribbon classes and should be ready early in the fair for judging.

Each club must have a booth.

Mrs. Selma Ekquist Duncan, Extension Associate in Foods and Nutrition, will act as judge.

Local achievement shows are being scheduled for the weeks of August 9th to 21st. A county committee member and Miss Elizabeh Deihl, county extension home economist, will act as judge at the local shows.

Market litters with 38 entries continue to lead the preliminary registration for the 4-H fair.

In addition to the 38 litters entered in the county extension office at Clarion in the market hog classes is 22 purebred litters, 48 baby beeves and 7 market lambs. There is also lesser number of entries in the horse, dairy and poultry division with more expected to register in these as well as in the other divisions later. A new scale for weighing the livestock is being obtained by the fair management. The scale will be located closer to the livestock barns so as to provide easier access of the livestock to the scale platform.

Arrangements are underway for the preliminary health examinations for the 4-H Club boys. The highest scoring member for each individual club will be competing with other high scoring club members for the county health championship.

KANAWHA

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lutz received word that their son Clifford Lutz, is in Scotland.

Cpl. Wayne Yeakel is home on a 15 day furlough from Camp Forrest, Tenn. He has just completed a two weeks Red Cross Instructors' Course in swimming.

The enclosed clipping is taken from the letter which Mrs. Walter R. Thorson received from her husband, Capt. W. R. Thorson, telling of his experiences in jungle warfare in the South Pacific Islands:

Following are excerpts from the letter:

"This is my first chance to write for about 18 days. We've been through a 16-day campaign. It was tough, but not tough enough. I took over a company before the campaign was over, having been assigned to liason duties. To begin with, we lived in fox holes at night, covered with cocoanut logs, and moved in slit trenches in the day time. We accomplished our mission. I cannot mention casualties. I'm O. K., not a scratch. I'm in high spirits, as a matter of fact my company and I are ready to go again. We need a little rest of course. We arrived at our rest area last night.

"I've been signing letters that have to be returned to the senders this morning. It's kinda tough—but that'swar.

"I shaved off an 18-day beard this morning, took a bath—had to throw away my 'Congo' suit and everything I wore, and I lost my bed roll and suitcase — even my pack, which were left in the rear eschelon and never came forword. We didn't carry anything. Had to travel pretty light.

"We are promised a hot meal tonight.. Boy. we'd better get it, or else, after 18 days of C & D rations.

"I got replacements for my company, which was four new officers and enlisted men. So we're ready to go again."

ROWAN

Mrs. Clara Bailey received word that her grandson, Chester Reasoner, technical instructor at Mississippi received his rank as sergeant.

VOL. 24 NO. 43 — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1943 — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Drive For Funds Starts October 1

$20,000 is the quota set for Wright county in the $125,000,000 National War Chest Drive which will be conducted all over the country beginning October 1.

An executive committee, chosen from various businesses and organizations all over the county, met at Clarion Monday evening to start laying plans for the organization of the drive in Wright county. At this meeting officers were elected as follows: Chairman, E. F. Bisbey, Clarion; Vice-chairman, Ward Barnes, Eagle Grove; Treasurer, F. Ross Henry, Clarion; Secretary, Dean Jorgensen, Clarion.

Various committees are being appointed to help with the organization. Town and township chairmen will also be selected who in turn will secure workers to raise the money in their territories after individual quotas have been assigned.

E. L. C. White, Spencer, Iowa publisher, who is assisting with the State organization of the War Chest drive, was present at the meeting Monday night and explained the background and purposes of the War Chest Fund.

Seventeen War Relief agencies are members of and supported by the National War Fund. The $125,000,000 quota of the October, 1943 drive is budgeted among these 17 agencies as follows:

Out of every $125.00 the U. S. O. is allotted $61.22; United Seamen's Service, $4.12; War Prisoners Aid, $2.32. These three come under the division called Service to the Forces.

Under United Nations Relief, aid for unoccupied areas is divided as follows: Russan War Relief, $10.15; United China Relief, $9.87. British War Relief Society $5.69. Relief for nine occupied countries amounts to $14.37 out of each $125.

The budget for Refugee Relief includes $2.80 for Refugee Relief Trustees, who handle special groups of refugees, and 80 cents for the U. S. Committee for the care of European Refugee Children.

Only 80 cents out of every $125 is needed for National War Fund campaign and administration expense, while $12.80 is allocated to a Contingent Fund to meet new needs which are certain to arise because of military operations.

"My Friend Flicka" and "Five Graves to Cairo" At Lyric Next Week

Beginning Sunday, August 22, two pictures are featured at the Lyric Theatre: "My Friend Flicka" on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 22, 23 and 24; "Five Graves to Cairo" on Wednesday and Thursday, August 25 and 26. The latter picture is being shown instead of "Something to Shout About" which was on the August Theater card originally for the 25th and 26th. x

Another change has been made in the theater program the week of the 22nd to 28th. A double feature consisting of "Silver Skates" with Kenny Baker leading the cast and "Cowboy Commandos", in which the Range Busters get involved in a Nazi plot, replaces "It Ain't Hay" which was originally scheduled for Friday and Saturday, August 27 and 28.

Roddy McDowall plays the boy hero of Mary O'Hara's best selling novel, "My Friend Ficka." He is a real kid, given to indolent dreaming while roaming aimlessly on his father's Wyoming ranch. Not particuarly industrious, it is only when his mother intercedes and persuades his father to give the lad a colt he can call his own is a sense of responsibility awakened. Slowly the lad makes friends with the animal, and it is a proud day when he proves she can be halter-broken.

Franchot Tone leads the cast in "Five Graves to Cairo" with Anne Baxter, Akim Tamiroff, Fortunio Bononova, Peter Van Eyck and Erich von Stroheim supporting him.

The story opens in the desert wastes in 1942, just after the fall of Tobruk to the Germans. A solitary tank rolls over the dunes without guidance for all the crew are dead with but one exception. Franchot Tone plays t[illegible] the [illegible] survivor, who [illegible] the Libya[illegible]

Rowan Schools Open On Monday, August 30

Rowan Consolidated Schools will open Monday, August 30. School will be in session until noon the first day for registration and organization of classes. Regular schedules will begin Tuesday.

The faculty for the year is as follows:

Jennie Brasel—First and second grades

Katheryn Lindgren—Third and fourth grades

Gorine Lindgren — Fifth and sixth grades

Nina Heathershaw—Seventh and eighth grades

Mrs. Arthur Peterson—Science and Mathematics

Mrs. Adelia Hemenway—English and Dramatics

Miriam Broer—Home Ecomonics and Typewriting

The interior of the school building has been cleaned, repaired and painted.

Due to war restrictions the activity program will be somewhat curtailed this year, but it is expected to include athletic teams, several class plays as well as musical programs. As much will be done along this line as is consisten- with full cooperation in winning the war as soon as possible. (R)

Exhibit 500 Head Livestock At 4-H Fair

Many Other Attractions At Eagle Grove

Approximately 500 head of livestock will be exhibited by Wright county 4-H Club members at the Eagle Grove district Junior Fair on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 23 to 25.

Entries received to date at the county extension office in Clarion show that market and purebred hog numbers will exceed all others with approximately 375 head to be exhibited. Prices of feeder cattle last fall are reflected in decreased numbers of baby beef being fed for the fair with entries to date totaling 55 head for 1943 as compared to 20 baby beef entered in 1942. Entries of market lambs, dairy heifers and beef heifers are about the same as usual. Indications are that the market pig division will show farrows of less weight this year than last year because of later farrowing dates and adverse weather at farrowing time.

Entries were open to members of all girls 4-H Clubs residing in Wright county with ribbon awards to winners in various classes of exhibits.

Other attractions in the free 4-H Fair include four big platform acts each afternoon and evening. On midway there will be rides, games, fun, food for all the family.

Special interest features include victory garden products contest, flower show, 4-H livestock parade on Tuesday afternoon, pony parade on Wednesday afternoon, auction of 4-H livestock Wednesday afternoon.

Marine Corps Women's Reserve Wants Two From Wright County

Wright county has given its share of fighting men to the marine corps, but to date has given no woman to the marine corps women's reserve, although the county quota is two women.

A communication from the marine corps office at 303 Old Federal Bldg., Des Moines, points out that the marine corps wants each Iowa county represented in its women's reserve, which is aimed at freeing well-trained marines from desk jobs for combat duty.

Applicants must be in the 20-to-36-year- age group, must have had at least two years of high school or business school, and must be in sound physical condition.

By writing to the Des Moines office, eligible applicants can arrange for enlistment at no expense to themselves whatever.

Concert On Thursday Ends Summer Music

Five Students Attend All Concerts

Summer instrumental music program under he direction of Miss Edith Jensen, was closed with the final band concert on Thursday evening.

Five students who had perfect attendance at the 12 summer concerts were surprised when they were rewarded with a theatre ticket. Those students were Ray Henderson, George Sharp, Richard Crapser, Mildred Helland and Imogent Fjetland.

Eight students completed the First Year of Prescott Advanced Technique and received their pins. They are as follows: Imogene Fjetland, Snirley Coulson, Ed Gabrielson, Betty Uhlenhopp, Loretta Rubendahl, Ray Henderson, Paul Dempsey and Wanda Jenison. Those completing the Second Year of Prescott Advanced Technique, having also received their pins, include Pat Chapman, Mildred Helland, Peggy Greenlander, Marlys Parker, Marjorie Helland, George Sharp, Nelda Fulton and Jean Fetrow.

Eleven private lessons were offered to each of the 52 instrumental students during the summer. The following students had perfect attendance at these lessons or finished the assigned work in fewer lessons:

"Hats off to the students who took time off from play and work to further their advancement in musical realms during the hot summer months," is the statement of their director, Miss Jensen.

Franklin Fair Will Start Next Monday

Attractions Offered In Show At Hampton

The Franklin County Fair, which will be held in Hampton Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 23rd, 24th and 25th, will be a most enjoyable event with exceptionally fine entertainment features and the "Food for Freedom" theme being highlighted throughout the fair program, in the livestock and floral hall exhibits and in the other special events which will be presented.

Monday will be entry day for the fair and all exhibitors are expected to have their exhibits in place by 4:00 o'clock that afternoon and ready for the big opening program on Monday night when the Barker Brothers Rodeo and Circus acts will be presented. The Rodeo will also appear Tuesday afternoon and evening and there will be changes in the program Wednesday with the WHO Barn Dance and several special circus acts as features. The American Beauty Shows will fill the midway with additional entertainment rides and concessions,

Independent Forced To Raise Subscriptions

Effective September 16, the subscription rates of the Belmond Independent will be increased as follows: In Wright and adjoining counties, $2.50 per year; in all other Iowa counties, $2.75 per year; in the United States outside the state of Iowa, $3.00 per year.

The present rates of $2.00 per year locally; $2.25 in Iowa except Wright and adjoining counties; and $2.50 outside the state of Iowa will remain in effect during the next four weeks at which time renewals and new subscriptions will be accepted at the old rate for one year.

This is the first price raise the Belmond Independent has made in the 23 years of its publication. It has been made necessary now in order to solve the problems which face all newspapers today; increased material costs, increased labor costs, increased living costs, reduced advertising revenue.

Practically all daily papers have raised subscription prices once, twice or even three times during the past three years. Many weeklies have followed suit. The Independent is one of the last to raise its subscription price. Hundreds of weekly papers throughout the country have been forced to suspend publication during the past year because of increased costs caused by the war.

An advertisement with regard to the change in subscription rates appears elsewhere in this edition, giving a more detailed explanation of the need for this raise in price. A coupon also appears in the ad for the convenience of subscribers who may wish to send in renewals at this time.

Pfc. Robert W. Smith Enjoys Hollywood After Desert Training

Pfc. Robert W. Smith writes home to his wife from a U. S. O. oeuvers at Camp Irwin, Calif. He days pass in Los Angeles, after completing 11 weeks desert maneuvers at Camp Irwin, Calif. He indicates that he found Hollywood a beautiful city, but his remarks about Los Angeles centered about having to sleep in a city park the first night there, finally finding a hotel room available the next morning.

At the Hollywood Canteen there was entertainment by Harry James' band and several movie stars, including Katherine Hepburn, Merle Oberon, Humphrey Bogart, Bonita Granville, Dinah Shore, Walter Wolf and Kay Kyser. Bob says, "After the entertainment they gave us free lunch. Dinah Shore handed me a sandwich and Humphrey Bogart asked me how I liked the army. We were then asked to dance with a number of girls from the stage and screen, and they did the asking. You can imagine how well one can dance in G. I. snoes with rubber soles."

"The next day we went to several programs at N. B. C. and C. B. S. studios and in the evening spent a short time at the Brown Derby. We saw the Pacific Ocean and it looks like a pretty big pond to me. I couldn't see across it, but it was a little too foggy I guess."

Start Use Of Ration Book 3 September 12

OPA Announces Change In Gas Coupons

OPA announced this week that the brown ration stamps in War Ration Book No. 3 will come into use September 12 for the purchase of meats, fats, oils, butter and cheese, to replace red stamps in Book No. 2 which will be used up. They have the same point value.

Between Sept. 12, when the first series of brown stamps becomes valid, and Oct. 2, when the final sets of red stamps expire, both red and brown stamps will be usable. After Oct. 2 only the brown stamps will be used.

Not until November will it be necessary to bring into use stamps replacing the blue stamps used for canned, frozen and dried foods.

Gas Coupons

OPA also announced that gasoline dealers will be prohibited after Sept. 1 from accepting old-type B and C gasoline ration coupon books. Car owners still holding the old-style books should exchange them for new sheets of coupons between Aug. 23 and Sept. 1.

Outstanding 100-gallon bulk coupons, issuance of which was discontinued, June 15, will be invalidated Sept. 1. Beginning Aug. 23. holders of such coupons must apply to ration boards to have them exchanged for regular coupons of the appropriate class—B, C, E, R, TT, or, in the case of large users, for ration bank certificates.

Ask About Vegetables At Independent Office

Independent Office has had a number of calls from people with surplus vegetables, but to date, not many persons have taken advantage of this Vegetable Exchange service to secure vegetables.

At the present time the Independent's exchange file has listed beets, cabbage, sweet corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, as well as apples that are ready for use.

Persons wishing to secure the above should contact the Independent office immediately to get the names of persons with surpluses, since both fruit and vegetables, to be at their best, should be used or canned at the proper maturity.

Eighty Rural Schools Open August 30th

Turnover In Teachers Is Greater Than Ever

Eighty rural schools of Wright County employing 81 teachers will open Monday August 30th, in most instances with the remainder not beginning until Monday, September 6th.

The turn-over in teachers this year has been greater than ever before. Forty teachers are not returning. Of this number fifteen have married; fourteen are teaching elsewhere, several in the smaller towns of the state; and eleven are employed in other lines of work Despite this loss of teachers but four vacancies remain in the rural schools; Belmond No. 8, Vernon No. 5 and Wall Lake No. 2 and No, 4 not yet having definitely decided upon teachers.

No changes will occur in the text books of the rural schools this year. The course of study remains the same except for new teachers' handbooks in Science and Nature Study and Reading.

Rural teachers salaries vary from $90.00 to $105.00 a month with a few higher ones.

Few teachers remain without positions but the remaining vacances are expected to be filled before August 30th. (C)

Court Notes

Charles Burnette, age 46, Horace Burnette, age 44, both of Eagle Grove and Lester Hester, age 29, formerly of Eagle Grove were arrested by Sheriff Roy E. Wilson and charged with the crime of incest.

The three were arraigned before the Mayor of Eagle Grove Tuesday, on preliminary information, which was waived, and are being held in the county jail at Clarion pending hearing before the Grand Jury. Bond was fixed in the sum of $7500 for each of the three, but they failed to secure bond.

Cyclonic Wind Strikes St. Olaf Area

Normal temperatures accompanied by a high degree of humidity made the weather in Belmond and vicinity seem more uncomfortable than hot during the past week, which was also characterized by successive storms at night causing property and crop damage in this vicinity.

Early Friday morning a cyclonic wind struck in the St. Olaf church area, approximately seven miles west of Belmond. On the C. A. Didio farm, which is the first farm east of the St. Olaf church, the barn and machine shed were completely wrecked by the wind and the house was moved somewhat on its foundation although no considerable damage was done.

This same wind took every windmill wheel on the east and west road running past the St. Olaf Church, covering a distance of about three miles, and also completely wrecked many of the windmill towers. Large trees were topped and uprooted all through this area. One large tree crashed down on the automobile of Claus Asche, completely crushing the chassis of the car but doing little damage to the motor which would still start after the body had been wrecked.

The Friday morning storm was followed by another of high velocity wind early Sunday morning when many tree branches were broken off in the town of Belmond. Accompanied by hail as was the case on Friday, some farms in the area of the St. Olaf church were struck by hail for the third time this season. The corn fields of E. J. Soma and Alvin Allen were among those most badly damaged. Much damage from hail was seen in a belt about two miles wide, running northeast and southwest through the St. Olaf church area.

Weather report for Belmond shows a total of 3.56 inches of rainfall so far this month. Following is the report on weather conditions during the past week:

Miss Gloria Madsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Madsen, of Belmond, Iowa, has been awarded membership in the International Honor Society for Business Education for typing over sixty words per minute for ten minutes with less than five errors.

Miss Madsen, a graduate of the Belmond Public High school, is now attending the American Institute of Business in Des Moines and is making a good showing in her skill subjects. While in high school she was active in music and dramatics.

We Learn From Wilson

About Bees And Honey

Has Built Up 300 Swarms

One of Belmond's little known industries, but one that has assumed a great deal of importance since sugar rationing has been in effect, is that of "Bee Man" Ralph Wilson, who, in 14 years, has built up 300 swarms of bees from a beginning of only five colonies.

About 250 of these swarms are producers, the balance being built up this year to replace losses of the past winter. Mr. Wilson estimates that his production in 1943 will be only about half of his peak a few years ago. He attributes this reduction to cool summer weather and explains that when the temperature goes below 80 degrees, the bees are unable to secure nectar from the flowers.

In recent years Mr. Wilson has marketed most of his honey to wholesale grocers, selling about 10 per cent of it locally. This year all of Wilson's honey will be handled through local grocers in Belmond, Goodell, Clarion and other Wright county towns.

What started out to be part-time work for Mr. Wison has developed into a full-time job working with bees. His son, Norris, helped him considerably during the past four years until his induction into the army.

Wilson's bees produce their honey from alsike and sweet clover. The honey is taken from the hives once a week through the summer, producing months. Wilson says, "The bees work just as hard in the winter to keep warm as they do in the summer to produce honey." An adequate amount of honey must be left in the hives when cold weather comes for the bees to feed on during the winter months.

Mr. Wilson reveals that honey is predigested and produces body heat in 15 minutes as compared to 24 hours which it takes the body to convert sugar into heat. For this reason many old people use honey in place of sugar. Wilson also tells us that the United States is the largest honey producing country in the world.

EAST vs. WEST—

Here in the middle west we have been irritated from time to time by the attitude many Easterners seem to have about us. We have been told frequently that easterners look upon us as hayseeds, nobodies, unimportant as people with opinions, brains, ideas —in other words, practically uncivilized.

But right now the Iowa farmer has the laugh on some of his eastern countrymen. He has something they want, and he is hanging on to it. Right now CORN is really KING, CORN is MONEY, CORN is PRESTIGE.

The big shot on the east coast should not criticize too much because the farmer has his crib full of corn and doesn't want to part with it just now. Maybe the farmer is taking advantage of a situation, but Mr. East should understand that. It wasn't so very long ago that the farmer and everyone else around here were wondering where all the money was. We didn't have it, couldn't get it. We were told that the big banks in the east were full of money.

Furthermore, it took a lot of manipulating on the part of individuals, organizations, government New Deal —which a lot of people don't like— and a war that no American wanted, to get money circulating again so that everybody could have a chance to earn it, use it, spend it.

—V—

INSTRUMENTS OF VICTORY—

In the early part of the war Hitler depended a lot on PROPAGANDA as one of his most effective instruments of victory—as important perhaps as any group of his mighty armed forces: air corps, submarines, mechanized units.

Since the tables have been turning on Hitler rather decidedly, it has become apparent that the Allies have an instrument of victory which is just as effective as Hitler's propoganda machine. We refer to the almost unbelievable accuracy with which the Allied forces have coordinated their offensive attacks recently.

COORDINATION of the fighting forces of the Allies is winning victories on the various offensive fronts. Coordination is winning safety for Allied shipping against the menace of enemy submarines and aircraft. Coordination should play just as important a part after the war, as it is now, in winning a lasting peace.

4-H FAIR—

Wright county farm boys and girls are to have the opportunity again this year to exhibit the results of their 4-H Club work and to compete for awards at the 4-H Fair to be held at Eagle Grove, August 23 to 25.

County and state fair exhibitions have been discontinued for the most part in cooperation with the war effort. It is very desirable, however, that competitive exhibitions for the boys and girls be continued, since such exhibitions help maintain young people's interest in things worth while to them now and give them much valuable exprience looking forward to adult work and responsibility.

"THEY GO WILD. . ."—

The title of an old popular song, "They Go Wild, Simply Wild, Over Me" is having a modern an very realistic adaptation with regard to a certain popular crooner by the name of Frankie Sinatra who has the very young generation of beautiful ladies sighing with rapture as they listen to his voice and often swooning at the sight of him at some of his public appearances.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE—

Churchill and Roosevelt are having another one of their historic war conferences, this time in Quebec, Canada. And, judging from past events on the war fronts, following sooner or later after such other conferences, we may expect some new developments in the conduct of the war, in the not too distant future, We Hope!-!

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Tenants—Don't Buy Now

When a renter winds up the season, as many will do in the corn belt, with several thousand dollars in his pocket, with no claims against it, he is bound to think how fine it would be to make a down payment on a good farm.

Every renter is tired of moving on March 1. Every renter wants a place that will be his own. Land prices are rising. He thinks, uneasily, that maybe he'd better buy now if he's going to.

There may still be a few land bargains, but for the most part the time to buy land—for the tenant—has passed. He'd better wait until the post-war crash shakes out the dentist, the lawyer, the business man, who buy farm land at too high a price.

If the war with Germany ends next year, and the war with Japan in 1945, farmers may have three more years of good prices. But, after that if congress keeps fighting for inflation, and if the administration has no better luck in checking price increases, we are likley to have a smash-up like that of 1920 and 1921.

If a tenant can buy a farm and pay for it, clear, in three more years, maybe he is entitled to take a chance. But he would make more if he would put his profits in U. S. War Bonds and get them out to buy his farm in 1948.—Wallace's Farmer.

Nobody craves higher taxes. Have you ever stopped to think that there is a lot of traffic on our Main street? Just for the fun of it, the writer counted the cars going by the Independent office for an hour, the hour being from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. During that time a total of 92 cars and trucks passed, of these 15 were foreign cars, cars of other counties, and other states. It is safe to say that during one day, close to 1500 cars will pass a given point on Main street. That's a lot of pounding on our pavement every day.

George Hake is planning on taking up farming next year and will probably occupy the Skenk farm as Mr. Skenk has purchased a home in Belmond and will move to town.

—1913—

The work of decorating the interior of the Congregational church is progressing nicely and will be completed this month.

—1913—

Miss Edna Voiles leaves this week for Des Moines where she will enter a wholesale millinery house to become acquainted with the new styles in fall hats.

FORTY YEARS AGO

With the view of raising money to purchase a bell for the St. Francis Church, the ladies of the Congregation will serve a "Five O'Clock" dinner, Saturday, Aug. 29 at the Opera House. A cordial invitation is extended to all, and the ladies assure their friends of a very hearty welcome and most generous treatment.

—1903—

Some parties from Thornton and Meservey were in Belmond Tuesday seining the river for carp under the supervision of Olson and Brown.

—1903—

—1903—

—1903—

Henry Eyler, John Goslin, R.C. Brass and A. MacDonald of Clarion attended the ball game Monday.

FIFTY YEARS AGO—

The convention was most too much for the Herald man last week He pigeon-holed the notice of the Smale Sisters' concert and also the notice of Kate Cantwell's marriage, and possibly some other things that no one yet has offered to kill him for.

—1893—

Mr. J. S. Sands and Miss Edith Luick held a reception for two Sabbath school classes of the Congregational church at the residence of Mr. Sands last Wednesday evening. One was a class of young gentlemen and the other of young ladies and they had a very enjoyable time. Mr. Sands teaches one class and Miss Luick the other.

—1893—

Prittle... Prattle....

One thing for sure is true about this county during August, there is no dust in the eyes of its citizens. There has been a rain and a heavy one on an average of twice a week.

Down in Kansas a newspaper ran an obituary stating that the late husband had gone to a happier home. The widow sued. Now the editor, according to the law, must prove his statement. This is another bit of evidence that an editor should keep his impressions—editorial comments—out of the news. A news story should relate facts.—Decorah Public Opinion.

P—P

X Now that coffee is off the list a lot of us are happy again and we're looking forward to finding sugar unrationed one of these days. That, in a way, will compensate for the decrease in the value of our gasoline stamps. It is funny how we want something bad when it is hard to get as was proven when coffee was rationed. Now that we don't need a ration stamp, sales have been reported one-third less. X

It's going to be a small world in post-war days estimates the Civil Aeronautics Board. Flights from Washington D. C. to other parts of the world will have schedules something like this:

Less than 7 hours to Mexico City.

Less than 8 hours to Panama City.

8 or 9 hours to Seattle.

10 or 11 hours to Paris or London.

16 hours to Moscow, Rio de Janeiro or Istanbul.

18 hours to Cairo or Buenos Aires.

22 hours to Tokio.

24 hours to Shanghai or New Delhi.

26 hours to Chungking or Cape of Good Hope.

It may seem a little early to think about Christmas but it is not too early to begin gathering together the gifts for the boys in the service. For those in the Navy, Marine and Coast Guard service on overseas duty, you must mail your packages during the six weeks period between September 15 and October 31. For those in the army also overseas it will be a happy Christmas for them, as well as you, if their gifts are mailed out between September 15 and November 15.

Where, we wonder, has the summer gone? Just 10 more days and the school bells will be ringing again. Even tho' we didn't have much in the way of a vacation this year, which always makes our summers go faster, the three months have gone almost too fast as it was.

TASTY EATING

American Express Agent Elmer Watson of Denison who has handled all kinds of shipments from alligators, bees and frogs to ordinary livestock had rather a shock the other day when a crate containing two big live Texas rattlesnakes passed through the office destined for occupants of a nearby tourist camp. His curiosity aroused, he asked the consignees the purpose of the snakes and was told they were delicacies for the table. When dressed and "pickled", he was told, the snakes are rated a cut higher than chicken as food.

LIFE FULL OF BUGS

While in Decorah on business, State Entomologist Carl Drake of Iowa State College, received a copy of a cablegram from England asking his advise on how to control grasshoppers in Africa. With the corn borer making inroads in our own state, Entomologist Drake now has to turn his attention to African pests.

Q. Why should oil be changed every 2 months or at 1000 miles?

A. Your car produces nearly 1 gallon of water per gallon of gas burned. Short-run driving fails to expel all this water. Some gets into the crankcase and causes contamination of any oil.

COWS GIVE OWN WEIGHT IN MILK

A good dairy cow gives more than her own weight in milk every month. To do this she must have proper feed and care. If she is fed liberally on a good ratiton, the increase in milk production will show an appreciable increase in net income over cost of feed.

BIG GAIN SPRING PASTURE 32% DAIRY CONCENTRATE is especially made to tnswer the dairy cow's need for vitamins, proteins and minerals. It is designed to boost your profits in dairy farming, and to keep your cows in the best condition the year round.

Mr. Harold Schoeman, Cedar Falls, Iowa, Pure Bred Guernsey breeder, has one of the highest producing dairy herds in the state of Iowa, and the highest in Black Hawk county in official testing, over 504.4 pounds butterfat per cow all breeds, with an average of for a 25-head average. This record herd is being fed BIG GAIN SPRING PASTURE 32% DAIRY CONCENTRATE exclusively as supplement. Mr. Schoeman uses BIG GAIN QUALITY FEEDS for all his livestock.

Ask your dealer for a BIG GAIN milk chart. It has convenient mixing formulas on it, and it is free.

FEARLESS

BUD—just a clean, wholesome, fearless American boy . . . and his dog . . . thinking about tomorrow's ball game, about batting in clean-up position, about what he'll do to that Bearcat's pitcher. He knows there's a war going on. Sure he does. His brother Bill told him about it . . . Bill, who's over there helping to win it . . . and when his country needs Bud, he too, will do his part fearlessly.

Young America! Fun-loving, hard-playing youngsters. There could be no America without them. Today, they're developing keen, alert minds and strong, active bodies; tomorrow, they'll be guiding the Nation's destiny. They'll be running America's railroads, bridging the gap between producer and consumer; between where you are and where you want to go.

When Bud and his generation take over, ROCK ISLAND LINES will be an even greater railroad than it is today. Our Program of Planned Progress assures that. For, despite shortages of man-power and materials; and although, with the other railroads, we are doing for Uncle Sam a most profoundly important job, we are constantly building for the future . . . for America . . . for that America which one day we want Bud and his pals to inherit.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

Franklin County—

states G. A. Marken, president of the fair. There will be all types of 4-H club exhibits and demonstratitons, Baby Health contest and real entertainment throughout the fair.

Exhibitors are urged to make arrangements for their stall space as soon as possible so there will be no disappointment. Indications are that there will be a large livestock display as well as the hundreds of other exhibits for the fair.

Kittenball Tournament

A 4-H Club kittenball tournament has been arranged and the opening games will be played on Tuesday morning starting at 9:00 o'clock. The final games will be played Wednesday evening. On Tuesday morning the Ingham Cornhuskers will play. Richland Rustlers; Hampton Hustlers will meet Marmott and Oakland will play West Fork Haymakers. There will be two diamonds and as many games as possible will be played on Tuesday morning as the boys will be busy with their livestock and other exhibits later in the day.

E. L. Quaife, long connected with animal husbandry work at Ames, will begin with beef cattle on Tuesday, August 24th, judging both open and junior exhibits.

Robert Lichty, of Austin, a breed fieldman and very competent judge will line up the dairy cattle also on the first day. His work last year was very satisfactory.

Swine will fall under the critical examination of William Grove, of Webster City, a newcomer to judging ranks here but far from a tyro. Mr. Grove is in charge of the vocational agriculture department at Webster City. Swine judging will begin on Wednesday morning.

Ed Dyas, the genial extension agronomist from Ames, will have charge of crop judging. Robert Wilson of Ackley, will judge poultry.

WE'LL SPEND THE WINTER INSIDE A SHEEP !

That last worming before sheep go into winter quarters is an important one. A remedy that is effective against only two or three worm species is not satisfactory.

Worm with PTZ, our phenothiazine worm remedy. PTZ is effective against six species, including stomach worms and the nodular worms that often do so much damage in winter.

Use either PTZ Pellets or PTZ Drench. Both forms assure an accurate, efficient dose—accuracy is highly important in worming sheep. Get PTZ now—use according to directions on the package. Come in and see us about it.

PTZ

SENSATIONAL NEW PHENOTHIAZINE WORM TREATMENT NOW AVAILABLE IN THREE FORMS

PTZ Pellets (new and cheaper than capsules) and PTZ Drench for individual treatment of sheep, goats, horses and cattle.

PTZ Powder (100% phenothiazine) may be given in feed to swine, horses and poultry.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Ruel W. Roberts, Pastor

Sunday school 10 a. m.
Morning worship 11 a. m.

"Life's Immensities" is the theme for the Sunday morning sermon. Text: Acts 13:48. "As many as were ordained to eternal life, believed." Read also 1 Cor. 2:9, and Rom. 8:18.

Prayer Circle at our church on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. as usual. YOU are invited.

The pastor was favored by a call from Supt. Montgomery last Thursday, on his tour of this part of the state. He is looking for pastors for some 28 vacant churches—some task in this war-time. We are also behind as a denomination in furnishing chaplains for the army and navy.

METHODIST CHURCH
Arthur Bottom, Pastor

Sunday school 10:00.
Church service 11:00.
Tuesday prayer meeting, 2:30.

Next Wednesday, the 25th, Supt. Buthman will be here to hold our last quarterly conference. Budget matters are proceeding nicely and we hope all who have not completed their contributions will do so promptly.

The building improvements will commence any day now and we ask all our people to consider their fair share of the cost involved and to hand it in before the work begins.

Welcome to all services.

By Lou Gardner

* * * * * * * *

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily conform to the editorial policy of this newspaper.

THREE REPORTS

Fifteen million taxpayers will have to make out returns in Septetmber, guessing at their incomes for 1943. Those who have to do this are ones with incomes of more than $100 from other than withholding sources; single persons with income exceeding $2,700 a year; married persons with income exceeding $3,500. Those reporting will have to estimate probable income for the year, figure Victory taxes, income taxes, salary deductions, payments that have been made on 1942 taxes, and then dig up cash or checks for half of the tax due for 1943. In December they will have to make another report and pay the estimated balance. That is not all. Before next March they will have to cap the whole with a detailed report similar to the regular income tax returns of the past and make a settlement in full of 1943 income taxes.

Guessing At Income

In the preliminary reports there is an element of guess work. The taxpayer is threatened with a penalty if he fails in his guesses. This is not a good law, nor a sound rule. To place a man in jeopardy because he fails as a prophet is just not the sort of justice one should expect from our courts and juries. The intricacies of tax accounting are duplicated on the books of employers. They must keep accounts of individual salaries and deductions if they are to sleep without fear of being jailed for a failure in accuracy. These big slices coming out of income are only a starter. We look for them to go to 30 per cent or more with the next jump to get funds to keep up this war.

Need Simpler Method

The amounts of income tax are not the real cause for grouching. If some clear-headed individual will bob up with a plan to levy the tax, make the collections, and do away with the yards and yards of red-tape, the great taxpaying public will give a sigh of relief. Pay-as-you-earn is simple in is proposal, but most bewildering in the machinery with which it is surrounded. The individuals who pay the tax are entitled to sleep at night. They have a hard time doing so under the present system.

DON'T KNOW IOWA WOMEN

Two WAC recruiting officers, voicing difficulty in getting recruits, complained that Iowa women are "too pampered." We don't believe these two officers from the state of Washington know Iowa women. Perhaps they never saw an Iowa woman drive a tractor, help with the haying and harvesting, turn her share in at milking time, and do the thousand other things a farm woman in this state does to keep the work up with the seasons. Perhaps they never watched Iowa housewives do the family wash, clean their homes, mend, patch, cook meals, and keep busy from morn 'til night, raising families. Perhaps they have never studied the many thousands of serious women in shops, offices and stores who put in strenuous days and then go home to other chores in making themselves self-supporting and independent.

No High Ball Sophistication

Iowa women, from pioneer times down, have not been pampered. Nor are they of "clinging vine" type. We do not know on just what these recruiting officers based their remarks; these may have been carelesly made. But may we suggest that Iowa women cannot be judged by observation of the rarer types who blossom at night clubs, nor as these appear over the rim of cocktail glasses? There is something more sound, more wholesome and more essential in the womanhood of Iowa than high-ball sophistication. We have watched Iowa women over a period which began long before these WACS were born. Despite the examples of exaggerated modernity which sometimes reflect on the sex, we still maintain that Iowa womanhood is of high and patriotic character, far from pampered, and fully up to the job of carrying the burdens of war that fall on all homes, and on womanhood in partitcular.

THE POOL HAS OPENED

..There's water in the Republican primary pool. The season for political plunging has opened. The first splash was heard when Senator Hugh Lundy of Albia, announced that he is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. He has taken part in four sessions of the legislature, is Secretary of the Iowa Coal Institute, and knows his way around both in politics and business. He ran second for Lieutenant Governor in the 1942 primaries among a field of four candidates, polling 46,849 votes. According to the grapevine there are other candidates for various state offices standing close to the pool hoping their friends will push them in. ..

We Regret It...

BUT WE ARE FORCED TO RAISE

Subscription Prices

OF THE Independent

September 16

It's the first price raise this newspaper has made in it's 23 years of publication . . . but it's the only way we have been able to figure out to partially solve the problem which faces all newspapers . . . increased material costs . . . increased labor costs . . . increased living costs . . . reduced advertising revenue.

It was a case of reducing the size of the paper, cutting out some features and giving less news coverage, OR endeavoring to get more subscription revenue. We decided on the latter course, believing our subscribers would be willing to pay another cent a week to continue the standard which the Independent has endeavored to maintain for these many years.

Practically all daily newspapers have raised prices once, twice or even three times during the past three years. Many weeklies have followed suit. The Independent is one of the last to raise. Hundreds of weekly papers throughout the country have suspended publication during the past year because of increased costs caused by the war.

We want to be fair about this increase to everyone. We have held up raising our subscription price as long as we could. The increase will not go into effect until September 16, 1943, so if you want to subscribe or renew your subscription before that date, you can do so at the old rates of $2.00 per year in Wright and adjoining counties; $2.25 elsewhere in the state of Iowa and $2.50 in the United States.

New Rates After September 16,1943 Will Be:

In Wright & Adjoining Counties
$2.50 1 year-6 months $1.25

In All Other Iowa Counties
$2.75 1 year-6 months $1.50

In U. S. Outside State Of Iowa
$3.00 1 year-6 months $1.50

PLEASE NOTE: No new or renewal subscriptions before September 16, 1943, will be accepted for more than one year at the old rates.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

When Richard Breckenridge's submarine made a hurried dive off Japan, a hatch jammed, but he ignored the order to abandon the rapidly flooding conning tower and remained behind, desperately trying to fasten it. By succeeding, he saved vital equipment for his submarine and became the first enlisted man in the submarine service to win the Navy Cross. He was willing to give his life. COAL SHORTAGE

Threatened!

Buy Coal Now!!

The United States Government Survey shows there may be an acute coal shortage this winter. National defense has taken a heavy toll of reserve supplies—and strikes have tied up production. Movement of national defense supplies is taxing the capacity of the railroads.

All this adds up to one thing! BUY YOUR COAL NOW, while we can get deliveries. No one can guarantee to supply you this winter.

Lyric Program—

to discover that his regiment has left and that the Nazis have moved in.

The hoselry is run by its Egyptian owner and an Alsatian maid, who have remained after the other members of the staff fled, and when the British officer arrives, they at first decide to turn him over to the invaders, and later agree to give him shelter. Tone discovers that a crippled manservant had been killed in a recent air raid, and assumes the man's identity as the German staff arrives.

Donning the cripple's shoes, Tone doubles for him, and when Rommel arrives, Tone discovers that the man he is impersonating had been in the pay of the Nazis. The field marshal, with considerable self-esteem, divulges that seven years before the Germans had hidden large supplies of gasoline, ammunition and water in the sandy wastes, and that the key to the caches is in the letters on the map spelling "Egypt."

It is Tone's task to get the information that the Germans are not relying upon their supply lines, back to the British in Cairo, and the plot spins about whether or not the Nazis' plan to utilize the "five graves to Cairo" will be successful.

VOL. 24 NO. 44 · BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1943 · THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Plans Nearly Complete For 3rd War Loan Drive

Wright County's Quota Is $854,000

Plans are nearing completion for the third War Loan which will officially open over the nation Thursday, September 9, according to Paul Henry of Clarion, county chairman.

The goal to be raised nationally is fifteen billion dollars of which $4,500,000 is to be in E series bonds. Of the national goal Wright County has been assigned $854,000 which her citizens will be asked to raise through their purchases of bonds.

Town quotas are set up by the United States Treasury Department and list only the towns that have banks. These quotas have been set up as follows:

Clarion	$259,000
Eagle Grove	231,000
Belmond	179,000
Dows	112,000
Goldfield	84.000
Galt	50,000

Paul Henry of Clarion has been appointed county chairman to work with the various committees in making the third war loan a success. Verne B. Allen, Clarion has been appointed publicity chairman, and Hohn Schipull, Goldfield, rural chairman.

An office has been set up in the S & M Finance office in Clarion to handle the office work and details of the drive. The office is open for use by the various committee chairmen. Marjorie Vander-Berg has been engaged as secretary.

City chairmen and co-chairmen have been appointed throughout the county to work with Mr. Henry in making the third war loan a success in Wright county. Roy A. Henderson and B. C. Hewlett will serve in this capacity for the town of Belmond. Other town chairmen in this vicinity incude Charles Birdsall, Clarion; M. C. Halverson and Wm. Deams, Dows; R. H. Keith, Rowan; Ed Ford, Galt.

In carrying the war into enemy territory our government will need a greater amount of money than any nation has ever asked from its citizens. Remember—You aren't giving your money, you are lending it to the government. Keep in mind the slogan for the third war loan, "BACK THE ATTACK—WITH WAR BONDS."

Hood Is Local Chairm'n - War Chest Drive

Ed Kennedy Appointed Co-Chairman

Thomas Hood, manager of the Central Electric and Telephone Company today accepted the chairmanship of the forthcoming War Chest Fund Drive in the town of Belmond, to be held during the month of October.

E. F. Bisbey, Clarion, County Chairman, also announced that Ed Kennedy, Mayor of Belmond, had agreed to act as co-chairman, cooperating with Mr. Hood in this drive. B. C. Hewlett of the First State Bank will act as treasurer.

Wright County's share of the $125,000,000 national quota for the War Chest Drive is $20,000. The money collected in this drive is to provide funds for all present and anticipated war relief agencies as well as the U. S. O.

Each town and township in the county will have a chairman and a committee to direct the drive in its territory. A quota committee, appointed from the County Executive Committee will assign quotas for each of these areas in the near future.

Iowa Liquor Sales Down During Month of July

Iowa liquor store sales took a drop in July over the previous month of June with a total of $1,-237,404 compared to $1,618,382.

In Wright county sales for July were as follows: Eagle Grove, $5,-729.85, Clarion $3,867.73, Belmond $3,087.52, Dows $2,157.54.

In bond and stamp sales, the Dows store stepped out in front during the month of July with a total of $5000. Belmond store sold $281.65 in bonds and stamps during July, Clarion $74.50; Eagle Grove $48.60.

Baker Resigns As Dairy Herd Improvement Supervisor for County

Perry Baker, Dairy Herd Improvement supervisor for bi-monthly testing in Wright and Franklin counties resigned his position effective September 1st. Mr. Baker has been supervisor for the Dairy Herd Improvement Association for Wright county since last December.

An attempt will be made to secure a new supervisor for the Wright and Franklin county association. Several improvement associations have had to be dropped because of the man power shortage.

Champion Pigs Chosen At 4-H Club Fair

Many Entries From Here Win Places

Stanley and Duane Thompson, brothers of Eagle Grove, won major honors in the strong market pig classes at the Eagle Grove District 4-H fair held this week.

Showing smooth thick barrow sired from a litter, sired by a Poland China boar and a crossbreed sow, Stanley Thompson won the champion market pig in close competition from a strong class of barrows showing considerable finish at about 200 pounds. Duane Thompson of Eagle Grove had the champion pen of three market pigs and also the champion market litter. Wilma Tokheim of Eagle Grove had the reserve champion pen of three market pigs.

In the purebred division the strongest competition was in the Duroc Jersey classes with James Sebby of Clarion showing the first boar, Dean Moser of Eagle Grove the first prize gilt and first prize litter.

First prize market lamb was won by a well finished wether showed by Jack Burt of Rowan, who also placed third with another entry.

In the Poland China class Bernard Norem of Alexander placed first and second, Maurice Norem of Alexander fifth on Poland China Boar entries; Maurice Norem of Alexander, second, third and fifth on gilts; Bernard Norem of Alexander, second and Maurice Norem third on litters.

Jack Burt of Rowan placed first and second on spotted Poland market pigs as well as fifth on a pen of three market pigs.

13 Sworn In Army - Navy

Report For Duty After Furloughs

On August 17th, 13 enlisted reservists were sworn into the Army and Navy at Camp Dodge and will report for duty at a later date following a furlough. The army reservists have a furlough of three weeks and the navy reservists seven days.

ONE FOR RIPLEY

Concerning luck at cards, the remark is often made, "Wonder if I live right?" Just now some of Belmond's most ardent fishermen are "wondering if they live right" in connection with their luck at fishing.

For example: Pete English and R. H. Gowdy have spent many leisure hours this spring and summer catching just the right kind of minnows from the river which they thought would provide bait with a "lure" for real fish, and without much to show for their efforts.

Then along came "Duffy" Rierson this week and went fishing with Pete. First Pete got a bite and lost his hook and line. He had no more than gotten his new line back into the water when the bobber on Duffy's line completely disappeared. Duffy managed to hang on and landed a six-pound pike, in spite of three tangled fish lines and the fact that he hooked the pike in the back instead of in the mouth.

Curiosity was responsible for a post mortem on the pike which revealed the choice minnow from Pete's hook in the fish's stomach and a hook from some other angler's line lodged in the fish's mouth.

Wallace Delong Takes Over Duties of F. S. A.

Wallace DeLong assumed the duties of the Farm Security Administration in this territory last week. He and his family will move to Clarion from Sigourney by September 1. The present supervisor, Harry L. Ladman and his family are moving back to Ames, where Mr. Ladman will resume the duties in the district staff.

Mr. DeLong has announced that the Farm Security Administration would be in a position again the coming year to make loans to farm families for food production and rehabilitation purposes. (c)

4-H Club Boys Given Health Examinations

Dwight Tyrrell Highest In Local Club

Preliminary health examinations were given members of the various Boys 4-H Clubs of Wright county by representatives of the County Medical Association. Fifty-nine 4-H Club members were examined. The Belmond Boosters with Preston Tyrrell, 4-H Club leader, had a total of thirteen boys examined for the highest number of individuals taking the health examination in any one 4-H Club.

Dwight Tyrrell had the highest health score in the Belmond Boosters' Club.

The high scoring individuals in the various clubs represented their clubs in the District Health Contest.

Dr. Tompkins, President of the Wright County Medical Association, arranged the schedules of examinations for the boys 4-H Clubs of the County. A staff of doctors assisted in the examination in most of the offices where the boys were examined. The health examinations for the local 4-H Club boys were conducted in Dr. G. H. Steele's office at Belmond.

The District Health Scoring Contest was conducted at the Eagle Grove 4-H Club fair under the supervision of Dr. L. D. McNaughton, Superintendent of this division, assisted by other doctors of the County Medical Association. Results were not yet announced at this writing.

Hans Pals Is Victim Of Car - Train Accident

Office Open Wednesday And Saturday Nights

For the convenience of those who may wish to renew their subscriptions to the Independent before the raise in price on Sept. 16, the Independent office will be kept open on Wednesday and Saturday nights until 9:00 o'clock during the intervening weeks.

Urge Exchange Of Surpluses In Vegetables

Independent Is Local Exchange Office

With the commercial pack of vegetables predicted to be at least 13 per cent smaller than last year we should not allow any food to go to waste. If you cannot use all the food you produce yourself and you can't exchange it with your neighbor, please notify your closest garden exchange. At the exchange an effort will be made to contact people that are wanting vegetables.

In Belmond one may contact the Belmond Independent; in Clarion. the County Extension office, and in Eagle Grove, Mr. Martin, garden chairman. It is not necessary to bring your surpluses to these offices. Just leave your name, address, phone, and type of product. ...

Each person should have 125 quarts of canned fruit and vegetables when garden produce is not available. Your blue stamps will buy only 30 to 35 quarts of fruit and vegetables during an entire year.

There is no limit on the amount of home canned foods a person may sell, but he must collect ration points for all sales at the rate of 6 points per quart (4 points per pound) for all home canned food sold.

Each person in a family may give away up to 50 quarts of home-canned food during any calendar year without collecting ration stamps. But any food for which money is accepted is not considered a gift. More than fifty quarts of home-canned food may be given away, only provided ration stamps are collected for all gifts in excess of 50 quarts.

Any ration stamps thus collected are to be turned in to the local War Price and Ration Board. No written report is required.

Wife Suffered Serious Injuries

Hans Pals, age 53, was killed instantly as a result of an automobile train accident in north Belmond at the Third Avenue N. E. crossing about 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Pals, together with his wife and daughter, Frances, were the only occupants of the car at the time of the crash. Mrs. Pals was very seriously injured and was taken to the Belmond hospital. Frances was also taken to the hospital but was released Tuesday, after treatment for cuts and bruises.

At this writing it is reported that Mrs. Pals' condition is serious and that she is suffering from internal injuries.

As nearly as can be determined by those who arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after they heard the crash, the car, which was driven by the daughter, was headed north and was struck almost in the center by the south-bound afternoon Great Western passenger train.

The car was pushed ahead of the engine about 40 feet beyond the crossing, and the engineer brought his train to a stop almost immediately.

Mr. Pals, who was riding in the back seat, was killed instantly. The daughter was thrown into the ditch at the west side of the road at the impact, receiving cuts and bruises. Mrs. Pals, who was riding in the front seat, was found in an unconscious condition, wedged under the steering wheel.

Ambulances and doctors were called to the scene of the accident where medical aid was administered at once.

Besides his wife and daughter, Frances, Mr. Pals leaves three sons: Raymond and George, both in the service over seas, and Peter living at home.

Funeral services are today (Thursday) at 2:00 P. M. at the M. E. church with Rev. O. G. Poppen and Rev. H. W. Faris officiating Burial will be at Belmond Cemetery.

Monday Is Opening Day For Belmond Schools

Faculty Comes Saturday For Preliminary Meeting

Belmond schools open Monday morning, August 30 at 9:00 o'clock with a complete faculty in both grades and high school. Members of the faculty are expected to arrive in town Saturday to attend a preliminary faculty meeting Saturday afternoon.

Children in grades from one to eight will meet at 9:00 o'clock on Monday morning in their respective rooms for explanation of routine matters. They will return at one o'clock to pay book rentals and be assigned books.

High school students will meet in the school auditorium for an assembly at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning to be followed by homeroom meetings, at which time their book rentals will be disposed of. They will return at one o'clock for a full day's schedule of ten-minute class periods. During these classes they will be issued books and given assignments.

Regular classes begin Tuesday morning at nine o'clock for both grades and high school.

Kindergarten will not open until Wednesday, since Monday and Tuesday have been set aside for conferences between Miss Tokheim, kindergarten teacher, and the parents of children enrolled. These conferences are being arranged this week.

Bus routes are being set up and checked with the state department. Both buses will operate Monday morning. All students registered for bus service will be notified by postcard or telephone as to routes that will be followed and approximate time the bus will arrive Monday morning.

First call for football candidates was made Wednesday. Light practice will be at 6:30 p. m. and will continue through the week. Football suits will be issued Monday when regular practice starts.

Following is a list of the 1943-44 faculty together with the grades or departments in which they will teach:

EDUCATION IS ESSENTIAL

In connection with our thoughts about the opening of a new school year in Belmond, we should like to reprint a clipping from another publication, "The Witness" which we think explains in rather a unique way the importance of education, particularly our American type of high school education, to the young people of today.

Its title is "I gave up High School for a Job"—its theme "Looking into the future of today's youth".

"Jobs" were easy to get the summer of 1943. And they paid well. I was 17 years old in a few months, but I felt like a man. My job at the factory made me feel that way. Why, I was earning almost as much as Dad used to earn from his job....Came September. Should I give up my job and go back to high school? That was the question. I was to be a junior. Only two more years of high school left. But I was already earning good money. Why should I continue high school when I could earn as much as a man? That's how I argued then....Of course I didn't like school. I don't suppose any boy is crazy about it....When I told my parents I didn't want to go back to school, they didn't object. I suppose they also thought the money I was earning was more important than my education....I kept my job for four years. Then one morning my boss came to me with bad news. 'I'm sorry, but we'll have to let you go,' he said. 'It isn't that you weren't doing good work. We're laying off all the young men. There isn't the demand for our products that there was during the war. We can only afford to keep our senior men on the payroll.' I looked for another job. There was none to be had. I loitered around at home, wasting time....Now I feel I want a career, something personal and enduring. I would like to be a doctor. But I can't enter a medical college without high school, and I don't feel like going back to high school now. I'm a misfit, dissatisfied with myself—all because I gave up high school for a job."

Belmond children are fortunate indeed. The Belmond schools will open again this year with a full staff of teachers to carry on instruction in all departments. Not only that—The Belmond schools are continuing to carry on their well known program of all round education which includes, besides formal courses of study, a wide variety of extra-curricular activities, all of which are aimed toward giving the finished high school student the necessary background for any type of future work or study he may wish to pursue.

WE'RE NOT ENVIOUS—

We would rather be just plain, quiet, unassuming Tom Brown any day than powerful, prominent, dynamic John L. Lewis.

We don't envy Lewis all the power he has been wielding for years past which he is still trying to retain. And from what we hear about the opinions of service men on our various fighting fronts about Lewis and the trouble he has caused stirring up strikes at home, we don't envy Lewis in months or years hence when the war is over and the boys come marching home.

Whether we on the home front like it, whether Lewis and his labor unions like it, and whether some congressmen with their power-pulling practices like it or not, several million service men with a united grievance about something or someone back here at home are going to raise plenty of h—ullabaloo with those who did not play ball quite fairly while many of them were taking a bad beating from enemy fire on the war front.

—v—

"MIRACLE MEN"

A certain "miracle man" called bread the staff of life 1,943 years ago and asked his followers to eat of it and believe in him.

Now "miracle men" doctors on the war fronts are saying that blood (plasma) is the outstanding medical discovery of this war, that it is absolutely magical in saving lives and healing the wounded. They beg the folks back home to believe this and to give and keep on giving blood so that no wounded soldier will be without the miracle of its life-saving powers.

—v—

WHO ARE WE?

The rabid anti-New Dealers, who can find nothing good whatever about the things our Chief Administrator has done, will have some fault to find about the plans laid for carrying on the war at the Roosevelt-Churchill conference in Canada, whenever such plans may be revealed to the public by news or war action.

However, at this conference, as was the case at other such meetings, the particular part which Churchill and Roosevelt played was in giving "their approval to the war plans drawn by . . . . staff chiefs and between 300 and 400 subordinate specialists from every war theater."

Who are we to judge and criticise? ?

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

The following letter was taken from the Camp Swift Baron, army newspaper printed at Camp Swift, Texas. It needs no intruduction and no comment:

Guadalcanal, 1942
Delayed.

Dear Family:

It is pleasant to hear from you after such a long period of time but it is unpleasant to learn of your changed condition of living which I can more readily understand from the change of my own condition.

It is too bad that you are limited in the use of your automobile. I know how it is to walk through miles and miles of swamp and jungle. So I understand.

It is too bad to have your choice of food limited. I have experienced this, too, except there is no choice here. So I understand.

It is too bad that Willie has such little time for amusement. too. So I understand.

It is too bad that you have to wait in the rain for transportation. I have to wait in the rain on post and my transportation is uncertain, too. So I understand.

It is too bad that you are being paid so little for working so hard. I get only a fraction of your pay. So I understand.

Winning this war is hard on all of us. You work long hours and so do I. So I understand. But during those hours I get shot at, DO YOU UNDERSTAND?

Your Loving Son.

—Jefferson County Union, Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin.

One of the miracles of our times is the development of hybrid corn. Just 11 years ago less than one per cent of Iowa's corn acreage was planted with hybrid. This year 99 per cent of our nearly 11 million acres of corn land is producing hybrid. The main reason, of course, is the increase in yields over the open-pollinated corn, estimated to be from 20 to 25 per cent.—Swea City Herald.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

AWAY BACK WHEN

TEN YEARS AGO—

Carl Frick and Miss Gladys Gunderson returned Sunday from visiting relatives in Wisconsin

—1933—

—1893—

TO ARMV AND NAVY RELIEF

Mrs. Martha E. Chapman of near Corydon will donate half of the sale proceeds of her new song, "I Will Wait" to the Army and Navy Relief.

Prittle... Prattle....

It's a small world as "Soupy" Cramer and Ann Goplerud discovered when they met in North Africa recently. In a letter home, Soupy said, "I thought I recognized one of the girls in our Red Cross canteen and asked her if she wasn't from Iowa. 'Sure am," she replied. "Ever been in Belmond, 'my home town'?" was Soupy's next query. "Have I ever," was Ann's reply. "I know it like a book.' As who wouldn't after teaching school here for two years.

P—P

It must have been a real "old home' 'week for Ann and Soupy.

P—P

"C. R. Galvin, office manager for the Sheffield Brick & Tile company, wonders," says the Sheffield Press, "if every able-bodied civilian will soon be expected to hold down two full-time jobs." He received an "induction" order not long ago from the manpower commission instructing him to report for work on a 10 p. m. to 3 a. m. shift at the Hampton canning factory.

P—P

Eight hours in an office and five hours in a corn and bean plant a day might be a bit strenuous for some, but as we look up and down Belmond's main street, out in the country and into the homes in this territory, 13 hours a day is nothin', brother. Everybody around here, that wants to, can work sixteen hours and longer a day. With merchants and farmers short of help and housewives canning gallon after gallon of fruit and vegetables there just 'ain't' enough hours in the day and night.

P—P

We've solved the gas rationing problem through the services of a horse and buggy 'chauffeur one day last week when Wesley Uhlenhopp, young son of C. J., picked us up in front of our home as we were leaving for work. It was a pleasant trip and a comparatively new experience for us.

P—P

I met a man the other day who really should be put away in some good concentration camp, he gave my belly quite a cramp. He claimed that he's a patriot cause he farms all the land he's got, he's careful with his gas and oil and rationing don't make him boil; his wife cans lots of stuff each year, the poor old guy was quite sincere. But when I asked him what he's done 'bout buying bonds, he said "Not one." He argued that he does enough, and went away in quite a huff when I told him that it is great to stay at home and work till late producing food and fibre, too, but that is not enough to do. Of course, our boys have got to eat, but still they surely will get beat if they don't get the planes and guns with which to plaster Japs and Huns. They can't throw 'taters at a tank, it takes a lot of lead to spank the Axis where it really hurts, and lead costs money in big squirts. If all of us do just one thing we'll never win this war, by jing. We've got to build those ships and planes, we must turn out more meats and grains. we have to send our boys away and work 12 hours a days. But all these things will never do unless we buy some war bonds, too. This war taeks a lots of cash, by gee, it takes lots of cash, by gee, it has to come from you and me; there won't be space upon the earth unless we buy our few bucks' worth. —The Song of the Lazy Farmer from the Wallace's Farmer,

On the application blank for rubber footwear is the question: "What identification can you give your retailer?" (You're supposed to list your social security number, license plate number, or some such.)

One applicant filled it in this way: "Don't need none. He knows me."

P—P

A man was stranded on a desert island; he was afraid of cannibals so he moved very cautiously. As he was climbing up a small hill he heard voices: "Who in the hell trumped my ace?"

The man lifted his eyes to heaven and said: "Thank God, there are Christians on this island."

By all means, let 'em eat cake
. . . . and candy, too

Nature has her own way of telling us that there is energy in sweets. Today, corn syrup, rich in dextrose, is playing a more important role than ever before in supplying active America with the sugar that gives power to the body and keeps wits sharp.

Candy is part of the field ration and sweets are served generously to our armed forces everywhere. Sweets served in war plants have greatly stepped up human energy and production.

Tremendous quantities of corn syrup are used to make icings, cookies, cakes, candies and pies so temptingly good—and good for you.

Immense amounts of corn syrup for the army as well as for civilian consumption are produced by the Home of Budweiser. Our Corn Products Division—working entirely apart from the brewery—grew out of the experience that developed from years of laboratory research. The quest for better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer never ceases.

Say Marriage Vows

Miss Lois I. Mahler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mahler of Long Island, New York, and T. Sgt. Richard Burgess, son of Mrs. T. R. Burgess of Goodell, Iowa, were united in marriage Sunday, August 15, 1943 at the Post Chapel, Eagle Pass, Texas, with the Rev. Hagg reading the single ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Cpl. Georganna Larabee played Concerto in C Minor and also accompanied Pvt. Don Harlow who sang "Because." Miss Larabee also played Lohengrin's wedding march as the couple took their places before an altar banked with gladiolas and white tapers.

The bride and her attendants were in WAC uniforms and the groom, best man and ushers wore their army uniforms.

As the couple left the altar, an arch of steel was formed by the ushers using guidons from six different squadrons. They were taken from the chapel in a jeep to the WAC Day room where a reception was held.

The bride took her WAC training at Des Moines and has been stationed at Texas. The groom enlisted in the army three years ago and is with the army air corps at Eagle Pass, Texas, where the couple will reside after Mrs. Burgess is discharged from the WAC.

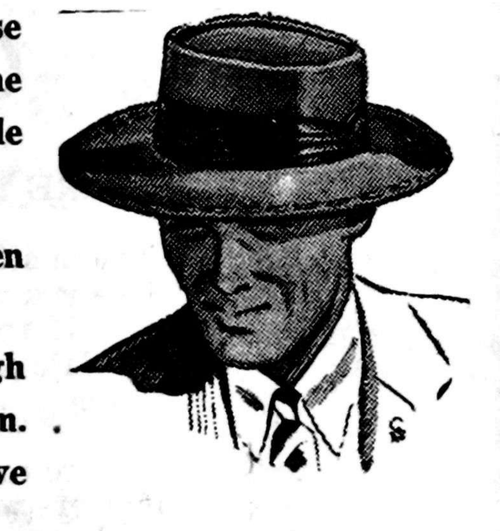
Why Haven't I Found Such Hats Before

"Where have hats like these been all these years?" A new customer said to us the other day. "Why haven't I ever been able to find such hats before?"



We asked him, tactfully, where HE had been all these years, that answered his question.

We have had such hats right along, though never quite such an amazing display of them.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Smith, that the salary of Luella Blackman as clerk in the county treasurer's office be set at $100.00 per month, effective July 1, 1943. Motion carried.

Since September 6, 1943, falls on Labor Day, it is therefore moved by Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that hearing on petition for cleanout on Drain No. 15, originally scheduled for September 6, 1943, be rescinded and that the hearing be scheduled for September 7, 1943, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet August 3, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, August 3, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, and A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Fisher, that the Supervisors approve the action of the County Auditor in approving the bonds of Percy Thompson Struck, County Engineer; J. L. Lee, member of the Soldiers' Relief Commission, as provided in Section 1075, 1939 Code. Motior carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that the following applications for Soldiers' exemption, filed before July 1, 1943, be allowed as provided in Section 6944-3, 1939 Code, as amended by the 49th G. A.: Lloyd C. Ridge, G. R. Hill, Percy T. Struck, Harold A. McBeth, Deloss James Scott. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by T. J. Henry, that nonresident notices be served on L. J. Bankes, Dows, and Allen McCallum, Rowan. Motion carried.

The appointment and bond of Hallie Rist as Deputy Sheriff in the Town of Woolstock were placed before the Supervisors, and it was moved by Smith, seconded by Fisher, that said appointment and bond be approved, with the understanding that said appointment involves no expense for salary on behalf of the county. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that Wright County release mortgage given to said county by Ed Comstock and Zella Comstock, as recorded in Book 21, Page 623, in the Wright County Recorder's office; it having been shown that they possessed no equity in the property set forth in said mortgage, and the County Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to make such release. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Smith, that the Supervisors petition the State Comptroller for permission to transfer $19,000.00 from the Emergency Fund to the General County Fund, and upon obtaining permission, the County Auditor is authorized to make said transfer. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that the maixmum deposit in the First State Bank of Belmond be raised to $150,000.00.

Upon roll call, all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Be it remembered that on this, the 3rd day of August, 1943, the County Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, met in session for the purpose of a hearing upon the budget estimate as filed with this board. There was present a quorum as required by law. Thereupon the board investigated and found that the notice of the time and place of hearing had, according to law and as directed by the board, been publised on the 15th day of July, 1943, in the Belmond Independent, Eagle Grove Eagle, and Wright County Monitor, official newspapers published in said county, and that the affidavits of publication were on file with the county auditor. hereafter and on said day the estimate was taken up and considered and taxpayers heard for and against said estimate as follows:

Thereafter and after hearing all taxpayers desiring to be heard, the board took up the estimate for final consideration and after being fully advised the board determined that said estimate be corrected and completed so that when completed it should be in words and figures as stated herein.

AMENDED BUDGET ESTIMATE

NOTICE—The Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, will meet September 7, 1943, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., at the courthouse, for the purpose of hearing objections to the following amendment to the county budget estimate:

To increase the estimate for Soldiers' Relief Fund from $8000 to $16,000.

Taxpayers will be heard for or against said amendment to the budget estimate at that time.

32 F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, August 18, 1943

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the court house in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, T. J. Henry, H. C. Pinkham, with the County Auditor in attendance. Absent: A. W. Smith.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by T. J. Henry, that because of the fact that the district court has ruled Frederick Hills has no equity in Lots 3 and 8, and the west 11 feet of Lots 2 and 9, Block 1, Original Town of Clarion, Wright County release any lien it may have against Lots 3 and 8, and the west 11 feet of Lots 2 and 9, Block 1, Original Town of Clarion, for the care and keep of Frederick Hills in the State Hospital at Cherokee. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Pinkham, that the Engineer's Petty Cash fund be increased from $25.00 to $35.00. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Fisher, that duplicate warrants to replace warrants lost in the mail be issued as follows: Warrant No. 923 issued July 17, 1943 on the Maintenance Fund to Louis Moe in the amount of $26.40; Warrant No. 4635 issued July 17, 1943 on the Construction Fund to Louis Moe in the amount of $35.00; and Warrant No. 776 issued July 2, 1943 on the Maintenance Fund to Dukehart-Hughes Tractor and Equipment in the amount of $15.72. Motion carried.

Whereas, the Iowa Public Service Company of Sioux City has requested that Wright County through its Board of Supervisors grant said company permission to lay and maintain a four inch gas main extending north from the Border Station of Northern Natural Gas Company, located in Section 26, Township 91 North, Range 26, West of the 5th P. M., Wright County, four feet into the highway thence west on south margin of said highway a distance of approximately six feet to the East corporate limit of and connecting with the gas distribution system in the City of Eagle Grove, Iowa.

It is therefore moved by Fisher, seconded by T. J. Henry, that permission to lay and maintain said pipe be granted for a period of twenty years upon the condition that if the main interferes at any time with the road, it will be removed by the Iowa Public Service Company at no expense to Wright County. Motion carried.

Whereas, James F. McNamara died September 30, 1942, and left as heirs, Earl R. McNamara and Mac McNamara who have been inmates of the State Hospital at Cherokee, and

Whereas, the property of James F. McNamara has now been sold, the sum of $356.10 for the care and keep of Earl R. McNamara and Mac McNamara at Cherokee now appears as a lien against said property, and

Whereas, the proceeds from the sale of said property are insufficient to pay the debts of James F. McNamara,

Therefore, it is moved by H. C. Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that the Wright County Board of Supervisors hereby release the lien of Earl R. McNamara and Mac Namara as against Lots 1 and 2, Block 11, Morse Bros. Addition to Belmond, and the chairman of the Board of Supervisors be instructed to sign release of said lien. Motion carried.

Moved by Wm. Fisher, seconded by T. J. Henry, that the Board of Supervisors approve the action of Chas. Heiden as chairman of the Board of Supervisors in the releasing of the lien of Earl R. McNamara and Mac McNamara in the amount of $356.10 against Lots 1 and 2, Block 11, Morse Bros. Addition to Belmond.

Upon roll call the following supervisors voted aye: Heiden, Fisher, Pinhkam, Henry; Nays, none. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Fisher, that nonresident notices be served on Basil W. Koob, Goldfield; Maude Northrup Koob and family, Goldfield; Daryl Stearns, Eagle Grove. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet September 7, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman.
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

YET... most babies are born with perfect vision. Poor lighting has much to do with that number, and it would pay you good dividends to keep your home aglow with I. E. S. light.

The eyesight of little children needs all the protection that I. E. S. lighting affords. . .Avoid the danger of sight injury to your children. . .and remember, sight injury goes on through your entire lifetime. Have a maximum of protection at all times. Use more light, keep better sight. It pays.

Check over your lighting and see that you have the best available today. New I. E. S. bulbs cost little more than the ordinary kind. Current to provide good lighting costs only a few cents a night!

LOWER EGG COSTS

50% to 60% of the cost of egg production is represented by the feed costs. Use BIG GAIN 32% POULTRY CONCENTRATE in mixing your home made egg mash. It contains an abundance of the vitamins, proteins and minerals so necessary for growth, healthy maintenance, and top egg production. It is skillfully and scientifically made to balance with your home grains to give maximum results per pound of feed consumed

Many large hatcheries and mills use BIG GAIN 32% in making their own brand of POULTRY CONCENTRATE egg mash and growing mash. They report an increase in business and many satisfied customers.

Lower the feed costs and increase the profit per dozen eggs produced. Ask your dealer for BIG GAIN 32% POULTRY CONCENTRATE.

Court Notes

The case of Charles and Horace Burnett was brought before Judge Clock last Thursday, August 19th. Lester Hester will be tried at a later date. The two Burnett brothers were sentenced not to exceed twenty-five years at Fort Madison and were taken there Saturday by Sheriff Roy E. Wilson. George Wright, County attorney, claims that the baby boy, Roger, in the Burnett case is neglected and dependent. This will be determined by the court August 30th at the court house in Clarion.

State of Iowa vs. Robert Cavanaugh. Cavanaugh, 23, of Dubuque, after completing a 30 day sentence at Fort Dodge on the charge of petty larceny, was turned over to Sheriff Roy Wilson. He has been committed to Wright county jail for six months on charge of aiding in the theft of a car from the Christensen Motor Co. of Eagle Grove. Appeal bond fixed at $500.00.

State of Iowa vs. Buford Bankes. Recently Bankes was arrested at Dows by Sheriff Wilson, it being alleged that Bankes hired out to Howard Schweiger, a Franklin county farmer, who advanced Bankes a sum of money and wearing apparel and Bankes did not appear at the farm for work. He was sentenced to be committed to jail at Wright county for one year provided, however, that during good behavior the defendant shall be paroled to Sheriff Wilson, on the following condition: That within 60 days he shall make full restitution to Howard Schweiger and to those to whom Schweiger may be obligated as to matters existing between them.

Pauline Van Sickle vs. Russell H. Van Sickle. Mrs. Van Sickle asks separate maintenance for herself and two minor children and $15.00 per week; also the furniture; costs of this action and permanent custody of the children.

W. H. Laughlin, Jr. vs. Mrs. Oscar Hagen. Asks judgment for $328.24 with interest from the 11th of April, 1929 at 6 per cent until July 4th, 1935 and 5 per cent thereafter with costs. Also asks writ of attachment against lands or real estate of Mrs. Iva Hagen.

Clara McCormick vs. Eugene McCormick. Plaintiff asks absolute divorce and permanent custody of their daughter, Lois McCormick; also asks rights be established to real estate and personal property and asks to be decreed absolute owner of an undivided one-half interest in said real estate. Also asks permanent alimony and funds for the support of the minor daughter; all household goods and furniture, automobile. Asks that the costs of this action be charged to the defendant.

Glen Riden vs. Severin Chinburg. Plaintiff demands judgment against the defendant for $2000.00 with interest and costs in a petition at law.

Anna E. Tate vs. Luther L. Tate. Asks an absolute divorce and custody of two children and alimony for care, support and maintenance of herself and children; asks temporary alimony, suit money and attorney's fees. (c)

VOL. 24 NO. 45 — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1943 — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Football Schedule To Start September 17

Play First Game With Clarion Here

Belmond's football schedule will start on Friday, September 17th, when the opening game with the Clarion Cowboys will be played on the local field, Coach John Lansing announced today.

Following is the entire schedule of games:

Sept. 17—Clarion—Here
Sept. 24—Northwood—There
Sept. 28—Britt—Here
Oct. 1—Garner—There
Oct. 8—Lake Mills—Here
Oct. 15—Forest City—There
Oct. 22—Open
Oct. 29—Buffalo Center—Here

On Friday, Sept. 10, the team will go to Hampton for a practice scrimmage.

It will be noted that the Britt game is on a Tuesday rather than the usual Friday night event. The reason for this was to make possible the annual Belmond-Clarion game Sept. 17. Rules of the Iowa Athletic Association require three weeks of football practice prior to the opening game. Therefore, the 17th was the earliest possible date that Belmond could schedule a game.

Negotiations are under way for a game with a nearby school for the open date of October 22. If this is scheduled, it will round out a complete schedule for 1943. The date has been left open because Dows has been forced to drop football due to the lack of a coach.

Thirty-seven Belmond high school boys have already started football practice, Coach Lansing announced.

Twelve are candidates for the backfield and include E. Banning, O. Finn, L. Jones, H. Jones, R. McBride, C. Shahan, L. Dorr, G. Meints, R. Hunter J. McLaughlin, P. Quigley and R. Henderson.

Twenty-five are candidates for the line, including Beavers, Campbell, Classick, Dempsey, D. Walrod, D. Foss, B. Foss, Hake, Koepple, J. McGuire, B. Nelson, O. Shahan, A. Stockseth, R. Stockseth, E. Tudor, Dale Walrod, Waddington, Wagner, Wicks, Rodemeyer, G. Swenson, Brooks, Meyer, Benson and Rosheim.

Who Must Declare

Tax Declarations Are Due On or Before September 15

In reply to many inquiries as to requirements for filing a Declaration of estimated tax on or before September 15, 1943, E. H. Birmingham, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Iowa, states that the following persons must file a return:

(a) Those not subject to the withholding tax whose gross income for the year can reasonably be expected to be such as to require the making of an income-tax return (that is, those anticipating a gross income of $500 or more if single, or $1,200 or more if married.)

(b) Those subject to the withholding tax, but whose wage or

Martin Paulson, 68 Succumbs at Clarion

Martin Paulson, 68, Belmond township resident, died Sunday, August 29, at the hospital in Clarion as the result of two strokes.

Mr. Paulson became ill last week and friends took him to Clarion. He had no immediate family in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, August 31 from the St. Olaf church, with Reverend O. M. Severseike officiating. Burial was at St. Olaf Cmetery.

LUTHERAN LADIES AID OF THORNTON SPONSORS FLOWER SHOW

The American Lutheran Ladies Aid of Thornton are sponsoring a Hobby Show and Tea at the church parlors Wednesday, Sept. 8, from 2 p. m. to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. A. O. Pelley of Rowan will exhibit her dolls. She has more than 40 dressed dolls in her collection.

The public is invited to attend.

Tire Quotas For September Announced

Review Tire Situation To Date

Tire quotas of Grade I and III tires and those for farm implements for the 64 counties of the Des Moines District of the Office of Price Administration were announced today by R. C. Walters, district director. In a general review of the tire situation to date Mr. Walters said:

"The September quota of 10,294 new passenger tires is 1,435 higher than August. However, local boards will continue to face a quota shortage since their reports indicate a backlog of unfilled applications for new tires many times larger than the increase. These applications are unfilled because of quota shortages.

"The September quota of 4,441 new truck tires is only 57 higher than August. Here again rationing boards will find their quotas inadequate due to a large backlog of applications unfilled.

"These quota shortages are the result of the extremely low inventories of new passenger and truck tires in the Nation today. The tire shortage will eventually be overcome by production of synthetic tires, but these tires will not be produced in large quantities for several months.

Wright County's tire quota for September includes Grade I, 134; Grade III, 138; Farm Implement, 85.

"Following are the other tire and tube quotas for the Des Moines District for September:

Used and Recapped Passenger tires	12,228
Passenger tubes	10,199
Truck Tubes	4,887
Farm Tractor Tires	3,974

"Changeovers from steel wheels to rubber tires on farm tractors and implements are now permitted only on such vehicles that are used in custom work on several farms and

Cpl. Beneke Received Red Cross Kit - Liked It

Cpl. Donald G. Beneke sends a V-mail letter from somewhere in England dated "One Day Nearer Victory" to Mrs. G. H. Steele, local Production Chairman of the Red Cross, in which he expresses appreciation of the Red Cross overseas kits received by the men after going aboard ship. 432 Kits were made by the local chapter during the winter and spring.

Beneke writes as follows:: "Received a copy of the Belmond Independent today. . Notice the story on the Red Crosss production work, particularly that part about your making up the overseas kits in your home. Having been a recipient of one of those kits not so long ago the story had a particular interest to me. We received them on board ship, and the books were most welcome. Being passed about they certainly helped to take up the time. . . If you'd like a suggestion I might say that mirrors aren't so abundant here, and I can think of places where they would be even less so.

"Life over here isn't so rugged as you might think, while entertainment as we have known it, is mighty scarce. The people, their customs and their ways of thinking and living and the so-called modern conveniences never cease to be of interest,

"It's been a great adventure coming over here and there's more in store, but the great day coming is the one when we see the Statue of Liberty again."

MOTHER OF MRS. C. W. SANKEY PASSES

Mrs. Sally Stevenson, 87, mother of Mrs. C. W. Sankey of Clarion, passed away Tuesday following a heart attack. Funeral services are today (Thursdy) at 2:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian church in Clarion with the Reverend R. J. Beebe officiating. (C)

Third War Loan Starts September 9

Wright County's Quota Is $854,000

The Third War Loan, starting September 9 throughout the nation, is the largest order that has yet been handed out by the Treasury Department. Iowa's share in this 15 billion dollar loan is 196 million dollars, of which Wright County is to supply $854,000.

In order to put the drive over, it will take the cooperation of every person in the County. Mr. Paul Henry of Clarion is going to act as chairman. Mr. Henry has been very successful in all of the War Bond drives in the Clarion community, and with his experience and the anticipated sacrificing of each individual. this September drive will also reach a successful conclusion.

The pledge campaign which took place this spring was prior to the invasion of Africa and Sicily. With other big events to follow, the Treasury is in need of more money, and the $854,000 that is being asked of Wright County is in addition to the regular pledge made in the spring. Our boys in service made a pledge at the time they joined

446 Students Enrolled In Belmond Schools

ALL VACANCIES FILLED IN RURAL SCHOOLS

The vacancies remaining in the rural schools of Wright County have been filled as follows: Ruby Joseph of Eagle Grove will teach Belmond No. 8; Hettie Yocum of Clarion, Wall Lake No. 2; Mrs. Bernice Nelson of Kanawha to teach Belmond No. 4 instead of Mrs. Eunice Christensen as reported; Mrs. J. M. Thomas of Dows to replace Grace Miner of Clarion at Vernon No .2; Liberty No. 2 has decided to reopen the school and hired Patricia Koepke of Eagle Grove. (C)

Higher Than Number In School in May

A total of 446 students are enrolled in the Belmond Schools, according to an announcement by Superintendent Theodore Johnson today. 276 of this number are enrolled in kindergarten and the grades, while 170 are enrolled in the high school.

Following is the enrollment according to grades:

Kindergarten 28, First 37, Second 34, Third 34, Fourth 27, Fifth 26, Sixth 30, Seventh 35, Eighth 25.

High School: Ninth grade 45, Tenth 48, Eleventh 31, Twelfth 46.

The figures for both the grades and high school are lower than the enrollment figures in September last year. However, most of the drop took place during last year. The present enrollment figures are actually higher than the number in school last May, both in the grades and in high school.

School lunches are scheduled to begin the first week in October and will be served in the school house.

Both school buses are running on schedule according to the rules of O. D. T. which forbid any side trips for individual students. Children who live off the main bus routes must meet the bus at the road. At the present time 47 rural children are riding on the school buses.

POSTPONE OPENING OF GOODELL SCHOOLS ONE WEEK

Opening of the Goodell schools has been postponed one week and will open Monday, September 6. Edward Fritz of Seattle, Wash., who has signed the contract as Superintendent, was unable to arrive until the latter part of this week. (G)

Daylight Air Raid Alert Is September 9

It was announced today by R. J. Jornson, Wright county defense coordinator, that a statewide practice daylight air raid alert will be held Thursday, September 9, according to orders received from Rodney Q. Selby, state coordinator.

This state-wide practice is to serve the dual purpose of announcing the Third War Loan campaign and to further instruct defense personnel and the public in air raid warnings, procedure and signals.

Following is the time schedule

12:00 noon - Defense corps units to their posts.
12:15 - First caution signal sounds.
12:15 - Action Signal.
12:25 - Second caution Signal.
12:30 - All clear.

The same signals will be used as in the blackout, and the same general instructions apply except that there will be no actual black out. Further instructions will appear in the September 9th issue of the Independent. (c)

Nine Pick Up German Short Wave Broadcast About Prisoners of War From Belmond

Cpl. Kenneth V. Jenison, German prisoner of war since February 17, is doing all he can to let his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jenison, know where he is and that he is well. The Jenisons have received four letters from him since he has been taken to Germany, but apparently Kenneth does not know his letters have reached home.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Jenison recived nine communications from persons in eastern states and Rock Island, Illinois, and which included one from the War Department, all referring to a short wave radio broadcast heard on August 23rd at 9:15 p. m. which came over the radio-Berlin.

The message which the War Department and others heard a German radio announcer read was as follows: "Dear Folks: I am a German prisoner of war. My health is fine so please don't worry. Roy Green is with me. Everything is all right. Your son, Kenny."

Summarizes National War Chest Budget

Will Cover Needs Of 17 Agencies

A functional summary of the budget of the National War Fund was announced today by Chairman E. F. Bisbey of the Wright County War Chest. It shows that the campaign goal of $125,000,000—to cover the needs of 17 member agencies for the 14 months ending Oct. 1, 1944—is to be distributed as follows:

USO (United Service Organization), $61,227,000; United Seaman's Service , $4,125,000; War Prisoners Aid Society, $2,320,000.

Russian War Relief, $10,155,000; United China Relief, $9,873,000; British War Relief Society, $5,698,000; Greek War Relief Association, $5,122,000; Polish War Relief, $3,750,000; United Yugoslav Relief Fund, $2,238,000; French Relief Fund, $2,183,000.

Belgian War Relief Society, $325,000; United Czechoslovak Relief, $234,000; Queen Wilhelmina, (Dutch Relief) Fund, $200,000; Norwegian Relief, $200,000; Friends of Luxembourg, $121,000; Refugee Relief Trustees, $2,809,000, and the U. S. Committee for the Care of European Children, $812,000.

It will be noted, Chairman Bisbey points out, that some of the allocations are relatively small. This is due to the fact that little aid can reach some of the occupied nations such as Norway and Holland. However, Chairman Bisbey states, events in the war are changing fast and it may be that before long such nations will be opened to the United Nations. In that event, the contingent fund of $12,807,867 provides money to enable the National War Fund to increase aid to such liberated nations, the local chairman states.

Since one of the major reasons for the creation of the National War Fund is to secure one united drive for all war appeals, except the spring drive for the Red Cross, the creation of a contingent fund of more than $12,000,000 provides ample funds to be used for new needs and situations without an additional appeal to the public, it is pointed out by Chairman Bisbey.

The campaign in Wright county for the National War Fund will take place early in October. Organization plans are now going ahead.

In channeling funds, the National War Fund and its member agencies recognize the efficiency and economy, not only of a single campaign for funds, but also in making use of existing organizations. Efficiency of operation, according to Chairman Bisbey, can often best be accomplished by using established hospitals, children's homes and other relief organizations already operating in foreign countries,

Some of these permanent organizations in various parts of the world, through which the member agencies of the National War Fund operate, include: 31 hospitals in North Africa; 200 children's institutions in China; and 400 homes and hostels for child victims of the war in Great Britain. These are only a small percentage of all such participating service organizations which represent the active, responsible, experienced and most direct means of reaching those in need for whom these funds have been contributed.

4 Belmond Men Report On Sicily

Captain A. E. Martin Describes Country And People

Mrs. Albert Martin received a letter recently from her husband who is a Captain with the army in Sicily. Captain Martin does not mention military activities but writes a picturesque discription of the country and the people, some of which is as follows:

"In spite of some destruction, this island is most scenic and picturesque. Beautiful mountains and valleys. Ancient and primitive dwellings, almost 2000 years ago people lived as they are doing here today....

"Most all the towns are built on pinnacles which, at one time, were inaccessible except for a single trail which might be easily defended. . . These towns are built on

OFFICIAL CITY & COUNTY WEEKLY

1943 IOWA PRESS ASSOCIATION

Subscription Terms: One year in Wright, Hancock, Cerro Gordo and Franklin counties, $2.00 per year; other Iowa counties, $2.25; outside Iowa, $2.50. —Subscriptions are strictly cash in advance and paper stops at expiration of time paid for. The address label shows the month and year to which subscription is paid.

Week in and week out through the year, this column usually contains the expression of opinion of one or two people. This week we are printing three guest editorials as well as our usual section 'With Other Editors', in which a variety of opinion on a variety of subjects is expressed.

"TAKING IT"

"Mother used to say, 'it takes two to make a quarrel' when we shoved the fault on the other fellow. The government says, 'it takes two to make a black market' when we try to shift the responsibility on another's shoulders. We are warned daily that the black market is the consumer's problem and it is in these hands that the black market can be squelched. When you pay more than ceiling prices for meat or when you insist upon meats that you know aren't available, you are abetting the black market racket. The government suggests you ask to see both types of government stamps on the whole sale cuts of meat and this you are more apt to fail to do, feeling you are offering an insult to the integrity of the dealer. If you are pretty sure of the individual an enough convinced tnat he is not doing an illegitimate business you are probably not worrying about diseased meat, slaughtered according to the rules of the shady game rather than according to the rules of sanitary practice.

You know your meat dealer so you don't fear an epidemic. But, are you one of those who is accepting certain extra favors through the channel of friendship? Don't do it, for each of us is allotted a share, a fair balance to insure us good food for health's sake, and when you allow yourself to accept more through friendship and partiality you are cutting someone else of their just amount, perhaps a neighbor, perhaps a soldier.

Let's play no favorites, accept only what we have coming to us and not want to do some chiselling because someone we know is getting away with it. Let him crowd his refrigerator with butter, bacon, and steaks. This job is our part of the fight and we can do it with as good grace in Pocahontas county as our boys in the Solomons."

—V—

Another editorial was taken from the Grinnell Herald-Register in central Iowa, in which the beauty of Iowa has inspired the writer.

"IOWA, BEAUTIFUL LAND"

"Iowa has once more donned its full panoply of summer beauty.

On the rare occasion when the sun shines it stretches before the eyes the variegated pattern of diversified fields, stretching out to the far beauty of distant horizons. It is a gentle beauty. It lacks the sheer majesty of the Rockies and the lovely outlooks of the eastern and southern mountains, but it possesses a beauty of its own; a rich and fecund beauty which is dear to the heart of every Iowan. We think sometimes that all too aften we fail to appreciate the beauty which is ours for the looking. We fail to note the symmetry and the deep color of our trees in their summer finery of green. We lose sight of the contrast between the deep green of growing corn and the oat fields ripening into gold for the harvest and only calculate how many bushels they will bring to the acre. Our heritage is so familiar to us that we overlook the obvious, but we believe that it is not out of the way to suggest that Iowa is not only a fruitful breadbasket for the nations but to the seeing eye it possesses a beauty which those who live amidst it deeply appreciate when they stop to think about it. We have an idea that Iowa boys, far away, in the steaming islands of the south Pacific, on the sands of Africa, in the remote fastnesses of Iceland, on all the myriad fronts to which their war time duty calls them, are remembering this beauty which is Iowa's with longing thoughts and are looking forward to the day when they can feast their eyes on it again. It was not for nothing that the Indians bestowed upon this section its name: 'Iowa, beautiful land'."

—V—

Still another subject is discussed, and one which should be important to all of us, in the Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune, "Tax Budgets":

Ever Attend a Budget Hearing?

"This is the budget season. The Storm Lake newspapers have been publishing estimates from various tax-spreading bodies both in and without the city.

The idea is to give the taxpayers due and timely warning of what they may expect when the levies are spread for the forthcoming year. Also, the purpose is to inform you when the taxpayers will have the opportunity of appearing before the tax-making body and objecting to what you are about to receive.

Ever attend a budget hearing? If not, why not? They're held for YOU and for all other taxpayers.

If you don't go, the taxmaking body assumes that you are satisfied with the way things are going. But we warn you, you have no right to complain later if this or that tax levy doesn't happen to meet with your approval.

It's like the voters at primary time. Only a third of them go to the polls. But sometimes the cry that goes up later over the personnel of the nominees is pathetic!"

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Now, it strikes us, is not a very propitious time for the American Federation of Labor to slap China and the Chinese squarely in the face. And that's what it did the other day in its resolution to hold unswervingly against any modification of the Chinese exclusion act.—Mason City Globe-Gazette.

Modification of the Chinese exclusion act, as proposed, might result in 100 or a few more Chinese immigrants coming to this country annually and some of them might get a job or two that the American Federation of Labor thinks it has a mortgage on. What great sacrifices the Chinese are making in helping us win the war against Japan, while we are helping them makes no difference to the American Federation of Labor who thinks more of the American Federation of Labor than anything else.—Webster City Freeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tyrrell and family and Mrs. Carol Gilmore and daugher left for Beaumont, Texas, Monday. The Harry Tyrrell family have spent the last ten days at tht W. C. Tyrrell, Sr. home.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Jenison are the parents of a fine new son. born to them last Friday. August 31.

—1923—

—1923—

The Community Club meeting that was to have been held this week Tuesday was postponed until September 28 on account of the illness of Miss Mildred Elder, of Ames who was to demonstrate the use and alteration of the commercial patterns.

—1923—

Fred Bohning returned home a week ago Friday from Cedar Falls, where he has been attending summer school at the state college. He left the latter part of last week for Rock Rapids, Iowa, where he has accepted a position as superintendent for the coming year.

—1923—

Ernest Lateer ran his truck into the ditch the other evening, somewhere between Belmond and Goodell, He was going along nicely when he saw a pretty country maid and he got sort of confused or something, and ran off the grade on the left side - her side - of the road. Anyway that's what we heard - and Ernie won't give us any particulars. He's wearing smoked glasses now while driving.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slinning, who reside west of Belmond, entertained a number of friends at their home last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Pearl Slinning, the occasion being a surprise party. Those present spent a very delightful evening.

—1913—

Phillip McBurney returned home Tuesday last week from his vacation visit at Cedar Rapids, Marion, and other eastern Iowa parts.

—1913—

Harry Heurman moved into his new residence last Saturday and is now nicely located in a very pleasant and elegant little cottage.

—1913—

Miss Edna Voiles arrived home from Des Moines last Wednesday and left on Sunday night for Nebraska, where she has a position in a millinery store.

—1913—

Belmond was well represented in Des Moines and at the State Fair last week and all who attended returned home well satisfied with the 1913 Iowa State Exposition and Fair, claiming that the fair was fine and the crowds were large.

FORTY YEARS AGO

—1903—

Bro. Elder, of the Democrat, is jubilant because he became "father, mother, grand-mother, uncle and aunt," all in one issue. Wonder if he will survive.

—1903—

Dr. Goodsell has just returned from Des Moines where he bought a new apparatus for administering nitrous oxide gas. This is something entirely different from the old style of administering gas. It is perfectly safe, anybody can use it children as well as adults.

—1903—

The semi-annual meeting of the Algona Dist. conference was held in the local M. E. church Tuesday and Wednesday, there being a large attendance. Many interesting and instructive papers were given and several very able sermons delivered. A detailed report of the session will be given in our next issue.

—1903—

The public school opened last Monday with a large attendance. The school building has been renovated and frescoed, more room added every thing possible being done for the comfort and welfare of the pupils. The faculty has been increased in numbers and both instructors and pupils return to their work after the period of vacation with renewed enerby.

FIFTY YEARS AGO—

Miss Grace Wilson, of the Pinafore opera company, was in town Monday to see about getting up an entertainment in the near future. H. M. S. Pinafore is a popular opera and our exchanges are loud in their praise of the manner in which it has been presented by the Wilson's. If she can succeed in securing enough local talent for the chorus, our citizens may expect a treat.

—1893—

Mrs. Quigley and family arrived from Ireland last Wednesday to make their home in this country. Mrs. Quigley is the mother of Frank Quigley and Mrs. J. L. McAlpine and also related to the Jas. Barry and T. B. Barry families.

—1893—

M. H. Luick raised 500 bushels of choice potatoes on 1¾ acres of land this year, which netted him a little over $100 per acre. Pretty good for an Iowa farmer.

—1893—

Our butcher boy, Ralph Metzgar & Son while driving across Main street at a lively pace ran his wagon tongue into the hind wheels of a farm wagon and broke it off. The horses becoming frightened ran away distributing various portions of his vehicle along the street but doing no serious damage. Ralph says another time he'll look a "liddle oudt, don't it."

Prittle... Prattle....

We've a man down in our end of Main Street whose voice succeeds in bringing him more forcibly to our attention every day in the week than anything else about him. I speak of Henry 'Hank' Schultz. Hank is a friendly fellow and if he sees you. whether he is inside or outside his shop you'll hear his hello and those that are a block away will hear it too.

In fact it has been in my mind to suggest to Tom Hood, local Air Raid Warning Controller to get Hank all lined up to use his voice for the next all clear signal. There'll be no confusion then.

A TIP TO BELMOND RETAILERS ON HOW TO . . MAKE A BUY IN ONE EASY LESSON!

When a salesman calls at your store, don't rush him. Inquire about his health, his family, carelessly hand out a Santa Fe cigar avoid mentioning his mother-in-law, shortages or other disagreeable subjects.

P—P

Avoid asking the salesman to sell you until you have him interested. To get a salesman interested in selling you, find out his hobby. If it is dogs, tell him about your dog, whether you have a dog or not. Have a good dog story, such as: "My dog does tricks. He did one in the parlor last night. If he does it again, I'll break his neck."

P—P

Now that you have him laughing, break down his buy resistance by showing him that you are down to one-twelfth dozen of his product. Work on his sympathy. Tell him you are trying to keep the store open for your son Ed when he comes back from the war. Ed wouldn't have the store for a gift but the Salesman doesn't know that. Warm up to this subject, call on his patriotism.

P—P

Watch his eye, the good one. As your story impresses him, move in for the kill. Pull out Ed's picture and say: "That's the lad both of us are working for. Send me over a gross, Bill, and rush it. Here, I'll sign the order and you fill it out." Don't give him time to say no. Hustle him out of the store while he is still "But—but—" butting in protest. (Condensed from "West Coast Druggist" Magazine, and brought to our notice by 'Jergie" in the Klemme Times.)

P—P

The English language is getting quite a kicking around in wartime. Words that used to mean one thing now have a connotation entirely different from war use. Most of the terms are funny, earthy, and logical. To wit, viz, etc. for some samples—

BUZZARD—the "eagle" insignia worn by a colonel.

BEAN GUN—A rolling army field kitchen.

DOWNWIND—said of a person who is befuddled and mixed up.

FAT FRIEND—a barrage balloon.

JUG HEAD—A Missouri mule, or similar human counterpart.

JUMPING JEEP—autogiro in army use.

'Taint corn alone that grows tall in Iowa this year. In some Iowa towns the weeds on vacant lots are so dense and high that neighbor? hood folks suggest the putting up of signs carrying the legend "No Hunting." The Onawa Sentinel remarks there is always the possibility of renting these lots to the government for maneuvers in "jungle hunting."

SEE THEM FOR YOURSELF

With hybrid corn, the important thing is NOT where the seed was grown, but how it performs where you plant it. The best way to compare varieties and decide which ones suit you the best is to see them growing side by side in a soil and climate similar to yours. That's why DeKalb has more than 3300 proving grounds or demonstration fields, throughout the corn-growing areas.

TOOK JOB SERIOUSLY

When Joe Dumbleton, drayman of Marion, quit business the other day after 21 years of service both with horse-drawn and motor driven vehicles, the Sentinel devoted quite a piece to praising his long record for efficient service and deploring the loss of it in the community. "Joe took his job seriously," the newspaper stated. "You could always depend upon him. Not only has he hauled the freight and merchandise for Marion businessmen, but he carried most of the city furniture up and down stairs, has hauled trunks to and from the depot, day and night, in storm and sleet, as in good weather. Service was his keynote."

SALVAGE HOSIERY STILL WANTED

War Production Board this week denied reports circulated that collection of used silk and nylon hosiery was to be discontinued. At no time, the WPB stated, is the need for such materials greater to supply war needs. All Iowans should continue to turn in the used materials to their retail stores collecting them. It is interesting to note that Iowa stands high in previous collection, in tenth place among the states, with over 68,890 pounds to its credit.

If you are not now attending a Church School we invite you to begin the new school year by coming to one of our classess. In the basement we have classess under competent teachers for the Beginners and Primary, and for the Juniors. In the sanctuary we have a large girl's class, a class for boys, and an adult class under the able leadership of Mr. J. Leslie Leonard. Mrs. William Tyrrell, Jr. is Superintendent of our Church School. By the beginning of the Fall Quarter, the first Sunday in October, our school will be using nothing but new closely graded materials. We are also putting in new up-to-date story papers.

10:55 o'clock. Organ music.

11 o'clock. Our service of worship. Mr. Beck will preach on the theme: "Our Christian Heritage." His text is found in Acts 11:26, "It was at Antioch too that the disciples were first called "Christians." Mr. Beck will be assisted in the service by the chorus choir

7 o'clock. Pilgrim Fellowship This is an hour of worship and discussion for young people of Junior and High School age, conducted by members of this age group under adult supervision. Marion Tyrrell and Paul Ahlstrom are the leaders this evening. The theme for discussion is "Forward—all together. (Fellowship vs. Cliques)." Whether or not you have ever attended our Fellowship before, if you belong to this age group, we invite you to attend our first meeting of this Fall.

Of Special Note:

Choir practice is held in the sanctuary each Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. A special invitation is given to our new public school teachers to assist in this part of our worship program. You will find Mrs. Steele in a class by herself as a director of music. The choir is open to both adults and high school students.

The Guild, which would ordinarily meet on Monday, September 6, is postponed for one week to Monday, the 13th, since the 6th is Labor Day.

The Fall Quarterly Meeting of our church will be held on Sunday evening, September 12th. Make your plans now to attend this meeting.

EARL HUNTINGTON WRITES work of a whole division of artillery. I guess our ship is getting famous. Well, I guess that is all over now and no one knows what or where it will be next.

"I haven't been sick so far as this ship rides the waves very easily. Sure would like to try my hand at golf again. I meet lots of boys from Iowa and there are quite a few on this ship. Tell Eva (Hansen) I keep looking for George, never can tell whom you might see next. Give my best regards to everyone."

solid rock and almost entirely of stone and mortar wxh stone slabs often used for benches or chairs. A few acres of homes, mostly without windows—two and three stories high—will house a few hunored mules and donkeys and a few thousand people. Every town smells like an old manure uile, but interiors of homes and clothing of women and children are frequently quite clean in appearance....

"All the people work at chores of one kind or another, but none do very much. For instance a man and his son will herd eight or ten cows in the hills or six men will shepherd about 100 goats on a mountain slope. Blacksmithing seems to be the most important job done in any own. Practically all tools are hand fashioned.

"We think of our farmers in the hills of Penn. State to be quite frugal and as practicing the best methods of soil conservation and erosion control. Truly these people have forgotten more of that art in these rocks with their steep clay hillsides than we Americans may ever learn.... Every spot (not many) where there is hillside seepage, is walled in with rock and a small garden patch planted below where bucket irrigation can be applied.... A sort of cabbage, peppers, tomatoes and onions are about the extent of the vegetables.... in other less mountainous parts of the island, where vines and olive trees are more plentiful and the standards of living slightly higher, irrigation has been developed to a very high degree. Wheat and old fashioned oats are grown very extensively on all parts of the island.

"These people—for so many to live in such close quarters—must have a profound respect for the rights and property of their neighbors, or perhaps they are all related...."

enemy was of the highest order and in keeping with the best traditions of the Navy. With complete disregard for your personal safety, you continued at your assigned post of duty until our forces were firmly established ashore.

3. The commanding officer is pleased to make this letter a part of your official record."

Negrete is with the Amphibian Forces of the U. S. Navy. He has been in the service since October, 1942 and has had six and one-half months sea duty. His job that of a machine gunner near the ramp, on a landing barge, and it was in this capacity that he helped with the landing in Sicily.

Joe got as far as Victoria, which is about 30 miles inland in Sicily. He said he found the country badly damaged by gun fire. Of the inhabitants, he tells us that they seemed friendly and glad to have the allied forces marching in because for them it meant that the war was over.

He describes the Sicilians as looking "starved" and said that many of the soldiers divided their rations with them. The response to this gesture was" This is the best food we have had in five years." Many of them spoke good English.

In one badly bombed town, the troops found a cellar full of wine, and immediately a sign was painted and put up which read "For Service Men only."

Negrete left Tuesday to spend a few days visiting his father who works in Des Moines and will report for duty on September 5 at Norfolk, Va.

A JOB FOR ALL

Every individual in Iowa must buy more war bonds in the Third War Bond drive starting in September if Iowa's huge quota of 193 million dollars is to be reached. The newspapers and other advertising media of the state again have been called upon to outdo all their previous efforts in bond drives to help the Government in its War aims. Your newspaper has never failed the government in its appeals for help. Your newspaper appeals to you, the people, to buy more bonds in the forthcoming Third War Bond campaign Your money will be securely invested.

Miss Evelyn Greenwood left Tuesday for Webster City to take over the management of the Rainbow cafe which has recently been leased by Meade Hughes, Webster City grocer. Miss Greenwood was employed for several years at Marion's Shady Oak Inn, Webster City.

Guadalcanal. others thought it about the same. Dr. Leinbach, in the sick bay said 'Nothing ever experienced rocks a boat like a 500-pound bomb.'"

According to the correspondent, the ship he described in his articles, and the one on which Dr. Leinbach is serving as a Lieutenant with the Navy, was the first unloaded at Guadacanal during our first attack on the Solomons and was also the first to finish her task in Sicily.

Peterman describes part of the engagement as follows:

"Sunday morning brought the roughest moments of all to the ship . . A few minutes before 7 o'clock, the vessel was shaken when a bomb exploded near the bow, smashing a hole in the port-side hold.

"Doctors . . . treated the men injured in the blast. Eight men were killed below decks. Their bodies were pulled from the debris by members of rescue details working in that part of the ship.

"Captain Maynard later complimented the crew's heroism in this crisis. He mentioned the manner in which the fire was fought and the fact that the unloading of materials continued despite the attack. Our guns never ceased their defense of the ship.

"The ship's luck certainly held all the way from the Pacific to Sicily.

"Throughout two days and nights off Gela, every task went according to schedule, and the first day's timetable was never more than 10 minutes off the carefully arranged schedule. This timetable began at 5:30 a. m. Saturday and closed after midnight."

• Eggs for the breakfast table mean energy to build planes and ships and tanks. We'll help lick 'em with eggs!

That means produce more eggs. That means give the hens what it takes to make eggs. That means, on the Dr. Hess Research Farm, add DR. HESS POULTRY PAN-A-MIN to the ration.

PAN-A-MIN is a two-job product, it supplies the hen with both tonics and minerals. Tonics stimulate appetite and the consumption of feed. Minerals are as essential to egg production as the proteins and carbohydrates in grain.

Dr. Hess & Clark get as many as 23 extra eggs per bird per year from their PAN-A-MIN birds. We think you'll get more eggs if you use PAN-A-MIN. Will you try it?

NOW

IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using.
Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.
Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.
Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.
Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.
Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.
ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.
And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

Mary Byrne was born in County Letrim, Ireland, on December 6, 1860. When fourteen years of age she emigrated to America and made her home near Decorah, Iowa. She was married to Patrick Quigley on August 31, 1883, at Ossian, Iowa. They established their home at Castalia, and later moved to a farm in Winneshiek County near Burr Oak. Since 1905 the family has resided near Belmond. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Quigley: Peter, who died in infancy; Frank, Pat and Jim of Belmond; Nellie (Mrs. J. A. Nelson of La Grange, Ill.) Esther (Mrs. J. H. Fulton), Bess and Grace of Fort Dodge. Her husband preceded her in death twenty-one years ago. She also leaves 18 grandchildren and four great grand children.

Mrs. Quigley was a faithful, loving Christian wife and mother. Her last years on earth were full of suffering, but until the last she maintained a keen interest in her home, her children, and her friends and she will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Until her illness she had made her home with her sons, Pat and Jim at Belmond. She passed away at Mercy Hospital in Fort Dodge on Tuesday, August 17, 1943.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. R. A. Ormsby at St. Francis Church in Belmond on Friday, August 20. Burial was in St. Francis Cemetery.

GOLD IN THEM HILLS

Mrs. Joe Morek's Victory garden at Belle Plaine yielded gold in addition to a plentiful supply of fresh vegetables. Her hoe turned up a gold ring she lost eighteen years ago.

Proclamation

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES

Proclamation

RECOGNIZING THE FACT that in carrying the war into enemy territory, we shall need greater amounts of money than any nation has ever asked from its citizens in all history, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do officially proclaim that on Thursday, the ninth of September, 1943, the Third War Loan shall be launched.

As Commander-in-Chief, I hereby invoke every citizen to give all possible aid and support to this Third War Loan drive, not only so that our financial goal may be reached, but to encourage and inspire those of our husbands and fathers and sons who are under fire on a dozen fronts all over the world. It is my earnest hope that every American will realize that in buying War Bonds in this Third War Loan he has an opportunity to express voluntarily and under the guidance of his conscience, the extent to which he will "back the attack."

The American people supported well the first and second War Loan drives and in fact did even more than was asked of them. Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask far more sacrifice, far more cooperation than ever before.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the [SEAL] United States of America the one hundred and sixty-eighth.

By the President:
CORDELL HULL
Secretary of State.

Things To Do In September

1--This country is worth fighting for- You can fight with your $$$ if you can't with a gun. BUY War Bonds and Stamps 'til it hurts ... be a 10 per center (more if you can)

2--Make a final check of all laying houses and laying equipment; Pullets should be housed by October 1.

3--It takes from 6 to 9 lbs. of feed per month to keep a mature hen or male -- obviously it is good management to dispose of surplus of non-producing birds as soon as possible.

4--Don't wait too long before sending meat birds to market -- you may miss the top price!

5--Provide plenty of nests in the laying house - at least one next to each 5 hens.

Our well founded advice will cost you nothing ...and if the products we sell don't make you a profit you will not be asked to buy them.

Starts Thursday

SEPTEMBER 9TH

3RD WAR LOAN DRIVE
—FOR INVASION

• Put a circle around the date—Thursday, September 9th. For that's the day the 3rd War Loan Drive starts.

On that day, you will be asked to go the limit to back our valiant fighting men. You will be asked to do your share in the greatest invasion the world has ever seen. Answer your country's roll call!

Your part is to back this invasion by investing in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond in September. That's in addition to your regular War Bond purchases. Invest more than $100—a lot more—if you possibly can.

The job is big. Everyone must do his full share if we are to put this drive over the top.

War Bonds are the safest investment in the world. For your own sake, for your Country's sake, put every spare dime and dollar in War Bonds during the 3rd War Loan Drive.

BACK THE ATTACK—WITH WAR BONDS

only then if it must travel considerable distances over paved highways where no other feasible route exists.

"All vehicle owners are urged to conserve their tires by all means possible. Tires should be repaired and recapped when needed. A recent ruling permits use of either Grade F or Grade C camelback for recapping without certificate. Grade F is made entirely with reclaimed rubber, while Grade C consists of synthetic and reclaimed rubber. The highest quality camelback is known as Grade A, and is available only on certificates issued by rationing boards. However all trucks and busses are now eligible for certificates for recapping services with Grade A camelback regardless of the use made of the vehicle.

the armed forces, but those who are actually on the fighting fronts now are more than fulfilling their pledge. It follows that we at home are now expected to do more. Thousands of our boys have already fought, but they can't stop when they feel they've had enough. This isn't a part-time war. Either we make a continuing, all-out effort to win, or we push Victory many years into the future.

Since January 1, 1942 to July 1, 1943, Wright County has purchased $3,067,647 in Bonds; during this same period bank deposits in the County increased $2,225,000. "With this increase in deposits, grain and livestock prices higher, and wages at a high level, Wright County should 'Back the Attack with extra war bonds in September,' and meet the assigned quota," Mr. Henry states.

Corp. Clair Conn and wife and baby Jim of Camp Swift, Texas, came Sunday for a 15 day furlough with his parents, C. B. Conn.

Third War Loan For 15 Billion Begins Today

Belmond Planning House-To-House Canvass And Bond Rally Day

Des Moines, Iowa.—A call for all Iowa to double its bond purchases and use not only current income but accumulated wealth for purchase of war bonds during the Third War Loan campaign was issued today by the Iowa War Finance Committee.

Roy A. Henderson, chairman of the local committee announced today that plans are being made for a Bond Rally Day as well as a house-to-house canvass in Belmond.

The campaign starts today throughout the state and calls for an army of over 30,000 workers to call upon every person in the state and ask them to subscribe for bonds to be bought before the end of the month.

"We hope that the people of Iowa will give real attention to the bond campaign workers who call on them, and that they will prepare to make their subscription the very first time a worker calls," the committee's statement says. "We must conserve effort as well as gasoline, and with so many people to call on, a minimum of call-backs will be of great help."

To reach the Iowa quota, every individual with income or with accumulated wealth must buy all the extra bonds possible this month, V. L. Clark, Executive Manager of the Iowa War Finance Committee said.

Clark pointed out that bank deposits have shown increases of from 15 to 40 per cent in Iowa during the last 18 months despite bond purchases and tax payments. "Farm income and income to labor has also shown a tremendous increase," he said.

A special appeal is being directed to Iowa farmers to cooperate and buy their full share of the bonds during the campaign. The state office points out that income in the average Iowa county this month will be well over a million dollars.

It is suggested that the farmer whose funds are tied up in crops at this time can borrow money for a short time at a very low rate of interest if he will put the money into war bonds.

Mrs. Ted Behrends Seriously Ill But Is Slowly Improving

Mrs. Ted Behrends became seriously ill very suddenly on Sunday, August 29, at a family reunion picnic at Emmetsburg which she and her husband, Pvt. Behrends were attending while he was on a furlough from Salina, Kansas. She was taken to the Emmetsburg hospital immediately where she underwent an operation for intestinal strangulation. Her condition has been critical, but it is reported that she is slowly improving.

Pvt. and Mrs. Behrends visited friends in Belmond just a few days before they went to Emmetsburg when she was taken ill.

Gridiron Club Has First Meeting of Year

Seventeen members of the Gridiron Club were present at the first dinner meeting of the fall on Monday evening. Plans were discussed with regard to several activities which the club expects to sponsor during the year. Arrangements are being made for a chicken dinner at the next meeting, Monday, September 13, at which time members of the Belmond Football Squad will be honored guests.

LARGER ENROLLMENT AT ROWAN SCHOOL

Rowan school began classes on Monday morning, September 6th, with a larger enrollment this year than the previous year.

Chickens Come Home To Roost

The old adage "Chickens Come home to roost" might apply to a little incident which happened a year and a half ago, when Bonnie Uhlenhopp and Luanne Kinseth each wrote her name and address on an egg in the Kinseth Store. Last week a letter came to Bonnie from Arbutus Thompson, age twelve years, at Ogustonberg, Wis. saying that her mother who works in an egg plant at Manawa, Wis., had just found the marked hen-fruit.

Order Your Christmas Cigarettes For Service Men Before October 1

Belmond Community Club is cooperating with the Chesterfield Cigarette Company in the matter of Christmas cigarette cartons for service men. Arrangements have been made whereby cigarettes may be order at either Adams Pharmacy or the Schultz Drug Company at the price of 75 cents per carton for service men overseas or $1.35 a carton for service men in this country.

All you have to do is order the cigarettes at either of the above mentioned places, and leave the name and address of the service man to whom you wish them sent. The money will then be sent in to the Chesterfield Company by the Community Club, and the cigarettes, wrapped for Christmas, will be mailed directly to the service man.

Persons wishing to take advantage of this plan must get their orders in before October 1 which is the deadline for sending cigarettes for Christmas in this way.

HINMAN DESCRIBES ENGLISH THRESHING

Pvt. Stephen Hinman writes a V-mail letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hinman from England, in which he describes threshing there, and the participation of some American soldiers.

"A friend and I were out cycling last night and we came to a threshing outfit. It was an old-type machine pulled with a 5 h. p. steam engine which was 25 years old and had been used originally by a carnival company to generate electricity. Like all similar steam engines, it has a lot of brass which is kept spotlessly clean and shining. . . The workmen average 10 to 12 working hours per day at the rate of 25 cents per hour. The owner of the machine is paid by the hour at approximately $1.50. Many yanks are helping with the harvest. . . . In threshing wheat with the machine we saw that they thresh about 100 4-bushel sacks of grain per day. I also saw a crew stacking grain near here today. A couple of Yanks were pitching the bundles to two English workmen who were stacking, and by the looks of things the stack was climbing at a good rate."

HANSEN WRITES FROM SOUTHWEST PACIFIC

Letters received last week end from George C. Hansen, S 1|c, were written from the 18th to the 28th from three different Southwest Pacific ports. In one letter he says, "We have just arrived in a new port and it is the kind of place that you read and hear about. It is terribly hot today, and it feels as if we are on the equator although we are over (censored) miles south. . . Orphie, Roy, Claude, Pete and Ben would enjoy fishing in these waters, especially Roy, as it would give him a chance to try out all his big bait. For fishing lines, they use something like a one-fourth inch rope.'

CPL. EARL SHELLER WRITES FROM AFRICA

Loren Tudor received a letter recently from Cpl. Earl Sheller from Somewhere in North Africa, in which he describes the inhabitants as well as the army camp:

"Here's the pay off. We have native boys to make our beds, shine our shoes and wash our clothes. It's considered degrading for the masters to do it!

"It really takes a cast iron stomach to stand the potent odors of these native towns and villages. All camps are far removed from the settlements and are always placed in high spots. The conditions are good enough so that malaria, formerly rather deadly, is no worse than a bad cold. Our unit has a big barracks, two stories high and well fitted with modern conveniences. All the furnishings and all other parts of the building that are of wood are solid mahogany.... ..

The whole population is as black as the ace of spades.... In town the native children tag all over wanting money. Yesterday three of the boys went to town, and when they wouldn't give money, the kids threatened to throw knives and stones. Some hospitality!"

Cpl. Eldon Loats, who has just completed maneuvers in Tennesee and has now moved to Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky, arrived home last week for a fifteen day furlough with his parents, relatives and friends.

SGT. DONALD NIELSEN VISITS PARENTS

Sgt. Donald Nielsen arrived Monday night from Fort Warren, Wyoming to spend part of a 10-day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nielsen. He will return to Fort Warren on Saturday.

STAFF SGT. MOE TRAINS AT SIOUX FALLS

Staff Sgt. Bennett L. Moe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moe of Belmond has been assigned to the training school, Army Air Forces Training Command, Sioux Falls, S. D., for training as a radio operator-mechanic. Upon completion of a 20-week course, he will be fully trained to take his place as a member of a highly skilled bomber crew of the Army Air Forces. Moe has been in the Army Air Corps for three years.

Pvt. Gordon Kessler of Camp Polk, Louisiana, arrived home last Friday for a week's forlough with his wife and daughter Diane, his parents and other relatives and friends.

Will Distribute Wright County War Chest Quota

Committee Meets Tonight At Clarion

It was announced today by E. F. Bisbey, chairman of the Wright County War Chest, that the quota committee will meet Thursday, September 9, at 8:00 p. m. at the Court house at Clarion to make proper distribution of the county quota of $20,000 by towns and townships.

Those on the quota committee include B. C. Hewlett, Belmond; Charles Keith, Rowan; H. B. Vanderlip and Will E. Deam, Dows; Ed Ford, Galt; O. G. Uhr, Eagle Grove; Ed Blackburn, Woolstock; George Taylor and Floyd Zinser, Goldfield; R. L. Davidson, W. T. Bloomfield and Charles Shupe, Clarion.

More than half of the funds to be sought by the National War Fund in Wright County, in conjunction with the national campaign this fall, will be utilized for services to the armed forces, it was stated this week by Mr. Bisbey.

Out of every $100 that will be subscribed to the National War Fund in Wright county approximately $55 will go toward the USO, War Prisoners Aid, and the United Seaman's Service. The remainder will go to relief of civilians in our United Nations. Civilians of Russia, China, Britain, Poland, Greece and nine other similar appeals will complete the distribution of money received from the campaign.

This united drive will be the only such campaign for war-related appeals in the United States and will fully meet the needs of the USO and other agencies until October, 1944. The only exception is the American Red Cross which will have its War Fund campaign each spring. In this way there will be only two war appeals to the public, Chairman Bisbey explains—the Red Cross in the Spring and the National War Fund in the fall.

Slaughtering Quotas Lifted For Months Of September - October

J. W. Doud, Area Meat Marketing Supervisor for the Agricultural Marketing Administration, stated that all slaughter quotas have been removed for permit holders during September and October. The purpose of lifting quota limitations, according to Mr. Doud, is so that slaughterers may have an opportunity to kill all the meat they can dispose of the next two months, September and October.

The order pertains to both Butcher permit holders and Farm slaughter permit holders. There is no lifting of the restrictions on the collection of ration points for meat sold and stamps must be collected as usual. Beef must be graded and all wholesale cuts of the carcass must be identified with the number of permit holder for all meat slaughtered for sale. Permit holders will go back to their regular quotas during November.

Send Christmas Mail To Service Men Overseas During Six Weeks, Sept. 15 Through October 30

The six-week period from September 15, 1943, through October 31, 1943, has been designated as the time during which all Christmas mail should be posted for Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard personnel on overseas duty. Arrangements have been made with the Post Office Department for special handling of Christmas letters and packages mailed during this period in order to get them to men overseas before the holidays

To facilitate this effort, senders are requested to mark their packages "Christmas parcel" and to pay special attention to the addressing and packaging requirements. Hundreds of packages are lost daily because senders do not wrap them strongly enough to withstand the handling through numerous postal centers and the heat of a ship's hold.

For the purpose of Christmas mail, the term "overseas" personnel means men who receive their mail through a Fleet Post Office at San Francisco, California, New York, New York or Seattle, Washington. Letters and parcels should contain the name and address of the sender, the name, rank or rating of addressee and the Naval unit to which he is assigned, or name of the ship and Fleet Post Office through which the mail is to be routed.

Under postal regulations, Christmas parcels shall not exexceed five pounds in weight, or 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined.

Not more than one parcel will be accepted in any one week from the same sender or the same addressee. All articles should be packed in metal, wooden or solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard or strong fully telescoping cardboard boxes. Fiberboard or cardboard boxes must be securely wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. In addition, senders are cautioned that delays caused by necessity for censorship will be minimized if the wrapping is secured so as to permit easy inspection of the contents.

Parcels should not include any weapons, perishables, intoxicants, poisons, or inflammable articles such as matches or lighter fluid. In general, the public is urged not to send food or clothing. Men overseas are amply provided with both, so shipping space for gifts should be used for other purposes.

Need Urgent For Full Time Farm Help

Requests Largest Since Early Spring

The last two weeks have shown a large upswing in the request for full time farm help in Wright County, according to reports from the County Extension Director, Aaron R. Bowman. The increased requests for farm help is the largest that has occurred since early spring, with the exception of the short time help needed for detasseling. Unfortunately there is no full time help available.

Farmers are especially requesting experienced machine operators for fall plowing, soybean harvest, corn harvest and silo filling. Most of the demand from the farmers is caused by the return of farm and town boys to school, who have been to a large extent filling this need during the summer.

There are only two sources of help that might be available at the present time. First. People living in town who have farm experience who would be available for work on the farm. Second. Farmers who might be able to loan their help to a neighbor so that he may catch up on necessary work to be done. Exchanging of work between neighbors will probably continue to be the most effective way of relieving the farm labor shortage.

Persons who do know of any experienced help, either in town or in the country, are asked to notify the County Extension office or the farm representatives in the various towns.

F. & F. INSTALLS FRUIT AND VEGETABLE REFRIGERATOR

F. and F. Food Market has had installed this week a "Seeger" refrigerated unit for the display and storage of fresh fruits and vegetables. Keeping perishable fruits and vegetables in this enamelled and glass covered case will reduce waste and spoilage to a minimum. Several wire baskets in a compartment underneath the refrigerated unit will provide space for the storage of such vegetables and fruits as potatoes, apples, and oranges that do not require refrigeration to keep them fresh.

Broncos To Play Hampton High Friday

Official Season Opens 17th With Clarion Game Here

The Belmond Broncos, after two hard weeks of practice, will journey to Hampton Friday, Sept. 10, for their initial regulation contest of the current football year at 8:00 o'clock p. m. This game, however, will not be considered as a regular scheduled meet, and the results will not be scored officially.

On Friday, Sept. 17th, the Broncos will open the season officially by opposing Clarion high school on the Belmond field.

The open date of October 22 on the football schedule, which was announced last week, has been filled, and the Broncos will play the Renwick team at Renwick on that date. This makes a complete schedule of games for the 1943 season, four to be played on the local field and four out of town.

The following foot ball candidates are eligible for the game at Hampton Friday night, according to coach John Lansing.

O. Finn, C. Shahan, L. Jones, L. Dorr, G. Meints, D. Walrod, P. Walrod, H. Jones, B. McBride, B. Nelson, D. Foss, B. Foss, M. Goeman, L. Classick, A. Stockseth, R. Stockseth E. Banning, J. Campbell, R. Wagner, J. McGuire, P. Wicks, E. Tudor, O Shahan, I. Roshiem, G. Swenson, B. Johnson, J. McLaughlin, O. Henderson, Beavers, Waddington, Hunter and Benson.

Purpose Is For Practice And Opening of 3rd War Loan

It was announced last week by R. J. Bjornson, Wright County defense coordinator that a state wide practice daylight air raid alert will be held throughout the state of Iowa at noon today, Thursday, September 9, 1943, according to orders received from Rodney Q. Selby, state coordinator.

This state wide practice is to serve the dual purpose of announcing the opening of the third war loan campaign and further instructing defense corps personel and the public in air raid warning procedure and signals. This is the first state wide daylight alert.

The time schedule to be followed is as follows:

12:15 P. M. First Caution signal sounds. (Two minutes steady sounding of fire siren.) Traffic does not stop but speed should be reduced and public should prepare to take cover and clear streets.

12:20 P. M. Action signal sounds. (Ringing of fire bell for one minute.) All traffic must stop. Public should take to cover and streets should be cleared.

12:25 P. M. Second Caution signal sounds. (Ringing of fire-bell for second one-minute period.) Traffic can resume and public can go about their business. It should be noted that in a daylight air raid drill this second caution has the effect of the all clear because there are no lights involved.

12:30 P. M. All Clear. (Steady sounding of fire siren for two minutes.) Defense Corps units are demobilized.

Ward wardens and block wardens, working under the direction of Thomas Hood, local air raid controller, and Mayor Ed Kennedy, defense chairman, are as follows:

Ed Chapman is warden of Ward One. Block wardens include Lawrence Kelly, Bert Sorenson, Ray Brewer, L. B. Mackrill, Pete English, Fred Madsen, Glenn Russell, Christ Rise, George Baxter E. W. Luick, Ed Hopkey, J. H. Nourse, Fred Pals, Dr. H. J. Classick, Lincoln Henderson, L. M. Helland, C. P. Luick, Albert Rubendahl, Sam Crabtree, W. H. Dempsey, Gerhard Johnson, John Greenlander, George Elder, A. H. Stoltenberg, Harold Nielsen, A. W. Johnson, Ted Meyers.

C. C. Christie is warden of Ward Two with Fred L. Thompson, as assistant warden. Block Wardens include Henry Neuhring, Reynold Kinseth, Albert Hanson, Dick Baker, Hoyt Klemme, Vere Jenison, R. B. Banning, Cecil Carstens, A. W. Loats, Glenn Rierson, Theodore Johnson, Ted Buchanan, J. L. Leonard William Meints, Ted Bonte, Dr. A. M. Larson, R. H. Gowdy, Harold Smith, Merle Hokel, Alex Smith, Ace White, Henry Hokel, Orick Buslck.

Fred Fulton is warden of Ward Three. Block wardens include Don Jones, A. J. Dorr, Ralph Wilson, Harold Rierson, Ted Zook, Tobias Goeman, Earl Dorr, A. J. Meints, George Waddington, Tom Beavers, Cleatus Harty, Hugh Sharp, Albert Chamberlin, Clark McNeal, Ed Bailey, Clair Dorr, Louis Foss, Ed Riggs, Harold Johnson, Clarence Petersen, Ben Fetrow, M. A. Holtzbauer, Lloyd Cunningham, Roy Henderson Harley Henn, Dewain Dorr, Ben Smith.

Because this drill is not a surprise the State Air Raid Warning System will not be used to transmit messages. Each Local Defense Corps will follow the preced-time schedule without waiting for any warning messages. County Defense Corps Commanders will be expected to instruct all Defense Corps within their County and to issue the necessary orders to obtain coordination and successful performance of the practice alert.

It will be noted that the shortest possible time between signals has been scheduled. This will inconvenience the public but little and at the same time it will effectively serve to further instruct them in the meaning of the Air Rair Warning signals. It will also serve the purpose of dramatically announcing the opening of the War Loan Campaign. It is an opportunity for Civilian Defense to assist in two vital war programs simultaneously. (c)

DO YOURSELF A FAVOR

We are living in an age of campaigns—salvage campaigns for scrap iron, for old silk hose, for tin, for waste kitchen fat, campaigns for funds for the Red Cross, and for various relief organizations.

Today, September 9, is the opening of another gigantic campaign—the Third War Loan Drive which is an effort to sell to the American people during the month of September $15,000,000 in war bonds.

This campaign is different from many of the others which either require an outright donation of money or the spending of personal, precious time.

This campaign, while it is designed to raise $15,000,000 quickly in war bonds to carry on the war, won't really cost you anything or take very much of your time. When you buy war bonds, you are not spending money. You are saving money. While helping the government with the necessary financing of the war now, you are doing yourself a favor by saving for yourself for the future.

CURRENT HEADACHE—

One of the current headaches is the 1943 Income Tax declaration which must be made by millions of taxpayers and be in the hands of the Bureau of Internal Revenue by September 15.

While the pay-as-you-go tax plan is altogether desirable, it is going to take more than a first declaration of income to get it working properly. Many adjustments will have to be made, both by individual taxpayers and by the government, before we can expect the plan to be perfected.

WE ARE CLOSE TO THE WAR—

Belmond, Wright county, Iowa, is a long ways from the fighting war fronts of the world, and yet it is very close. It is close because many Belmond men are over there helping with the fight. In Sicily and Italy and North Africa in the Mediterranean area; around the Solomons in the South Pacific; in the Aleutians in the North Pacific; in England in the North Atlantic and in far-away Australia.

And for each man that is over there, there are one, two, three or more here at home who in their hourly thoughts about him can picture his surroundings, the dangers he must face, the hardships he must endure, the nostalgia he must feel.

The war is really close to us who live right here in peaceful Belmond!

—V—

WE CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT—

Ernie Pyle's war dispatches from day to day give a lot of description, explanation and comments about the war not often found in the average news story. He also gives us new slants on the war and its effects on nations and people.

In one of his dispatches, in which he described the very fine work of the medical corps on and behind the battle front in Sicily, he made a statement which particularly impressed us. He quoted one of the doctors as follows: "...he had never seen a human body as badly smashed up here as he had in traffic accidents back in New York, where he practiced."

Though true, it seems unreasonable that peace-time practices in a peace-time nation should bring about incidents that cause suffering equal to and greater than the casualties of war.

—V—

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

A dispatch from Estherville said the other day that Judge Loy Ladd, of Des Moines, paid a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs, for fishing in Spirit Lake without a license. Perhaps Judge Ladd didn't know that the law required a fishing license. Or he might have figured that it is the duty of a judge to enforce the laws, not obey them. The fine was assessed by a justice of the peace. That was one instance where a justice of the peace had more authority than a district judge.—Webster City Freeman.

How about postponing decision on some of those plans for remaking America until the boys get back from the war? After all these young men have gone through hell to preserve our nation, and they are entitled to their say so as to what this nation shall be in future years.—Ringsted Dispatch.

—V—

So much talk about the poor Japanese in America having been driven from their homes and the demand that they be freed and permitted to return to their former occupations is getting tiresome. Much of it must come from people whose sympathies are greater than their sense of justice. More Americans than Japs have been forced to leave their homes—many thousands of them to go to war and fight and die. And they are additional to the thousands of civilians who have undergone and are now undergoing hardships. The alien Japs in this country along with their relatives the Japanese-Americans, in concentration camps, are being well fed, housed and entertained completely out of danger. White people should quit undermining justice and wise precaution by interfering with the safe and sane disposition of the yellow brothers and sisters.—Northwood Anchor.

Japan will never recover the markets for silk she lost the day she treacherously attacked Pearl Harbor. Substitutes have been found and more will be discovered. Besides, the brand —"made in Japan"—will cause the American public to refuse to buy for many years to come.—Webster City Freeman.

When We Police Europe

When we put that standing army in Europe to "insure the peace of the world" the European countries should be made to pay the large part of the expense bill, as most of the "policeing" that is necessary will be all in those countries. Of course we will have plenty of expense of our own if we give proper attention to the sitdown riots in Detroit and other John Lewis labor union sitdown centers thruout the country where the labor union hijackers think that the social gain administration in Washington has given them the green light to slug murder and force people out of a job unless they fall in with the demands of the sitdowners!

We have been fighting for a safe and free country. Now let's have one in the United States after the war. The boys now at the front will like it and heaven only knows that the people now here will welcome a change in program back to our old ways of legitimate freedom! — Hampton Chronicle.

—V—

As time passes it looks like there will be no peace table. Instead there will be three or four world powers telling the rest of the nations what they can do—or else. It looks as though Russia will dominate Europe and perhaps part of the Orient. The United democracies will control the two Americas. China will doubtless control Japan and a lot of the Orient—that Russia does not want. But if things carry on as indications now are Russia will be the big toad in the puddle in Europe. That will mean that England will be a second rate power. — Humboldt Independent.

Prittle... Prattle....

Numbered among our exchanges are several that are fortunate in owning editors and editor's sons, etc., hide, hair and toenails who consistently write ream after ream of columns that consistently tickle our funnybones. This week we're 'guesting' two of them, taking a bit from each column to make this one.

P—P

From Duane Dewel's column, "Hodgepodge", in the Kossuth County Advance published in Algona comes this humorous commentary on Eleanor Roosevelt's sudden appearance in the southwest Pacific: There's absolutely no doubt about it. For a time it was a close race and the public had been all aquiver with tenseness. But it's all over now. No doubt Franklin is sitting up nights biting his fingernails in figuring a way out—but figure as he will—Eleanor's jaunt to the Pacific makes his trip to Casablanca look like a backyard sashay to borrow a cup of sugar. However, Franklin is not one to take it on the chin without a comeback, and it's two-bits against a wooden nickel that there'll be someone traveling to Russia. And by dab, that'll show her .

P—P

And that trip will add to the horrors of war for the unreconstructed republicans in the Pacific war zone. Imagine being wounded and coming out of the ether or whatever they come out of and seeing Eleanor — just imagine it for a republican! (No, kiddies. General Sherman didn't know her when he wrote what war is. The General was just psychic.)

No wonder the Jap mouthpiece jabbered to his countrymen last week that there was a tough period coming up in the war. And it explains the sudden withdrawal from Kiska—some Jap spy was all mixed up and thought she was going there and naturally the Japs gottaell out! Now they're fleeing the Solomon's.

Last week, Ward Barnes, who does among many things, write the Human Interest column in his Eagle Grove Eagle dedicated a reprint from the Congressional Record of April 5, 1943, to our Iowa dirt farmer readers:

Our Harvard Farm Experts

EXTENSION OF REMARKS of

HON. MARION T. BENNETT of Missouri
In the House of Representatives
Monday, April 5, 1943

Mr. BENNETT of Missouri, Mr. Speaker, the editor of the Springfield (Mo.) Leader and Press, March 31, 1943, wrote a satiric piece on our bureaucratic agricultural experts, some of whom have their feet in their wastebaskets and their heads in the clouds. The editorial is as follows:

The New Farm Expert

"I am Mr. Brown, the new agricultural expert for this Division. Here are my credentials."

"Ah yes, Mr. Brown. Harvard man, I see. Splendid, Now, which department do you—"

"I think I would prefer the publicity angle. I have some new ideas I should like to give the farmers. Take for example, our most delicious berries, the potato and the onion. I think we should plant the trees closer and prune the branches in the spring just after the molting season. That would give us more branches to produce more burrs. This same plan would help the peanut tree."

"But, Mr. Brown—"

"However, my chief interest is bovines or cows. It has been our practice to produce numbers of useless male cows, and this must be discouraged. Such as are produced should be butchered and made into sausage and ham to relieve the pork and mutton shortage."

"We have also followed the wasteful practices of feeding our young female cows a year or more before breaking them to give milk I think these fillies should be trained to produce milk within 6 or 8 weeks after hatching.

"The whole dairy business needs efficient reorganization. We must teach our dairymen to specialize. The cows in one region should give nothing but milk, those in another nothing but cream, those in a third section nothing but butter, and those in a fourth section nothing put cheese. It will not be necessary to specialize in buttermilk, for we can use ordinary milk and add the butter at a processing plant.

"We have been very wasteful. No doubt you have read about the breakage of milk bottles. This can be corrected by using larger containers with rubber cushions around the top. We should not blame the cows, for it must be very difficult to sit on those small bottles.

"Cows are nervous animals, easily disturbed by noise. I think we should disconnect or plug up the horns they use in making that mooing sound and—"

"Yes, yes, Mr. Brown. That is splendid. But excuse me a moment. I need a little air.

OBITUARY

MARTIN A. PAULSON

Martin Andreassen Paulson was born in Vang, Hedenmarken, Norway on September 25, 1874, to the parents Andreas Paulsen Lagerasen and his wife Helena Jensen Lagerasen. He was baptized in the State Church of Norway on the 22nd day of November, 1874 and confirmed on the 28th day of April, 1889.

He came to America in the spring of 1903 coming to Belmond, Iowa, and has been working in this vicinity since that time, spending some over 25 years working at the Olaf elevator, where he made a host of friends for himself.

He has always been in good health until he was stricken on Monday evening, August 23 with a stroke of apoplexy. He was taken to the hospital at Clarion where he passed away Saturday night, August 28 at the age of 68 years, 11 months and 3 days.

The last six years of his life he spent at the Helge Eide home at Olaf. He is survived by one brother in Norway. In this country, his nearest relatives were his cousins, Mrs. Anne Smith of Tyler, Minn., Mrs. Mike Mooney of Jamestown, N. Dak., Ed Nelson of Minneapolis, Minn., and the late Mrs. R. H. Vitamins in Yeast

Yeast is found to contain many of the vitamins of the B complex. It is rich in Niacin, the vitamin known to be so valuable in correcting the dreaded "Necro" sometimes called "Pig Pellagra". Other B vitamins help in preventing slow growth, leg weakness, nerve degeneration & anemia. Nutritional experts agree that good hogs cannot be made without a good share of the B vitamins. They are fully as important for poultry as for hogs.

BIG GAIN YEASTIZED COMPOUND is made of high quality Yeast and valuable minerals. It has proven itself many times in the feed lots of our customers. It can be self fed dry, or used to culture feed. Write to BIG GAIN PRODUCTS, West Union, Iowa, for a sample and instructions.

Erdman-Kolpin Wedding

Minnie Lillian Erdman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Erdman, and Richard Albert Kolpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kolpin of Estherville, were united in marriage at the St. John's Lutheran church of Belmond, Sept. 5, 1943, with the Rev. Knoploh officiating. Basekts of garden flowers formed a background for the exchange of vows.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Grace Landon sang 'O Perfect Love.' Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for both processional and recessional and was played by Mrs. Bert Kalkwarf.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white sheer Val-ve-ray gown with a sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves. The skirt was fitted at the waist and extended into a train. Her finger tip veil was of Chantilly lace and was held in place by a seed pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet or red and white roses with white streamers. Her only jewelry was a necklace, gift of the groom. The matron of honor, Mrs. Merlin Hanson, sister of the bride, was attired in a gown of aqua taffeta. The bridesmaid, Fern Kolpin, sister of the groom, wore a gown of blue sheer crepe trimmed with lace. They both wore corsages of talisman roses. Larry Schimp was ringbearer and Phyllis Lee served as flower girl.

The groom wore a dark blue suit and a white rose boutonniere. Merlin Hanson was best man and Harold Erdman an attendant. The ushers, Harvey and Ervin Ausborn, were cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Erdman, mother of the bride, wore a green dress and a shoulder corsage of roses. Mrs. Kolpin, mother of the groom also wore a green dress with a like corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church parlors for about 100 guests. A three tier wedding cake decorated with white and blue and garden flowers decorated the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolpin will make their home at Manson where Mr. Kolpin is employed by the Telephone company.

Nelson-Draper Vows

On Friday, August 27, 1943 at 5:30 p. m., Valva Nelson, daughter of Martin Nelson became the bride of Gerald Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Draper of Dows. The single ring ceremony took place at the First Methodist church in Dakota City, Neb.

The bride wore a blue tweed suit with brown accessories and her attendant, Miss Opal Nolte, of Popejoy, wore a blue silk dress with white accessories. The groom was attended by his brother, Virgil and both wore the conventional blue suits.

Mr. and Mrs. Draper will make their home on a farm southwest of Dows.

Going to need an Auctioneer?

CONSIDER THESE POINTS IN FAVOR OF A WELL - KNOWN LOCAL AUCTIONEER

John Henn

Your Local auctioneer has many advantages . . . that are of greater value in planning a sale.

. . . Benefit from the acquaintances and experiences of your local auctioneer and farmer.
. . . Trained and experienced in all branches of the profession.
. . . Fair treatment and a square deal to everyone.
. . . Long list of successful sales and satisfied clients.
. . . No sale too large or too small.

NOW

IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using.
Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.

Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.

Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.

Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.

Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.

ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.

And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

Court Notes

The Burnett sisters, Dorothy and Lauriene, were brought before Judge Clock this week. Upon hearing the filed reports of Drs. MacNaughton and Christenson of Eagle Grove on the mental condition of the girls, they were committed to the hospital for epilectics and the school for the feeble minded at Woodward, Iowa, until such time as the court may order otherwise. The baby boy, Roger, born to Lauriene, was committed to the Board of Control of the state of Iowa. He will be placed in an insitution operated and maintained by the board for the purpose of caring for dependent children.

George Dolliver Fairall, who has been employed south of Belmond and who was arrested July 22nd by Sheriff Wilson plead guilty to petty larceny before Judge Clock this week. His sentence was thirty days in the county jail. As he has already been held in the county jail for a longer period than this sentence, credit for the time already served was allowed and Fairall was discharged.

State of Iowa vs. Jerome Allie. Jerome Allie accused of the theft of a car from the Christenson Motor Co., of Eagle Grove was sentenced to be committed to the county jail at Clarion for three months. During his good behavior the committment was suspended and the defendant paroled to Sheriff Roy E. Wilson of Clarion. Permission was given Allie to leave Iowa to seek employment in Illinois.

A court order was entered calling a meeting of the creditors of Louis Steinlicht, bankrupt, for the purpose of considering the sale of certain real estate.

Continuing the case of A. O. Denton, administrator of the estate of Charles Robert Denton, deceased vs. Ed Sorenson of Dows, bringing suit in the amount of $10,000 with interest from March 23, 1943 and for costs. This resulted from an accident which occurred March 23rd when the decedent, Chas. Robert Denton was struck by a truck driven by Sorenson, inflicting fatal injuries. The plaintiff was represented by G. R. Hill and the defendant by Birdsall, Archerd and McGrath. The defendant's and McGrath. The defendant's motion for a more specific statement was overruled and motion to strike was overruled. Defendant excepts.

Howard Fearing, age 12, of Goldfield, was accused by Sheriff Wilson of entering the home of the Methodist preacher in Goldfield, in her absence. He went up stairs to a bedroom closet and completely mutilated every garment with a safety razor. He also opened a cedar chest and extensively damaged linens and clothing. A hearing was before Judge Clock, who continued the case during the youth's good behavior. Howard is the son of a Goldfield instructor.

Carol Toresdahl, 24, of 4 miles north of Holmes, shot and killed himself Tuesday evening. Toresdahl had been to town and when he did not return home, his father Melvin Toresdahl of Lake township went to get him. Upon his return home, he took a 22 caliber revolver and shot himself in the right temple. He is survived by his wife and two small children.

Theodore L. Braun et al plaintiffs vs Peter J. Braun et al. A court order approved the supplemental final report and discharge of the receiver and referee, B. C. Hewlett.

Otto Knutson, referee in the case of Charles Mantle, plaintiff vs Edith Lawrence et al, defendants, was authorized to employ John Henneberry of Eagle Grove as his attorney to assist him in legal matters pertaining to the equity of the parties above mentioned. Knutson sold certain real estate on August 20th to Alfred H. Martin of Renwick for $38,400.00. The contract was approved by the court.

Elmer Thompson, who pleads guilty to operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was fined $300 and costs. This was suspended during the defendants good behavior and he was paroled to Sheriff Wilson upon the condition that he abstain from the use of all intoxicating liquors, including beer and shall not frequent pool halls, beer parlors and other places where beer is sold. His driver's license was revoked for sixty days. Appeal bond fixed at $1000.

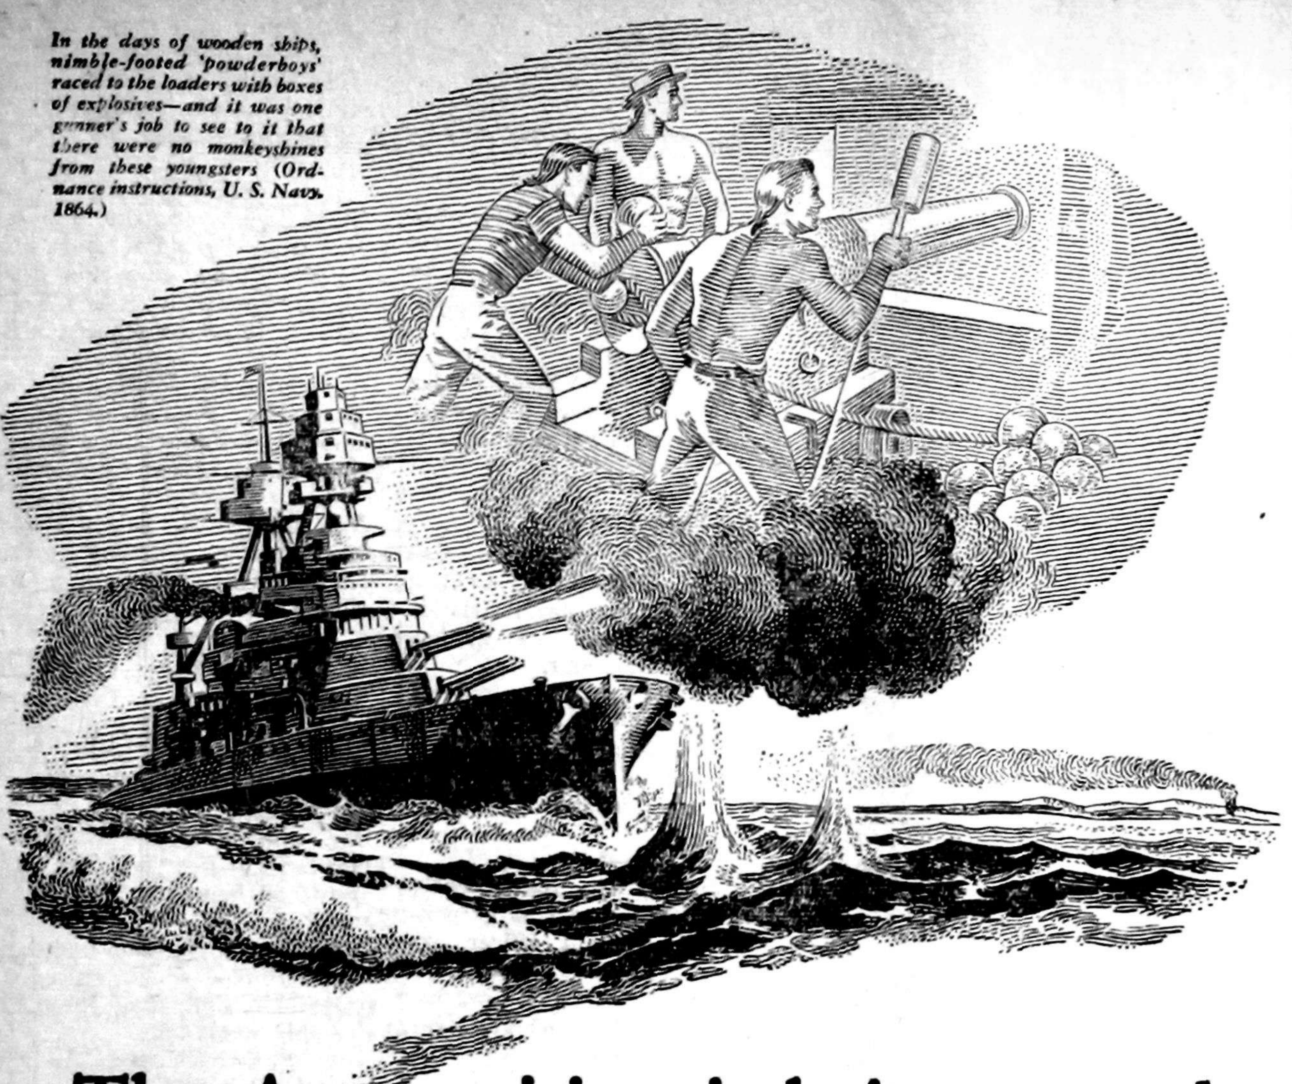
In the days of wooden ships, nimble-footed 'powderboys' raced to the loaders with boxes of explosives—and it was one gunner's job to see to it that there were no monkeyshines from these youngsters (Ordnance instructions, U. S. Navy, 1864.)



The Ammunition is being passed

There's no monkey-business about the way the ammunition is being passed in this war, either. For example, the Navy's 5-inch 38 caliber gun throws shells at planes or surface craft at a terrific rate. Its powder and shells must come to the gun in a steady stream. How is it done? With an ingenious hoist whose tolerances are so close that the mechanism is comparable to the movement of a fine watch.

Ammunition hoists for the Navy are being produced so fast and efficiently by the Busch-Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Company that the organization has been awarded a second star in its Navy E pennant. Busch-Sulzer, which made engines for submarines in the last war, was founded by Adolphus Busch, the founder of Anheuser-Busch. He was the first to build Diesels in America—and the first American-made Diesel went into the Home of Budweiser. Now as then, the quest for better methods and facilities to produce the world's most popular beer never ceases.

County Nurse—

Following is the narrative report of Miss Soehren on work connected with the opening of schools:

With the reopening of schools our "busier than usual" season starts. Saturday the nurse talked to the 80 rural teachers. The proper method of handwashing, using the "Pour" method, was demonstrated as well as vision testing. She also showed them the dental certificate which will be given for each school having 100 per cent Dental Work completed. Eighteen such certificates were given last year, 460 dental cards having been returned as compared with eight the year before and 26 pairs of glasses have been reported to the nurse.

During July the nurse inspected 84 4-H girls in the county and picked the two to represent their township at the fair, because of the inspection one girl has new glasses. one has had a tonsilectomy and four have had their dental work completed. At the fair a staff of physicians and dentists completed the examination picking the two high from the group.

The nurse's booth at the fair this year was an electrically motivated and lighted dental display which caused a great deal of comment from the school children as well as the adults. It is hoped that this may help to stimulate the interest in the dental program.

It is hoped that this year's school program will be as successful as the past year.

pion baby beef owned by Don Sadler and purchased by the Commercial Club of Eagle Grove brought $17.00. The 56 baby beeves sold at the sale brought a total sale price of $8,262.64 and averaged $15.57 per hundred.

Glenn Waldon of Woolstock won the award for the Boys 4-H Health Champion with a score of 99 per cent. Runner up was Clarence Williamson of Eagle Grove with a score of 98.6 per cent.

Violet Wilson of the Woolstock Willing Workers and Dorothy Collins of the Lincoln Lassies' League tied for county health champion with scores of 99.2 per cent. Two demonstration teams were placed in the blue ribbon class. Deloris Cramer and Elizabeth Adams of the Day-le Club were chosen as members of the team that represented Wright County at the Iowa 4-H Dairy Exposition in Waterloo on Sept. 4. Exhibits this year include oven products, dairy dishes and canning. Achievement shows afford an opportunity to look at accomplishments of the preceding year and serve as a basis for setting goals for the coming year. In war time these goals include thorough study of the project in which the members enroll as well as increase service in food production and preservation and other war service activities.

Wright County 4-H girls loaned $10,180.80 for victory. Wright County 4-H girls have brought and sold $10,180.80 worth of bonds and stamps of the $180,000.00 total sold by the 4-H girls in the state as a whole. Newer and higher goals for the coming year have been announced. The goal is that each girl will buy or sell $82.50 worth of bonds or stamps in order to oufit the 4-H boys that are now in service. There is an average of 55 4-H boys in the service from each county.

Belmond Far Short In Third War Loan Quota

Subscribed 19 Per Cent To Date

Movie On 23rd Free To Bond-Stamp Buyers

$33,106 is the amount of war bonds that have been purchased in the community served by the First State Bank of Belmond since the beginning of the Third War Loan drive which lasts through the month of September, Roy A. Henderson, chairman of the local committee announced today.

The quota assigned this territory, which includes the town of Belmond and adjacent rural areas, is $179,000. The amount of bonds purchased so far during this drive represents approximately 19 per cent of the quota. Wright County's share of the 15 billion dollar national goal is $854,000.

Plans are going forward to hold a house to house canvass as a clean-up campaign the last of the month, and, if possible, a bond rally day as well.

As part of the local plans for meeting the Belmond quota, the Lyric Theatre is showing the movie 'Navy Blues" on Thursday, Sept. 23. Adults will be admitted free to this movie if they purchase a bond at the Lyric or show evidence that they have purchased a bond since the Third War Loan started, on Sept. 9. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free by purchasing $2.00 in stamps at the theatre on the 23rd.

"Navy Blues" a musical, stars Ann Sheridan who is supported by Jack Oakie, Jack Haley and Martha Rae. In this picture the Navy frolics, loves and fights. Action centers around Pearl Harbor. "Navy Blues" is being shown instead of "Salute for Three" which was originally scheduled for the 23rd.

Mrs. Ralph Honts And Children Escape Injury In Train Accident

Mr. and Mrs. George Elder received word from their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Honts, that she was in the Milwaukee train accident in eastern Iowa which occurred on Wednesday, September 8.

Mrs. Honts and two children were enroute to their home at Brooklyn, N. Y., after visiting here with her parents. The accident happened when the train in which they were riding was heading into a siding. A passenger coming from the opposite direction struck the engine and sheered off the tops of the first two baggage cars of the train. They escaped injury by a matter of a few seconds as their car was next to the baggage cars.

Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Herbert Fetrow and daughter, Harriet Kay of Chicago, Ill., are visiting this week at the Ben Fetrow home.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Scout Master, Clark McNeal announces the Boy Scout meetings will be held at the Legion Hall, over Waddington's store, every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

600 Is 4-H Membership Goal For 1944

Is Increase of 190 For Wright County Over 1943

A quota of 600 members for Wright county during 1944 is the goal for which local 4-H Clubs will point, an increase of 190 above 1943. A special drive with a state goal of 44,000 members will be conducted during the week of October 4 to 9, as part of the statewide enrollment campaign. Plans are now being worked out by County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman and county extension home economist, Miss Elizabeth Deihl, and other 4-H Club workers in the county.

A combined meeting of the boys and girls county 4-H club committees will be held in the near future to work out details for the special 4-H club drive. Local club leaders and assistant leaders together with the county officer of

Wallace Travelled Over 75,000 Miles On Water

Survived Sinking of His Ship "The Laffey"

Bob Wallace E M 2|c, who travelled more than 75,000 miles on water in about 7½ months since he left the States in May, 1942, got back to San Francisco August 17, and to Belmond, where he visited friends last week.

Some of Bob's most interesting remarks are as follows: "I have fought the Japs, but have never seen one." "Waiting for action is worse than the action itself." "It's impossible to describe the feeling I had when our ship went down, there just aren't any words to describe it." "I'm not afraid of anything on board a good destroyer with a good crew." "Friday the 13th, was a lucky day for us."

It was on Friday, November 13, 1942, when 13 U. S. ships met 28 Japanese craft in a night battle which resulted in the loss of all enemy craft and 8 of the U. S. Task Force in the Solomon area just off Savo Island. Wallace's ship, the Laffey, was sunk by a torpedo hit from a Japanese destroyer after having cut across the bow of an enemy battleship, sunk one cruiser and two destroyers by gunfire. The Laffey, a destroyer, had also sunk two enemy cruisers and two destroyers on other occasions.

Bob said, "I can't remember much of what happened after our ship sunk. I didn't know how to swim, but just jumped into the water and managed to get to a life raft where those badly wounded were placed, the rest of us hanging on for about six hours until a rescue ship arrived." Bob himself spent over a month in a hospital recovering from shrapnel wounds and a ruptured ear drum.

Wallace reveals that on the afternoon of November 12, 31 Japanese torpedo planes attacked six transport and escort vessels as well as the 13 ships in his force. All 31 planes were shot down—28 by anti-aircraft fire from the ships and three by fighter planes—and none of our ships were sunk.

Bob carries a souvenir of the battle in his pocket all the time. It is a bullet from a machine gun on a Jap torpedo bomber which missed him by just two feet.

Wallace has a 30-day leave from duty before he reports at Cleveland, Ohio, where he will attend the Diesel Electrical school.

Bicycle Travelers On 330 Mile Jaunt Visit Relatives In Belmond

Visitors at the home of C. J. Waddington during the last week in August have attracted attention through publicity in several daily papers recently. They were Mr. and Mrs. Don Stouffer and their 3-year-old daughter, Ann, of Des Moines.

When gas rationing was tightened in the middle west, the Stouffer's who had planned a vacation trip to Minnesota, decided to change their plans.

As an alternative, Mr. and Mrs. Stouffer hopped on their bicycles and set out to see some of Iowa the leisurely way. After a 10-day, 330 mile pedaling jaunt, they returned to their home in Des Moines, having spent part of this time visiting at the home of Mrs. Stouffer's sister, Mrs. C. J. Waddington in Belmond.

Their 3-year-old daughter, Ann, joined them on the seven-mile trip between Mitchellville and Colfax, riding in a box on the rear of her daddy's bike. Ann made the trip from Des Moines to Mitchellville on the bus with an aunt, as well as the remainder of the trip from Colfax to Belmond.

Membership Is Free For Young Breeders In North Iowa Association

4-H club and vocational agricultural members living in the territory serviced by the North Iowa Breeders Cooperative Association, are permitted to use their services without paying the regular membership fees of $10. This action was taken by the board of directors to encourage better breeding of livestock.

4-H club and vocational agicultural members will be required to pay the regular breeding fee of $5 and are limited to a service of two heifers per family per year.

A written statement certifying that they are members in good standing and are keeping records on the heifers they wish to breed is necessary from the 4-H club leader, county extension director or vocational agricultural instructor. Only registered purebred heifers are eligible to this service.

University Of Life Begins At Sands Church

New Program Starts On October 3

At the Quarterly meeting of the Sands Memorial Congregational Church, held last Sunday evening, it was voted to conduct a University of Life at the church on the first Sunday evening of each month for the next six months, beginning October 3rd.

There will be a supper served in the church dining room from 6 to 7. Then from 7 to 8 the following interest groups will meet:

1. Bible study—A study of the Book of Revelation will be made under the direction of the Rev. Foster M. Beck.
2. Cooking, under the direction of our new Home Economics teacher, Miss Ruth Gantenbein.
3. Folk Singing, under the direction of Mrs. Foster Beck, with Mrs. Cato Griesy at the piano.
4. Hobbies, under the leadership of Dr. L. R. Parsons.
5. "Our Post War World"—A discussion group under the leadership of Mr. J. Leslie Leonard.
6. Sewing, under the direction of Mrs. George Steele.

At 8 o'clock every one will assemble in the sanctuary for a 15 minute sing. Dismissal will be promptly at 8:15.

These interest groups will be open to any one in Belmond who is interested, whether or not he is a member or attends this church regularly. However, there is an age limit, no one under Junior High age being permitted to register for these groups. In order that parents may bring the entire family to this University of Life, Mary Louise Hardwick and Marian Tyrrell have volunteered to take care of the small children during the hour in which the interest groups are meeting.

Entrance to any of these groups will be through registration, but no fee will be charged. Once you sign up for a group, however, you are expected to remain in that group. No trying out one group and then another will be permitted.

THE GOOSE THAT LAYS THE GOLDEN EGGS

With The Boys In Service

HUNTINGTON WRITES OF NAVAL ENGAGEMENTS

A few days ago the Independent received a letter from Earl Huntington S 1|c who writes that he has seen a lot of action in the Sicilian Campaign. We quote from his letter as follows:

"Yesterday I received my long-awaited Belmond papers, 13 issues all at once, and today I had a very enjoyable Sunday catching up on events in Belmond.

Life has been a constant round of excitement since I came aboard this ship. I was made a helmsman the first day as that is one of a quartermaster's duties, and during the past three months have steered the (Name censored) through many a hundred miles of ocean. We were among the leaders in the Sicilian campaign and saw a lot of action. I didn't keep track of the number of engagements we were in, but there were about 8 or 10 I think. We fought shore batteries, shelled the beach and were attacked many times by air craft and never received a scratch. . . We are hoping that we get another chance to go in . . . . Give my best regards to all my friends In Belmond. . . will be home as soon as this matter is taken care of."

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bonte and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bonte took Pvt. Merle Bonte to Des Moines Wednesday where he will leave for Fort Ord, California, after spending a furlough here.

Bob Brady of Ames was home with his parents over the week end.

Word has been received from Robert Tomson, F. 1|c, that he is somewhere in England.

SGT. JACOBMEYER WRITES FROM AFRICA

Sgt. Howard Jacobmeyer has written home recently about some of his observations on African life: He says, "I saw a few herds of camels for the first time. A week ago I had a two-day vacation and went west of here 170 miles. Lots of grain fields, hills and wide-open spaces. We went to one little town that was pretty clean until we got in the Arab district. They had meat for sale right out in the open with the flies on it and the sun burning down. . . oh, for smell. And they carry water around in goat hides."

Pvt. Gordon Kessler left Sunday morning for Camp Polk, Louisiana, after a week's furlough in Belmond.

ALEXANDER

Pfc. William Pals left last week to return to North Carolina after spending a furlough at home with his wife, and other relatives and friends.

Cpl. Rex Aldinger spent a three-day furlough at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger. He has just finished an X-ray course in Springfield, Missouri, and is now on his return trip to Camp Phillips at Salina, Kansas.

T. Sgt. John Stoffer left Saturday to return to Camp Carson, Colo., after a 10-day furlough at home.

Mrs. Reka Blau received a letter from her son, S 1|c Edward Blau last week. He is a commando, and wrote that he had taken part in the invasion of Sicily, but at present was back in North Africa. He said he had received only one letter since he had left the United States four months ago, and that one was from here. This is also the first letter that anyone has received from him since he left this country.

Cpl. Peter Pals left Monday evening to return to North Carolina after spending his furlough at home with his wife, his father, Mr. Peter Pals, Sr., and other relatives and friends.

GOODELL

Tech. Sergeant Bill Butts of Camp Hood, Texas, arrived Sunday for a 15 day furlough with Warner and Olive Butts.

Local folks will be interested in hearing that Dr. John King Miller of Albany, New York is an army doctor and has been in Africa since August 1. His wife is taking her internship as a doctor in Albany. The former graduated from the Goodell high school in 1922 and is a son of Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Miller of Gladbrook.

E. W. Harder of Baraboo, Wis., has been commissioned a Lieutenant (j. g.) in the Naval Reserves at Madison, Wis., and expects to be called into service by October 1. Mrs. Harder will continue to work in Baraboo while he attends officers training school. The Harders resided here 7 years, he being superintendent of the school.

KANAWHA

A letter was received from Lieut. E. W. Eller, former Kanawha doctor, who is somewhere in Sicily. Dr. Eller stated that where he is stationed farms are composed of from 3 to 5 acres and transportation is on heavy burrows.

Mrs. Thoreson received word from her husband, Capt. Walter R. Thoreson, who was wounded in action, that he is receiving every care in a hospital, that the Red Cross has outfitted him with all needed supplies and that a visit was paid them by the First Lady of the Land.

Green, Williams And Hanson Combine Funeral Undertaking Services

E. Ray Green of Alexander, announced this week that he had consolidated his funeral and undertaking services with the C. I. Williams and A. K. Hanson Funeral Home at Belmond. Mr. Green will work with the Belmond firm, but at the same time will continue to maintain his own funeral and undertaking establishment in Alexander.

Football Season Takes Spotlight In Belmond

Broncos Tied Hampton 6 - 6 In Practice Scrimmage

In a practice scrimmage against a much heavier Hampton team last Friday night, the Broncos gave a good account of themselves, scoring a 6-6 tie in a game that was carried under regular game conditions. Nervous and stage-struck during the first half, the Belmond players fumbled frequently and presented their opponents excellent scoring opportunities by losing the ball to them in their own territory. Hampton took advantage of one of these breaks in the second quarter, scoring a touchdown, but failing to convert.

After the half, the Broncos came back much stronger and showed much improvement, especially in end defensive play and in secondary defense. Starting from their own 30-yard line in the last quarter they made a sustained drive down the field, climaxed by the tying touchdown. Features of this drive were three completed passes Dorr to Nelson, the hard line plunging of Finn, and the scoring play, a pass from L. Jones to Finn. Campbell's defensive work from his guard position was a high-light during the entire contest.

SET DATE FOR BAZAAR

The Saint Francis Parish will hold the annual bazaar October 12, in the Odd Fellows Hall. A chicken dinner will be served and various games will be played. Further announcements later.

Gridiron Club Entertains Football Squad

J. Leslie Leonard Is Featured Speaker

At the first of eight regular meetings during the Belmond football season, the Gridiron Club entertained 31 members of the Belmond high school football squad at a banquet at the Legion Hall on Monday evening.

J. Leslie Leonard was the featured speaker and talked on the importance of physical developments on the gridiron in the lives of boys five and ten years hence. He illustrated his remarks by comparing American boys at war (taken from office, factory, farm. school who had training in athletics) who in two years have become better fighting men than soldiers of the enemy with 20 years training for war.

C. C. Christie, president of the Club introduced Belmond's new coach, John Lansing, who gave a brief resume of the practice game between the Belmond team and the Hampton team at Hampon last Friday night, when the Broncos tied the opposing team six to six. Coach Lansing then introduced to the club each member of the Belmond football squad .

REV. O. M. SEVERSEIKE TO SPEAK AT EAGLE GROVE L. D. R. CONVENTION

The Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation of the Eagle Grove circuit, wil hold their annual convention at the East Side Lutheran church, Eagle Grove, Iowa, Sunday September 26 with sessions at 2:30 p. m. and at 8 p. m.

The theme of the convention is "Thy Kingdom Come." The main messages will be given by Rev. O. M. Severseike of Belmond. Special music will be furnished by L. D. R. members within the circuit. During the intermission between sessions a lunch will be served by the Mission Society of the Eagle Grove church. The varied L. D. R. projects will be presented by L. D. R. members at this time.

Current Season Opens Friday Night With Clarion Here

Belmond High School's fighting Broncos will face their initial test of the current football season when they meet the Clarion Cowboys on the local field at 8:00 p. m. Friday night.

1943 BRONCO MENTOR

This game will mark the first appearance of a Belmond athletic team under the direction of Coach John J. Lansing, former Dubuque University and Iowa State Teachers athlete.

With three weeks of hard training behind them the Belmond gridders will meet their Wright County rivals at full strength. Although a non-conference affair, this annual encounter with Clarion is rated the number one game of the season, and a great deal of interest has developed on the part of players and fans alike.

Clarion, whom the Broncos tied last year and defeated two years ago for the first time in football history, is out for revenge, and a large delegation of followers is expected. Little is known about the visiting team except that most of the key positions are manned by veteran players.

On the other hand, Coach Lansing will present in his first edition of the 1943 season an inexperienced backfield backing up a line made up of letter-men. The starting backfield will consist of a converted end, Finn; a converted guard, C. Shahan; and two men who were never before out for varsity football, Dorr and L. Jones. In the line will be one veteran end, Nelson; two lettermen at tackles, Classick and A. Stockseth, and two at guards, Campbell and Banning, a letterman at center, D. Foss; and an inexperienced man at the other end, either D. Walrod or Goemman.

A capable list of substitutes is found in the squad of thirty-five boys who are out for football. Among those who will probably see action during the evening are center, Wagner; guards, O. Shahan and J. McLaughlin; tackle, E. Tudor; ends, G. Swenson and R. Waddington; backs, R. Hunter, H. Jones, B. McBride, G. Meints, L. Rosheim, D. Walrod and R. Mickelson.

Officials for the game Friday night will be Sherman of Hampton, referee; Superintendent Hill of Meservey, head linesman; and County Superintendent Whitney of Garner, umpire.

A snake dance through main street, led by the band, will be staged by the high school student body Friday evening before the game. The students will meet at the park and will start their demonstration at 7:30.

SURE TEST OF YOUR COMMON SENSE

The Third War Loan is a swift sure test of your common sense, your ability to take it, and a measure of your own flesh and blood, the men you have sent off to do the fighting for you.

It combines all of these aspects because it comes at a time when American forces are doggedly seeking a decision on the battlefield, often at the cost of life itself.

There's hardly a comparison between your greatest sacrifice on the spending front and the sacrifices in blood and sweat of one of your soldiers, sailors, flyers, marines or coast guardsmen.

Your Government comes to you and says:

"Lend me your money now when I need it to protect you against your enemies and I'll pay you back with interest a little later when the men who would murder, rob and enslave you are destroyed."

Your government is putting its objective before you in two ways. First in big round numbers like 15 billion dollars. Secondly, but more important, it puts the Third War Loan matter up to you in a purely personal way.

There's something awfully wrong with you if you won't put an extra rifle, or an extra clip of bullets into the hands of your men on the battlefield.

The slogan, "Back the Attack—With War Bonds" is addressed to you. Rich man, poor man, worker, boss, man, woman or child—you all have something to lend to your country at a time like this. You would not be worthy of being an American if you did not have the fibre to trade bread for liberty.

It's assault time for you too.

LET'S GO BRONCOS!

The Belmond football season opens this week when the Clarion Cowboys meet the Belmond Broncos here Friday night for the traditional Belmond-Clarion first game of the year.

Belmond is fortunate in being able to plan a nearly normal season during this year of trying educational prbolems while many schools have been forced to give up a considerable part of their athletic program.

At the Independent we look forward to the coming Football season with interest and anticipation and believe we speak for the whole town in this respect. We look forward to observing the progress that will be made from game to game as a lot of new football material develops with practice and experience in competition.

Let's go Broncos! The school is for you, the town is for you, we are for you.

CHRISTMAS IN SEPTEMBER!

It's Christmas in September! That is, it is time to do Christmas shopping in September for the boys who are overseas.

This is something you must not neglect to do. The boys who are over there need letters and remembrances from friends and loved ones all the time. They will be needing messages of love and cheer and gifts of enjoyment or usefulness more than ever at Christmas time, to make them feel a little closer to the home fires, which is the one and only place a man really longs to be at Christmas time.

Don't let them down. See to it that when Christmas comes your soldier or sailor or marine "over there" has some evidence that your thoughts and prayers are with him always and that you are behind him one hundred per cent here at home.

CLIMAX?

In a morning paper last week, there was an announcement to the effect that the British capital was convinced it was only a matter of a few hours before the Allies would take an important step which might bring their war effort to a climax.

And before most folks had a chance to read that morning paper, with the exception of a few who can do so at the breakfast table, an announcement came over the radio that Italy had surrendered unconditionally to the Allies.

Could it be that this surrender of Italy, following an invasion of Italian soil that met with unbelieveably little resistance, might constitute a climax in the whole war? If true it may not be too much to hope now, that another one of the three Axis partners will be out of the picture before holiday time, 1943.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Russell George, Grinnell, has an idea about the drafting of farm lads into the armed services. He suggests that as the farm boy's name comes up for service he be sent to the army for 12 weeks basic training. Then return him to the farm, giving him a uniform and on it have an insigna showing he is on furlough doing farm work.—Montezuma Republican.

The United States treasury has announced that for the fiscal year ending June 30, the government spent more than 78 billion dollars. This is the largest amount spent by any one government in a single year in the history of the world. It is more than was spent to operate the United States in its first 130 years; from 1789 to 1919, federal expenditures totalled approximately 76 billion dollars. —Emmetsburg Reporter.

We have predicted since this holocausst started that it would end in a sudden blow-up in Germany just like the other war did. We're going to string along with our own theory. Moreover, we're optimistic enough to believe it will be quicker than the experts would have us believe—Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune.

—V—

In one respect the Axis and the Allies stand 50-50. The Axis trio had its Mussolini, Hitler and Hirohito. At no time did all three ever meet in a conference. All meetings were between Mussolini and Hitler. On the Allies side Stalin seems to be the stay at home. But Churchill and Roosevelt have had several conferences. The thing that matters is, should Stalin and Hirohito get together and shed a few tears over the imaginary affront it might sow the seed for another war. That must not happen! —Britt News Tribune.

There used to be a saying that if the dog hadn't stopped he would have caught the rabbit. Bringing that up to date we might say, we could have rabbit pie if we had a gun, and if we had a gun we could shoot a rabbit if we had the ammunition, and if we had the ammunition and the gun we could have rabbit pie if we had time to go hunting rabbits. The season opened August 1st and will be open to the first of next March.—Britt News-Tribune.

If you want to buy a farm with your share of bonds that is all right. But don't count on paving for it with money you don't yet have. We've been through that. Twenty-five years ago we were never going to see corn down to 50 cents again. And 10 years ago we wondered whether we would ever see it up to 50 cents again.—Indianola Record.

AWAY BACK WHEN

TEN YEARS AGO—

FORTY YEARS AGO

A farmer living not a thousand miles from Hickory Grove told us that a civil engineer had been squinting across that country and driving stakes to mark the right of way for a proposed trolley line which is to connect Goodell and Kanawha. We might add in the vernacular of the street "we are from Missouri."

—1903—

W. H. Purdy was in a wreck on a Great Northern passenger train in Minnesota last Sunday morning and escaped with only slight bruises. He returned home Tuesday and informed us that the wreck, which was caused by a fish car leaving the track, was a bad one, two people being killed and some fifty injured, several fatally. Mr. Purdy says he does not care to repeat the experience.

—1903—

The Congregational Society talks of buying the residence property of Dr. J. E. Wallace, using the house as a parsonage, moving the church building onto the lots west of the proposed parsonage and making extensive improvements in their church building. An excellnt idea and should be carried out.

—1903—

Prittle... Prattle....

An Open Letter to the men from Belmond in the service of our country now scattered all over the world: Now and then I hear or read about someone who finds the time to write a personal card or letter every week to each man from his community that is in the service. Don't see how it can be done. That is what I would like to do, but it would take me a full day and at least six days of every week to get out letters to the more than 300 of you from this vicinity.

P—P

So just consider this as a personal letter. Before I forget to mention it further along in this column, when you write home to the folks tell them to bring or send your letters in. Have had a good many of your mothers tell me that you like to read, in the Independent's Service News column, what your friends are doing in other parts of the world.

P—P

Summer has come and gone since I wrote you last and it has been a most unusual summer with more rain than we would ordinarily see in two summers. As I write this on Sunday a. m. it is raining. Things have been going along about as usual with those of us left here at home with the exception that most of us are busier than usual trying to do our work as well as the work you would be doing if you were here. Some of the boys have been getting in a little fishing in the river and a few of them are planning to take the train for northern Minnesota and spend a few days.

P—P

Bob Wallace stopped in for a visit the other day. Bob is in the Navy and you can read about his experiences in a story on the front page. Gordon Kessler came home on a furlough for eight days and left early this morning from Hampton. Hardly a day goes by but what I see one or two men who have been in the service for six months and are home on furlough. Jim Waddington, Don Beneke and "Soupy" Cramer, to mention three didn't get that opportunity. Don and "Soupy" are in the Mediterranean area and Jim was in Australia the last I knew.

P—P

Looks like you're going to be joined by the rest of us eventually. Boys like Phillip Covington, Bob Tracy and Conrad Meints are practically on their way and in October will come the turn of the married men that are still left. Guess we can take it if you can, although I don't think I'll do like Kessler did when they asked him what his hobby was and he said hunting and fishing. They thought that meant he liked to walk and shoot so they put him in the infantry.

P—P

Thought maybe I'd tell 'em my hobby was stamp collecting, then they might make me a personal aide to the President.

P—P

Fellows like Vere Jenison, Hoyt Klemme, George Waddington and Jim Mariga have had their blood tested. Jim told me he wanted to be a sergeant when I got in so he could order me to shine his shoes. Don't know how that would be as mine never get shined unless smy wife does it for me.

P—P

Expected to write a bit more than this but a telephohne call from home informs me that there is a job for me there. Will try to write another letter to you much sooner than I did this one. Good luck to all of you and drop us a line when you get a chance. RHG.

We Weren't KIDDING!

When we advised our Christmas card customers of the past years through the advertising columns of this newspaper that they should order their Christmas cards early, some of them ordered but the most of you are putting it off thinking you can get them at the last minute.

That is where you will be fooled. Advice from Christmas card manufacturers is that the WPB has cut them 40% in the amount of paper stock they can use for the production of Christmas cards.

Many of you who ordered late last year will remember that stocks were exhausted long before Christmas and you were disappointed. Manufacturers anticipate that the demand will be even greater this year.

So our advice to you is .... ORDER YOUR CARDS NOW .... not next week .... BUT AT ONCE. Then you'll have them when you want them and please buy only just as many as you know you will need.

ONE MINUTE to midnight! Tomorrow is almost here and America's forces are ready...at sea, on land, and in the air...plans for the new day are complete.

The railroads of America are also ready with plans for tomorrow, despite today's titanic war transportation task.

ROCK ISLAND'S Program of Planned Progress has proven the wisdom of planning. It has gone steadily forward for years, improving engines, cars, right-of-way, facilities...progress that has made possible the movement of traffic in hitherto undreamed of volume.

It's a crucial test...of men and equipment...but, even more crucial will be our task when peace dawns, and we will supply victorious America the transportation she and her millions of courageous sons will require and deserve.

This railroad is planning for that other tomorrow too...determined to become ever greater and more efficient, for...

...as yesterday, and today, so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

Feed & Egg Production

It takes about ¼ ounce of highest quality protein, 22 different minerals and several vitamins to produce a 2-ounce egg. A hen laying 200 eggs a year puts 15 times as much mineral into the egg as her body contains. She cannot produce eggs unless these things are provided in her feed.

Big Gain 32% Poultry Concentrate, and Big Gain Egg Mash provide these egg builders in abundance, and keep the hens healthy and vigorous. Ask the poultry feeders who use Big Gain 32% Poultry Concentrate and Big Gain Egg Mash.

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at Hanford Hotel, Mason City, Sunday and Monday, only, September 19 and 20, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, thereby closing the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangement and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Add. 6509 N. Artesion Ave., Chicago. Large incisional Hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.

'WHAT DOES BUTTER MEAN TO US?'

A SERGEANT... A HOME-MAKER... AN IOWA FARMER give their views on this timely question

SAYS THE SERGEANT:

"Butter's an important part of our fighting-ration—and it represents the way-of-life that we're fighting for.

"Don't get me wrong. In the army, or any branch of service, we CAN eat our bread without butter—and plenty of us have done it. But good food sure helps keep our men in fighting trim—and one thing we really go for, is Butter. We're proud to come from a land that believes every one is entitled to butter, instead of hogging it all for a few 'supermen'. And we're doing all we can to speed the day when our nation can again get all we want of good things like butter that are part of the American way of life."

SAYS THE HOME-MAKER:

"Butter is one of our greatest helps in making ration-meals more nourishing and appetizing.

"Of necessity, unrationed foods play a bigger part in our meal-planning this year—foods like potatoes, fresh vegetables, bread—and butter makes them so much more palatable. So we buy butter every week—and enjoy some at nearly every meal. Of course, if it would help any toward winning the war, our whole family would do without butter from now until the day of Victory. But we're glad that, even after our service men have had all they need, there's butter for us here at home, too."

SAYS THE IOWA FARMER:

"Butter brings me over $500 a year in cash, and cows provide increased fertility that keeps my land in shape.

"Milking cows just naturally goes with good Iowa farming. Last year, dairy foods brought Iowa over $100,000,000 cash income—and three dollars out of every four came from butter. Most of us Iowa farmers aren't equipped or located so that we can sell whole milk. But our local creamery provides a good market for our butterfat, and from there, our butter goes all over the world. In fact, butter is the backbone of our dairy income—and there's been many a year when cream-checks kept us going."

In modern diversified farming as practised in Iowa, butter has an important place, since butter provides the logical market-outlet for most of Iowa's dairy production. More than 150,000 Iowa farmers receive cash income from butter-fat, averaging over $500 a year. And this butter-money comes "regularly," month after month, so butter makes an important contribution toward good living on farms of Iowa—and toward good eating in the homes of America.

GENUINE UNIQUES

A very widely-read northern Iowa newspaper gets a big laugh out of its own phrasing mistakes that are similar to those that sometimes creep into the best of newspapers. For example, the newspaper points out some humorous errors in its advertising columns such as the recent auction ad for sale of cattle, on which mention was made of a cow "giving plenty of milk, and other articles too numerous to mention." And classified ads that offered for sale a "wooden coal stove" and a "heifer bull calf."

HOT TREES

Myron Ahlstrom, Waukon youth, climbed a tree and got his hands burned. It happened that among the lofty branches Myron came in contact with a high voltage wire of a power line, but the timely assistance of a companion in the tree saved him from nuch more severe burns.

OBITUARY

HANS PALS

Hans, son of Peter and Kathrene Pals, was born in Pleasant Township near Alexander, Iowa, on October 2, 1890. His youth was spent in this vicinity where he worked on his father's farm and hired out to farmers nearby.

On February 28, 1917, he was united in marriage to Miss Tena Smith at the St. John's Lutheran parsonage in Belmond. To this union five children were born, a son dying in infancy.

After their marriage they began farming for themselves near Alexander. But for three years when they lived near Clarion, they farmed in this vicinity until they moved to Belmond five years ago last March, where they have since resided. Mr. Pals was a good neighbor and was willing to help in any emergency. His ability to make machinery work brought many calls for help from his neighbors.

His life was prematurely taken on Sunday afternoon, August 22, 1943, when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Chicago Great Western passenger train as the automobile crossed the track in the north part of town.

Hans, as his many friends called him, was well liked by all who knew him. He possessed a cheerful disposition, very seldom did the irritations of man or machinery cause him to lose his temper. His cheerfulness helped brighten many a tense moment in an argument among men.

Mr. Pals leaves to mourn his departure: His wife; three sons, Ray in North Africa, George in England and Peter of Belmond; one daughter, Francis of Belmond; his father, Peter Pals of Alexander, his mother having passed away on Sept. 21, 1940. He also leaves four brothers, Hilko Pals, Alexander; Herman Pals, Meservey; Joe Pals, Belmond; Peter Pals, in the army in South Carolina; and three sisters, Mrs Menno Frohling, Goodell; Mrs. Will Tinkey, Alexander; Mrs. Frank Ostendorf, Belmond. There are many other relatives and a host of friends.

HAMMER MYSTERY SOLVED

A hammer used in construction work many years ago by the father of Theodore Moen of Decorah became lost during the building of a wall around the original Winneshiek county courthouse, and was found 20 years later under the east steps of the courthouse. Moen now uses the implement in his service trips for the local gas company.

EGG PRODUCTION UP

Florence and Vera Neely, sisters and former school teachers of Madison county, now are in the egg business in a big way. Their flocks produce hundreds of eggs a day and they find a weekly market for them in Des Moines.

ROLL UNANSWERED

When the school bell rang in Red Oak last week it marked the first time in thirty years that a member of the Jesse Groves family was not there to answer the call for the first day of school. Five sons of Jesse are in the service of their country.

Miss Ellen Sweet of Newton was a week end visitor at the Merle Hokel home.

HOME FROM SEA

Howard Snell, 20, ship's cook, first class, was home again at Belle Plaine, after two years at sea. In that time he took part in ten sea battles in the Pacific and was wounded once. He reports back to his ship Aug. 20 when the vessel emerges from dry dock.

NICK IN NECK

The moral of this story is never leave a scythe hanging from a rafter in your chicken house. George Pederson of Froelich stuck his head in too far when he went to feed the chickens and got a nasty gash in the neck when it grazed the scythe.

SIGHT WORTH SEEING

Thirty years ago the Cedar county fair advertised a feature "worth coming a hundred miles to see." It was two flights daily in an "aeroplane" by the expert aviator, Louis H. Gertson.

A 13 COMPLEX

Sailor Lynn Gross, farm youth of Winneshiek county, Iowa, survivor of the ill-fated light cruiser Helena in the battle of Guadacanal last November 13, returned to the states on Friday, August 13. HUB GARAGE

Things To Do In September

1--This country is worth fighting for- You can fight with your $$$ if you can't with a gun. BUY War Bonds and Stamps 'til it hurts ... be a 10 per center (more if you can)

2--Make a final check of all laying houses and laying equipment; Pullets should be housed by October 1.

3--It takes from 6 to 9 lbs. of feed per month to keep a mature hen or male -- obviously it is good management to dispose of surplus of non-producing birds as soon as possible.

4--Don't wait too long before sending meat birds to market -- you may miss the top price!

5--Provide plenty of nests in the laying house - at least one next to each 5 hens.

Our well founded advice will cost you nothing ...and if the products we sell don't make you a profit you will not be asked to buy them.

Court Notes

Mrs. Doris E. Hackley of Clarion asks an absolute divorce from Howard W. Hackley on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. She also asks that she be awarded the custody of four minor children; alimony for her support and for the children as the court may determine. A writ of injunction has been issued restraining the defendant from molesting the plaintiff and family until this action is determined.

Howard Helgevold et al vs. G. L. DeLapp et al. The defendant, Vera Hayer Redenbaugh, for which appearance has been entered by O. M. Slaymaker, R. E. Killmar and D. D. Slaymaker, wherein time was asked to plead, said defendant is given until Sept. 17, 1943, to answer original petition and the cross petition filed herein.

The jury returned the verdict in favor of the defendant, Ed Sorenson, in the Dows automobile damage case. Judgment was rendered against the plaintiff, A .O. Denton for costs amounting to $80.10.

Lester Hester, formerly of Eagle Grove, has been charged with rape by county attorney's information. Hester appeared and stated that he is without funds and asked for counsel. The court appointed John Henneberry to represent him.

Ed Rayle plead not guilty to driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. The case has been continued until the next term of this court at the defendant's request.

Geo. Aldrich plead guilty to driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and was fined $300 and costs. He has been given ninety days in which to pay and his driver's license suspended for sixty days.

An absolute divorce was granted to Mrs. Clara McCormick, also all household goods. Mrs. McCormick is to receive $13,000.00 in full settlement of all claims including alimony.

600 Is 4-H—

the boys and girls 4-H clubs will also aid in planning the membership drive in Wright county. Ed Kirstein and Mrs. R. K. Uhr, chairmen of the girls and boys county club committees, will have charge of the drive.

The statewide campaign is intended to offer every rural boy and girl in the state the opportunity to become a 4-H club member. Paul C. Taff, assistant extension director for youth, has emphasized that this will include not only boys and girls living on farms, but those who make their homes in towns of 2,500 or less and therefore may be expected to have some knowledge of farming, and should find it possible to take part in the food production and conservation activities of the 4-H clubs.

"Forty-four thousand for '44" is the slogan for the statewide campaign. The wartime need for greater production and conservation makes it desirable to increase enrollment in the 4-H clubs. Older persons see also in the campaign an opportunity to assist young folks in getting the training which will help them play their part in the post war world.

Further plans for Wright county's participation in the membership campaign will be announced in the near future.

Stop Hosiery—

tion."

Since last November, when the hosiery collection program was launched, Iowa women have turned in enough hosiery to hold tenth place in the nation's program.

The "Stop" order is given because the silk and nylon being returned is on a declining scale, due largely to the fact that little or no hosiery in silk or nylon has been manufacured in the past several months.

Mrs. Gowdy urges all those having old hosiery at the present time to turn them in to the collecting centers before September 30: At Waddington's Store, C. G. Johnson's, Sue Fritz Hat Shop and Ben Franklin Store.

On behalf of the Woman's Salvage Commitee, Mrs. Gowdy wishes to thank all those who have contributed to the Nation's hosiery collection program, as well as those who have had hosiery collection containers in their places of business. She reminds Belmond women not to forget to turn in all old hosiery before Sept. 30.

Dr. Stevens Succumbs After Severe Illness

Practiced Medicine Here Since 1896

Dr. F. A. Stevens, 79, passed away at his home Friday evening, September 17, after suffering from a severe illness for several weeks. Coming to Belmond in 1896, Dr. Stevens had practiced medicine here almost continuously until the organization of the Belmond hospital, since which time he had served on the hospital staff as anesthetist.

Franklin Augustus Stevens was born in Fairbury, Illinois, on October 26, 1863, to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Mortimer Stevens.

At an early age he desired to become a physician and after completing his preliminary schooling, entered the University of Buffalo, in New York state. He was graduated from this institution's School of Medicine in May, 1890.

He was united in marriage to Essie Dewhurst, of New York State, on January 8, 1891. To this union was born one son, Franklin A. Stevens, of New York City, where he is also a practicing physician.

Dr. and Mrs. Stevens came to Belmond, Iowa, shortly after he had completed his medical training and his internship in the East. He faced the hardships and the vicissitudes of life in those early days and won for himself a host of friends, who, together with Mrs. Stevens and son, mourn his passing. In his association with the Belmond Hospital, he endeared himself to those about him and his absence is deeply felt.

Dr. Stevens was taken to his bed several weeks ago, his suffering becoming more intense as days passed by. During all this time he was unmindful of his own pain but solicitous for the comfort of those caring for him. With patience and calm he awaited the summons for his departure, which took place Friday evening, Sept. 17, 1943, at the age of 79 years, 10 months and 9 days.

In the passing of Dr. Stevens, the community has lost an honorable citizen, a kind neighbor, and a true friend.

Services, at the Stevens home, Monday at 2:30 P. M., were conducted by Rev. O. M. Severseike of Trinity Lutheran Church. Interment was in Belmond Cemetery.

Sees Deer Near Belmond

While traveling his rural mail route last Thursday, Otto Hanson was stopped by Elmer Morris of Kanawha, who wanted him to see the deer he had found near the H. O. Stockseth farm five miles west of Belmond.

It seems that on Wednesday, the M. & St. L. freight had frightened a deer near the railroad bridge just north of the Stockseth farm. The animal, in running across the bridge, slipped and fell into the ditch breaking its neck. Morris heard about it from the train crew and found it the following day.

Can Get Government-Paid Maternity Care At Belmond Hospital

The Belmond Hospital and staff have been inspected in connection with the new government-paid maternity and medical care program, which takes care of medical and hospital expenses up to a certain amount for births to wives of service men under the rank of commissioned officers. Anyone entitled to this service must fill out application blanks which may be secured at the Belmond Hospital.

It is pointed out that his additional fund has been set aside as a supplementary payment to wives of service men when needed and that anyone who is entitled to the new service can qualify regardless of financial standing.

Methodists Witness Note Burning Sunday

A large group of worshippers met in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church on Sunday, Sept. 19, in a service of Thanksgiving to God and to witness the burning of a redeemed note contracted at the time of the remodelling of the church five years ago.

Pete Offers $25.00 War Bond To First Belmond Service Man in Greece

Pete English of the Belmond Candy Kitchen is not allowing the generosity of some of his nationality in other parts of the county to get ahead of him. Offers have been made of a gift in war bonds—in one case to the first Iowa soldier and in another case to the first American soldier to set foot on Greek soil, in connection with the Allied invasion of the European continent.

Pete is ready with the gift of a $25.00 war bond to the first service man from Belmond to set foot in Greece.

FORMER BELMOND MAN PASSES SUDDENLY

Harry Harberts died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday morning, Sept. 21, at Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at Canton, S. Dak., where he has resided for the past 22 years. The body will be brought to Belmond and a prayer service will be held on Saturday, Sept. 25, at the home of his sister, Miss Helen Harberts. Burial will be made in the family lot at Belmond. Obituary will appear in next week's issue.

Block Mothers To Make House-to-House Canvass

Legion Sponsors Rally Day on Wednesday September 29

A clean-up drive of the Third War Loan campaign will be held in Belmond when the Block Mothers make a house-to-house canvass on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Sept. 28 and 29, Roy A. Henderson, chairman of the local committee, announced today. Rural areas surrounding Belmond are making plans to coordinate their house-to-house canvass with the town.

Climaxing this effort to meet the quota of $179,000 assigned the town of Belmond and adjacent rural territory will be a huge Bond Rally Day sponsored by Eimbrink Post of the American Legion. Total Bond sales in the Belmond territory during the Third War Loan to date are $66,156.

The Bond Rally Day program will be held on Wednesday evening of next week, beginning at 8:00 o'clock, and will feature the Belmond band with instrumental solos. Three war heroes, veterans of Guadacanal, will be interviewed by a member of the War Finance Committee, and arrangements are being made to secure the Rev. J. L. Knutson of Ames as speaker. The three war heroes are the same ones who appeared before the assembly at the public school recently.

Block Mothers will meet on Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the City Hall to complete plans for the canvass which begins the following day. All block mothers are expected to be present at this meeting. The block mother system in Belmond is organized under the three wards with Thera Fitts, chairman of Ward 1; Miss Matilda Skovlin, Ward 2; and Mrs. Clark McNeal Ward 3.

Beginning Saturday, September 25, a ticket of admission will be given, with every $25.00 War Bond purchased, to the exhibition of the Japanese two-man suicide submarine which will visit Clarion, on Sunday, October 10, on its nationwide War Bond tour for the U. S. Treasury. The submarine is mounted on a tractor-trailer, 94 feet long, and will be paraded through the streets to the exhibition grounds where it will be on display between 7:00 and 11:00 p. m. These tickets will be available at the First State Bank and the post office.

In order to cooperate to the fullest extent in putting over the Third War Loan in September, the First State Bank of Belmond has announced that it will loan money at the same rate of interest as the bond selected draws and will carry that bond as collateral for the loan. It should be noted that this arrangement can be made with only such bonds as can be used as collateral. Farmers who expect future sales of livestock and grain are those most likely to take advantage of this arrangement.

Pronounce Death From Revolver Shot Was Instant

O. H. Gartin Was An Elderly Belmond Resident

Sheriff R. E. Wilson and County Coroner, Dr. J. B. Walker, were called to Belmond Tuesday morning to investigate the death of Oscar H. Gartin, elderly Belmond resident, who was found dead in the basement of his home by his wife Tuesday morning about 10:30 o'clock.

Gartin's death was instant and was caused by a bullet from a 38 caliber revolver. He had been helping his wife in the basement with some canning. Mrs. Gartin went out to the garden to get some more vegetables and was just outside the door when she heard the shot. Death was pronounced as suicide.

Oscar H. Gartin was born December 22, 1853 and died at the age of 89 years, eight months and 29 days. He came to Belmond about 30 years ago from Goodell where he had operated a hardware store for many years. After moving to Belmond, he carried on the trade of carpenter and was later employed at the Klemme Furniture Store for a considerable time. For the past several years, because of his age and ill health, Mr. Gartin had been inactive and stayed pretty close to home.

Funeral services are Thursday (today) at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the Fulton Funeral Home with the Reverend Foster M. Beck officiating. Burial will be in the Goodell cemetery.

Team Plays Northwood There and Britt Here

Belmond High School's gridders will make the long trek to Northwood tomorrow night to meet the Vikings in their first North Iowa Conference game of the season.

Stung by defeat at the hands of Clarion last Friday, the Broncos are determined to chalk up a victory in their first conference tilt. Coach Lansing has announced one major change in the line-up, switching Campbell from guard to halfback on offense and Shahan from halfback to guard. Defensively their positions will be reversed.

Other members of the starting line-up will be L. Jones, Finn and Dorr in the backfield; Foss or McGuire at center; R. Stockseth or Banning at guard; A. Stockseth and Classick at tackles and Bob Nelson and Foss or Goeman at the ends.

BRITT PLAYS HERE ON TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

The attention of all football fans is called to the fact that the next home game of the Broncos will be next Tuesday night, Sept. 28. Because of schedule difficulties, it was impossible to arrange the Britt game on the usual Friday night.

This contest will be the second North Iowa Conference meeting of the Belmond team. At this writing Britt has not played a game and little is known of their strength. Bud Peterson, mainstay of Britt athletic teams for the past four years, was graduated last Spring.

Broncos Were Defeated Friday by Clarion Cowboys

Taking advantage of breaks that gave them the ball deep in Belmond territory, the Clarion Cowboys defeated Belmond High in the opening football game of the season here last Friday night, with a score of 20 to 0.

A Clarion punt, downed by a Clarion Cowboy, Lunde, gave the ball to the Cowboys on the Belmond 15 yard line late in the first quarter after the officials ruled that Dorr, Belmond's safety man, had first touched the ball.

Shortly after the start of the second quarter this advantage was converted into a touchdown with Clarion's fast halfback, Mickleson, shirting the end to score. Rohr, the Clarion fullback, plunged over for the extra point.

Later in the same quarter, another fumble gave the ball to Clarion in Belmond territory and set the stage for the second touchdown by Mickleson. Again Rohr converted by plunging.

Clarion scored again in the early minutes of the fourth quarter, this time failing to convert. Then in a remarkable drive down the field, the Broncos opened up with a clever passing attack that took the ball from their own 15-yard line to their opponent's five. Jones and Nelson alternated passing the ball with Finn and Nelson receiving. The drive ended when Belmond lost the ball on downs after failing to penetrate the Clarion line with running plays.

Salvation Army Will Make Appeal for Funds In Belmond Next Week

The annual financial appeal of the Salvation Army is being launched this week in Wright county and merchants in Belmond will be called on next week. Major and Mrs. O. W. Knapp will be in charge of the canvass this year.

Major Knapp says, "Our appeal will be for funds with which to carry on our peace-time service as well as our war-time services. The Salvation Army serves on every front of the Allied nations with the exception of Russia. Our program is 12 times greater than in 1914-18."

LEGION MET ON MONDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting of Eimbrink Post No. 35, American Legion, was held Monday night. Twenty members were present, among them some new members. Mayor Kennedy spoke on the problem of juvenile delinquency and asked for the cooperation of the Legion in combatting it, which we all heartily agreed to do. Roy Henderson, chairman of the bond drive, outlined his ideas of a bond rally. A committee was appointed for the rally. Following the business meeting hot dogs and coffee were served by the K. P. S.

"Hoofbeats" To Appear In Independent

October 7th Is The First Issue

"Hoofbeats", the Belmond school paper, will be published as a school section in the Belmond Independent this year, according to arrangements made this week between the publishers of the Independent, and Superintendent Theodore Johnson. The first issue will be Thursday, October 7.

In recent years, the school newspaper staff has printed and published a paper at the school house which has been distributed solely among the students. Since the school is part of the community, it was thought advisable to bring many of the interesting events that happen at the school to the attention of parents and others in the community.

Red Cross Meeting Is Thursday, September 23

Members of the Belmond Red Cross Board are urged to attend a meeting of the Board at the City Hall in Belmond, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 23, at 3:30 o'clock. There will be reports of committees and matters of new business to be discussed.

Farmers Will Discuss Custom Harvesting

List Combine Owners who May Help Those Who Have No Machines

A county-wide meeting has been requested by farmers to discuss rates of custom harvesting of soybeans and corn. The meeting will be held at the High School Assembly in Clarion on Wednesday evening, Sept. 29 at 8:30 p. m.

D. K. Struthers, Agricultural Engineering Specialist of Iowa State College, will reiew at the meeting the studies made at the college on the cost of operating agricultural machines. Mr. Struthers will also have information from other counties where meetings of a similar nature have been held.

Farmers who plan to hire their soybeans or corn harvested, as well as combine and corn picker owners doing custom work, are invited to attend this meeting.

There are approximately 48,000 acres of soybeans in Wright county to be harvested by the 291 combines now listed in the County Extension Office. Over 670 corn pickers will be used in harvesting the county's 136,000 acres of corn.

Weather conditions, labor, skilled operators and available power are factors that will largely influence the ease in which these essential war crops will be harvested.

The survey of combine owners conducted by the County Extension office shows that most owners expect to do custom work. However custom owners who have a mounted type corn picker and one tractor state that neighboring farmers will have to pull the combine if they are to do custom work. Other combine or corn picker

TIME ! ! !

It is too late to do anything now about the poor timing of the Third War Loan, but it would seem as if the national and state heads of such campaigns would have learned by now that TIME is a most important element in putting over any project successfully.

In the spring of this year, the Second War Loan for 13 billion dollars came right on the heels of a gigantic Red Cross Drive and just after the first quarter income tax payment and the first half property tax payments had drained the pockets and bank accounts of a large percentage of the people.

Now this fall, when the government wants even more money -- 15 billion dollars -- the Third War Loan in September coincided with the first income tax declaration, which surprised and jolted every taxpayer by the extent to which it increased the federal income tax burden for the last half of the year.

We are sure that Belmond and Iowa and the U. S. A. will come through and put the Third War Loan over the top by the end of the month. We hope, however, when the Fourth War Loan is needed -- and we know it will be -- that those who plan the campaign keep in mind the important element of TIME.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE!

In these days one hears all kinds of criticism about people, government, mechandise, services, particularly about services both publnc and private. Our railway, bus, postal, telephone services have increased their facilities to the limit and yet these services have been restricted to the individuals who use them because it has not been possible to keep their facilities in step with such greatly increased demands.

On the other hand such services as maid, food, medical, beauty, car, hotel, laundry, etc. have been restricted through loss of personnel. And yet the demands are the same and in many cases greater.

Perhaps a little more understanding is needed, both on the part of those giving service and on the part of the public which demands the service.

The public might educate itself to be satisfied with less -- even gratful with less -- because it understands the shortages of help and equipment.

The so-called public servants can please the public better with less to offer in the way of service if that service is accompanied at all times by best in courtesy.

GOOD NEWS FOR HUNTERS—

A report from the Iowa State Conservation Commission recently had in it good news for our enthusiactic hunters, who have been so anxiously waiting the opening date for hunting ducks on Saturday, September 25.

The report from the Commission says, "Everything points to a bumper croy of waterfowl. A large part of the 1943 Canadian duck crop has survived the hazards of drought, predators, farm operations, and burning, and very few losses are expected from now on. Not a single outbreak of botulism has been recorded this year in Canada.

"In the increase mallards are listed as leaders with pintails, shovellers, teal, canvas-backs, redheads, and gadwalls all in excellent shape. D. U. reports that only one area of some 10,000 square miles was severely hit by drought. It is the conclusion of this organization's observers that more ducks will be on the wing this fall than for many years in the past. The rosy report even suggests the possibility that the goal of 125,000,000 waterfowl winging southward this year is not beyond possibility."

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

The wife of a soldier or other service man may draw a dependency allowance from the government as may other dependents. The husband of a WAC, however, who applied for allowance was told early in August by Washington that the law bars husbands from government payments on account of a soldier wife in service. Beginning September 1, other dependents of a WAC are eligible for assistance. That's giving the husband a brush-off as of little consequence, it seems. —Northwood Anchor.

The biggest mistake Hitler has made since he attacked Poland, which was an inexcusable blunder, he made when he attacked Russia two years ago last June with the expectation of defeating Russia in four or five months. It has been more than two years and three months since Hitler made that mistake and Russia is fast getting the upper hand of the German war machine.—Webster City Freeman.

In recent weeks we have had numerous contacts with prominent state officials. They have all impressed us as very capable men and we are proud that Iowa is so fortunate. It has also given us an opportunity to see what sort of a life they live and observe how little time they have to themselves. Politicians are certainly members of the parlor goldfish family with old cat public ready to stick its paw into the bowl at any time.—Clear Lake Mirror.

Algona in Kossuth county, is to have a two million dollar prison camp. It is to be located three miles west of that town and will, when completed, hold 3,000 prisoners that will be cared for by 500 soldiers and officers of the United States army. Why so much money should be spent in a section this far north that requires such weather tight buildings, and where food is so high priced, and where the land is so productive, is a mystery. Why not quarter these aliens on some of the southern sand where land is next to worthless and where the climate is mild and the food cheaper? That half section of Iowa land turned back to crops would produce a lot of human fodder!—Wright County Monitor.

The Italians say the bombing of their country by the Allies is "barbaric and inhumane". It isn't easy for us to forget though that only a few years ago Mussolini's son Vittorio, a flyer in Ethiopia, gleefully described a bombardment in which he took part: "One group of horsemen gave me the impression of a budding rose unfolding as my bombs fell in their midst and blew them up. It was exceptionally good fun."—Northwood Anchor.

A half million gallons of gasoline are used up every time a hundred American planes bomb the continent of Europe. And so we have gas rationing. But look at the cars on the streets of Fairmont any day in the week, especially on Saturday or Sunday. We haven't even begun to sacrifice on our personal pleasures and comfort to see that the boys over there have enough. As far as this community is concerned, there isn't any gas rationing—yet.—Fairmont Sentinel.

When this war ends a lot of fellows will say, "I wish I had known it was coming this soon, I'd have got a steady job." The end of the war is going to bring a big change in the lives of thousands who have been enjoying a short financial boom at the expense of the taxpayers.—Knoxville Express.

Prittle... Prattle....

Hadn't though much about it, how particular so many people are in getting in on every scheduled news broadcast, until our society editor mentioned how her father-in-law tuned in every news broadcast he could find.

P—P

He gets the 6:30 a. m. news while eating breakfast, the 10 o'clock news if he is home, the 12:30 news while eating dinner, the 6:30 news while eating supper and the 10:15 news at night. But Alex isn't any different than the most of us now days with most 'anything liable to happen in this war.

P—P

Somehow or other we've never acquired the habit of listening regularly to all the scheduled news broadcasts at our house. They generally come at meal times and I'm almost afraid to chew a bit of food for fear the click of my molars will drown out some part of a news item in which the part that I heard makes me wonder what the rest of it was. It's aggravating when that happens. Now if I didn't have any teeth hearing news broadcasts at meal times wouldn't bother me.

P—P

So we keep up on the news through the daily paper that arrives about 7 a. m. While mother gets the breakfast on dad looks over the front page, page 2 and 3, saving the sports and comics 'til the last. About that time breakfast is ready and mother gets the front page while dad reads the comics in a hurry and passes them on to the daughter, who has to know right now what "Dagwood" did today, saving the sports section to read with his coffee.

P—P

There are two sides to this reading while eating. On the anti side is the unsociability it creates although I find it helps to comment on what I'm reading occasionally even if my mouth is full of food. Helps a bit to let the family know you're still there. Then, too, I find I miss the butter with my knife and put my finger in it instead, but that doesn't happen very often because I've gotten so I generally look where Im reaching.

P—P

However, it isn't necessary to take my eyes away from my magazine or book since my hands have been pretty well trained to accurately judge the correct distance from plate to mouth. I like to get my potatoes mashed, my meat cut in the proper pieces, my bread buttered and quartered, in fact everything ready at the beginning so that I can read without taking my eyes from what I'm reading to see what I'm eating.

P—P

Now on the pro side, I've decided that eating and reading helps the digestion of the food, since I'm a fast eater when not reading. Reading and eating at the same time has a tendency to slow up the business of eating. Is that the way you find it? That's all I can say for the pro side of the question, although since I like to read I find I get more of it done when I sandwich it in with my meals.

P—P

But to go back to listening to the news on the radio while eating. I've observed that anyone around the table who dares open his mouth just to ask for something gets it snapped shut at once. There is a tenseness in the air as though everyone is afraid they'll miss something and that seems a bit unsocial too. Besides everything else that it has done, it appears that this war is doing something else to the American family life. They used to sit around the table, eating, visiting, joking and revealing their plans for the day and now we find all that changed, never a word said, everyone stiff and tense with facial expressions changing from anger to delight and then back to anger or some of us sit there with no expression or recognition that anyone else is anywhere near except that voice coming out of the loudspeaker.

FRESHMAN INITIATION

The freshmen of the Alexander high school were initiated by the sophomore class Friday, September 18. Each freshie was dressed in unusually comical garb upon strict and detailed orders from the sophomores. The freshmen were under the complete control of their older schoolmates, and acted only upon their commands. They were even told precisely in what manner they would be permitted to climb the stairs to their classrooms. The climax came in the evening when the intimidated freshmen were forced to perform crazy antics before an audience composed of the high school students and the faculty. Later, however, they were rewarded for their meek obedience with ice cream, cake and sandwiches.

HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Arlene Stoffer was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the Reformed church basement Tuesday evening, Sept. 14. Her marriage to Robert Pals will be an event of the near future. About seventy-five of her friends attended the shower, and presented her with lovely, useful gifts. The evening was spent playing interesting shower games and later refreshments were served by Mrs. Minnie Eden, Mrs. Simon Stoffer and Mrs. Joe Stoffer.

Rev. George Sheils was host to a surprise birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Sheils at the Rev. and Mrs. N. J. O. Boomgaarden home Friday evening, Sept. 17. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Pruel of Clarion and Rev. and Mrs. Harlan Faris of Belmond.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

A reception for the teachers was held Thursday evening, Sept. 16, in the school gymnasium. Following the introduction of the teachers, a community sing led by Rev. George Sheils was enjoyed. The rest of the evening was spent becoming acquainted and playing games. Later, a very nice lunch was served by the Music Mothers.

The Young People's League of the Alexander Reformed Church held their annual ice cream social in the church basement Wednesday evening, Sept. 15. A goodly number attended, and remained to spend the evening socially.

Mrs. Simon Stoffer, Mrs. W. H. Trafford and Mrs. Lowell Trafford, and Rev. and Mrs. Beck, all of Belmond, were business callers in Mason City Thursday.

Chris Schulte and Clifford Hicks of Latimer went to Spencer and Fostoria on a business trip Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Dirksen and Mrs. Etta Peil were callers in Hampton Friday.

The annual mission feast of the St. John's Evangelical Church in Alexander will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 19, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Lunth of Hubbard will give the address.

Mrs. H. A. Peters returned home Tuesday, and is convalescing at home. She feels very well after her trip from the hospital in Des Moines. Mrs. Merlen Correll, who has resigned from her position as stenographer in the Billings General Hospital in Indianapolis, Indiana, will remain here until her mother is stronger.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldinger went to Hampton Sunday afternoon to see Mr. Aldinger's mother, Mrs. Lena Aldinger.

Mrs. Rex Miller of Madison, Wisconsin, spent a few days last week at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoffer. She timed her visit to coincide with the arrival of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Stoffer of Gadsden, Alabama.

Mrs. N. J. O. Boomgaarden's Rochester, Minn., spent part of last week with Rev. and Mrs. Boomgaarden. He returned home Friday.

Chris Schulte was a business caller in Mason City Tuesday.

Mrs. Etta Peil returned to Marshalltown Sunday evening.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold their annual bazaar Friday evening, Oct. 1. They will serve a chicken dinner at six o'clock, and the sale will be held later in the evening.

Rev. N. J. O. Boomgaarden, Marvin Blau, Harry Ostendorf, Bonnie Gunderson, Leona Schmidt, Marilyn Johnson, Malinda Gruis, Lillian Bohlen and Mrs. Henry Johnson were business callers in Mason City Friday. The seven young people graduated from Heidelberg Catechism this spring, and are now having a group picture taken.

RUMMAGE SALE, SEPT. 22

The United Service Women's Club is sponsoring a rummage sale Wednesday afternoon and evening, Sept. 22. The profits from this sale are to be used in the purchase of Christmas gifts for service men.

The Ladies Aid Society of the United chuch will meet Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 29, at the church basement. Hostesses are Mrs. Jess Hagan and Mrs. Forest Gillett.

The Alexander unit of the United Women's Service Club will meet Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, at the school house. Hostesses will be Mrs. L. Van Dusseldorp, Mrs. J. C. Arends and Mrs. Henry Arends.

CHRISTMAS GIFT FUND IS SPONSORED BY U. W. S. C.

The members of the U. W. S. C. had their first Galloping Tea Party on Monday afternoon, Mrs. Wilbur Hansen, Mrs. Noel Jones, Mrs. Simon Stoffer, Mrs. Chris Larsen, Mrs. Fred Rodemeyer, Mrs. Leo Ellison, and Mrs. John Arends gathered at the home of Mrs. Fred Modderman. This Galloping Tea Party is a novel idea used by the United Women's Service Club to raise money with which to buy Christmas presents for men in the service. Twice each week a member of the U. W. S. C. drives around and pick up a carful of other members. They then decide to whose home they will go for that afternoon's tea party. While having tea with her, they take up a collection which goes into the Christmas-gift Fund. The interesting factor of this project is that the whole thing is done on the spur--of-the-moment; nothing is planned beforehand.

BELMOND LOCALS

..Mrs. Ed Spurling, Miss Ida Mae Quandt and Mrs. Lanny Hokel were Clarion callers Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McGuire returned home Sunday from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Leslie at Waverly.

Mrs. H. C. Thompson and Miss Daisy Cameron visited Mrs. H. M. Hoag at Mason City Thursday and Friday last week.

Mrs. Tuck Parker and Mrs. Otto Dorr visited H. Turner and Mrs. Rachel De Muth at Dubuque from Saturday until Monday a week ago.

The 'A and Eagle' Has Learned to Fly

Impassable roads? Mountainous territory? An urgent need to move fighting men, supplies and even jeeps by air? Our armed forces have found the answer. It is one of the thrilling new developments of the war—the use of gliders, which are now being produced in imposing numbers.

Can skilled metal workers and cabinet makers turn quickly from manufacturing refrigeration equipment to making glider parts? Yes indeed!

Our Refrigeration Division volunteered long ago to help Uncle Sam build gliders. The shops that once made equipment for ice cream and frozen food dealers the country over were revamped completely and old and new workers trained for this important enterprise.

INCIDENTALLY, our Refrigeration Division was created many years ago as a result of experience gained in making millions of tons of ice to produce the world's most popular beer.

Nuptial Vows Solemnized

In a private home ceremony, Rev. W. F. Wills, pastor of First Presbyterian church in Cedar Falls, solemnized the nuptial vows Friday evening, September 10, 1943 at 8 o'clock, taken by Miss Helendora Refshauge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Refshauge, 1906 College Street, Cedar Falls, and Corporal Fred F. Kercheval, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Kercheval of Rowan, Iowa.

The bride wore a black jacket over a black and white shepherd check skirt. With it she wore a white chiffon blouse, a black halo hat and accessories. Her corsage was of briarcliff and white roses.

The couple left immediately on a short wedding trip. Wednesday morning, the 15th, Corporal Kercheval left for Nashville, Tenn., where he is stationed with the 331st Medical Regiment in the medical corps.

Mrs. Kercheval is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College, where she was a member of Eilen Richards Club and Tau Sigma Delta, social sorority. She is on the teaching staff at the Tripoli, Iowa, school, where she teaches home economics and general science.

The groom also attended Iowa State Teachers College prior to his induction into the service while in his senior year. He was a member of the Delta Iota Chapter of Beta Beta Beta, National honorary biological fraternity.

Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Linaweaver of Rowan celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, September 14, 1943, with a family dinner at noon and open house from 3 to 5 p. m. for their friends and relatives.

Their two sons, Harvey of Oakland, Calif., who came for the occasion, and Wilbur of Belmond, received the guests.

Mrs. Wilbur Linaweaver assisted by her daughter, Marilyn and Mrs. Floyd Pierce, and nephew, Donald Crosser, served refreshments to their many guests who came to extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Linaweaver were united in marriage Sept. 14, 1893, at Princeton, Illinois, and started farming for themselves the following spring at Mineral, Illinois, where they resided for seven years. They moved to Sheffield, Illinois, where they stayed until 1907, then coming to Rowan, Iowa, where they have since resided.

Throughout the day the honored couple received many gifts, flowers and cards.

Honor Mr. and Mrs. Merle Whipple

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vestweber entertained at an indoor picnic, on Sunday, September 19th, in honor of Mr and Mrs. Merle Whipple of San Francisco, Calif., who are spending a few days visiting in this vicinity.

The 53 relatives and friends brought the dinner of fried chicken and trimmings, which was served cafeteria style at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Whipple is the former Iola Vestweber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Vestweber of Latimer, and twin sister of Mrs. Harold Watkins of Alexander. Mr. Whipple is the oldest of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Whipple, who are all serving in the U. S. Navy. He is on a destroyer and has just returned from duty in the North Pacific. Mr. and Mrs. Whipple left by train Monday for California where he will be assigned to new duty.

Discuss False Rumors About Scrap Salvage

Facts Indicate Scrap Is Essential

Rumors are those horrid little floating bits of comment unauthorized and unverified, whose retelling results in a havoc of confusion and loss of time to many good causes. To meet a black rumor with a definite statement of fact is the surest way to bring it to an end.

You Have Heard—That the country has gathered more scrap iron than it can use, that it will never be shipped until it is too late to be of use.

But The Fact Is—Every ounce of metal scrap is almost as precious as gold. Rumor failed to take into account that scrap can be moved from some communities faster than others because of better transportation and shipping facilities.

You Have Heard—That nutritionists everywhere are advising that all fats and grease be kept carefully for home use; that every person's diet should contain large amounts of that precious substance.

But The Fact Is—They are only asking you to share it so the supply of glycerine may be kept intact for the manufacture of explosives and medicines so critically needed every moment of time. Don't let the alibi of home needs slow down your interest in a still heavier collection during September.

You Have Heard—That the tin can pick-ups are slowing down everywhere and the need for processed cans is growing less.

But The Fact Is—Every passing day the need increases and also that every day brings us nearer to a solution of the pick-up collection. Throwing away any of these tin cans endangers the lives of our boys today, tomorrow and for the duration.

You Have Heard—That women are neglecting contributions to other organizations, such as the Red Cross, Civilian Defense, and Bond and Stamp sales, etc., by spending so much time in salvage work.

But The Fact Is—So engrossed are you in seeing that your boy and your neighbor's boy do not lack for ammunition that your interest spills over into these other avenues and helps to support them too.

You Have Heard—That the various state war work offices are filled with highly paid employees who have little work to do and whose time is wasted.

But The Fact Is—Neither the chairman of the State Salvage division nor the chairman of the Women's division receive remuneration and only such few persons as are assigned professional work to do are on the pay roll.

We are united to win the war. Here in Iowa in more than 700,000 home are Salvage conscious. Let us vow to stick together, giving rumors the air on every occasion, and increasing our collections of Scrap, Tin Cans, Fats and Grease every day of the week till it's over over there. 86 counties in Iowa turned in also 90,000 tons of heavy scrap during the first half of this year. 13 counties in Iowa failed to turn in even one ounce of scrap during this same period. Only one out of every four housewives turned in any grease or fats.

The war production board is asking for 100,000 of heavy scrap from Iowa for the last half of the year. This means we shall have to collect about 75 pounds per capita in Wright county.

Iowa can go over the top in all collections with each one keeping in mind the ever present need for all out saving of tin cans, grease fats, and scrap iron.

Take the grease and fats to your assigned collection depots—watch for announcements of local collections of tin cans and scrap iron. If you do not care to wait for collections to be made the tin cans may be taken to any grocery store where trucks will call call for them as they have in the past.

Wright County Women's Salvage Committee.

Things To Do In September

1--This country is worth fighting for- You can fight with your $$$ if you can't with a gun. BUY War Bonds and Stamps 'til it hurts . . . be a 10 per center (more if you can)

2--Make a final check of all laying houses and laying equipment; Pullets should be housed by October 1.

3--It takes from 6 to 9 lbs. of feed per month to keep a mature hen or male -- obviously it is good management to dispose of surplus of non-producing birds as soon as possible.

4--Don't wait too long before sending meat birds to market -- you may miss the top price!

5--Provide plenty of nests in the laying house - at least one next to each 5 hens.

Our well founded advice will cost you nothing . . . and if the products we sell don't make you a profit you will not be asked to buy them.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF WRIGHT COUNTY

In order to clarify certain rumors regarding the advertising run under the name of the Wright County War Finance Committee—as Publicity Chairman of this Committee I wish to state no money was spent on these advertisements by the Wright County War Finance Committee but all were contributed by Clarion Business Firms and the Wright County Monitor—and requested that they be run under the name of the War Finance as the Donors felt the name of the committee would carry more weight than that of individuals.

Farmers Discuss—

owners are willing to do custom work if they can arrange with neighbors to use their equipment to do fall plowing while their tractors are busy on combining or corn picking. If these arrangements can be made custom machines can put in longer hours during desirable weather in harvesting the corn and soybeans.

Farmers wanting custom work done should see machine owners as soon as possible so that combine and corn picker owners will know definitely the acreage of beans and corn their machines are expected to harvest.

The following is the list of combine owners in the Belmond vicinity on record in the County Extension office. Any mistakes in the list or combines not listed should be reported to the County Extension office at Clarion:

Belmond Swamped Britt With Score Of 64 To 0

Defeat Northwood Team 12 to 0

Belmond high school swamped Britt here in football Tuesday night under a deluge of touchdowns 64 to 0, after opening their conference campaign last Friday night by defeating Northwood there 12 to 0.

The Broncos galloped around and through a lighter, green Britt eleven at will, scoring 10 touchdowns with 4 conversions. Britt was held to one first down and did not threaten to score during the contest.

Sparking the play in the first quarter was Larry Jones, Coach Lansing's newly discovered ball carrier. From scrimmage Jones cut off tackle for twenty yards for his first touchdown, intercepted a pass and raced 35 yards for his second, and returned a punt 40 yards for his third.

Jack Campbell, speed merchant who plays guard on defense and halfback on offense, also scored in the first quarter racing around right end from the 13-yard line to cross the goal line.

In the second quarter Coach Lansing broke up his high scoring combination by sending in numerous substitutes, but Belmond chalked up one more touchdown when Bob Nelson made a sensational catch of Larry Dorr's pass and cleverly sidestepped the Brit secondary all the way to the goal.

It was only a matter of seconds before the scoring began in the second half. "Fritz" Shahan, the fastest man on the squad, took the opening kickoff and tore down the sideline 75 yards for a touchdown.

Orland Finn, fullback, provided the heavy artillery for Belmond in the second half. He smashed through center 15 yards for one marker, and a few minutes later went over from the 7 yard line. He scored a third touchdown in the closing minutes of play when he took a "sleeper" pass from Jones near the sidelines and maneuvered his way through the secondary to the goal. This play was good for 50 yards. Finn added three points to his total by bucking over for three points after touchdowns.

Richard Mickelson, who has been out for football only two weeks, contributed several good runs as a substitute halfback and plunged over for one of the touchdowns in the last half.

Broncos To Play Garner Friday Night

With two conference victories under their belts within five days, Belmond's spirited Broncos will go after number three tomorrow night when they travel to Garner to meet the Bulldogs.

Anything could happen in this game when two high-scoring teams clash in the attempt to keep their respective slates clean. Neither has been defeated in North Iowa Conference competition.

Garner established what appeared to be a record for the year when they trounced Buffalo Center last Friday night by the score of 54 to 0, only to see an even higher mark set when Belmond annihilated Britt to the tune of 64 to 0 here Tuesday.

Defeated last year by the Broncos by four touchdowns, Garner will be out for revenge. Most of last year's team is playing again this year, including Schneider and Greiman, backfield stars.

METHODIST SUPPER IS TONIGHT

4-H Club Leaders Plan Membership Campaign From October 4 to 9

Boys and girls county 4-H club committees, club leaders and assistants and county officers will meet in the courtroom of the court house at Clarion on Thursday evening, Sept. 30. This will be the kick-off meeting for the enrollment campaign to be held during the week of October 4th to 9th.

Heading the 4-H enrollment campaign will be Mrs. R. K. Uhr, girls county 4-H club chairman, and Ed Kirstein, boys county 4-H club chairman. 4-H club members goals for the campaign week are 400 4-H boys and 200 4-H girls enrolled. This will be an increase of 200 4-H club members for the county. Plans for the campaign call for visits to be made to all of the rural schools of the county where 4-H club work will be explained and enrollment cards and information distributed to the eligible boys and girls so that they can discuss club work with their parents and enroll in the 4-H Club program. Local school superintendents will be asked to cooperate in the campaign by allowing a short time during some period for a discussion of 4-H club work.

Hansen Is Following Football In The Navy

George C. Hansen, S 1|c, finds the routine of Navy duty at the Naval Personnel Center at Pleasanton, California, pleasantly relieved by his interests in sports. He writes the following:

"The Pleasanton Bluejackets played their first football game yesterday against the University of San Francisco, winning by a score of 13 to 0. The team went into the game as underdogs, with some sports writers predicting that we would lose by 26 points. The station team is coached by Lt. J. A. Bausch, the former Kansas great back in 29-30-31. He is quite an individual. Most of the team live in my barracks."

University of Life At Congregational Church Begins Sunday Evening

The first session of the University of Life, something new for Belmond, will be held at the Sands Memorial Congregational church this Sunday evening, October 3rd.

The mothers of the Pilgrim Fellowship, who are serving supper for those attending the Pilgrim Fellowship Rally, are preparing enough food so as to serve all of the Belmond people who want to come to the church for supper at 6:15. (The Rally will be over at 6 o'clock.) Supper will be 35c, and any profit which is made from serving the Rally or Belmond people will go towards the Pilgrim Fellowship Camp Fund for the summer of 1944.

At 7 o'clock five interest groups will be offered in the University of Life: Cooking, Hobbies, Post War World, A Study of the Book of Revelation, Sewing.

At 8 o'clock every one will gather in the sanctuary for a fifteen minute sing. Dismissal will be at 8:15.

October 4 To 10 Is National Fire Prevention Week

Of Special Significance To Farmers

The week of Oct. 4 to 10 is a week of special significance to farmers. It is Fire Prevention Week, so designated by presidential proclamation.

The importance of fire prevention to the farmers, particularly in a time of manpower shortages and the need for farm buildings is made evident by the fact that ten lives are lost in farm fires every day in the United States and a farm building catches fire every fifteen minutes.

Because it was difficult even in peacetime for organized fire-fighting help to reach the scene of a farm fire in time to bring it under control, and because acute manpower shortage now is being felt in rural areas, farmers are urged by the Department of Agriculture and the National Fire Protection Association to make their property as fire-safe as possible as their part in Fire Prevention Week.

The NFPA lists eight hazards that cause the majority of farm fires and that can be eliminated. Every farmer should seek out the following hazards and lay plans to do away with them:

Flammable roofs, defective heating systems, electrical equipment, matches and cigarettes, gasoline and kerosene, rubbish, spontaneous ignition of hay, lightning.

Ten H. S. Students Injured In Automobile Accident Near Kanawha

Ten high school students were injured Friday noon near Kanawha when a tire on the car in which they were riding blew out, causing the driver to lose control. After turning over twice the vehicle landed in the ditch injuring none of the students seriously, except Audrey Abbas, daughter of Fred Abbas, who remained unconscious in a Mason City hospital for several days. At present she is reported to be recovering.

The accident happened as the students were returning from the Steve Schilling farm near Kanawha. (k)

With The Boys In Service

BOYS FROM HOME—BUDDIES IN ENGLAND

Two men who live but six miles apart at home and have been friends all their lives sat side by side at a gathering of Hawkeyes of Iowa at the American Red Cross Mostyn Club in London recently, according to news received from the American Red Cross news service. Known as "the twins" at their station they go everywhere together. They were inducted into the army together, sailed on the same ship, have the same rank and drove in to the dinner in the same Jeep. Pfc. Walton Peterson of Belmond and Pfc. Virgil W. Koenen of Meservey believe in the "all for one and one for all" theory. Every time Walton is offered another stripe he refuses it until Virgil gets one and vice versa. "Guess we'll just keep our Pfc.'s after all" smiled Walton. Said Virgil: "It's first class with me-"

Asked to state what was good about Iowa S|Sgt. Richard J. Kroon replied. "tall corn and good people."

Greetings were sent to Governor B. B. Hickenlooper.

WAS IN AFRICA SINCE CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Charles Gealow received a letter Monday from her son, Pfc. George Gealow, saying that he had arrived in Boston, Mass., a few days before. Gealow has been in North Africa since Christmas.

Navy Corpsman Will Complete Medical Education

Mrs. Edith Leinbach received word this week that her grandson, Robert McGowan has been sent by the Navy to Minnesota University where he will enter upon a six year medical course.

Corpsman McGowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. McGowan, received his pre-medic training at Coe College. He joined the Navy last spring going from this county to Farragut, Idaho, for his boot training. Grades received by him in examinations taken after completion of further training in San Diego were high enough to make him eligible to complete his college education. In return, McGowan will be a member of the Navy for six years after receiving his degree at the University.

Presented With Good Conduct Medal

Sgt. H. F. Jacobmeyer of this city has been awarded a Good Conduct Medal according to word received by his parents here. Sgt. Jacobmeyer was one of a group of 34 men in his regiment honored in this way for their unusual capacity to produce the desired results through exact performance of duty. The presentation was made by their commanding officer, Colonel Thomas L. Allen.

Bob Brady, student at V-12 officer's training school at Ames, was home for the week end.

Duran Hill, air cadet, returned to San Antonio, Saturday after spending four days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Hill.

ALEXANDER

Pvt. Walter Blau has arrived safely somewhere in North Africa. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blau, received their first letter from him since several weeks ago when he was still in this country. He wrote that he likes it there, and that he finds the country, the people and their customs very interesting.

GOODELL

Cpl. Jack Hubbard came Thursday from Fort Riley, Kansas, and will enjoy a two weeks furlough with his parents.

T|Sgt. Bill Butts left Sunday for Camp Hood, Texas, following a 15 day furlough with local relatives.

Pvt. Henry Emmons of Dodge Center, Kansas, spent the fore part of the week with his wife and baby at the Sherwood home.

Bill Whitaker, grandson of the McNutts, has been transferred from Texas to a camp in Nevada.

ROWAN

Richard J. Fruh, of Farragut, Idaho, got home Sunday on a 15-day furlough, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fruh.

Corp. Elwin Lunning returned home to Tampa, Florida, after having a 15 day furlough with his par-

P T A Held First Meeting Last Monday

Start Membership Drive This Week

The P. T. A. held its first meeting of the current school year in the high school auditorium Monday night. The new president, Mrs. Harold Johnson, presided at the meeting.

Following the business meeting, the following program was presented: Welcome to the new faculty members by Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell; presentation of corsages to teachers and superintendent, Mrs. Roy Henderson and Mrs. R. H. Gowdy; flute solo, Mary Louise Hardwick; humorous skit, Doris Christie and Betty Green; vocal solos, Lorraine Quigley. Miss Jensen accompanied the musical numbers. A social hour was enjoyed with refreshments being served by a committee of which Mrs. S. P. Leinbach was chairman.

During this week and next a membership drive will be conducted under the direction of Mrs. Reynold Kinseth. It is urged that every parent of school children or anyone interested in our school and our children's welfare join the P. T. A. and support its activities by being present at each meeting. The next meeting will be held on the fourth Monday in October.

County War Chest Drive To Begin On October 18

Farmers Solving Labor And Machine Shortage By Exchanging Work

Farmers in Wall Lake township are solving the labor problem and machine shortage in harvesting soy beans and corn by exchanging work. Amos Barrick of Blairsburg owns both a corn picker and combine. Even though he himself cannot operate both machines at the same time the combine and corn picker will be utilized to fullest advantage. Mr. Barrick will operate the corn picker and Alva Denton will haul the corn from the picker. Frank and Floyd Welker will run the combine. Joe Bell, another neighbor, will use the machines and assist wherever he is needed. Full crews will be operating all the time. If any fall plowing remains to be done they will all assist with it.

A similar exchange of work between neighbors to keep combines and corn pickers operating at full capacity is being worked out in all parts of Wright county. In Norway township Gerhard Thompson's corn picker will pick more corn than ever this year. While he operates the corn picker his neighbors for whom he is doing the custom picking will take care of his fall plowing.

Plenkett Brothers in Boone township have a combine and corn picker with only one tractor to operate both machines. They are willing to do custom work in addition to their own providing they can get someone to assist them with their fall plowing. It will be necessary to keep all of Wright

Thomas Hood To Head Belmond Drive

A meeting of the Executive Committee and town and township chairman of the Wright County War Chest was held in Clarion, Wednesday night to make further plans for the War Chest Drive which will begin on Monday, October 18.

Thomas Hood, chairman of the drive for the town of Belmond has announced that $1807 is Belmond's share of the county quota of $20,000. Quotas assigned to townships in the vicinity of Belmond are as follows: Pleasant, $652; Iowa, $723; Belmond, $718, and Grant, $622.

We are being asked to give to the USO and the various United Nations relief funds through our own county campaign for the National War Fund, county chairman, E. F. Bisbey says. Bisbey says further, "As a nation we are asked to give $125,000,000. That is little enough for us to give for our boys and girls in service through the USO, War Prisoners Aid and the other appeals included in the National War Fund. It is little enough to give for the peoples of the United Nations, some of whom have been suffering for six years."

FARIS TO BELMOND FOR FIFTH YEAR

At the annual Methodist Conference held at Fort Dodge last week, appointments of ministers revealed that the Reverend H. W. Faris of Belmond will return to the Belmond pastorate for his fifth year.

Adele Eisler Is New Child Welfare Worker

The county board of supervisors announces the appointment of Adele Eisler as full time child welfare worker in Wright County. She will have the same office in the court house formerly occupied by Jean Coffey. Her duties are to carry on the child welfare service handled so efficiently by Miss Coffey.

The office has been vacant for a month, since Miss Coffey left Clarion in July to join the overseas unit of the American Red Cross.

Miss Eisler had eight years of previous experience in welfare work, and a year of special training for child welfare. She will work in close cooperation with the Board of supervisors, county officials, and those interested in child welfare problems. The program will continue to be one of service to children and parents, and a furtherance of community programs in the interest of child welfare.

Hyde, Emil Jakobs, Lillian Smith, Iowa township; Archie Lee, Belmond township, Nellie Luick, Pleasant township.

Hansen Describes First Trip To South Pacific

Initiation On Crossing Equator Makes Impression

George C. Hansen, S 1|c, who returned to California recently after two and one-half months in the Southwest Pacific, writes some description of his first trip on sea duty. . . .

I have been promising a little write-up on my first trip into the Southwest Pacific, and this I will do in installments.

There are a number of things that stand out as far as our voyage was concerned. For instance, the initiation given to all men crossing the equator for the first time, the submarine chasing us into port Tongatabu in Friendly Islands, the beautiful port of Pago Pago (natives spell it Pango Pango.) The harbor runs inland and forms a horseshoe with mountains on both sides that are about three thousand feet high. This place is in American Samoa.

The first place we anchored, after being out to sea for 22 days was New Caledonia, and I can frankly say my first view of a South Sea Island was very disappointing. I was looking for a beautiful island with a lot of green trees and attractive scenery. This island probably is one of the most barren strips of land in that area. Our next stop was at Tongatabu—which I tell about later—and I soon realized that my knowledge of the South Sea Islands is something you read about but seldom see.

Our third stop was at a very unusual island (name withheld) and what made this island so unusual was a coral reef extending entirely around it with only a small opening for ships to enter, the entrance having a peculiar bend. A ship had to pass through at the proper time to avoid disaster.

(—) days after we went under the Golden gate bridge and headed into the beautiful water of the Pacific—at times it isn't so beautiful—known as the dark blue Pacific, we crossed the equator, and I didn't fall out of my sack as we crossed it.

I'll tell you about the initiation of "Pollywogs" into that great order of King Neptune's, Davey Jones. After you have become a "Shellback", a notation is made on the Navy records so that you don't have to be initiated again. I can tell you once is enough. If you can show proof that you have been initiated, then you are allowed to help with the mysterious demonstration.

We had 128 troops besides the Armed Guard Crew who particl-

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

In connection with National Newspaper Week, which is October 1 to 8, we thought it would not be out of the way to reprint at this time the contents of an advertisement which appeared in a recent issue of the Omaha (Nebraska) World - Herald in praise of country newspapers. The statements made in this ad are applicable to little newspapers in Iowa generally and to the Independent in Belmond specifically, just the same as they are to Nebraska newspapers, to which the World-Herald ad referred.

"Your Home Town Newspaper"

Large or small, it's YOUR newspaper.

I's editor and publisher live in your community. Its staff members are your neighbors. You meet them on the street or at the movies. They shop at your grocery. Their children go to school with yours.

They report the comings and goings and doings of the folks who live on your street or in your township.

Because they rub elbows with you every day, they know the problems of your community. Your interests are their interests, your aspirations their aspirations, and your battles their battles.

They offer the service and leadership which only a home institution can provide.

They are loyal Nebraskans, and "there is no place like Nebraska." They love the Nebraska scene and the Nebraska way of life. When tomorrow dawns and Johnny comes marching home, these newspaper folk will be out in front leading the way toward a happier and more prosperous future.

For your own good, for the good of your own town, for the good of your state, subscribe to your home town newspaper.

Read it.

And support it!"

COOPERATION WILL GET THE JOB DONE—

Even with the problems of cultivating and harvesting huge crops this year without a chance to replace machinery that has worn out or become inefficint, Iowa farmers are still in pretty good shape so far as equipment is concerned.

Take Wright county for instance. We are told that there are 291 combines in the county to harvest approximately 48,000 acres om soybeans and 670 corn pickers to take care of 136,000 acres of corn.

Effective -cooperation between owners of machines and those who do not have combines and corn pickers is being planned. Such cooperation, together with favorable fall weather conditions, should insure the harvesting of Wright county's bean and corn crop with satisfaction.

Housewives all over the country must have been as busy during the summer as those in Belmond, canning vegetables from their victory gardens in quantities hitherto unsurpassed. A statement has been made that home canned vegetables this year will equal the total output of commercial vegetable canners.

RETALIATION—

What we have always expected from our inhuman and devilish enemies—the Nazis and the Japs— is certainly happening just now in Italy, with the German army retaliating against their former allies the Italians, who have turned against them and are now fighting with the British and American invaders.

Burning cities, making millions of innocent civilians homeless, unloosing all the horror that accompanies such total destruction won't help the fleeing Nazis any, but still they continue to burn, murder and destroy.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Why is Berlin so important that it would be considered good business to sacrifice as many as 58 great bombers on a single night over that remote target? And 48 planes on a single mission a week later? Well, here are some of the answers to that fair question:

Berlin is by far the greatest manufacturing center in Europe.

About 2,000,000 people in Berlin are engaged in the manufacture of equipment for the German armed forces, compared with approximately 1,500,000 workers in the Ruhr engaged in heavy war industries.

Berlin now has the biggest output of any German industrial center in electrical engineering products and cables of all kinds.

Three locomotive works there produced 1-3 of the total German output.

The output of precision instruments—such as range-finders, bombsights, compasses—was the largest in Germany.

There were 4 aircraft factories turning out Focke - Wulf, Dornier, Henschel and Heinkel machines.

Rheinmetall Borsig, next to Krupps, the biggest armament manufacturer in Germany, had a branch in Berlin which turned raw steel into finished products for the forces.

Tanks, machine tools, radio equipment and searchlights were made in the area, which also had important clothing and chemical industries and vast works making compressed air brakes.

Berlin is the biggest railway center in central Europe, with 14 main lines radiating from it.

As a junction of inland waterways, it is second only to Duisberg, which handles the geatest tonnage of inland water-borne traffic in Europe. —Mason City Globe-Gazette.

Christian faith is playing a large part in sustaining the morale of soldiers on the fighting front. It is said the mere presence of a chaplain inspires men in battle. . . Chaplains take all the risks that other men in the armed forces take, while aiding the wounded and dying under enemy fire. One chaplain had his eyeglasses shattered by a bullet and two bullets passed through his raincoat in the Africa fighting. He said smiles always wreathed the faces of soldiers when he appeared on the firing line.—Cresco Times.

Those German soldiers in Russia are getting so much practice by being chased toward home that they will soon be in shape to run as fast as the Italians when the Greeks were after them. "The wicked flee when no man pursueth," but as a New Yorker, by the name of Dr. Parkhurst put it some years ago, "They make better time when somebody is after them." —Webster City Freeman.

The story of the creation of the world is told in Genesis in 400 words. The world's greatest moral code—the Ten Commandments—contains only 297 words. Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address is but 266 words in length. The Declaration of Independence required only 1,321 words to set up a new concept of freedom.

The office of price administration uses 2,500 words to announce a reduction in the price of cabbage seed. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

:-The "Crow's Nest"-:

By George C. Hansen S 1|c

After about two and one-half months sea duty with an Armed Guard Crew on a cargo ship, I am now working in the Welfare Department at the Naval Personnel Distribution Center, Pleasanton, California My present job is layout and make-up man on the "Fleet City News." When I first reported at the Armed Guard Center, Treasure Island, they tried to ship me out again, but I got straightened out when I showed them my transfer papers.

I really am happy to be back in the good old U. S. A. However, my experience on this first trip to the South Pacific was something I will never forget. The boys in my crew were the best outfit in the Pacific waters. I hope I will meet some of them when this is all over.

It has been terribly hot here, and it is so barren that it seems even hotter than it actually is. (They should call this place the Dust Bowl of the west coast.) Tonight I am going to get my dirty clothes all cleaned up. When I was on the ship, washing days were few and far between.

I have met the new protestant chaplain, Fred J. Landock, Lt. (j. g.) He came from Rockwell, Iowa, and has a number of friends in Belmond including Rather Ormsby, Reverend Knoploh, as well as Reverend Huck who used to be in Belmond. He had also met my good friend Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette.

Running this machine (typewriter) is a lot different from the type of work I have been doing the past three months. I realize more than ever, since my return to the states, the tremendous tasks we still have before us. We brought back boys that had been gone from the states for 23 months, and some had been stationed on a (blanket-blank) island, in plain words a hell-hole, in the Southwest Pacific.

I found mail from home waiting me at some of the ports we touched in the Southwest Pacific, one letter from my mother reached me at one of these Island ports and contained a newspaper clipping with reference to her work in the Humboldt Legion Auxiliary:

"Humboldt's oldest member is Mrs. Nelsine Hansen, a great-grand mother, who had a son in World War I, and has a son and grandson in this war. She is unit chaplain, and very active, getting most new members in their drive and buying $300.00 in war bonds."

NOVELTY DEP'T.: The Rock Island depot now has a new coat of paint. There's an up and coming railroad. . . shortage of shells no worry to these hunters during the duck season,—Roy Henderson got three with one shot, Pete English followed with two from the same shell. . . George Hansen, now in the States, has new address,—it's Welfare Dep't., N. P. D. C. Pleasanton, Calif. . . citizens petition council for special vote on city recreation center including swimming pool, six cement tennis courts, band shell and permanent seats, construction to take place immediately after the war . . . new sewage disposal plant will be built and river front cleaned up and landscaped after Hitler & Co. laid away under six feet of sod.

"No editor," says the Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune, "has hit the nail on the head so accurately concerning the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers as Lou Gardner, author of 'Left to Write.'"

"Drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers has been batted, kicked, raised, lowered, pushed, pulled, hammered and worked on until everyone is about worn out with on again, off again, gone again. Such fathers have been drafted and are now serving in the armed forces.

What is the sense of all this nonsense, if an absurd expression may be used? Muddling has kept thousands of fathers expectant, unable to make plans, unable to sit or to stand, with uncertainty eating away at their nerves. If they are needed why not take them: If they are not needed why not so order? At least give them a chance to settle. The time to take decisive action is long past due."

A Belmond man, so we hear, thought it was high time he was teaching his sixteen-year-old son something about the facts of life, so he called him into the living room and said: "My boy, I wish to have a serious talk with you about some sex problems." . The boy looked at his father in a rather peculiar manner and replied: "Well Dad, I don't know whether I can be of much help to you or not, but what is it you want to know:"

To the Prattler's desk last week came this threat. "To the editors: "If you don't print this item this week I'm going to stop the paper. E. R."

The item in question follows: Prof. and Mrs. S. M. Teel of Missoula, Montana, are the parents of a son, Stanley Nicholas, born September 13. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ramsay.

Needless to say the item was printed in "Hello World" last week as we can't have the wife of one of the editors stopping the paper.

Was tempted, though, to put the announcement in this way: "Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ramsay of Belmond are the grandparents of a son, Stanley Nicholas, born to Prof. and Mrs. S. M. Teel of Missoula, Montana, Sept. 13.

Fire Insurance Was Never More Important Than Now

MUCH OF YOUR PERSONAL PROPERTY COULD NOT BE REPLACED NOW IF DESTROYED BY FIRE!-!

With so many articles used in our everyday lives now on the ration list, anything lost by fire will be difficult to replace. This means that every item of your property should be fully covered by fire insurance, then the loss will be cushioned by good hard cash. None of us can afford to have a day go by, especially now that winter is near, without full protection against fire losses.

DO YOU KNOW. . .that fire causes daily destruction of 930 homes, 96 farm buildings, 5 churches, 5 schools, 2 theaters and 1 hospital in this country?

Oct. 3 - 9 Is National FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Insurance rates are really very low . . . Why take a chance when less than $5.00 may be enough to cover your property fully?

MY UNCLE SAYS
Good livestock depends on three things: Feed, Breed and Care.
Of these three things, good feeding is known to be one of the most important. Without that, care and good breeding are thrown to the wind. A combination of proteins, vitamins and minerals must be fed with farm grains in order to maintain health and meet the present day demands for rapid growth and economical gains.
BIG GAIN MINERAL STOCK FOOD for all livestock is a true value feed—blending carefully selected proteins, vitamins and minerals in one bag skillfully combined to balance with your home grain. Ask your dealer, or the man who feeds it, about results obtained with Big Gain.

Stoffer-Pals Nuptials Read In Alexander Church

In a beautiful candlelight service before an altar of asters and yellow dahlias Arlene Stoffer and Robert Pals were joined in marriage by a single ring ceremony performed by the Reverend N. Boomgaarden in the Alexander Reformed church on the twenty-first birthday of the groom, Friday, September 24, at eight o'clock. The couple was attended by the bride's sister, Mrs Harold Ellefson of Des Moines, and the groom's father, Mr. Hannas Pals.

The bride wore a powder blue flannel street length dress with black accessories, complemented with a corsage of red roses. The groom was dressed in a brown suit and wore a white carnation in his lapel. The matron of honor was attired in a brown suit with a corsage of galardia and the groomsman was dressed in a blue suit with a white carnation.

The immediate family attended the wedding and returned after the ceremony to the Engle Stoffer home for a reception. (a)

Paint In The Fall!
8 Good Reasons Why
The early fall months are the best in the year for painting. Keep the following good reasons WHY in mind. And by all means, use DIAMOND to insure long wear and satisfaction.
1.
Wood on frame buildings thoroughly dried out. Other structural type buildings, masonry, stucco and concrete dryer than in the spring.
2.
3.
Fewer gnats, bugs, etc. in the fall.
4.
There is practically no deterioration to newly painted surfaces during winter.
5.
Gives added protection to surface when most needed.
6.
7.
8.
Gutters and downspouts and roofs can be looked over and made ready for winter; oftimes saving costly repairs and plaster and interior decoration.

NOW

IS A GOOD TIME TO LET PEOPLE KNOW YOU HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using.
Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.

Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.

Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.

Possibly it is an electric refrigerator, or a length of rubber hose.

Or a good used automobile tire or bird dog.

ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.

And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

Board Proceedings

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, September 2, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in special session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, with the County Auditor in attendance. Absent, Smith.

Moved by H. C. Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that the Board of Supervisors approve the application for admission of Dorothy Burnett and Loraine Burnett to the State School for Feeble-minded at Woodward, and that the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors be authorized to sign said papers of approval on behalf of Wright County. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, September 7, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, and A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Moved by H. C. Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that the Board of Supervisors accept the resignation of Helen I. Jones as Deputy County Recorder, effective September 20, 1943, and that the appointment of Verlene Carrell as Deputy County Recorder be approved and that her salary be set at $100.00 per month, effective September 13, 1943. Motion carried.

The time having arrived for the hearing on supplemental budget for soldiers' relief, it was moved by Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that supplemental budget for soldiers' relief purposes be approved, making the total amount to be levied for this purpose, $16,000.00. Motion carried.

Whereas, on May 4, 1943, there was filed with the County Auditor of Wright County, Iowa, the petition of W. E. James, et al, wherein it was prayed that the Board of Supervisors repair the ditches and drains within Drainage District No. 15 by doing whatever might be necessary in the way of cleaning out, enlarging, deepening, widening and straightening the same or remove obstructions therefrom, so that the same may again become suitable for the drainage of lands in said district, and to level the ditch banks;

And whereas a bond in an amount fixed and with sureties approved by the County Auditor conditioned for the payment of all costs and expenses incurred in the proceedings in case the improvement was not finally established, was filed with the petition:

And whereas the Board thereafter as provided by Section 7432 of the 1939 Code of Iowa, appointed H. A. Little of Webster City, Iowa, a disinterested and competent civil engineer, who has given bond to the county, for the use of the proposed improvement if it be established and if not established, for the use of the petitioner, in amount with sureties approved by the Auditor conditioned for the faithful and competent performance of his duties.

And whereas the said engineer has made a survey of the lands described in the petition and within the boundaries of said drainage district as provided in Section 7437 of said Code, and has made his report to this Board recommending the establishment of the proposed improvement;

And whereas the Board of Supervisors duly approved such plan and entered the same of record in its proceedings as a tentative plan for the establishment of said improvement, and by order fixed the 7th day of September, 1943, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. as the time of hearing upon the petition for said amendment to be held in the Supervisors' room in the Court House in Clarion, Iowa, and directing the Auditor to cause notice to be given as provided by Section 7440 of the pendency and prayer of said petition and the favorable report thereon by the Engineer, and that such report might be amended before final action, the approval thereof by the Board as a tentative plan, and that all claims for damages and all objections to the establishment of said district for any reason must be made in writing and filed in the office of the Auditor at or before said time so fixed for hearing:

And whereas notice of such hearing has been given by the Auditor as directed by said order and by statute;

And whereas the time for hearing has now arrived, the Board proceeds to hearing the said petition. The following persons appeared in person at the hearing and were heard by the Board: Wm. Weinhold, Geo. Gross, A. E. Harvey and Archie G. Newcomb. No other person appeared and no objections or claims for damages were filed and the Board having considered the statements made by those who appeared personally, and having considered the petition, finds that said petition complies with the requirements of law in form and substance, and that such improvement would be conducive to the public health, convenience, welfare, benefit and utility; and that the cost thereof is not excessive, and no claim has been filed for damages: and that such improvement will materially benefit the lands within said district; and that the law has been complied with as to form and substance as to the petition, the service of the notice, and the survey and report of the Engineer, and that said improvement should be made.

It is therefore hereby resolved that the improvement is located and established in said district in accordance with the recommendation of the Engineer and his report and plans on file.

Be it further resolved that H. A. Little, a competent engineer of Webster City, Iowa, is hereby appointed to have charge of the work of construction of said improvement, and who shall before entering upon the work give a bond to the county, for the use and benefit of the drainage district, to be approved by the Auditor, in the sum of $1000.00 conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties.

Be it further resolved that notice be given by publication once each week for two consecutive weeks in the Eagle Grove Eagle, all in accordance with Section 7459 of the 1939 Code of Iowa.

Be it further resolved that the time for letting the contract be and the same is hereby set for the 4th day of October, 1943, at the hour of 1:30 o'clock p. m., at the Supervisors' room in the Court House in Clarion, Wright County, Iowa.

It was moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that the foregoing resolution be adopted. Upon roll call all members voted aye, whereupon the chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by T. J. Henry, that for the sum of $10.00, in hand paid by Ralph LaBarr, Wright County does hereby sell and convey all its right, title and interest in and to Lot 11, Block 2, Original Town of Galt, and the Chairman is hereby authorized and directed to sign quit claim deed of conveyance to Lot 11, Block 2, Original Town of Galt, unto the said Ralph LaBarr.

It is mutually understood that this price includes all taxes that are a lien against this lot at the present time.

Upon roll call all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet September 8, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, September 8, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that the appointment of Hazel Thompson as Deputy County Superintendent be approved, and that ther salary be set at $110.00 per month, effective September 1, 1943. Motion carried.

In the establishing of the Division of Aid to Dependent Children in accordance with Senate File 239 of the Acts of the Fiftieth General Assembly, it is necessary that an estimated budget be prepared by the State Department for the year 1944.

This estimated budget has been submitted to the Board of Supervisors, showing the share of Wright County in said budget to be $4,343.00.

It is therefore moved by Smith, seconded by Pinkham, that the sum of $4,3.. be appropriated for Aid to Dependent Children to be expended in 1944. Motion carried.

Moved by Smith, seconded by Fisher, that the taxes of all old age pension recipients, as shown by the records in the Auditor's office, be suspended as provided by Section 6950.1. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Fisher, that nonresident notices be served on Mrs. Alice Hartman, Eagle Grove, from Story County; Mrs. Ella B. Morrow, Dows, from Franklin County. Motion carried.

Acting under Section 4487.1, Code of 1939, as amended by Chapter 147 of the Acts of the Fiftieth General Assembly, it is moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Smith, that Wright County invest $31,000.00 of the permanent school fund in Series 1951-53 Government bonds.

Said bonds to be credited on a proportionate basis: Belmond, $6,200.00; Clarion, $8,900.00; Dows, $3,900.00; Eagle Grove, $7,400.00; Galt, $1,700.00; Goldfield, $2,900.00. Motion carried.

The following claims were presented to the Supervisors and were ordered paid as shown by the following schedule:

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet September 13, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, September 13, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, A. W Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that the County Auditor be authorized and instructed to release the mortgage deed against Lot 7, Block 45, Railway Addition to Eagle Grove, as recorded in Book 21, Page 542, the lien having been paid in full. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Fisher, that the County Auditor advertise for bids on coal to be used for relief purposes, bids to be for Iowa coal, the price to be based on ton and half ton lots, delivered, as ordered by relief department. Bids to be filed with the County Auditor on or before 10:00 a. m., October 4, 1943. Motion carried.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Fisher, that bond of Verlene Carrell as Deputy County Recorder be approved and placed on file. Motion carried.

According to the certificate of H. A. Grantham, Chairman of the State Tax Commission, the values of all classes of property for the year 1943 were accepted as reported.

Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, that it is hereby ordered that the lengths of mileage of the several railroad, telephone, telegraph, transmission and pipe line companies in Wright County, Iowa, and the assessed value thereof within the several towns, townships and school districts of Wright County, Iowa, be fixed according to the following schedule, and the county auditor is hereby authorized and directed to spread the same upon the tax books of said county for the year 1943:

Hybrid Seed Corn Plant At Clarion Destroyed By Fire On Sunday

Fire early Sunday morning morning destroyed the Hagie hybrid seed corn plant on the R. W. Hagie farm 2 miles west of Clarion, with a loss estimated at $30,000.

The blaze, discovered at 12:30 a. m. by the night watchman, originated around the chimney. The building, 40 by 80 feet of sheet metal construction, has been built about 2 years, with recent additions. It was destroyed together with 3,000 bushels of seed corn.

The Clarion fire department was unable to halt the blaze but prevented the spread of flames to nearby buildings.

Plans are being made to rebuild the structure. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

A nearby smaller plant with a capacity of 300 bushels will be operated by the company's workers. Not all of the seed corn had yet been gathered.

BELMOND LOCALS

pated in the show and 'yours truly' was one. In peace time, when ships are permitted to stop on the high seas, some of the candidates were thrown overboard and that alone would scare anyone But this is war, so the initiation was strictly on the main deck of the ship.

On the (—) day the Merchant Marine crew, having charge of the great show, couldn't wait to get started. That evening— standing watch with entire gun crew from sundown to darkest—they had us rolling a potato by our nose half-the length of the ship—about 50 yards. I was one of the last to start and expertly rolled the potato toward the center giving it a hard push with my nose and letting it roll forward on the downhill slope, crawling fast to keep it from coming back. I made it in record time, saving the skin on my nose, but oh. my knees. I still have some marks on my elbows and knees. Some of the boys wore practically all the skin from their noses and were still sore when we returned to the states.

The next morning the show officialy opened by firing one of our guns. When we entered the initiation area—6 at a time—we were told to get down on our knees, crawl into a garbage can head first, and what a stink. Then the fire hose was turned on us. We were practically bare and how it did sting. Next we lined up, on our knees, raising our hands high above our heads, then bending forward hitting our open hands on the deck. It isn't wood, and was plenty hot in the sun. All this time we had to yell "alah". It took about five minutes and was really tough.

Then we had to appear before King Neptune's court. The King was the Marine Steward, weighing about 260 pounds. I was found guilty of sleeping in his sack without any clothes and of course the only thing to do was to plead guilty. They had a pair of beautiful lips painted over his navel which we all had to kiss as well as his big 'dirty' toe. Following this, we had to push a potato through a trough of rotten cabbage and onions.

The climax came when we had to lie flat on the deck with our heads and hands in 'stocks' (like they used years ago for prisoners.) Those who had a lot of hair were clipped from one ear to the other and then the hair was painted with old oil mixed with creosote, after which a handful of sawdust was thrown on the head. After this ceremony it was announced that we were full fledged "Shellbacks." Some of the troops started mutiny, but they regretted it later, and how.

This was over two months ago, and I have fully recovered, but I wouldn't care to go through it again.

Belmond Swamps—

Belmond line played bang-up football, and if statistics had been taken they would probably have shown a net loss of yardage from scrimmage for the Bronco opponents. Coach Lansing sent in during the game everyone from the bench except the water boy and the doctor, and much valuable playing experience was gained by his reserves.

NORTHWOOD GAME

At Northwood Friday night Belmond High made its bow into conference competition by edging out Northwood 12 to 6.

The Broncos had a decisive margin over their opponents in first downs and yards gained, but did not have the scoring punch they demonstrated a few nights later. From 10-yard line to 10-yard line they pushed Northwood all over the field, but their mistakes with pay dirt in sight cost them several touchdowns.

Larry Jones scored first after setting up his own touchdown by a 50-yard dash through the entire Northwood team that ended on the 10-yard marker. Belmond maintained a 6 to 0 lead until late in the second quarter when Bakken, Northwood star end, took a long pass in the end zone to tie the score.

Jones went over again in the third quarter to put the game on ice for Belmond and to complete the scoring for the evening. The running of this senior halfback, who never played football before this season, was one of the highlights ef the game.

Orland Finn was another offensive star in the Northwood game, often smashing through center for 15 and 20 yard gains. Dick Foss and Jack Campbell were the standouts on defense, although the entire team played well.

Thompson Estimates 70,000 Bushel Yield

Hybrid Seed Corn Raised On 1500 Acres

Harvesting and processing of 1500 acres of seed corn started at the Thomypson Hybrid Corn Company plant here September 24. R. B. Thompson, owner of the plant, stated that he expects a yield of 70,000 bushels which will be put into bags for next year's seed corn market. About one-fourth of the corn picked from the fields is male corn and will not be harvested for seed.

Mr. Thompson announced this week that Charles E. Wilmarth of Oregon, Illinois, a graduate of the University of Illinois, has been secured to take charge of plant breeding. Mr. Wilmarth will supervise the development and improving of old inbreds and the testing of double crosses.

CHARLES E. WILMARTH

Thompson seed corn was raised this year in many small fields in this vicinity as well as on 640 acres of the Linden Ranch near Clear Lake and on 140 acres of the Theodore Richardson farm near Webster City.

Ten trucks are employed to bring the corn to Belmond, two of which are Thompson semi-trailers. Two shifts of 35 employees each—mostly women—are now working at the plant with R. G. Pedersen as foreman. Thompson indicated that more workers are needed but that he had secured all available help in this vicinity.

The process of drying the seed corn takes three days. Dryers at the Thompson plant have a capacity of 14,000 bushels. The drying bins are refilled about every four days, using one day for shelling and refilling.

Thompson has five replicated test plots: one each at Belmond, Renaeck; Carson; Mian, Minnesota and Burchard, Nebraska, as well as a corn breeding plot in Texas. The purpose of the plot in Texas is to speed up the corn breeding program. Crosses can be made in Texas in the winter and then brought back to the corn belt in time to plant in the spring.

W. H. Trafford, sales manager, and J. Leslie Leonard, assistant sales manager, report that orders from 800 farmer dealers in six states show corn sales for 1944 are more than 50 per cent ahead of the same period last fall. The six states in which Thompson Hybrids are sold include Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois and South Dakota.

Improvements at the plant made during the summer include the erection of a truck hoist as well as a Korak silo in which sorted corn unfit for seed will be stored, the installation of a large scale to accommodate the semi-trailer trucks and the construction of several new conveyers. The company also purchased and wrecked the ice house in north Belmond and will erect two buildings 24 by 40 feet each near the plant. One will be used for storage and the other as a cattle shed.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Roose of Sioux City visited Mrs. Roose's father John L. Sullivan at the M. F. Kernan home Saturday and Sunday.

Rates Are Set For Custom Harvesting

Agree on $3.50 Per Acre For Combining; $3.00 For Corn Picking

Over 250 Wright County farmers agreed on a price of $3.50 per acre for custom combining and corn picking at a general meeting held at Clarion on Sept. 29.

The meeting, to establish a uniform price for custom machine work, was called at the request of farmers by Aaron R. Bowman, County Extension Director. Over 100 non-combine owners attended the meeting. A price of $3.50 per acre for custom combining was agreed upon by vote by the non-owner group before a vote was taken of the combine owners. Over 75 per cent majority of both non-owners and owners of combines voted to establish the $3.50 per acre rate.

A rate of $3.00 per acre for custom corn picking was also agreed on by vote with over a 75 per cent majority favoring this rate. Farmers were in general agreement that custom operators should stick to this agreed price. Charges figured in determining the cost of custom work included depreciation, interest, repairs, labor, fuel oil and grease, and a charge for owners responsibility caring for and moving machines.

Wright county has 48,000 acres of soybeans to harvest with approximately 300 combines to do the work. 136,000 acres of corn will be harvested by the 700 corn pickers in the county. Enough machines are available to harvest the soybeans and corn providing the acreage is distributed uniformly among the machines.

To solve the labor problem farmers are arranging to exchange work to keep the combines and corn pickers working at full capacity. Local farmers are calling group meetings to work out methods of exchanging labor.

Marjorie Loats, Pat Parker and Joyce Anderson of Des Moines, spent the week end in Belmond.

Navy Seabees Quotas May Soon Be Filled

Quotas for enlistment in the Navy's Seabees are rapidly being filled according to R. A. Knudson, recruiter in charge of the Navy Recruiting Station at Ft. Dodge.

Openings still remain in several of the trades needed in the Seabees, but it is expected that they will soon be filled. Carpenter H. J. Dickens will be at the Navy Recruiting Station in Fort Dodge on October 7 and Oct. 21, from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m., for the purpose of interviewing men for enlistment in the Seabees. It has not yet been established whether Carpenter Dickens will return to Fort Dodge and it may be that this will be he last opportunity for men to secure an interview in this territory.

PRIZE SQUASH

If the squash, brought to the Independent office by Mrs. Wm. Eimbrink, is as good as it is big, then the Eimbrink's really have something in this year's crop of squash.

Called "Vegetable Marrow", the squash weighed 24¼ pounds, was 27 inches long and 25 inches in circumference. In appearance it looks something like a watermelon. Mrs. Eimbrink said she hadn't eaten any of the vegetables yet but understood they were very good and exceptionally good fried.

County Nurse Reports On 3 Months Work

Includes Many Home and School Calls

Miss Wilma Soehren, Wright County Public Health Nurse, reports that during the past three months the following visits have been made on persons residing in the county:

Communicable disease control wherein Isolation technique was demonstrated, 6 cases; venereal disease control, 1; tuberculosis control, 9; infant and pre-school children seen, 30; calls on sick persons, 17; crippled children, 14; maternity calls, 15; 4 baby baths were demonstrated, also one formula demonstration was completed.

There have been 16 rural and 3 town schools visited with 298 children being inspected. 74 home calls were made to report corrections apparently needed at this time.

Three of the rural schools now have cots which are proving very beneficial especially for the primary children who become very tired during the day. It is hoped that more of the schools will be able to get these.

In the 16 schools visited all but one are using paper towels and individual drinking cups which is a big improvement over last year.

There have been 52 interviews made on behalf of the service; 11 calls have been made to private physicians; 17 social service interviews have been made and 20 persons have called at the nurse's office.

Two classes have been started and it is hoped that a third one may soon be started.

The nurse plans on going to the "Kenny Cottage", Des Moines, to take the Kenny Course in hot packing from October 18 to October 23. Her expenses for the course will be financed by the Wright County Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

CPL. BILL McBRIDE PHILOSOPHIZES

Cpl. Bill McBride, down in Texas, writes to the Independent in which he does a little philosophizing about his part in helping to win the war. Bill says, " I have often been struck by the idea that perhaps the people at home may be wondering just what I'm doing down here in Texas (what a state) to help win the war. Sometimes I wonder the same thing. . .

"Finally, trying to reason it all out. . . I decided I really was going to work just as if I were Claude Benson going down to open his office every morning. I had a job to do.

"It seems quite odd, however, living in town and riding that rattly bus out to the field to work when my work consists of instructing cadets (fledgling pilots) in that important phase of their training, instrument flying. That's it, I'm one of those fellows who go through a war in low gear. I have one of those jobs about which they always say 'someone has to do it.' I'm an Instrument Flying Trainer. Don't let the title fool you. I never leave the ground. We have a machine that simulates 'blind flying' and looks like a small aircraft.

That's my story. The next time you wonder whatever became of that McBride boy, you'll have the answer. I'm in Texas doing my best."

Clarence L. Jacobsen S. 2|c spent an overnight leave at the Milton Ramsey home last week. He has just completed his boot training at Farragut, Idaho, and is moving to Pleasanton, Calif.

RECEIVE APPOINTMENT AS CHIEF

Owen Sullivan received a letter this week from his son, Gene E. Sullivan, in which he said that in a radio message from Washington, D. C. he had received the appointment as Chief in the Post Office Department of the South Pacific Force. Gene has been in the Navy since September, 1942, and has had overseas duty in the South Pacific area most of that time.

STARTED TRAINING IN TEXAS

Pvt. Donald Allan Norris of Belmond, Iowa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Norris of Belmond, has recently arrived at Southwestern Texas State Teachers College, at San Marcos, Texas. He will undergo Scholastic and Flight Training as an Aircrew Student in the Army Air Forces.

Upon successful completion of his college work, Pvt. Norris will receive an appointment as Aviation Cadet and will be advanced to an Army Air School for Pre-Flight Training.

Broncos Take Beating From Garner Team

Lake Mills Plays Here Friday Night

Garner High completed four touchdown passes from far out in the field as they handed Belmond's Broncos their first conference defeat of the season last Friday night with the score of 38 to 7.

What promised to be a close tight game during the first half blew up in the second period when the Belmond secondary wilted under the passing attack opened up by Garner.

The Bulldogs scored in the first quarter after a sustained drive down the field from the 50-yard line. Don Grieman ran around right end to score.

Belmond came back strong the second quarter completely outplaying their rivals, but they lacked the punch to score. Twice during this quarter they had the ball within the 5-yard line but failed to cross the goal line, and the half ended 6 to 0.

BRONCOS TO MEET LAKE MILLS TOMORROW

The Broncos meet Lake Mills here tomorrow night in a game that is doped as a toss-up. Most of last year's conference champions were graduated but Lake Mills has a scrappy team again this year. They have won from Buffalo Center and Northwood.

After the intermission Garner immediately went into a passing game, with Chuck Schneider, fullback, on the pitching end of the plays. The big fullback did a good job, completing three long passes to Jack Grieman for scores during the third quarter.

Garner scored twice in the last quarter, once on a punt runback and again on a long pass play.

Belmond scored their only touchdown in the last period on a long pass from Finn to Nelson. The play was good for 65 yards as Nelson caught the pass on the Garner 40 and ran away from the rival backs pursuing him.

Belmond Over Top In Third War Loan Drive

Bond Sales Reach Total Of $205,350

Reports on the Third War Loan which closed last week show that the local vicinity served by the First State Bank of Belmond, far exceeded the quota set of $179,000 with total bond sales mounting to $205,350, by the end of the campaign.

Reports also show that Wright County exceeded its quota of $854,000 with sales through the various banks in the county as follows: Belmond (First State Bank) $205,350; Clarion (First National Bank) $366,250; Dows (Farmers State Bank) $71,400; Eagle Grove (Security Savings Bank) $253,300; Goldfield (Goldfield State Bank) $24,375; Bank of Galt, $51,625.

A large percentage of the total sales in the Belmond area came in during the last few days, at which time a house-to-house canvass was held by the Block Mothers in the town of Belmond and by workers in the rural territory as well as a Bond Rally sponsored by the American Legion on Wednesday evening, September 29.

Roy A. Henderson, chairman of the local committee for the Third War Loan Campaign said today, "I wish to express appreciation for the fine cooperation of the various groups and individuals who helped to put Belmond's drive over the top: The First State Bank, the Post Office, Block Wardens and Block Mothers, The American Legion and the many workers who called on the farmers in this vicinity."

Block Wardens To Make War Chest Drive Here

Campaign For Funds To Start October 18

Thomas Hood, Belmond chairman of the War Chest Drive which begins in Wright County on October 18, has announced that the campaign for funds in Belmond will be organized and conducted by the ward wardens and block wardens. A meeting of all wardens will be held at the City Hall on Monday night, October 11, at 8:15 o'clock to complete plans for the drive.

A county committee has divided the county quota of $20,000, assigning quotas to this vicinity as follows: Town of Belmond, $1807; Pleasant township, $652; Iowa, $723; Belmond township, $718 and Grant, $622.

All subscriptions to the National War Fund in the campaign to be held in Wright County will remain to the credit of the county against any future calls or quotas, it was stated this week by E. F. Bisbey, chairman of the Wright County War Chest.

"This is a fixed policy of the National War Fund" Chairman Bisbey stated, "and means that every county and township that exceeds its quota in the drive will be credited with that amount against any future drives during the war."

The National War Fund is a united campaign for the USO, War Prisoners Aid, United Seaman's Relief and 14 United Nations relief appeals. It will be the only campaign held for such war-related agencies before October, 1944, with the exception of the American Red Cross. The Red Cross will hold its campaign in the spring and the National War Fund in the fall. Iowa's quota is $2,275,-310 of the national goal of $125-000,000.

"In answer to the various inquiries with respect to the opening of the National War Fund campaign the following statement was made by Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross: 'The American Red Cross and the National and Community War Funds carry on separate drives and independent activities but they supplement each other and are united in the will to serve. In accordance with the decision of the President's War Relief Control Board, the Red Cross will conduct its 1944 War Fund next March while the National War Fund campaign is being held this month. The Red Cross wishes the National War Fund leaders every success in their appeal.'"

IMMANUEL LADIES AID TO HOLD SALE

Immanuel Ladies Aid will hold their sale at the Immanuel Reformed church basement on Friday evening, October 8 at 8:00 p. m. Lunch will be served. You are invited to attend.

Henry Ford Writes "Thanks a Million"

When a group of Belmond women got together last spring to assemble the items that went into the Red Cross kits for service men, some of them wrote their name and address and slipped it inside. Last week Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand received a letter from a soldier overseas with the illustrious name of Henry A. Ford. He was the recipient of the kit which contained her name, and part of his letter is as follows: "In receiving the small bag of greatly appreciated articles from our supply sergeant today, I happened to be the person to get the one you assorted out. . . the bag of articles will be very handy now and in the near future. I will say 'Thanks a Million,' and I do know all the rest of the soldiers feel the same way. Small things received like this really help the morale of a soldier."

ST. FRANCIS ANNUAL BAZAAR, Oct. 12

St. Francis Catholic church will hold their annual bazaar and chicken dinner at the Odd Fellows Hall Tuesday, October 12 with serving beginning at 5:30 p. m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Mrs. Moe Collects Cacti

Hobby With A Point

Has 90 Varieties in 3 years

There are many interesting points connected with the hobby which Mrs. Louis Moe has developed during the past three years. Cacti is her hobby, if you get the point.

Her collection was started by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Moe, in some of the desert states where she visited Sgt. Moe. It now numbers some ninety varieties.

In winter the cacti are potted in containers almost as grotesque as themselves, but in summer they occupy space in the garden where they grow more rapidly. This is when the flowers appear, and they are exquisite in color and form. Names are taken from objects which the Cacti resemble, such as golf ball, corn cob, sword fish, boxing glove, bunny-ear, peanut, crown of thorns, necklace and others Mrs. Moe considers the Old Man of the Mountain the most interesting because of its slow growth and because it originated in Africa.

Mr. Moe says he would sell the whole outfit for fifty cents but Mrs. Moe stated confidentially that he often brings home a new variety.

DON'T FEEL TOO BAD!

We are pretty much confused about the new cut in gasoline ration coupons for the middle west. One opinion asserts that the Farmers are getting more gas than they actually need. Another opinion is that the midwest is being cut in order to give the hard pressed Eastern states more gas.

Whatever the reasons may be which we can't understand, here are some figures from the O. P. A. which are in themselves substantial evidence in favor of gas rationing, even more severe rationing than has yet been imposed upon us. So let's don't feel too bad about it!

1. Training planes use 50 gallons of 100-octane gasoline in an hour.

2. It requires about 250 hours in the air, during which 12,500 gallons of gasoline are consumed, to train an average American pilot for the front lines.

3. When flying in actual combat, each engine of an Army or Navy plane averages approximately 100 gallons of gasoline per hour.

4. Every Flying Fortress that bombed harbor installations at Naples from its base in North Africa required 1,110 gallons of gasoline for each single mission.

5. A modern destroyer uses more than 3000 gallons of fuel oil an hour while operating at sea.

6. An army transport burns 33,000 gallons of fuel oil a day.

7. One of Uncle Sam's famous P-T boats carries its deadly charges along at 55 or 60 knots and burns approximately 250 gal. of fuel oil per hour.

8. An Infantry Division in 1917-18 had motorized equipment representing about 3200 h.p. compared with 400,000 in the present war.

9. The Army reports that in the 1st year of this war, overseas shipment of all supplies increased 600% compared to the 1st year of the last war. But overseas shipments of petroleum products increased over eight thousand per cent. Mechanized war means an oil war.

10. One all-out 1000 plane pasting, such as recent raids on Hamburg and Berlin consumes as much "gas" as would normally be used in automotive vehicles during the course of a day's business in St. Louis.

IT'S UNBELIEVABLE!

Recently it was announced from Washington that the U. S. fleet is the "mightiest in world history"... now composed of 14,072 vessels, 613 of which are warships. The figure of 14,072 compares with a total of 1,076 ships just three years ago.

It is unbelievable that one nation could produce as many as 12,996 ships (some of them gigantic in size) in the short space of three years.

And what is true of production of naval units, we know is also true of production of the necessary implements of war for the army, the marines, the air force.

The announcement from Washington showed further that the speed of production has accelerated greatly during the last part of the three-year period over the first part. That being so, production is likely to increase at an even greater speed in the next few weeks and months.

In view of these facts it is unbelieveable that Hitler and Hirohito can hold out for any considerable time against the increasing might of the forces that are being unleashed against them.

HUNTER'S "TEN COMMANDMENTS"

The Hunting season, which opened recently, provides recreation and relaxation for many busy people who enjoy the sport. Relaxation will be greater for the Hunter's family too if he will always keep in mind the "Hunter's Ten Commandments".

"Safety First—Always" should be the primary motto. Specific rules are:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.

2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp or home.

3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.

4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.

8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

9. Never shoot at a flat hard surface or the surface of water.

10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Speculators Boost Price of Land

Farm land prices in Iowa went up 11% in the second quarter of 1943, according to a survey made by the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank. Land prices went up 8 per cent in Illinois, Michigan and Indiana, but only 4 per cent in Wisconsin.

This indicates that the price of Iowa land is going up at the 1918 rate or better. If the current rate were continued, prices would rise 44 per cent in a year.

That sounds like a land boom, and a wild one. We suggest again that farmers refuse to buy farm land, and that they press for speedy action to be taken to nick speculators. A 90 per cent tax on profits from the resale of farm land would take most of the fun out of the land boom, and would keep prices at reasonable level, so real farmers could buy.—Wallace's Farmer.

It does not take any study to see why Argentine has held to her Axis relations. It is that she—the Argentine—has in the past found her best customers for her grain and meat there. Germany always has bought heavily from her. On the other hand the Argentine productions have conflicted with those of the United States. Beef and corn and pork are our most prominent agricultural productions. These same products now lie rotting on Argentine's wharves. More, these products could be used right now by the Allied nations except that Argentine has refused to "play ball". And so she is left out—and properly so.—Wright County Monitor.

It costs $50,000 to knock off a Jap. Anyway, that's the statisticians' estimate. Germans come at the same price. During the first World War the cost of eliminating a foe was $21,000. Back in the time of Julius Caesar the cost was 75c. (Mussolini is worth 2c.)—Hampton Chronicle.

When we put that standing army in Europe to "insure the peace of the world," the European countries should be made to pay the large part of the expense bill, as most of the "policing" that is necessary will be all in those countries.—Hampton Chronicle.

My country owes me nothing. It gave me, as it gives every boy and girl, a chance. It gave me my schooling, independence of action, opportunity, for service and honor. In no other land could a boy from a country village, without inheritance, or influential friends look forward with unbounded hope.—Herbert Hoover.

FIRE IN FIRE HOUSE

The fire siren warning in Waverly one day last week called attention of people to a fire in the fire station and to one of the best trucks at that. Fire was discovered under the truck, damaging a lot of hose and the truck's good tires. Firemen were able to get the truck out of the building and into the street before the building caught fire.

HANGING POTATO

Hans Marcush, Dorchester, found a potato on his place that had grown around the rectangular wire handle of a bread pan. Enough of the handle extended beyond the potato so that it could be hung up.

ROSE IN SEPTEMBER

Mrs. Andrew Walstrom of Spencer reports that for the first time Monarch roses on her place are blooming in September. Previously, the latest they had bloomed was in August.

Prittle... Prattle....

Yep, that's what we thought about, too, when we woke up Sunday morning with the sun in our faces, a swell day for a picnic, something we used to go on regularly in our boyhood days but not much lately.

P—P

There is something about a warm fall day, with just enough snap to the air that gives me an urge for a tramp through the woods. It's an opportunity to renew acquaintances with the many places that held such peculiar attractions in those boyhood days. . . the creek meandering beneath the railroad trestle and below the bluff that seemed so high then. . . the two flowing wells from which clear, crystal, cold water ran day in and day out and always tasted so good . . . the dark mysterious cave near the creek which in our imagination was a hideout for Indians and bandits. . . the clusters of walnut and butternut trees with their burdens that we gathered and then put on the garage roof for drying. . . the beauty, not noticed so much then as now, of the multi-colored leaves.

P—P

We always had favorite spots for building our campfire and picked a different spot each time. We would usually turn up our noses at such fare at home, but, boy, how good those weiners, buns, roasted potatoes, pickles and marshmallows tasted as we ate around the fire at dusk. After dining like kings, someone would throw on a huge armful of dry wood and the flames soared with a crackle high over our head lighting up the shadows yards away.

P—P

As the time to go home drew close, we would let the fire die to a heap of glowing coals letting it burn until the last minute that we dared stay. . . remember the total blackness as the last spark died away when several cans of water from the flow or the creek were thrown on the burning embers. . . then came the long trek back to town along the winding path through the trees that didn't seem nearly so friendly in the dark. . . our relief upon reaching the highway and what seemed like civilization again was never admitted verbally but we all were just a little bit glad to be on our way home.

P—P

Although they haven't asked for them, our sympathies go out to the city youngsters who have missed the attractions of living in a small country town with a woods like we have just next door to the city limits. Every boy and girl should have the privilege of playing in that kind of out-of-doors.

BELMOND LOCALS

Mrs. Robert Smith returned home last Thursday from Colorado Springs, Colorado, after a week's visit with her husband who is stationed at Camp Carson.

:-The "Crow's Nest"-:

By George C. Hansen S 1|c

The poem printed below was written by the Mother of a Blue Jacket who was killed on the Lexington during the battle of the Coral Sea, May 8, 1942. It was published with her consent in the Fleet City News of which I am now co-editor.

Oh, wind of the far off southern clime
Blow gently o'er the sea,
O'er a hallowed place where the wild waves race,
There sleeps a son so dear to me.

In dreams I see a tousled head,
Two little hands that often left
Their mark upon the door.
I see two little muddy shoes
And tracks across my kitchen floor.

I've helped him mend his broken tops
And hunted for his oft lost ball;
I've kissed away the hurts and tears
Most every time he chanced to fall.

Then I watched him as he went away,
So straight, so tall, so very fine
In answer to his country's call,
He bravely stepped into the line.

Now I see him as he sails along
On some celestial sea
He gaily smiles and waves his hand
And wafts a kiss to me.

With his cheery smile and the wave of his hand
He has wandered into an unknown land
With his comrades brave he goes sailing on Those heroes who died on the Lexington.

Now all I have is the deepest yearn
For his old time step and his glad return;
Dear God: who gave my son to me,
Give me strength to be as brave as he.

It has been said that the first 10 weeks in the life of baby pigs determine whether they are going to make profitable hogs, or be a source of worry and possible loss to the farmer.

Assure yourself of healthy, thriving pigs that can grow into the kind of thrifty, profitable hogs that are a source of pride to any hog raiser with Big Gain Pig & Sow Ration. It contains proteins, vitamins and minerals that are required for rapid and profitable growth, resistance to disease, and to keep them vigorous, strong and progressive through spells of severe weather. Both sows and pigs like it, either as a slop or in self-feeders.

Ask your dealer for Big Gain Pig & Sow Ration.

Miller - De Vore Say Vows

Of interest to many Belmond residents is the marriage of Miss Helen Miller of Estherville, Iowa, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Miller of that city, and Pfc. Lauren R. De Vore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy De Vore of Corning, Iowa. The marriage took place at 8.00 p. m. Wednesday, September 22, 1943, at the bride's home. The Rev. G. E. Forssell of Estherville officiated at the single ring ceremony. The fireplace in the living room, which was flanked with garden and cut flowers, served as a background for the exchange of vows. Candelabra with lighter tapers illuminated the setting.

The couple was unattended. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. G. E. Forssell sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gertrude Kulp.

The bride was attired in a two-piece gold wool dress and wore a corsage of Talisman roses. The bridegroom wore his army dress uniform.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Twenty-seven relatives and friends were present. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, a low crystal bowl of cut flowers, and white tapers in crystal holders. A yellow and white theme was used.

The bride was a teacher in the Roosevelt school in Estherville and a former teacher in Belmond.

The couple spent a short honeymoon in Minnesota. The bridegroom left September 29 for camp at the Smyrna Air Base, Smyrna, Tenn.

WORM PIGS WITH PTZ

Effective against nodular and common round worms. PTZ Powder is easy to give. You just mix it with feed. Costs about 3¢ per pig. Use only as directed. Free your pigs from worms now.

Use PTZ (Phenothiazine) before you start pouring the feed to them.

Why QUALITY is more important than PRICE when you buy dip

ALWAYS put the dip you buy to the following test: How STRONG is it? How does it compare with carbolic acid? Is it STANDARDIZED? That is, will it run uniform or does it vary in strength? What kind of EMULSION does it make? A poor emulsion not only denotes an inferior dip but a waste to you.

Dr. Hess Dip is 5 times as strong as carbolic acid. It is standardized —runs uniform in strength—that's important when you are sprinkling or spraying to kill disease germs and foul odors.

Dr. Hess Dip makes a fine milk-white emulsion. The strength is evenly distributed, no settlings no waste.

To The Man Who Will Not Subscribe To The National WAR CHEST FUND

Unfortunately, there are a few people in Wright county who will not subscribe to the War Chest.

One man might give an excuse, "Roosevelt an the Jews got us into this war, let them get us out." Another might say, "I am buying bonds. That's all I can do."

Sure, we're buying bonds. So what? We're simply loaning Uncle Sam some money, every three dollars of which will bring us back four dollars. That's not giving anything.

The life of an American soldier or a few dollars in your pocket—which is more important?

Stop the next man in uniform you meet on the street and tell him you won't give your money to the War Chest. Tell him that no one is going to make you give your money to any cause that will help win the war.

All that he and his soldier mates on the battlefront are risking is their lives. What the War Chest asks is a few dollars of your money.

Tell him. Sure, he'll understand; especially, if he has been in action at Pearl Harbor, Midway, Dieppe or anywhere else where the Japs and Nazis work 24 hours a day to kill him and shatter into rubble everything you hold dear, including the right to refuse to give to the War Chest.

Tell this passing soldier and tell him good. Tell it to the Army and the Navy. Tell it to the Marines!

If Hitler and Tojo and Mussolini find out that you will not subscribe to the War Chest it will make them very happy.

Several hundred patriotic, loyal men and women will be working to secure subscriptions to the War Chest. The campaign, starting October 18, will last only a short time. Be ready with your money when a solicitor calls; his time is valuable, too.

There is no middle ground. Either we are using all our resources and energy toward winning the war or we are helping Hitler and Co.

When the returns are in and the campaign is over, citizens of Wright county will be recorded.

On which side will your name appear? You will make your own record. Others will keep it for further reference.

Solicitation will be made in Belmond on Monday, October 18

YOUNG POET

Gordon H. Felton of Indianola is one of the youngest, if not the youngest, editors in the United States. In 1942, Gordon sent out 100 letters to poets over the country asking them to send contribury asking them to send contdibutions to a poetry magazine. Eleven poets answered and the first edition was soon published. Since that time, the magazine has been published four times a year with a circulation going into every state. Gordon is now working on a book of poetry which he hopes to have published this fall. Many well-known poets have had poetry published in his magazine. Recently, Gordon was judge of entries in the 99th annual contest sponsered by the Texas Poetry Society.

SMALL HITCHHIKER

Two-year-old Joyce Helm of Crystal Lake took an unexpected ride on an automobile running board recently. She climbed on the running board of Calvin Hansmeier's car and rode three blocks before she fell off. Calvin did not know the little girl was on his car until several hours later. The tot received small cuts on her head when she fell.

DIES AFTER HIS DEATH IS REPORTED

Six weeks before his death, it was reported that Chauncey A. Ammon, formerly of Decorah, had passed away at his home in California. The announcement was made over the radio and in several Iowa weekly and daily newspapers that Mr. Ammon had died. At that time, a letter of sympathy brought the following reply: "Mr. Ammon is as well as usual." Last week, relatives in Decorah received word of Mr. Ammon's death.

In The Bronco Corral

Four weeks of school have passed, and the fine spirit of the students is certainly reflected in all their actions. For instance, The Pep Club girls show up at every football game to cheer for the fighting Broncos. The skit that Doris Christie and Betty Green put on in Pep Assembly is also an example of the fine spirit that shows up again and again in school. The faculty appreciates this. This was mentioned by Mr. Johnson in a Pep Assembly speech. Let's keep up the spirit of the team that is going to win the conference championship.

The way in which you speak, the grammar you use, the construction of your sentences, reflect your character and personality as quickly as any other action. If you ninth, tenth, and eleventh graders will just remember that, those long English assignments will not seem so tough.

If you are looking for contrasts take a glance at two of our well known sophomore boys: Les Classick weighing in at 230, and Paul Ahlstrom, who tips the beam at 90 pounds.

The fact that our nation is at war became more evident to our school as one of our popular seniors, Bob (Dick) Tracy left for the Navy, and another, Carrol (Fritzie) Shahan has just registered. It seems that there is just a little empty feeling when you think about the fun you used to have with Bob. Let's hope that the best of luck follows Bob wherever he may go.

In closing let me tell you the one about the moron who said when served a coke with two straws. "I'm not going to drink out of that one till I've emptied this one."

Journalists Meet To Elect Staff

All the students interested in being on the "Hoofbeat" Staff, met in Room 37, two weeks ago, under the supervision of Mr. Johnson and Miss Wendlandt, to elect their editor-in-chief, Larry Jones their business manager, Jack Baker; and their managing editor, Kathryn Palmer.

Jack McGuire received the job of sports editor and Beverly Madsen received the job of activities editor. The feature editor will be chosen later, meantime the feature story will be written by various students.

The remainder of the staff are composed of typists and reporters. The reporters for this week were: Betty Uhlenhopp, Marshall Hake, Ruth Hogenson, Dick Foss, Lorraine Quigley, Loretta Rubendall, Marlys Parker, Bob McBride, Abbie Bonte, Kathryn Holgate and David Cook.

The typists for this week were: Donna Waddington, June Boelman, Gladys Christenson, Cleo Trees.

Different typists and reporters are appointed each week.

Classes Choose Year's Officers

Election of officers for the 1943-44 school year has been completed in high school and junior high classes and home rooms,

Officers of home room 36 of the 12th grade are Jack Campbell, president; Jack Baker, vice president; Bill Coulson, secretary-treasurer. Officers chosen for home room 34 of the Seniors are Marcia Pierce, president; Carroll Shahan, vice president; Betty Uhlenhopp, secretary; Bob McBride, treasurer. The officers of the senior class as a whole are: Esther Nelson, president; Orland Finn, vice president; Marcia Pierce, secretary-treasurer.

The Junior class is all together in room 32, so they have one set of officers: Jean Fetrow, president; Betty Alice Tracy, vice president; Richard Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

For their officers, the sophomores of room 26 have elected Peggy Greenlander, president; Mildred Helland, vice president; Larry Dorr, secretary-treasurer. Officers of the other sophomores in room 35 are as follows: Haydn Jones, president; Richard Wagner, vice president; Ray Waddington, secretary-treasurer.

Home room 33 is occupied by all the Freshmen who have elected these classmates as officers: Doris Christie, president; Joan Swenson, vice president; Irving Roshiem, secretary-treasurer.

150 Take Hot Lunch At Noon

Is Combined With Milk Lunch Program

Approximately 150 students are participating in the noon hot lunch program which opened Monday, October 1. Many more plan to take part during colder weather.

A complete meal, including milk and dessert, is served at every luncheon for the extremely low price of fifty cents per week. This amount partially finances the program; the balance is received from federal assistance through the Food Distribution Agency. This year the Hot Lunch Program and the Penny Milk Lunch is combined under this agency.

Mrs. Ross Farmer, former restaurant operator, is in charge of the kitchen and dining room.

Miss Gantenbein, home economics instructor, is director this year and will act as consultant on diet and menus.

Seniors Had Pictures Taken Wednesday

The first of seven automobiles left at 8:00 A. M. The early start permitted the Seniors to receive their proofs the same day.

The trip was made at an exceptionally early date so that it would be out of the way before the heavy fall farm labor demands.

Mr. Faris, high school principal, accompanied the class.

Student Council Now Organized For The Year

Kindergarten Children Learn To Work, Play

Classroom News From The Grades

KINDERGARTEN

Twenty-nine children are busy learning to live together in the kindergarten room this year. There are fifteen pupils in the mornings and fourteen in the afternoon.

Together, they are learning to manipulate clay, paint brushes, and crayons. They build with blocks, live in the play house, and work in the store. There are songs to sing and stories to hear as well as individual experiences to exchange. Throughout the whole is a pattern designed to give them a balance between work and play; rest and activity, as well as establishing right health and social habits.

SECOND GRADE

Twenty-nine boys and girls have a lot of fun working and playing together in second grade. They are enjoying their work very much.

Their topic in Science is plants and trees. Leaves were preserved by dipping them in paraffin and also the four parts of a plant have been learned. Roots, leaves and seeds were all discovered to be parts of the plant that we eat.

Miss Root, a representative for Gates-Huber Reading System visited Wednesday. She taught a reading class and now the pupils are more than anxious to get into the new reading books, so they are working especially hard.

THIRD GRADE

Letter writing is being carried on by the third grade in their language class. The children write to their friends, relatives, or to anyone they wish. They are getting along fine in their other studies.

FOURTH GRADE

In social studies, the fourth grade is studying agriculture, especially how the primitive people obtained food and how the first farmers got started. The old farming method is being contrasted with the modern method. A poster is being planned to show the first hoe, plow, and other early machines, and also to show our modern machinery.

Their aviation flight in spelling is doing very well. Betty Lou Dempsey, Eleanor Dorr, Adelaide Jenison, O'dean Severseike, and Lynn Tyrrell are leading. So far this year they have not missed any words.

FIFTH GRADE

In spelling, the following 12 students of fifth grade have proved that studying spelling always brings 100: Verna Dean Burns, Marilyn Ellis, Don Faris, Helen Gabrielson, Paul Griesy, Don Grillo, Bradley Jenison, Eileen Kalkwarf, Marion Meints, Leila Springer, Myron Trager, Dwight Whelan.

In geography they have taken up the study of the Middle Atlantic states. In addition to that they are making a production map, which contains products grown by the states.

SIXTH GRADE

A book club was organized for reports on the books the student has read. The officers elected for the club are Jerry Hansen, president; Wesley Uhlenhopp, vice president; Marilyn Madsen, secretary; Douglas Hoppel, treasurer.

Jack Campbell Elected President

At the first meeting of Student Council two weeks ago Wednesday at 12:30 in room 27, arrangements were made for the election of officers. Mr. Faris supervised this first get together.

The purpose of the Student Council is to provide a democratic government for the school and to incorporate a better understanding among the students and teachers.

Officers of the Student Council were voted for by the Student body. The three Senior representatives were candidates for election results. President, Jack Campbell; vice president, Betty Uhlenhopp; secretary-treasurer, Paul Quigley. The other members of the Council are made up of two representatives from each Home Room. They are as follows: Freshmen: Doris Christie and Ronald Hunter; sophomores, Loretta Rubendall and Duane Anderson; Juniors, George Sharp and Donald B. Hewlett.

Problems of the school will be submitted to the Council for discussion and some course of action will be arranged. So far, the Council has set up a program for the assemblies of the first semester. Certain assemblies will be assigned to classes and clubs.

A list will be handed to every home room teacher telling when each home room or club will sponsor a program in assembly.

If by chance you walk into sixth grade room you will see an unknown country in the making for they are now working on imaginary maps.

JUNIOR HIGH

'Never B flat, always B natural," is the motto of eighth grade, having been chosen at the same meeting at which their class officers were elected. The officers are Marion Tyrrell, president; Avis Rice, vice president; Raymond Mehl, secretary-treasurer.

At a meeting of the seventh and eighth grades, student council representatives were elected. They are from eighth, Dorothy Hansen, and Grace Meints and from seventh are Janis Bailey and Anthony Meyers. Mary Jones is president.

The eighth grade history class finished the study of slavery, succession, and the Civil War. They are now working on a dramatization of this until entitled "A House Divided Against Itself."

23 Are New Students At Belmond High School

Twenty freshmen are included among the high school students attending the Belmond schools for the first time. Of these freshmen the following last year attended nearby rural schools: Doris Easton, Leo Ellingston, Imogene Halfpap, Courtland Haupt, George Hinman, Bonnie Hunst, Sybil Kuhn, Dorothy Lonning, Joyce McClure, Mildred Mehus, Nettie Mehus, Genevieve Nelson, Helen Nelson, Ruth Pals, Robert Rodemeyer, Irving Roshiem, Glenn Thompson, Donald Toft, and Arnold Wendel. Shirley Carlson, also a freshman, was transferred from Radcliffe.

Editorial Comment

SCHOOL PAPER RETURNS TO INDEPENDENT COLUMNS

"Hoofbeats." Belmond High's school paper is going back to its old tradition of being printed in the Independent.

During the five years since it was included in the Independent the school paper has taken the form of a mimeographed folder, "The Bell," the former name, being replaced by "Hoofbeats."

At the first meeting our Staff held this year, the question came up of whether we would print our own paper as in the past five years or if we should publish it in The Independent. The staff voted heavily in favor of the latter.

Many reasons were given for this. It was the opinion of many that the news we gathered would have a much wider distribution, which fact is no doubt true. It was also felt that this method had more value in journalistic training.

It is the wish of the Editor and all the Staff that the high standards required by regular newspapers will be met in all issues of "Hoofbeats."

Seen & Heard

On and Off The Grid

The people of Belmond are still talking about the trouncing the Broncos gave Britt, as you know the score was 64-0. They are still talking about those quick eighteen points that L. Greggory Jones hung up for Belmond in the first quarter.

Les Classick and Coach Lansing are still trying to figure out where the Britt man came through to block two of "Tinies" placekicks. That is a mystery that no one seems to know.

Between one of the scores and kickoffs, Coach Lansing asked Ronnie Hunter if he wanted to see a little action and Ronnie replied, "I can see plenty from here."

Many of you fans might have wondered what happened to big Bud Peterson of Britt, that High School All-American, who was the terror of the gridiron for four years. Petersen is playing on a bigger team than he ever played on before; he is not playing with a football or a shot put, but with rifles and hand grenades for Uncle Sam. He is now a member of the Armed Forces.

The first Sunday of duck season, Coach Lansing and several members of the football squad went out to get their limit. L. Jones was the only member of the group that got a bird. He took a shot at a duck and down it came. What kind of a duck was that Larry?

Belmond will tangle with the Lake Mills Bulldogs on the local field here Friday night. The Broncos are in high hopes of another victory. Little is known about Lake Mills, but they are usually big hard charging "norsemen." One redeeming factor is that they won't be facing Bergdale, last year's all conference tackle.

Seniors Have Received Graduation Rings

Wednesday, September 29, the Seniors were seen wearing their graduation rings for the first time. Last fall they chose the best-liked pattern of ring which was the "Flying Cadet." Its designs are very unique, solid gold back ground, with a wing insignia mounted on the face with the letter "B" and the class year inscribed on the wing.

The class of "44" really strut their stuff now.

VOL. 24 NO. 51 — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1943 — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Apply For Ration Book 4 Starting Next Week

Must Bring Book 3 When Applying

All residents in the area serviced by ration board 99-3 at Belmond are to make application and receive War Ration Book 4 at the time and places listed at the right, information released by the local board revealed today.

The preliminary arrangements for issuing approximately 6,000 books have been completed and with one exception persons making application will do so at school sites in Belmond, Galt, Rowan and Dows. The exception will be the St. Olaf church which will process the applications of residents in Norway township and the west one half of Belmond township.

Families may file a single application for all members of a group of persons who are related by blood, marriage or adoption and who regularly live in the same household. Include any family members temporarily away from home such as students, travelers, or hospital patients who are away not more than 60 days. One member of the family may go to the registration site and act as an agent for the group.

Application blanks will be at the sites of registration and it is stressed that all applicants MUST BRING BOOK THREE BEFORE THEY CAN GET BOOK FOUR. Those who fail to register at this time cannot get book 4, which will be in use beginning November 1, until a later date set by the OPA.

Faculty members will assist the superintendents at all school sites and Mrs. Orphie Anderson will be in charge of the registration at the St. Olaf church.

Register At One Of These 5 Sites For War Ration Book 4

Time and place of registration for War Ration Book 4 are as follows:

Belmond School

All residents of the city of Belmond, east ½ of Belmond township, Pleasant township, north portion of Iowa township and those listed in the files of board 99-3 from Grant township will go to the Belmond school. Hours will be 1 to 5 p. m. on Wednesday and Thursday, October 20 and 21, 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. on Friday, October 22.

St. Olaf Church

Registration of residents in Norway township and west ½ of Belmond township will be at the St. Olaf Church on Thursday and Friday, October 21 and 22 between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m.

Rowan School

Those living in Rowan, south portion of Iowa and north part of Blaine townships will register at the Rowan school house Thursday and Friday, October 21 and 22 beween the hours of 2 to 5:30 and 7 to 9:30 p. m.

Galt School

Registration at the Galt school will be made by those living in Galt and vicinity on Thursday and Friday, October 21 and 22 from 1 to 6 p. m. and on Saturday, Oct. 23 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Dows School

The area covered by the Dows registration site includes south portion of Blaine township and town of Dows. Hours will be from 1:30 to 8:30 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 21, and 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. on Friday, October 22.

Girl's Glee Club Is A Busy Organization

Trio Members Will Give Feature Numbers

By Betty Uhlenhopp

Under the direction of Miss Jensen the school girls Glee Club is in full swing. The members are as follows: Lorraine Quigley, Nelda Fulton, Genevieve Thayer, Grace Landon, June Boelman, Ruth Hogenson, Kathryn Holgate, Muriel Soma, Neoma Johnson, Henrietta Bleeker, Luann Kinseth, Betty Green, La Vone Steenblock, Joan Wagner, Esther Nelson, Lorraine Ellis, Marie Eckhoff, Shirley Coulson, Wanda Jenison, Marjorie Helland, Ruth Nelson, Mildred Helland, Dorothy Lanning, Jean Greenfield, Bonnie Uhlenhopp, Joan Swenson, Helen Nelson, Betty Uhlenhopp, Abbie Doris Bonte, Pat Chapman, Peggy Greenlander, Marlys Parker, Loretta Rubendall, Lela Faye Riggs and Doris Christie.

Officers were elected to take charge of the music and the business. They are: President, Betty Uhlenhopp; secretary - treasurer, Ruth Nelson, and librarian, Neoma Johnson. Neoma should be commended for the excellent way in which she is handling the music files. Since this is such a difficult job she usually calls an assistant to share her headaches.

The first two weeks of rehearsals found the girls vocalizing in the hopes of removing any dust, rust, or other substance from their vocal cords. Now that the tones come out clear instead of fuzzy the girls are hoping to learn some new numbers. The favorite numbers are "Ol' Man River', and "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel."

The Glee Club and Junior High Girls sang at the "Band Stunt", Friday night. The numbers were "Army Air Corps, "The Wacs and the Waves," "Marine Hymn," 'Anchors Aweigh" and "God Bless America."

Trio

The members chosen by Miss Jensen are: Pat Chapman, Lorraine Quigley and Dorothy Lanning. They are working on "Pauis Aregelicus" and "The Cradle Song."

Their first performance will be November 1st at Home Builders Circle, where Miss Jensen will give the lesson in music. The trio members will also be our soloists. Lorraine will be the first to appear this year.

Farmer's Implement Co. Will Open John Deere Store Here January 1st

Belmond will be the location for a new business firm it was announced today, when the partnership of Albert Cooper of Kanawha and Dave Erickson of Belmond will handle as complete a line of John Deere machinery and parts as is available under wartime manufacturing restrictions.

Mr. Erickson, who will manage the Belmond store, informed the Independent that the partners had purchased the old Opera House building on west Main street in September, and would move in the first of January, 1944. However, some interior remodeling will be done before that time as well as painting the exterior of the building before cold weather.

The firm, which also owns and operates a store in Kanawha, will be known as the Farmer's Implement Company and will handle the John Deere line exclusively. The personnel of the local store will include Mr. Erickson as office manager, Glen Russell of Belmond and Fred Ter Hark of Kanawha, mechanics.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson and two year old daughter, Kea Rae, have been living here since the fifteenth of September, occupying the Mrs. Cornelia Burrows house on east Main street.

October Is 4-H Club Enrollment Month

Every rural boy and girl will be given an opportunity to join the 4-H club in 44. The kick off meeting was held in Clarion Thursday night on September 30, with members of the boys and girls 4-H club committee, county club officers, 4-H leaders and assistants and 4-H club presidents present. Plans were made at this meeting to contact all schools both rural and urban that had boys and girls of eligible age for 4-H clubs.

More than 25,000 Iowa young people aided our country through 4-H club work in 1943. Any rural girl 12 to 21 years of age may join a 4-H club. Any rural boy 10 to 21 years of age may join a 4-H club. All boys and girls that come within this age group are cordially invited to become members. If you are not reached individually you may receive further information from the county extension office in Clarion.

Apply Next Wednesday Through Saturday At Meservey For War Book 4

Attention of the residents in the Meservey rationing area is called today by Superintendent of school R. C. Hill, that application for War Ration book number four can be made at the Meservey school next week, Wednesday, through Saturday.

Mr. Hill, assisted by the Meservey high school students, will be ready to process the application forms and give out the new books in the home economics room in the school building during the following hours: Wednesday through Friday, 1 to 5 p. m., Wednesday evening 7 to 9 and Saturday morning 9 to 12. IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOU TO BRING BOOK 3 WHEN YOU APPLY FOR BOOK 4, OTHERWISE IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO RETURN HOME FOR BOOK 3.

Application blank, OPA form R-146, which must be filled out before applying for book 4, may be secured either at the schoolhouse or the postoffice in Meservey.

It will only be necessary for one member of the family to apply for the books needed by the members of his or her family.

TEN YEAR LEASE

Present post office quarters in the Reese building have been leased for another 10 years effective Oct. 16, 1943.

Approve New Type Contest For Baby Beef

Is Addition To Regular Beef Show

Officials of the Eagle Grove District 4-H Club Fair Monday night approved a new type baby beef contest for 4-H club members. The new type of baby beef contest will use total gains and increase in value to determine the winner, and will be in addition to the regular baby beef show.

The new baby beef contest may be patterned after the baby beef contest inaugarated in Grundy county this year. According to the method used in the new type baby beef contest all calves would be weighed and appraised by a group of three judges at the beginning of the feeding period. At fair time the calves would again be weighed and appraised by three judges and the calf showing the largest gain and the biggest increase in value would be considered the winner. High quality calves would have no advantage over calves of lower quality unless they could show a faster rate of gain and a higher increase in market alue at the fair.

Dr. B. E. McCulloch, president, and Martin Fry, secretary, of the Eagle Grove District Eair, discussed the new type baby beef contest with 4-H club leaders, assistant leaders and presidents of the 4-H clubs at a meeting in Clarion on Thursday evening, September 30th. 4-H club leaders and officers voted unanimously in favor of the new type contest.

4-H club members could enter their beef calves in both divisions for baby beef. Additional prize money would be available for the new contest.

According to the Grundy county results calves weighing between 350 to 500 pounds proved the best. Very low quality calves, especially those with dairy blood, did not prove desirable over a long feeding period.

The backers of the new type baby beef contest feel that it will put the baby beef show on a more practical basis and give the best experience in practical feeding.

Fair officials at the Monday evening meeting also agreed to secure car lots of calves suitable for both baby beef contests if the demand for calves among boys and girls is great enough. An auction would probably be held to dispose of the calves to the club members. Boys and girls interested in purchasing calves this way should let their 4-H club leader or vocational agriculture instructor know at once.

KENNETH V. JENISON WRITES PARENTS FROM GERMAN PRISON CAMP

June 27, 1943.

Dear folks:

I just came from church this morning and the church services were sure swell. We have an empty barracks for our show and church. I have talked with a fellow from Ft. Dodge that just came from the States recently and it was interesting to hear him tell about things back there. I guess things have changed quite a lot since I left. Well I wish the Red Cross parcels would start coming in regular. It would help a lot. Some of the fellows are getting letters now. I can't wait until I get my first one.

Well, I sure hope everything there is going good. Be sure and say "hello" to every one for me. We know nothing about what happens on the outside but I have hopes of getting back there some day. Hope you're getting my mail.

Love, Kenneth.

SGT. ERWIN CRABTREE WRITES FROM N. AFRICA

Hello Everyone,

I just thought I would drop you a few lines and tell you how we are doing over here. just received my first two copies of the Independent and can sure tell you they were welcome. The papers were of July 29 and August 5, so you see mail service is not too fast here.

I have seen only one person I knew from Belmond. That was Lt. Banning. He and I were in Flying Fortress Groups which were very friendly but which had a great deal of rivalry. He was lucky in not spending any more time here than he did. I now have been here almost 10 months and five months in England. Home seems like a dim memory.

There are some beautiful cities here. Tunis, I believe, is the most picturesque especially the walled part or native section. I still say there is no place like the good old U. S. A.

Best wishes to all.
Sgt. E. Crabtree.

Home Linen Supplies Small But Adequate

Warned To Purchase Needs Only

Although war time has trimmed the frills and fancy work from sheets, pillow cases, towels, and other domestic soft goods, there will be enough for all.

But according to Miss Elizabeth Deihl county extension home economist, homemakers must restrict their buying and purchase only what they need if civilian supplies are to remain adequate. The armed forces take large quantities of sheets and pillow cases ,leaving civilians with amounts less than normal. It all means that homemakers must take unusually good care of their bed linens to make them last.

No one need shiver this winter, for blankets are still in production. But no new goose and duck down can be used in either comforts or blankets. Cotton felt, cotton or wool waste and reprocessed wool are plentiful and can be used as fillers, but the supply of fabric coverings is limited.

Blanket sizes have been standardized to assure production of the most practical and best wearing types. An 84-inch length is the maximum permitted, except for white "cotton sheet" blankets, which may be 95 inches.

Only four colors plus white are permitted for any line of blankets. In general rose, blue, green, and cedar are the colors that may be used for solid-color blankets.

Bedspread stocks are not being made in great quantity, but with those already in the hands of retailers or wholesalers and the limited number still being produced, the supply should be sufficient for a while.

Many homemakers have met up with the meager stocks of terry cloth. Here again the amount civilians can have is restricted, since terry cloth producers must consider military as well as civilian needs.

War Chest Drive For $1807 Opens Monday

Seventy Workers Will Canvass City

"Equally important in winning the war as the purchase of bonds, is the money you give to the National War Fund," Thomas Hood, chairman of the local War Chest Committee stated today. "If Belmond's quota of $1807 is to be met," Mr. Hood emphasized, "individual quotas as established by the local quota committee must also be met."

The local campaign for funds, which begins on Monday, October 18, will be made by more than 70 block wardens, each of whom will solicit each residence or business in his block. The money collected will be turned over to the Iowa War Chest, Inc., who in turn will send it on to the National War Fund Committee. The Wright county campaign will also open on Monday, October 18, with a quota of $20,000 for the county.

Quotas established for neighboring townships include $652 for Pleasant, $718 for Belmond, $723 for Iowa, $622 for Grant and $589 for Norway.

As stated before, the National War Fund drive is a drive for funds to support 17 war relief agencies and military front services. In the past each agency supported by this year's drive has solicited funds separately. Approximately 55 per cent of the funds will go to the USO "a home away from home" for millions of American soldiers, sailors, coast guardsmen, marines and women in the services. Other agencies benefiting include the Prisoners Aid, United Seaman's Service and 14 relief appeals for United Nations.

Mr. Hood will be assisted in the direction of the drive in Belmond by the three ward wardens, Ed Chapman, C. C. Christie, F. D. Fulton and Ed Kennedy, co-chairman.

CORRECTION

Due to an error a price of $3.00 per acre was stated as the price for custom rate for corn picking as decided by the farmers in a general meeting at Clarion. The article should have stated $3.50 per acre, the same rate that was agreed upon for the combining.

Broncos Fold Before Lake Mills Squad

Local Eleven Has One Good Quarter

Going into the second half, with a 7 to 6 lead, Belmond's Broncos faded in the last two quarters and lost to Lake Mills in a conference game on the local field last Friday night 19 to 7.

Capitalizing on a tumbled punt in the early minutes of the game, Lake Mills was quick to take advantage of their break and scored a touchdown in the first quarter. The attempt to convert for the extra point by plunging through the line failed.

Playing the type of heads up ball that they are capable of the Broncos came back strong in the second quarter completely stopping the Lake Mills attack, and showing a strong offense themselves. Early in the quarter, the Belmond boys took the ball away from Lake Mills on downs after setting their opponents back 20 yards. During this series of downs, the play of the Belmond line was exceptionally aggressive, Lake Mills being completely outcharged. Taking over on their own 35 yard line the Broncos marched straight down the field on running plays to put the ball across their rival's goal line. Larry Dorr skirted left end for 12 yards to make the touchdown and Finn put Belmond ahead by plunging over for the extra point.

BRONCOS vs. INDIANS

The Broncos will travel to Forest City on Friday night to meet the conference leaders in the Broncos' fifth conference game of the season.

Forest City became undisputed leaders last week when they defeated a strong Garner team in a tight 13 to 12 battle. Outstanding in the Indian lineup, and men for the fans to watch, are Graham, tackle, and Christian, fullback.

Although the lineup for the Belmond game has not been announced it is known that several new faces will be seen in the starting eleven.

Other conference games this Lake Mills vs. Britt and Northwood vs. Buffalo Center with Garner having an open date.

In the last half it was all Lake Mills. The light but fast boys from the north completely outcharged and outran the Broncos in a succession of plays that added two more touchdowns and one extra point to their total. Felsted, fullback, was the oustanding ball carrier for Lake Mills, but he had excellent blocking from his teammates. The game ended with Lake Mills on the long end of the score 19 to 7.

Court Notes

Harvey Caquelin of Eagle Grove was brought before Justice of the Peace Arthur Richards of Clarion charged by Sheriff Roy E. Wilson with the crime of rape committed on or about Sept. 20th. Hearing was set for Oct. 7th, 1943 at the sheriff's office and the defendant was committed to the county jail. Later the defendant was released on $5000 bond for appearance at the next term of district court.

Fireman Dance Set For Next Monday Night

Profits Will Go To Fire Company Funds

Tickets are now being sold by the members of the Belmond Volunteer Fire Department for their annual dance which will be held at the I. O. O. F. Hall next Monday, October 18. "As can be expected," said Fire Chief Ed Chapman, "everyone can have as good a time as he or she should want for this will be 'fun night' in Belmond."

Every resident of the community and every farmer in the nearby vicinity will be called on to buy a $1 ticket that will admit one couple to the dance and carnival.

"In most surrounding towns and cities members of the fire company are paid one dollar for each call and two dollars if hose is laid," stated Chief Chapman. "In the case of the local company every man is a volunteer and therefore is unpaid. No organization can exist without funds and the only money received by the company is through the profits from their annual dance. The entire company will appreciate your support and promise you an evening you'll enjoy," Chapman said.

1ST 4-H CLUB MEETING

First fall meeting of the 4-H Club will be held at the home of Janet and Kenneth Lerdal on Oct. 20th at 8 p. m. This meeting is for the purpose of signing up for the coming year. If transportation is needed, rural school children should report to Kenneth and town students should call Janet by Oct. 18th. Please advise if you will be present so they will know how many to plan for. All interested are urged to attend this meeting on October 20th.

THE SAME OLD QUESTION

EAST vs. WEST—

One reason suggested for cutting gas coupon values in the midwest was to give Easterners enough gas for pleasure driving privileges in order to raise their morale and step up war production.

Isn't it just as important to keep up the morale of the middle westerners who are expected to keep war food production stepped up?

And isn't it possible for Government agencies handling these matters way out in Washington to figure out the difference in need between the east and the west?

Easteners have trains, buses, streetcars, subways which they can catch at almost any street corner within easy walking distance in order to get to a movie, the theater, a dance, the sea shore; while there are no street cars, subways or trains—even crowded ones—running to the country crossroads of the middle west.

—v—

NO SCARCITY—

There are many things we like about Belmond in the fall of the year, and church dinners that come along from week to week are among the things that give us great satisfaction and enjoyment.

Always assured of the best in food, all one can eat, we have found that this year is no exception. The ladies who plan and cook these sumptuous Belmond church dinners must have learned well how to cope with problems of rationing because there is no evidence of scarcity on any of these dinner tables.

—v—

GET READY TO GIVE—

We in Iowa and America, in general, are inclined to think of most everything in connection with this war as gigantic - - as being on a scale greater than anything that ever went before. The term "greatest in the history of warfare" has been applied to most everything of a military or naval nature, and properly so.

However, it cannot be applied to our giving. At least, not yet, for we have given - - that is, actual "out-of-pocket" giving - - very little up to now. In fact we have not been asked to give very much. A few dollars to the Red Cross, perhaps something to the USO or China or Russia. That's about it.

It is true we are buying war bonds. But war bonds are an investment, and, as such, are the best in the world. They return us one dollar for every three we loan to Uncle Sam and they are a stake in our future security, as well as a guard against disastrous inflation. But they are not giving.

We pay taxes, too, but that is not giving. Taxes are our share, according to wealth and ability to pay, of the cost of our government and the protection it offers to our property, safety and freedom to live, produce and earn. No, taxes are not giving.

Back in World War I, President Woodrow Wilson called on America to give to the United War Work Campaign. The campaign started on November 11, 1918, the day the armistice was signed. The nation was also in the grip of a murderous influenza epidemic.

America raised $189,645,158 in that campaign after the armistice was signed. Iowa raised $6,311,2325 as its full share of that amount.

Now we are being asked to contribute $125,000,000 for the National War Fund. Iowa's War Chest share of this fund is $2,275,310; Wright county's share is $20,000.

We believe that is little enough.

Iowa and Wright county should not only reach their quotas in this drive but should exceed them. All oversubscriptions will remain to the credit of the county and state against future calls or quotas.

We are called upon now to GIVE something in this war. Let us all dig down and GIVE generously.

Let our hearts decide! If we can't go....we can give!

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

If it appears to the people of Germany that the Russian armies cannot be stopped before reaching Germany there will be widespread demand that Hitler surrenders to the other allies. The people of Germany know very well that Russia would deal more harshly with them than Britain and the United States would. And there is a reason. The German soldiers have committed more crimes and outrages against the Russian people than they have against any of the other allies—including even France.—Webster City Freeman.

At what age does a woman become so proud of her age that she wants folks to know about it? On 3 occasions just recently women have called in to inform us of their approaching birthday, and they especially wanted us to know how old they would be. All 3 were past 80. It is evident that there is a point in the life of every woman when she ceases to want to keep her age a secret.—Osage Press.

If you want to buy a farm with your share of bonds that is all right. But don't count on paying for it with money you don't yet have. We've been through that. Twenty-five years ago we were never going to see corn down to 50 cents again. And 10 years ago we wondered whether we would ever see it up to 50 cents again.—Indianola Record.

The great question concerning manpower in the United States could be solved to a great extent by working longer hours—for the duration only. In England the 56-hour week is common and in Russia the work week in war plants is 70 hours or more. In nazi areas, work hours are even greater. Working from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 1 to 6 p. m. would be no great hardship in America.—Decorah Journal.

Congress is said now to be considering a ten per cent sales tax on all sales. Isn't that a method of locking the stable after the horse is stolen? How many more taxes can we stand? You know the power to tax is the power to destroy. If a firm can't keep any of its earnings for expansion and replacement it will soon be forced out of business.—Humboldt Independent.

It is heartening to know that the Japs no longer stay and fight to the death. Four island strongholds have been evacuated to the allies when our forces approached. The Japs are finding that the white people are stronger fighters in the face of adversity than they are. The Japs die fanatically but they lack the cool courage of the white man.—Wright County Monitor.

Administration spokesmen have devoted a good deal of time to the subject of punishment for the enemy war leaders when peace comes. Of the 90 some business firms in Belmond, 29 of them, or almost one-third, would be short of clerks if the wives of the bosses weren't on hand part or all of the day to help out. And of the 29 working women, 11 of them are mothers with one or more children of school age to take care of.

P—P

It was both interesting and surprising for us to list the names of the married women that are helping keep Belmond business doors open. Our first list included only 22 but a re-check revealed seven more and now I'm not so sure that one or two might have been missed.

P—P

Let's go down the street from east to west and back again, beginning with Mrs. A. Fetrow at the F & F Market, Mrs. Fred McBride at McBride's Bakery, Mrs. Ralph Roberts at the cafe, and Mrs. Fred Madsen at the shoe shop.

In the next block, Mrs. Chester Johnson and Mrs. Harve Petersen are in the grocery business, and you'll find Mrs. Herman Schultz at the drug store.

P—P

Block number three has it's share of married business women in Mrs. Dana Howell at the Ice Cream Shop, Mrs. Floyd Doctor is an extra clerk at the Diamond store, Mrs. Chas. Papousek and Mrs. Art Hill help their husbands take care of the hardware and furniture busitance of the river from their cafe is Mrs. Ray Brewer, who likes to take time off now and then and go fishing. How she and Ray decide whose turn it is next to go, I don't know. Mrs. Loren Tudor looks after the books at the Hub Garage while Mrs. Merle Hokel gives her husband time off to eat by taking over the service station during mealtimes.

P—P

Mrs. Hal Nourse is also doing her share in the Nourse place of business, and Mrs. Fred Thompson has a full time job and then some, at the creamery. When George Coburn has to leave his service station, Mrs. Coburn is always on hand to take over.

L. B. Mackrill emphatically admits he wouldn't know what to do if Mrs. Mackrill couldn't be at the store to help him. Mrs. R. B. Thompson is another of our downtown business women who really has plenty of business to take care of at the seed corn office. Farther north and equally busy is Mrs. Don Harris at the greenhouse.

P—P

Getting back to Main street and going east on the north side is Mrs. Fred Pals in the ABC grocery and Mrs. Orrin Jacobson at the Super Valu store. Mrs. Warnock helps Bill at Bill's Place, Mrs. Waddington puts in full days at Waddington's as does Mrs. Henry Hokel at the cafe; while it is a 24 hour job for Mrs. Hunt at the hotel.

P—P

In addition to her duties on the school faculty, Mrs. Louis Foss will be found giving Louie a lift at the Tailorshop and the new clerk at Adams Pharmacy is Mrs. James Adams.

P—P

That seems to cover the husbands and wives in business, but not to be forgotten are the three married women who are carrying on in their husband's shoes since their men traded civilian oxfords for army and navy footwear. They are Mrs. A. W. Schmidt, insurance; Mrs. Geo. Hansen, publishing and Mrs. Gordon Kessler at the post office.

Looks like a good opportunity for someone to organize a business and professional women's club.

OBITUARY

Esther Gerrish Nelson

Esther Gerrish was born at Braidwood, Illinois, on August 11, 1880 and died at her home in Belmond early Tuesday morning, Oct. 5, after an illness of several weeks at the age of 63 years, 1 month and 22 days.

At the age of four years her mother died. Later her father remarried and she had the loving care of a step mother.

She grew to girlhood at Braidwood and attended the public schools there.

In 1897 she moved with her parents to a farm near Gardner, Illinois. Here she attended and later joined a church.

On January 21, 1901 she was united in marriage to Ben Nelson of Gardner and they lived on a farm until the year 1908 when they came to Belmond, where they have since made their home.

Besides her husband, five children; Mrs. Clara Ferguson of near Belmond, James Nelson who is serving in the United States navy and stationed in New York, Raymond Nelson, who resides at home, Mrs. Emma Schleiffarth and Jess Nelson, both of Earlham, Iowa, survive to mourn the loss of a beloved and home loving mother.

Besides the husband and children she leaves two sons-in-law, one daughter-in-law, four grand daughters, one grandson, four sisters,, Mrs. Mary Tyler of Ovid, Michigan, Mrs. Elizabeth Scholning of Lakefield, Minn., Mrs Louise Paxton of Davenport, Iowa, Mrs. Tillie Ball of West Virginia, and two brothers, John Gerrish of Des Moines, Iowa, and Will Gerrish of Hayfield, Minn. One brother, Robert Gerrish, preceeded her in death.

Rodgers-Anderson Announce Marriage

An announcement that is of interest to many friends is that of the marriage of Miss Jeanne Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Rodgers, 324 West Garfield, Davenport, Iowa, to Ensign Kenneth Morse Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anderson of Belmond, which took place at the Naval Chapel at Portsmouth, Va., Saturday, October 2, 1943, at 5:30 p. m. with the Chaplain Wiggins officiating.

The bride was attractive in an aqua dress with an orchid corsage. The groom wore his Navy uniform The couple was attended by Ensign and Mrs. Sequest of West Virginia.

A dinner was served for the wedding group at the Officer's Club immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Anderson, who is a graduate of the Davenport high school, is classified as a senior at Coe College, where she is affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. She has served as president of the Panhellenic association there and is a member of Chapter IB of the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

Ensign Anderson received his degree from Coe College in 1942 and the past year took post-graduate work at Northwestern university, majoring in economics. He received his commission last April in the U. S. N. R. ,reporting for duty in August and is now stationed in Portsmouth, Va., where he and his bride will reside until he is transferred. He expects to be sent to the supply school at Harvard Unversity for special training in January.

While a student at Coe College the bridegroom was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He played on the football team, and was identified with the Delta Phi Epsilon social, and the Phi Kappa Phi honorary scholastic fraternities.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily conform to the editorial policy of this newspaper.

AN IOWA EXPRESSION

Senator Geo. A. Wilson has given to the United States Senate Iowa's expression of a practical approach to post-war peace collaboration. In the Senate there are a dozen or more peace proposals. These are for the most part expressions only of policy. Like the Fulbright resolution passed by the House they do not prepare the way or suggest any means of the attainment of the high purposes which they envision. As everybody is for peace some of the declarations favoring it seem both harmless and ineffective.

It Is Truly Wilsonian

The Wilson resolution is truly Wilsonian. It provides action and is a direct approach to the problem. It briefly sets up simple machinery by which the allied nations of which we are one may discuss post-war plans with the ultimate object of reaching sound practices. The Senator's resolution accomplishes this by creating at once a committee of six delegates from the United States, consisting of two named by the Senate, two by the House and two by the President, to enter into immediate discussions with representatives of other nations. It follows the intent of our consitutional law thoroughly in requiring, in is adoption and in the action of the body it creates, approval by Senate, House and the President. Its plan is balanced between the executive and legislative branches of government. It is appealing in that it calls for nonpartisan action — ACTION, not words or well wishing.

MAKE UP A BUNDLE

"Pinky" George, sports promoter and expert organizer, is at our elbow asking for a boost for the "bundles for Greece" campaign of which he is a director. The plight of Greece is an epoch of untold misery—a world example of Axis cruelty and the heroic suffering of a courageous people. Volumes would be required to tell what the people of Greece have endured by way of starvation and cold. A bundle of cast-off or other clothing is but a meager expression of sympathy and feeling for an oppressed, valiant people. Don't hesitate if a few pieces of better clothing get into your bundle. They will go where God looks with compassion on scenes too horrible to depict with pen or brush.

WILL DIG DEEPER

Federal income taxpayers had better bite their lips. A more severe and more far-reaching tax bill is going to come off the grid, perhaps before the first of the year. The present law is most unpopular because of its complexity. While the pay-as-you-go feature meets with general approval the country is howling for something more simple in its operation. With an attempt to attain greater simplicity there is also going to be compliance with a demand for more money. The President and Secretary of the Treasury are asking for some 10 to 12 billions or more of additional income.

Only One Way

There is only one source from which to get the money; that is from the same people who are paying present taxes. Federal income, aside from borrowing, must be brought up to about 50 billions a year to fight this war. There is no way back—no way out. All the dodging to help this or that class, or to make the drain more pleasing to the public, is so much lost motion. The money has to be raised regardless of the uses to which it may be put. Needs of the army and navy override the wastes of administration spending. The practical advance towards additional taxes is to put a pruning knife to the agencies which are squandering funds, levy taxes for the required funds, make the processes of collection as fair and simple as possible; then depend upon the patriotism and sound sense of the public to justify collection of immense funds which must be sunk all over the world to get this war over with as quickly as possible. Getting our boys home is worth anything we spend.

REMEMBER ME?

I'm the guy who looked at you from a USO poster little over a year ago.

I'm the guy you forked over $34,000,000.00 for—so that, through the USO, you could let me and all my buddies know that someone home still thought about us—still cared enough not to want us to miss out on any of the things we were in uniform fighting for.

A hot cup of coffee for example, when you come in all grimy and tuckered out from a little "business" trip.

A club house with easy chairs to melt into and desks to sit at and write home and a dance floor and some decent girls to give us out here a little reminder of what it's still like back there.

You remember, don't you?

You probably dug deep for a lot of other things that year, too...for British War Relief, United China Relief, and so on. Well, this year it's going to be simpler for you. Because this year, seventeen war relief agencies have banded together into one great big campaign...to make it easier for you to give, and easier for them to distribute the funds.

They're calling this one big campaign the National War Fund, and it includes most of the major war relief agencies. Because it does, this time you are only asked to give once for all seventeen.

And take it from me, as one who ought to know, THAT CONTRIBUTION YOU'RE GOING TO MAKE IS ONE OF THE GREATEST THINGS YOU CAN DO TO BRING ABOUT VICTORY. Not just because part of it's going to USO to do wonders for the morale of the fellows under arms, but because a good deal of it is going to help relieve distress at home through local agencies—as well as abroad, to help keep our allies in the fight.

So when you're asked to give to the united campaign of the National War Fund and our community's own war fund this month, remember me. Every dollar you give to the National War Fund helps me out in countless ways, and does its bit to bring me home sooner.

Give in a big way, will ya'?

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY TO TONY AHRENKIEL

The community was shocked and in deep sorrow Thursday morning when folks learned that Tony Ahrenkiel had passed away. Wednesday evening he visited at the Sandberg store until 9 p. m. He went to bed shortly afterwards and complained to Mrs. Ahrenkiel of a severe headache and in a few minutes became unconscious. A doctor was summoned but he passed away at 10:45 p. m. death resulting from apoplexy.

Anton Ahrenkiel, son of George and Metta Ahrenkiel was born on July 5, 1887 at New Hartford and passed away Oct. 6 at the age of 56 years, 3 months and 1 day. When a small boy he moved with his parents to a farm near Klemme. At an early age he went to Chicago where for a year he operated a street car. He learned telegraphy and accepted a position as Rock Island agent at Osgood and Miller serving 6 months at each place. On Dec. 15, 1916 he was united in marriage to Agnes Blank of Klemme. In May, 1918 they moved to Goodell where Mr. Ahrenkiel was appointed Rock Island agent. One son, Taalkeus, was born to this couple.

"Tony" as he was known to old and young was prominent in political circles, serving as mayor, school board president, councilman and manager of the Community He served unselfishly always standing with the right and ready to help in any worthy cause. In his home he was a loving husband and father and a friend to all.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Belmond and a 32nd degree Mason.

He leaves to mourn, his wife and his son Lt. T. G. Ahrenkiel of Victorville, Calif.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the depot waiting room and at 2. p m. in the U. B. church, the Rev. H. R. Knight officiating. A quartet, Rev Faris of Belmond, Amos Hanson, Rev. Knight and Warner Butts sang with Mrs. Wesenberg accompanying. Pall bearers were Messrs Ralph Hofer, O. F. Conwell, E. C. Kienenberger, Harold Savogue, Harry Carpenter and A. G. McMullen.

In The Bronco Corral

The Seniors trip to Mason City last Wednesday, proved to be quite a successful day. After the pictures were taken, the members of the class scattered throughout the Metropolis. Some went shopping, some swimming, some visited school, a few enjoyed a trip through Hamilton's Business school and a majority took in a Murder Mystery at the Palace Theatre.

In order to become better acquainted with some of the seniors, we are providing a simple means, personality sketches.

This prominent senior is about 5'5½" tall, has brown eyes, brown wavy hair, and is of an average build. He is outstanding in football, and often referred to as the "speed demon." As a unanimous choice of the student body, he was elected President of the Student Council. He is also President of his Home Room (36). When he finishes High School, he plans to join the Air Corps. Surely you have guessed this by now!

If you follow the band, this one should be easy! She is the 5'4" drummer of Belmond's "snappy little organization." She is a blonde, has blue eyes, and have you ever noticed her dimples! She is fond of sports, her favorite is basketball. She is an active member of the "Playnight Organization." Her sense of humor is an outstanding characteristic. After graduating she is going to take nurses training. Her nickname "Fanny" is the derivative of her middle name Fanita. Now you all know!

We want to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Christie for speaking at our Pep Meeting last Friday. This meeting also proved the enthusiasm of the students as they "opened up" with their encouraging yells for the Broncos.

Student of B. H. S. Certainly, you are just as appreciative as Lake Mills students! Then why not show it by a few congratulatory words to our "strutting drum major. Several Lake Mills students came over and congratulated Bonnie. Why don't you? She certainly deserves it.

How is your War Stamp Album coming? Do you buy at least one stamp a week? Let's all do this. EVERY DIME COUNTS!

No extensive plans have been made as yet, concerning the Dramatic Club for this school year, but an announcement will be made later.

Sophomore History class, under the direction of Miss Wendlandt, has been comparing Ancient Greek with Modern History. They have completed some very effective map work and are keeping up in current affairs.

Juniors, under the tutorship of Miss Delaplane have just completed a very extensive study of American Literature during the Transition period. This study cast a new light on a period of literature which was previously a dark mystery to them.

Beginners Are Preparing Breakfasts

"Child Care and Guidance" is the topic now being studied by the Advanced Home Economics class. An oral report of an assigned topic was presented by each class member. Parralleling the lesson they are now studying the circulation of the blood and the work of the heart and lungs. Their next unit study is "Proper Food for the Young Child."

For the first four weeks the study of the beginning Home Economics class has centered around the breakfast unit. Common breakfast foods and beverages were prepared in the daily laboratory periods. This week they are completing the unit study by serving complete breakfasts. Each of the two classes were sub-divided into groups, A and B. On Tuesday group A prepared the food and served group B. The following day the procedure was reversed. A classroom discussion followed in which Miss Gantenbein pointed out errors in food preparation and table etiquette. Their next unit study is "The Luncheon."

KINDERGARTEN

If you see a kindergarten boy or girl with a jar in one hand and his nose to the ground, he's probably looking for turtle food! Charles Johnson has brought his turtle to live in the kindergarten for an indefinite stay, and everybody is interested in providing part of its dinner. It is a land turtle, and so far, the menus have been trial and error. The children have tried feeding him liver, hamburger, lettuce, grass, bread, box elder beetles, and ants. (But the beetles and ants got away from him!)

FIRST GRADE

Having been divided into committees the first grade students cooked apple sauce last Monday afternoon.

These biology minded people took a fall walk in order to observe the change in scenery and the habits of the squirrel. In their room they witnessed a butterfly emerging from its crysalis.

SECOND GRADE

In their study of health the second grade pupils are planning balanced diets and are making booklets consisting of pictures of the proper foods that should be eaten.

Coming up soon is the Indian unit from which they will learn how to construct and make clay dishes.

THIRD GRADE

In their search for health secrets this week the third grade have discovered the importance of milk in the diet and have been trying hard to get more of this magic food.

Twenty three people earned the privilege of putting a star on the spelling chart this week. This privilege is earned by writing a perfect lesson Friday. So far this year six people have earned stars every Friday. They are Maxine Gartz, Jan Kelly, Gertrude McLaughlin, Avis Pierce, James Faris and Allan Madsen.

K. P.

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth graders make use of their new globe by having a daily discussion on current affairs. In this discussion they also are making a Who's Who booklet in which the picture of a famous personage is pasted. All the material that can be found about this individual is written at the side of the picture. The figures are placed alphabetically.

Pep Club Gives New Life To Old Spirit

Pep Club this year is under the direction of Miss Jensen. With Marcia Pierce as president and Cleo Trees as secretary-treasurer, the club has been instilling pep in the student body by giving new yells and assisting in the selling of seasonable football tickets. This has been giving new life to the old spirit of the townspeople as well as to the student body.

Two skits have been presented in the assemblies by the Pep Club girls. They were "School Days" and "On the Side Lines" which was given for the Parent-Teachers Association, Monday night, by Doris Christie and Betty Green. The plays were very successfully presented and were favorably greeted by those who witnessed them.

Sound Films Are Used On Educational Program

In the use of educational sound films the Belmond school is following one of the most effective and modern trends in education.

The school acquired this machine, a Bell Howell, last year. Several pictures have been shown to the high school as a group. This is the first time it has been used in the classroom.

A film rental plan has been worked out whereby every student pays 25c towards the films which cover every field in education. These films come from Iowa University and Iowa State College.

The first of a series was shown to the High School and Junior High History classes last week. The film "A Planter of Old Virginia" depicted colonial life before the Revolution.

The biology class will be shown one entitled "Leaves" and one on astronomy is to be shown to the Junior High science class.

This is a visual aid to classroom discussion and study by explaining and making it more simple for the student.

M. H.

Members of the economics class have been building castles in the air again. With Miss Wendlandt as contractor they have been constructing in their own minds their ideal school. The discussions have proved very interesting as well as beneficial to the entire class.

Lorraine Quigley, who sang a selection of popular songs, Mary Louise Hardwick, who played a flute solo, and Doris Christie and Betty Green who presented a comedy skit entitled "On the Sidelines," entertained the members of the P. T. A. at their first monthly meeting at the school house, Sept. 27.

"Beauty Contest" Cast Announced

The Junior High girls of Belmond are planning to give their operetta, entitled "The Beauty Contest," on Tuesday, October 26, in the High School auditorium. It is written by Grant-Schaefer and consists of two acts. The cast was chosen as follows.

Jonquil Jones—Janis Bailey
Kickie Bonbon — Mary Louise Hardwick
"Bugs" Ketchum—Janyce Larson
"Sparkie" Miller—Dorothy Severseike
Mitsou San Foo—Joan Lent
Katty Kash—Jean Tyrrell
Anne Sophia Tomkins — Myrna Van Gerpen
Jemima Jane Tomkins—Marilyn Dorr
Milly Maynard—Kathryn Tracy
Sylvia Spankum—Bevery Spencer
Mayor Green—Hazel Zeigler
Paul Pizzicati—Mary Jones
Jack Lark—Marion Tyrrell
Dare-Devil Davis—Martha Bleeker
Teki San—Joan Pals
Believe-it-or-not Hopkins— Lyola Goeman
Razmataz Simpkins—Ruth Buchanan
Booby Simpkins—Marilyn Anderson
Jim Dandy—Mary Joy Helland

The scene is laid in the garden of a fashionable summer resort hotel. Eight young women are stopping at a Daisytown summer resort hotel. Hostess, Jonquil Jones, and Maid of all work, Milly Maynard, have done all in their power to make things pleasant for their guests, but the place is so quiet that the women decide to leave. The hostess then decides to pep things up by running for lady mayor, opposing Mayor Green—most popular man in town who is up for re-election. The women decide to stay and electioneer for her. Mayor Green becomes very worried because Hostess Jones is such a popular woman, so he calls all the men together. He tells them that since the hotel is the town project, he and the town council must popularize it by holding a beauty contest for its patrons. This would automatically turn the minds of women from the election to the beauty contest. The men agree to be the judges and the beauty contest follows. The costumes included in the contest vary from the hilarious bathing suits of 1900 to formals of the latest Hollywood styles. We can't tell you who wins the beauty contest (you can come and find out, but we can say that Miss Jones turned into a Mayor's lady instead of a lady mayor.

One of the things that will prove interesting is that half of the characters are boys, but will be played by girls. The characters come from all walks of life and provide an unusual variety of personalities.

Clever dances, peppy songs, and Iyloia Banken, the beauty expert, round out the program to the "Nth" degree.

WAR BOND DRIVE

At a meeting of the student council last Friday, the members voted their approval of Belmond High School sponsoring a war bond drive. The aim will be to furnish enough money to buy at least one "jeep" or more if possible.

The price of one jeep is $1165. The drive is to last eight weeks. to pay for one jeep, each pupil would have to buy $2.50 worth of stamps. This is a relatively small figure for it amounts to about $.06 a day during the entire drive. There is no reason why each student cannot contribute not only his share financially but also back the drive with his efforts.

Pledges will be out soon and all students will be asked to sign them and pledge a certain amount. Let's all do a large share in cooperating fully to make the war bond drive a success.

Seen & Heard

On and Off The Grid

If any of our football fans happened to read last week's Saturday Evening Post you might have read the article on football entitled "Upsets Don't Just Happen" in regard to the shelacking that little Holy Cross gave the powerful Eagles from Boston College. This shows how a team with a good running attack but no defense at all was beaten 5 to 12. Only the preceding week the Eagles were near the top in the race for the nations number one team.

However this was not the case for our Broncos crashing defeat at the hands of a fighting Garner team who downed us 38-7. This was helped greatly by the cardinals fine passing attack which seemed to have the broncos bottled up the second half. We lost two heartbreaking drives for touchdowns late in the second quarter.

If you want to see the Broncos as they really should be, come out and see them perform in the remaining games this season. You people that have to drive everywhere you go, why don't you save that unnecessary trip this week, so that you can make the games and give support to the fighting Broncos eleven. There are quite a few gallant fellows who won't be playing many more games for Belmond High because they will be taking a position on Uncle Sam's team. Among those who won't be socking the dummy or lugging the leather for the purple and white after this year are Jack "Dice" Campbell, Dick "Hooks" Foss, Bob "Oscar" Nelson, Myron "Nook" Goeman, Doug "Gunder" Walrod, Carrol "Fritzie" Shahan, Larry "Jonie" Jones, Ore "Truck" Finn, and Ed "Girls" Banning.

High School Girls Enjoy Weekly Play Night

Belmond High School girls interested in sports are enjoying a weekly playnight under the supervision of Miss Delaplane, girls Physical Education instructor. This activity replaces G. A. A., a state wide organization.

Playnight meets every Thursday night from 7:00 to 9:00. Twenty girls attended last week. It has no definite membership so every high school girl is urged to attend. The attendance is usually ten to fifteen. At the last meeting the suggestion was made that every girl there should invite another to enlarge the attendance.

Two girls are appointed to plan for one evening. Games of various sorts are played. Everyone has a good time and enjoys coming to this new organization.

K. H.

BUD, playing grown-up, typifies the millions who responded to the call for volunteers to guard the home front. They studied first aid, fire fighting, plane types. They kept lonely vigil at isolated posts. They took their jobs with deadly seriousness—showed the world that America knew the meaning of "Alert!"

America's railroads know the meaning of that word, too.

Because of their alertness munitions plants operated at capacity; fighting men and materials moved with great dispatch; our entire war machine meshed and moved smoothly and swiftly.

ROCK ISLAND'S Program of Planned Progress typifies the alertness so vital to the continued efficient operation of America's railroads. For it visualizes improvements—what is to be done, when and how. With the transition from war to peace, ROCK ISLAND will be ready!

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

Seed Testing Season Is Here - Best Service If Seed Samples In Early

Iowa farmers, seedsmen, and others who plan to have purity and germination tests made by the state seed laboratory at Iowa State College Ames, should send in at least part of their samples during October and November, according to word received this week by County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman. R. H. Porter, head of the laboratory, states that although the seed testing staff has been increased, the laboratory will be able to give its best service if the seed testing can be distributed over a period of five or six months. Seed owners, therefore, should not wait until January or February, or even later, before sending in samples for testing.

Samples may be brought to the county extension office for forwarding to the laboratory, or may be mailed direct to Porter at Ames. The following amounts of each lot of seed are needed for a good test: Clovers and timothy, two ounces; corn and small grains, one pound; sorghums, millet, or brome grass, four ounces. Each sample should be placed in a container that will not be broken open easily.

Porter also states that the Iowa seed law does not require testing by the state seed laboratory. All seed owners may make their own test or have anyone they choose make the test. However the law does require that all sellers of seed furnish information as to percentage of germination, percentage of secondary noxious weed seeds, if any, and freedom from primary noxious weed seeds. The state laboratory is maintained as a state agency to make the test. The charge of 50 cents per test pays only a part of the cost. The 50 cents should be sent with the sample.

Belmond Gets New Soy Bean Plant

General Mills, Inc. Exercises Option Announces Purchase Of Sugar Plant

Demand For Soybean Oil And Proteins Exceeds Supply

Mr. James F. Bell, Chairman of the Board of Directors of General Mills, today announced that the Board had exercised its option to purchase the properties of the American Crystal Sugar Company in Belmond, Iowa, to be converted into a soybean processing plant. The commitment included 258 acres with buildings and equipment, now being supplemented by the grant of priorities for other necessary material.

Mr. Harry A. Bullis, President of General Mills, stated that the wartime necessity for added soybean producing capacity to meet protein and oil shortages constitutes the immediate reason for entrance into this field. "However, the multitudinous peacetime possibilities of soybean oil and meals," said Mr. Bullis, "furnish many potential possibilities for production and employment after the war."

Mr. Bullis said that the operations will be under the direction of Mr. Whitney H. Eastman, who was recently appointed President of the new General Mills Vegetable Oil and Protein Division. The plant is located in the heart of the soybean producing area of Iowa, and its production of soybean oil, soybean oil meal, and soy flour will go mainly to the central states.

Mr. Whitney Eastman added that "The soybean with its many uses has furnished nutriment for millions of orientals for centuries, and its significance and importance as a food product in the American diet is increasing daily."

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hull and children vacationed at Lytton with relatives and friends last week.

Miss Edith Jensen spent last week end at the home of her parents in Sutherland, going especially to see a brother who was leaving to join the Army Air Corps.

Mr. Harry A. Bullis, Pres.
General Mills, Inc.
Minneapolis, Minn.
Dear Sir:

We have received your formal announcement of the beginning of General Mills' activities in Belmond.

For many years we have endeavored to persuade a major industry, suitable to the processing of the principal products of our community, to acquire and operate the local plant so that a market might be furnished for our products and employment for our people.

We are confident that the plant could have been put to no better use than the processing of soybeans and are also confident that General Mills, Inc. have both the ability and the resources to operate the plant in a most efficient manner and to its maximum capacity.

On behalf of the business men and citizens of this community we welcome you to our city, and offer out utmost cooperation and assistance in the construction and operation of your plant.

Respectfully yours,
Ed Kennedy,
Mayor of Belmond.
C. C. Christie, Pres. of the Belmond

Work At The Local Plant Conversion Will Start Soon

Regarding preparations for remodeling and conversion of the local sugar plant into a soybean mill, the Independent has been informed by Walter Flumerfelt, manager of local operations, that work will begin in the very near future. Mr. Flumerfelt also stated that the amount of the investment in the completed plant and on the property would be in the neighborhood of 2 million dollars.

In selecting this area for a soybean processing mill, General Mills officials gave consideration to the fact that Belmond is in the heart of the soybean producing area. It is estimated that 11 million bushels of beans will be produced within a radius of 45 miles of Belmond this year. Only plants in or near this territory include the one at Eagle Grove and those at Iowa Falls and Fort Dodge. The local plant will be the only terminal storage mill in the three northern tiers of Iowa counties.

Flumerfelt told this newspaper that six top flight engineers will be in charge of the work here and what labor is necessary and procurable will be used. Although bins to be erected at the present time will have a storage capacity of one-half million bushels, it is expected that more bins will be built for increased storage space in the future. Plant processing capacity, of this year round industry, will be approximately 3 million bushels with a 24 hour capacity of 350 tons of beans, it was announced.

Walter Flumerfelt, local manager, is a pioneer in the soybean processing industry, and before joining the Vegetable Oil and Protein Division of General Mills, Inc., was connected with the soybean industry in Waterloo. Mr. Flumerfelt is well known throughout north Iowa for his work in this field.

NORWAY TWP. WOMEN TO HAVE TEA

Wednesday, Oct. 27th women of Norway township are invited to a tea and open meeting for the presentation of the women's home project work for 1943-44. This is to be held at the home of Mrs. Willis Kurts from 2:00 until 4:00 p. m. Miss Elizabeth Deihl, county extension home economist, will present a school lunch demonstration and discuss plans for the organization of girls 4-H clubs. All women are cordially invited.

WE'RE SQUASHED—

It looks like the publishers of the Independent will turn into a squash if competition among the squash raisers doesn't cease. Not to be outdone by his neighbors the Wm. Eimbrinks, and unknown to his wife who raised them, Harry Ruka of Goodell sent in a squash last Thursday that is a whopper.

The vegetable called a banana squash, weighs all of 33 pounds, beating the Eimbrink entry by 8 and ¾ pounds. It is also 28 inches in circumference and measures the same in length.

We doubt if Mrs. Ruka will even miss the squash from her patch as she has more than 50 of the monstrosities weighing from five to 25 pounds each. And that, readers, is a lot of squash.

Forest City On Long End Of Score 41 - 12

Battling Broncos Fight To The End

With an impromptu lineup that had little time to practice together, the Broncos tackled the big, experienced Forest City eleven last Friday night, and though defeated 41 to 12 gave an exhibition of fight and perserverance that pleased the fans who followed the team to the game.

Led by Jim Christian, fullback, Don Norvet, quarterback, and George Riekena, end, the Indians ran and passed their way to six touchdowns, four in the first half and two in the second. Big Don Graham, center, was a tower of strength in the line for Forest City both defensively and offensively.

Belmond's team, much altered in personnel as a result of ineligibility and sickness, gave a good account of itself, scoring in the second quarter against the full strength of their opponents and again in the last quarter, when the Indian lineup was sprinkled with substitutes.

The Broncos' first touchdown came as the result of a sustained drive of 80 yards. This drive was sparked by several end runs by Campbell, a 15-yard run through center by Banning, several passes, Banning to Nelson, and was climaxed by a brilliantly executed touchdown pass thrown by Banning and grabbed by Nelson out of the arms of the Forest City secondary.

The second score came in much the same way, with Banning crossing the goal line on a buck through center.

Appearing for the first time as varsity men were Richard Wagner, center, who played the entire game against great odds facing his big opponent, Graham; Richard Stockseth, guard, who has played in several games as a substitute; big Paul Wicks, guard, who had been a substitute tackle; Bob McBride, senior, and "Pinkie" Walrod, freshman, who alternated at quarterback, McBride with two nights of practice; Richard Mickelson, junior, and Irwin Roshiem, freshman, who alernated at halfback, neither of whom had appeared for more than a few minutes in previous games.

The Belmond football team will play their last game away from home on Friday night when the squad journeys to Renwick. With another week's practice under their belt, combined with the same sighting spirit shown at the last game with Forest City, Coach Lansing said fans who follow the squad can expect the Broncos to more than hold their own.

The return of Larry Dorr, who was out last week with an attack of flu, has given a big boost to Belmond's chances against Renwick tomorrow night in the football game to be played there.

Dorr, whose excellent tackling was missed in the secondary defense last week, will carry much of the burden of ball-carrying, will do the punting for the team and will share the passing with Banning.

Coach Lanning was well pleased with the way his line performed against Forest City and plans to leave it intact. He has been working this week to develop a smooth offense with Dorr, Campbell, Banning and Mickelson as his starting backfield.

Grant Chapman Injured In Truck And Train Collision Last Friday

Grant Chapman, Belmond trucker, was injured Friday in a truck-train collision that happened near noon, of that day, at the Rock Island crossing 2½ miles southeast of Belmond on the Alexander road.

Chapman, who was returning to the Henry Larsen farm for a load of corn, didn't see or hear the train which was late. The truck had almost cleared the crossing when struck turning the vehicle around and throwing him against the windshield which was broken.

He suffered several cuts about the head, a badly bruised shoulder and lost consciousness from the impact. Ed Dippel, who operates a farm nearby heard the crash and brought Grant to the Belmond Hospital. He regained consciousness this morning and is resting satisfactorily at his home.

Damage to the truck included a ruined box and sprung frame.

"Youth In The Community" PTA Program

Open Forum Is Feature Of Evening

The Belmond P. T. A. will meet next Monday night, Oct. 25, in the school auditorium. The president, Mrs. Harold Johnson, announces that this year's membership drive has resulted in a larger number of members than in any previous year.

The October program is entitled, "Youth in the Community," and various local organizations such as women's clubs, churches, city officials, etc., have been asked to take part. There will be an open forum following the short talks to be given by representatives of the different groups. Musical numbers will be furnished under the direction of Miss Jensen. There will be a short preview of the operetta to be presented on Tuesday night. A group from the second grade will sing two songs, a third grade group will perform a folk dance and there will be two songs by a group of singers from the fourth grade.

Mrs. C. J. Papousek is chairman of the social committee.

Registration For Book 4 Ends Friday

6,000 Applicants Are Expected

Registration for War Ration Book number Four is now under way in the area served by the Belmond rationing office 99-3. With the exception of the St. Olaf church applicants are to apply at their community school building, where classes have been dismissed part of Thursday and Friday of this week, in order that members of the faculty may take care of the work.

It is again emphasized that all applicants MUST BRING BOOK THREE BEFORE THEY CAN GET BOOK FOUR and that those who fail to register now will be unable to get the new book until some time in November, date to be announced later by the OPA.

Residents of the city of Belmond, east ½ of Belmond township, Pleasant township, north portion of Iowa township and those listed in the files of board 99-3 from Grant township may register today from 1 to 5 p. m. and Friday from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m.

Registration will continue today and Friday at the St. Olaf church between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m. for residents in Norway township and the west ½ of Belmond township.

"War Chest Drive Off To Slow Start," Hood

Only 15 of 76 Wardens Report

Thomas Hood, chairman of the War Chest drive for funds announced Wednesday noon that but 15 of the 76 block wardens had completed their solicitation. "It is important," Mr. Hood said, "that the drive be finished this week and all reports be turned in if my report to the county committee is to be made on time.'

With a quota of $1807 to be met in the city, Mr. Hood emphasized that individual quotas established by the local committee must not be cut or Belmond will fall behind. The serious possibility of Belmond being short when all warden reports are in has already been indicated by the amount of money turned in to the local treasurer. Only $311.50 has been given to the 15 block wardens reporting which is 18% under the amount of $382 that was the total of the individual quotas for the residents in the 15 blocks. No report has yet been received from the surrounding rural area.

"Several Iowa counties have already completed their drives, going well over the top," said E. F. Bisbey, county chairman, "and I am confident that Wright county will be among those to be listed as having made their quota of $20,000."

"The $125,000,000 fund now being collected is sorely needed," stated Mr. Bisbey, "if the work of the 17 war relief agencies and home front services, including the USO are to be continued. Please be ready to give when a solicitor calls and give all you can," Mr. Bisbey added.

Belmond Liquor Store Leads County In Sept. Bond and Stamp Sales

The Belmond Liquor store led the four county stores in September in the sale of war bonds and stamps selling a total of $2421.60 for the month, according to information released by the Iowa Liquor Control Commission.

For every one dollar's worth of liquor, store customers purchased seventy-five cents was invested in bonds and stamps since the beverage sales at the local store amounted to $3266.12 in the same month.

Sales of bonds and stamps at other county stores were: Eagle Grove, $638.70; Clarion $57.25 and Dows $825.

Sunday Was Busy Day For Sheriff Wilson

Grand Jury Gets Call For Monday

Seven Wright county residents, three automobiles, one tractor and a Rock Island passenger train were involved in three accidents all occurring last Sunday within six hours.

Sheriff Wilson was called when two cars collided at an intersection two miles north and two west of Belmond. Drivers of the cars were Lyle Williams and Alvin Simerson, Belmond township farmers. Both cars were forced into the ditch. Injuries were suffered by the occupants of the Williams car, Henry Bergefer of Dows and Catherine Williams and they were taken to the Belmond hospital.

Gets 5 Jap Planes
H. Finn Now Marine Ace

Describes Air Battle

The following story was written by Staff Sergeant P. T. Johnson, of Oakland, California, a Marine Corps Combat Correspondent.

Munda Field, New Georgia Island—(Delayed) First Lieutenant James Howard Finn of Belmond, Iowa, a Marine fighter pilot who had already shot down three Jap planes, scored two more victims in a sky battle over Vella Lavella Island in the northern Solomon Islands.

His most recent fight against the enemy, which makes him an accredited Marine Ace, took place on the opening day of a gigantic ground and aerial offensive against Vella Lavella Island.

First Lieutenant Finn, with another Marine fighter pilot from his squadron, had been sent on patrol over an American force landing troops and supplies on Vella Lavella Island.

"Captain William E. Crowe of Austin, Texas, was with me when the fight began," said Lieutenant Finn.

"We were circling our busy ships below from which a constant stream of troops and cargo were being shuttled in small barges to the shores of Vella Lavella.

"It was a beautiful day. Not a cloud was in the sky. We had been on patrol for about on hour and had sort of relaxed our vigilance when our radios brought us to with a start: They warned us of approaching Jap planes.

"We did not have long to wait. A few minutes later we spotted four Jap bombers coming in below from an opposite direction."

Jockeying for position for a diving run, the two Marine pilots met the Jap bombers in a headon run.

The four Jap planes broke their tight formation. In a matter of split seconds the Marine pilots were on them with blazing guns.

"Captain Crowe led the dive," said Lieutenant Finn. "I followed slightly above and behind him. As he neared the first bomber it turned directly into him. Coming in from above, I got a beautiful run on the Jap. A long burst from my guns put him down for the count. I could see him spinning seaward, trailing plumes of smoke and flames."

Captain Crowe, who had safely escaped the Jap bomber, teamed again with Lieutenant Finn a few seconds later. The two Marines were making a second run on the three remaining bombers when another Marine fighter pilot dived into the fight.

"The intruding Marine pilot was maneuvering around to get in a burst on the bomber that I had singled out," said Lieutenant Finn, "but I beat him to the punch with a stream of well placed shots. The bomber went down in flames."

The third bomber scurried for a protective cloud bank but Lieutenant Finn caught up with him on the fringe.

"I got a beautiful burst on his tail. I saw the rear gunner drop out through the tail pieces like a wet sack of sand. Just as I was getting ready to polish the bomber off with a second burst I felt a sharp, stabbing pain in my right hand. A Jap bullet had found its mark. Where it had gone in I didn't know as there were no planes behind me that I knew of.

"I looked up just in time to see a formation of Jap Zeroes hot on my tail and closing in for the kill.

"I shoved the stick over hard, opened throttle and in a matter of seconds had left them trailing far behind."

Ed. Note: The Independent has learned that Lt. Finn telephoned his parents from California last Thursday and told them he expected to arrive in Belmond within a week.

Say 80% More Farm Machine' For 1944

Allocation Based On 1940 Output

Two recent announcements from Washington, D. C., food authorities carry encouraging information for farmers of Wright county.

Doubling of the farm machinery manufacturing quotas for 1944 can do much to ease the farm labor situation another year. Its effect may even be felt this year by causing combine and corn picker owners to be more willing to use the machines for custom work since replacement of those machines will be less difficult.

Plans for 1944 allocations of farm machinery call for the manufacture of 80 per cent of the 1940 output. In reality the amount available next year should be greater than those figures indicate, since some of the quota allowed late in 1943 was not completed in time for use this year.

The machinery repair program urging all farmers of Wright county to get their farm equipment repaired during the winter months will be continued this winter. Since there will be no restrictions on the making of repair parts, farmers will be able to get their present machines in good condition this winter.

Other encouraging news comes from the announcement that priorities have been granted for 14 more soybean extractor plants in Iowa.

ATTENDING COLLEGE AT LA GRANDE, OREGON

Sgt. Norris J. Wilson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson of Belmond has arrived at the Eastern Oregon College of Education, La Grande, Oregon, for a course of Army Air Forces instruction lasting up to 5 months prior to his appointment as an Aviation Cadet in the Army Air Forces.

TORPEDOMAN IS VETERAN OF 16 MAJOR BATTLES

Harold J. Breeding, nephew of Mrs. Harold Johnson, who has participated in 16 major battles in the Pacific, is home at Ottumwa enjoying a 20 day leave.

Breeding was aboard a destroyer just outside Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941 and has been shooting Japs ever since. It was in the fight at Santa Cruz that a piece of shrapnel from a Jap shell struck Harold in the back of the head. The metal did not penetrate the skull, so doctors did not remove it. Consequently it is still lodged beneath the skin.

The young hero was in the thick of the battle when the Wasp and Yorktown carriers were sunk, and also saw another carrier hit.

He will report to the west coast after his leave.

SEVERAL BELMOND BOYS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Charles Norby of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived in Belmond Sunday for an 18 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Norby.

Pvt. Donald Dickenson arrived Thursday from a camp in California to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dickenson.

Charles Walrod, Chief G|M who has been in active duty in the South Pacific area, recently returned to San Francisco and is now in Belmond for a two weeks leave with his wife, parents and other relatives. From here he will attend school at Washington, D. C.

Pvt. Orval Barkema of Ft. Fisher, North Carolina, arrived home Tuesday evening for a 14 day fur-

THE TRAVELING SENATORS—

The commotion aroused by the reports and comments by five United States senators of both political parties, needs to be considered with care. The senators recently returned from a trip during which they visited all the parts of the world where American soldiers and sailors are stationed. The senators, in their reports, imply that unless Americans take care we will wake up to find that our immense war efforts have resulted in aggrandizing the British to our cost. Specifically, they indicate that the United States is being drained of oil while oil in British controlled regions is being conserved; air fields and facilities are being constructed by the United States to be controlled by the British after the war.

Our government indicates that good and sufficient reasons exist for all the benefitting of England at Uncle Sam's expense. We believe that is probably true, and the senators' reports are but irritating pin pricks without indicating serious permanent faults.

Nevertheless, the result should be to bring into the open for serious evaluation, the relations of the United States with other nations of the world. The senators are politicians, trained and experienced political observers and their comments no doubt reflect a lurking fear in the minds of most of the rank and file of American citizens. That fear is that the speeches of Governor Dewey and Prime Minister Churchill foreshadow a hard and fast alliance of Britain and the United States against the rest of the world.

It is true that a lot of Americans have believed that an Anglo-American alliance was the one thing necessary for insuring world peace. The contrary is the case and the average "run of-the-mine" American is certain that it would be ruinous, conducive to solidifying all the world against the Anglo-Americans, with the United States getting under the load of making the rest of the world accept and like the British imperial projects, or else.

England, in many ways, is perfectly all right and the British organization and defense of their little island since 1940 will shine like a star as long as history shall be recorded. But the day of British imperialism as the world has known it, is past and successful world organization for peace will rest on that and other fundamental certainities.

Agreement with Britain may be the first step toward organization of the world for peace, but no association of Anglo-Americans that is in the least exclusive, will work as long as the power and might of Russia continues to grow, and the potential power of China lies only 60 hours away by air.

GETTING PREPARED—

The Davenport Democrat commented recently, "...evidence seems to point conclusively to the presumption that Wendell Willkie has been getting ready for the 1944 race ever since he lost the contest in 1940."

If that statement turns out to be true, perhaps we might compare Willkie's presidential ambitions to any man who looks forward to holding down a specific kind of a job in the future and then set about preparing himself for that job by long hours of study, work, reading, travel, experience, contacts with people, etc. - - all of which will give him the background and knowledge necessary to making that job a success.

If being President is Willkie's idea of a job, and if with the business experience he already had, he is willing to spend four years preparing himself to handle such an all-important and big job as being president of the United States, his potential candidacy should be most thoughtfully considered by political parties as well as individual voters.

NOT ALL GLORY!

It costs something to attain positions of honor, and distinction and glory in the armed forces just the same as it does to attain a position of prominence and importance in civilian life. It means sacrifice, hard work and responsibility not easily understood by the lower ranking soldiers and sailors and by civilians who read and hear about such people, many of them our war heroes of today.

For instance, a recent news story described one of our U. S. military leaders, a Colonel overseas at present who has been in the army for three years and has not been home in all that time.

In our military set-up, it looks as though an effort is made to see that the ordinary enlisted men are given periodic leaves or furloughs to visit home. Even in the case of armed forces overseas, the boys are coming home, especially those who have seen several months of combat action, who are tired and need a good rest.

Not so with the Colonels, the Captains and the Generals. For the most part, they must stay at or near the front lines to direct and plan and inspire the men who are working and fighting under their leadership.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

There was much criticism of the war department for its purchase of the Stevens hotel which, critics say, could better have been leased for the duration of war need. The hotel now has been evacuated. It cost the government $5,558,986.28, net 13 months ago. It has been sold for $5,251,000 cash. This makes the loss of $307,986.28. The department says that rental would have cost $775.000 plus $300,000 to repair damage done by soldier occupants. This record would seem to indicate that the army used good judgment. — Muscatine Journal.

The war may end before many months, and it may take a considerable longer period for the United States to mop up both Germany and Japan. Our guess is that Germany will be the first to fall, and that within a reasonable time, but the Japs, strong along the entire eastern Pacific coast, hanging in the jungles and what not places, will have to be mowed down batch by batch. But the end will come, for both the Germans and the Japs. There is sympathy among the people of the United States for the rank and file of the population of Germany, but little for the traitorous Japs. When Hitler and his gang are cleaned up we believe that the people of Germany themselves will do a great deal of rejoicing, even if they have to rejoice under cover for a time.—Hampton Chronicle.

The surrender of Italy should be accepted by the American people as a great victory and perhaps the turning point in the war. They should not regard it however, as evidence of victory over all our enemies, of which we still have two—both of them more formidable than Italy was to defeat. —Estherville News.

Although many people have purchased bonds to the point of sacrifice, it is equally certain that many have fallen down on the job of "backing the attack with war bonds". A glance at bank deposits throughout the state shows clearly that the public is quite generally reluctant to turn idle cash into war bond investment.—Sheffield Press.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

AWAY BACK WHEN

TEN YEARS AGO—

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McGuire and daughter, Zola, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Leslie in Waverly.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—

The Independent entertained large crowds daily during the world series ball games, which were received by radio, play by play approximately ½ minute after the play was made. A majority of fans here were Yankees, with a Giant rooter sprinkled here and there. The series was won by the Yankees in a sensational last minute rally that had the crowd yelling.

—1923—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stadtlander, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bekker drove to Aplington, last Sunday to visit Chris Ridden and family.

—1923—

Corn husking has started in a few localities, and by next week will be pretty well under way. According to reports the crop has been damaged some by frost and the fields are spotted, with the yield not expected to be as large as anticipated. Seven cents seems to be the going price for picking.

—1923—

Geo. Bohning has purchased the George Avery house, the consideration being, $6,000. Mr. Bohning does not expect to move to town for another year.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Work is progressing rapidly on the extension of the water mains and the ditcher is doing good work.

—1913—

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tiede and son Leo left last Thursday for California where they will spend the winter.

—1913—

The sugar beet-harvest in the country around Olaf and Kanawha began last week. The beets are much smaller this year than they were last season.

—1913—

The whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Martin last Saturday evening. After a couple of hours playing, delicious refreshments were served.

—1913—

Ed Jenison returned Monday from Fort Dodge, where he had taken his daughter for an operation for appendicitis. They went down Friday evening and at this time his daughter was getting along very well. She is at the hospital in Fort Dodge.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The U. E. Club is now in the fourth week of their year's work and very much enjoy studying American literature and the makers of it. Mrs. Pritchard was elected delegate to the district convention of Federated Clubs, to be held in Eldora, Oct. 20, 1903.

—1903—

The exercises given by the Junior League at the M. E. Church last Sunday evening indicated the interest the little folks take in their society and in the work they are doing. Mrs. H. L. Stapely is the leader.

—1903—

J. C. Butterfield who has been confined to his home the past week with fever, was able to be upon the street yesterday.

—1903—

Mrs. R. W. Shaver departed Wednesday for her home in Nebraska after an extended visit with relatives in Belmond and vicinity.

FIFTY YEARS AGO—

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Corcoran are the happy parents of a nice baby girl born Tuesday. It is the first girl after three boys and her arrival is welcomed accordingly.

—1893—

J. L. McAlpine and wife had a nice girl born to them Monday. This makes two boys and two girls in John's family what he used to call "two pairs".

—1893—

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Tracy and Mr. Chas. Simmons, of Clarion spent Sunday with A. L. Tracy and family.

—1893—

Fred Sickenger has been improving his place, building a large chicken house and fixing up in various ways.

—1893—

John T. Kenefick is building a large and roomy carpenter shop on his place 14 x 24, 12 ft. posts. "Johnny" is bound to keep up with the times.

Prittle... Prattle....

And now comes our usual Sunday chore, writing this column. Sometimes it is a chore and then again the typewriter seems to go by itself. The column last week about the wives of businessmen who were helping to keep the doors open raised the question, "why not include the names of those women who are running their own businesses?"

P—P

Guess it is only fair to do that. Belmond has three beauty shops owned and operated by women, namely Mrs. Sema Helland, Mrs. Lowell Trafford and Mrs. Grace Chase. Mary Ennis has the responsibility of running the Ben Franklin store. Sue Fritz takes care of her own hat and dress business, while Mrs. Ella Cleveland has long owned and operated a cafe in this city.

P—P

The coming meeting on next Monday of the parent-teachers association should be interesting if every organization and club president and member asked by the association's president, Mrs. Harold Johnson, is in attendance. It will be especially interesting if everyone present opens up with their ideas on what should be done as they have via telephone to Mrs. Johnson. It is easy to say something should be done for the children of this community, but a lot tougher to outline a good constructive idea or plan.

P—P

It would seem to this writer, to put it bluntly, that isn't so much a problem a delinquent children but of delinquent parents.

P—P

We believe it is a good sign of progress, though, since a number of community organizations are stirring themselves enough to discuss the matter in recent meetings.

P—P

What makes this land war so bewildering to the layman is the seeming inability of our side to develop a weapon deadly enough to make victory certain and quick.

We are resourceful, inventive, and daring, but when we develop something new our enemies promptly develop something to offset it.

It is the ancient contest between fire power and armor resistance. Radical changes which formerly took centuries now occur in months.

P—P

The Greeks partly armored their foot soldiers who in phalanx formation blitzed the enemy's unarmored troops. Thus armor triumphed over fire powed, an advantage which was held for a long time until lightly armored archers were put on horseback. Equipped with short bows, the horsemen combined mobility with fire power and mowed down the partly armored foot soldiers by striking through parts unprotected by armor.

P—P

By developing heavy horses, Western Europeans were able to put completely armored men aboard. Their riders could kill but could not be killed, and armored squadrons repeated what the phalanx had done. Hundreds of years later the English developed the long bow with sufficient power to penetrate any armor a rider could wear or a horse could carry.

P—P

Next came gunpowder which superceded the bow and arrow.

P—P

In the current war the German blitzkreig, with the armored tank and the airplane, was but a modern version of the armored footmen and armored cavalry. Now invention is proceeding at a furious pace. The side that can produce the weapon that will slaughter the enemy and protect itself will win the battles. Invention is the priceless ingredient of modern warfare, as it will be of the peace after he war.

NO DIFFERENCE

It makes no difference where a man might be at any time, apparently his belongings are not safe from thieves. While John Hoffman of near Plainfield was attending church services in Waverly, his car, parked near the church, was stolen.

LEFT AND RIGHT

Broken arms are quite common in the Robert Hervey family of Donnellson. One day last week, Roberta, 7, fell and broke her left arm. Three days later, Robert, 5, fell and broke his right arm.

ALEXANDER

U. S. W. C. OBSERVE FIRST ANNIVERSARY PARTY

The Alexander unit of the United Service Women's Club was organized on Oct. 13, 1942, and this year on Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, an anniversary party was held in the school house in honor of the club's first year of organization. The meeting was opened as usual by singing of the national anthem as the flag was carried in, and the pledge of allegiance was given in unison. Then Mrs. Leo Ellison, president, gave a few words of welcome to the members and their guests. Mrs. Lyle Hall sang "Let's bring New Glory to Old Glory" accompanied by Mrs. George Dunn. After a prayer by the club chaplain and roll call, "There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere" was sung by Mary Lou Stoffer, Gladys Stoffer, and Shirley Stoffer, accompanied by Arlene Schulte. Mrs. W. Hansen, secretary, gave a report of activities and accomplishments during the past year. Then the names of the sons, daughters, brothers and husbands of the members of the United Service Women were read, and a small candle was lit for each one. The candles formed a large V, and at the close of this touching candlelight cremony Miss Jean Brandt sang "When the Lights go on Again All over the World" accompanied by Arlene Schulte at the piano. The meeting was closed with the singing of "God Bless America." Everyone was then invited into the other room where tall red, white and blue candles shed their light on long tables beautifully decorated in red, white and blue color scheme. A delicious luncheon was served there to the fifty seven women present.

The club has 26 members. They have made 35 quilts, 10 lap robes, and 16 tray scarves. In September they held a rummage sale and served lunch. This project netted over seventy dollars. They have also raised money in various other ways. This money is used to cover the expenses of the club; for the materials needed for the quilts and robes; and for the benefit of the boys and girls in the service of our country. Each one is sent a birthday and a gift for Christmas.

Mrs. Ursel C. Nolte, who has been in Fresno, California with her husband until a few weeks ago when he left for foreign service, arrived at home Saturday evening, and will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stoffer for a week. LOIS KUPER CROWNED 1943 CARNIVAL QUEEN

A very large crowd attended the Alexander school carnival held on Friday night, October 15th in the school gymnasium. The main event of the evening was the crowning of the 1943 Carnival Queen, Lois Kuper, the freshman candidate. Her classmates brought in nearly seven thousand ears of corn on Friday to make her total number of votes almost a thousand votes more than any of the other three candidates had. All the concessions, side shows, and the Little Theatre were taken care of by the high school students and faculty, and they are very grateful to the merchants of Alexander, Hampton and Belmond, for their gifts which were used as prizes. Over three hundred dollars was taken in from the carnival Friday evening and the corn was sold later bringing the total to over five hundred dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith Now Married 50 Years

Are Honored At Open House Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Tuesday, October 12th, 1943, at their home in Belmond. A large number of neighbors and friends came in during the afternoon to extend best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were both born in Germany, Mr. Smith coming to America at the age of 18 years and Mrs. Smith at 4 years of age. They were married at the home of the bride's parents Oct. 12, 1893, by the Rev. R. Janssen then pastor of the Emmanuel Reformed church, near Belmond.

The Smiths have three children, John, Mrs. Rena Kuhlers and Mrs. Minnie Daniels, and four grand children, who were all present during the afternoon and at the six o'clock dinner to which the brothers and sisters of the couple ,and Rev. and Mrs. O. G. Poppen were invited. During the evening, the Rev. Poppen gave an address to the group appropriate for the occasion.

Thomas-Nicholson Wedding Announced

Coral and white gladioli, with a background of smilax, formed a garden setting for the marriage of Miss Thelma Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Mary Thomas and the late Mr. G. E. Thomas of Meservey, Iowa, to Mr. Keith Tilden Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Nicholson of Indiana Springs, Indiana.

The ceremony took place at 8:30 p. m. on September 23, in the Chapel of King George Lutheran Service Men's Center, San Francisco, of which Rev. J. Edward Oslund, brother-in-law of the bride, is the director. The marriage service was read by the Rev. Oslund in the presence of numerous friends of the bride and groom.

The bride was attired in a black metalesse street length frock with a high neckline. Rose-coral and chartreuse veiling draped around her black felt toque furnished the only decoration. Her corsage was of dainty, miniature yellow orchids.

Mrs. J. Edward Oslund, in a black crepe frock with bugle bead trimming and a black circular coiffure veil, was the only attendant of the bride. Mr. Nicholson was attended by Joe Pacocha, who is one of his shipmates.

Mrs. Nicholson graduated from the Meservey Consolidated schools and the Iowa State Teachers College. She took additional work at the University of Iowa and the State Normal School at Ypsilanti, Michigan, where she specialized in arts and crafts and in the field of special education. Prior to her coming to San Francisco a year ago, she taught in the Special School in Davenport, Iowa. At the present time she is employed at the King George Hotel as PBX operator and file clerk.

Mr. Nicholson graduated from the Trinity Springs School. Prior to his enlistment in the U. S. N., he was a farmer in the same locale. He received his initial naval training at the Great Lakes Naval Staton in Chicago. For the past five months he has been temporarily stationed at the U. S. Fleet Post Office, San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson are living at 1154 O'Farrell St. in San Francisco.

Warned To Prepare CARS For Third Wartime Winter

Belmond Garages-Service Stations Ready

Approaching the third winter since Pearl Harbor, America's wartime motorists much realize the vital necessity of using preventive maintenance measures to conserve parts and assure operation of their vehicles during cold weather.

The increasing scarcity of many materials, particularly copper used in starters, generators, wiring, battey cables and thermostats; rubber radiator and heater hose and other items, make it imperative for car and truck owners to have their vehicles inspected earlier than usual this year to make sure they are put in good condition for winter driving.

Motorists are cautioned to make early arrangements for service inspections and necessary repairs in order to avoid delays, due to the manpower situation, shortage of materials and wartime restrictions.

The significant fact is emphasized that most motor vehicles are entering their third winter of wartime operation with from 20,000 to 30,000 miles of abnormal, slow-speed operation added since this country has been in the war. The coming winter will put an especially heavy strain on long-used batteries, and a careful check of batteries, terminals and cables is recommended.

To prevent failure of starter and generator motors, replacement parts for which are difficult to obtain in many localities, it is suggested that these units be removed well in advance of cold weather for thorough inspection and repair of brusnes, commutators, bearings, etc.

Thermostats also are listed as units which should receive early and careful attention because of the scarcity of materials from which they are made. Cooling systems should be flushed out and all connections tested before anti-freeze solution is added.

Owners who have saved anti-freeze compounds drained from the cooling system last spring are cautioned to add "inhibitors" (rust and corrosion preventive agents) before refilling the radiator with the salvaged anti-freeze. Any sediment which may have formed while the solution was in storage should be carefully removed before re-use.

To conserve vital parts of cars which have undergone prolonged operation under conditions imposed by wartime agencies, owners are urged to give strictest attention to proper lubrication of engine and chassis. Spark plugs and distributor points should be checked and cleaned, and all residue drained from the carburetor and fuel pump.

It is, particularly important to have brakes equalized and adjusted, and brake lines filled with fluid. Brakes should work smoothly and effectively at all four wheels.

A complete motor tune-up is recommended as a wise precaution against wasting fuel, or suffering the discomforts of the engine "stalling" or giving poor performance in extremely cold weather.

Board Proceedings

Clarion, Iowa, October 4, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in regular adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

Chas. Heiden, Chairman; Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, and A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Quarterly reports of R. V. Goslin, Clerk of the District Court; Roy E. Wilson, Sheriff; F. Ross Henry, County Auditor; and Grace L. Fletcher, County Recorder; were placed before the Supervisors and upon motion by Pinkham, second by T. J. Henry, were approved and ordered placed on file.

Since mortgage deed against Lot 1, Block 5, Walnut Grove Addition to Clarion, in favor of Wright County, and recorded in Book 21, Page 577, has been paid in full, it is therefore moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Smith, that the County Auditor be authorized and directed to release said mortgage deed. Motion carried.

Moved by Smith, seconded by Fisher, that the following tax suspensions be granted: Geo. J. Hill, Lot 6 and W 6' of Lot 5, Block 7, McKay's Addition to Clarion; Hazel Claude, Lots 5 and 6, Block 42, Original Town of Goldfield. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that nonresident notice be served on John Harms, Belmond. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that homestead application No. 560, covering Lot 5 and S 45' 7" of Lot 6, Block 1, Eastman's Addition to Clarion, and which was disallowed, be reconsidered and that said application now be approved since applicant has now returned from an extended visit. Motion carried.

The Auditor presented to the Supervisors the following bid from V. P. McIntyre for Centerville coal to be furnished to relief clients: ton lots, delivered, $7.25 per ton; one-half ton lots, delivered, $3.65.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that said bid be accepted. Motion carried.

The time having arrived for the opening of bids on culvert pipe and excavation on Drain No. 15, the board proceeded to open said bids.

Bids were received from Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., for the pipe, and Hanson Construction Company for the labor.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that bid of Hanson Construction Company for excavation of approximately 17,000 cu. yds. @ 18c per cu. yd., laying of 1000 lin. ft. of pipe @ 50c per ft., and extra machine work estimated at 25 hours @ $7.00 per hour; and the bid of Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., for 130 lin. ft. of 8" galv. Helcor pipe @ 77c; 100 lin. ft. of 10" wood stave pipe @ $1.09; 90 lin. ft. of 12" wood stave pipe @ $1.20; 620 lin. ft. of 15" wood stave pipe @ $1.41; 100 lin. ft. of 18" wood stave pipe @ $1.68; be accepted and that the chairman of the Board of Supervisors be authorized and instructed to sign contract on behalf of Wright County Drainage District No. 15, and that the bond of Hanson Construction Company be set at $2800.00. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Pinkham, that H. A. Little be appointed as construction engineer on Drain No. 15 with bond to be filed with the County Auditor in the amount of $500.00. Motion carried.

Minutes read and approved.

On motion adjourned to meet October 5, 1943.

CHAS. HEIDEN, Chairman,
F. ROSS HENRY, County Auditor.

Clarion, Iowa, October 5, 1943.

The Board of Supervisors met at the courthouse in Clarion, Iowa, as per adjournment.

Members present: Chas. Heiden, Chairman; and Wm. Fisher, H. C. Pinkham, T. J. Henry, and A. W. Smith, with the Deputy County Auditor in attendance.

Moved by T. J. Henry, seconded by Fisher, that the 1932 poll tax of Frank Dewey in Troy Township be abated, the same having been paid in Woolstock Corporation. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Smith, that the board approve the appointment of Mrs. Mason Doughton as Local Registrar of Vital Statistics for District 99-3 to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. E. Grandgeorge. Said appointment having been made by R. V. Goslin, County Registrar of Vital Statistics. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that a 55% assessment be made against the original assessment of Drain No. 15, the same to be collected with the first installment of taxes in 1944. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by T. J. Henry, that the poll tax of Sidney Cleveland of Goldfield Corporation for the years 1928, 1929, 1930, 1932 and 1935 be abated for the reason that he was a nonresident of Wright County during that period; and that the county poll tax be compromised in the amount of $2.00. Motion carried.

"HOOFBEATS"

HOOFBEATS

STAFF

Because of several resignations the Hoobeats staff is being reorganized and therefore does not appear in this week's issue. Several more reporters could be used and freshmen and sophomores are especially invited to apply for places on the staff.

In The Bronco Corral

More about the seniors: Look around in either marching band or concert band in the cornet section, and you will find this senior girl very easily. She is 5 feet 4 inches tall with blonde hair, blue eyes, and wears glasses. Besides band she is in glee club (first soprano) and in pep club. When she graduates from B. H. S. she plans to go to some college. Her "chums" are Ruth Hogenson and Lorraine Quigley. Where you see one, there's the other! Now you really ought to know.!.

This senior boy is about 6 feet tall, has blue eyes, brown hair, and is of average build. He is a football player on the Bronco team. He lives in the country and rides his bike back and forth to school. He plans to join the Army Air Corp after he graduates from high school. Know now, don't ya?

Students! dont' forget to pledge your share so the high school can buy at least one "jeep". Back the attack with war stamps!

Junior High Girls Operetta Tuesday Night

Boys' Parts Are Taken By Girls

Girls will be boys as well as girls when the Belmond Junior High Girls Chorus present the "Beauty Contest," on operetta in two acts in the school auditorium next Tuesday night, October 26 at 8 o'clock.

A cast of 17 and a chorus of 17 girls under the direction of Miss Jensen have been rehearsing daily to shape up this amusing evening of entertainment for the public.

Complications arise as some of the men in the cast (played by girls) take on the precarious job of judging a beauty contest in which the girls (also played by girls) are entered. Just who wins, of course, is a secret and can not be divulged until the night of the performance. Further developments arise when politics enter the scene, and one of the ladies decides to oppose the incumbent male mayor for re-election.

Songs and dances by the cast and chorus serve to round out the evening's show.

A matinee for grade children will be held on Monday afternoon at 1:15 at 10c admission charge. Price for adults will be 25c at the door.

Concert Band Members Number Thirty-Three

Many Beginners In The Jr. Band

There are thirty-three members of the high school concert band and twenty-three members of the Junior band. Concert band members are: Jean Fetrow, Marlys Parker, Marjorie Helland, Ruth Hogenson, Betty Uhlenhopp, Janis Bailey, Joan Lent, Pat Chapman, Mary Joy Helland, Shirley Coulson, Grace Hanson, Mildred Helland, Paul Quigley, Tommy Harty, Peggy Greenlander, Nelda Fulton, Lorraine Quigley, Paul McNulty, Jon Hogenson, Ray Henderson, Ed Gabrielson, Bill Coulson, George Sharp, Betty Tracy, Kathryn Holgate, Richard Crapser, Charles Papousek, Abbie Doris Bonte, Wanda Jenison, Loretta Rubendall, Paul Dempsey, Willard Meyer, and Imogene Fjetland.

Beginners not yet in Junior band are Joyce McClure, Harold Holgate, Stanley Eccles, Marilyn Anderson and George Hinman.

Band practices for the advanced concert band are held every Monday and Wednesday at one o'-lock and Friday mornings at eight o'-clock. Junior band is held every Tuesday and Thursday mornings at eight o'clock.

The Junior band has tried some marching, but as yet they look pretty "rugged" or should we say "ragged."

The first few weeks of advanced band marching looked like one from a neighboring town, but it wasn't long before our band took shape and put on some fine demonstrations.

At the first home game the band went through several countermarches, non-reversible countermarches wheel turns, etc. A monkey and a clown provided additional entertainment at the second home game when they tried to march with the band. A "B" for Belmond and a "B" for Britt, and a clock were also executed at this game. At the third home game the band gave a salute to the various branches of the Armed Services by forming several letters and playing appropriate music for each one. The letters included in these formations were "A" for Army, "W" for Wacs and Waves, "M" for Marines, "N" for Navy and "V" for Victory. They were assisted by some fifty Jr. High and high school girls singing the Army Air Corps Song, Wacs and Waves, Marine Hymn, Anchors Aweigh and God Bless America.

October 29th when Belmond plays Buffalo Center the band will make its final appearance of this season. Immediately following the game the band will sponsor an all high school Halloween party with dancing, games and plenty of "spooks", but more about that later.

Pep assemblies have also been aided by the concert band. They appeared at the first two and expect to appear at the next one.

Cast Selected For Junior Class Play

Juniors chosen for parts in their class play were announced last week by Miss Burken, dramatic instructor. The play, "Foot Loose" by Charles Q. Burdett, is to be given Nov. 2.

Following are the members of the cast:

Roger Pals, Paul McNulty, Paul Trees, Ray Henderson, Richard Johnson, Paul Dempsey, Jean Fetrow, Eleanor Soma, Eunice Mehl, Wilma Johnson, Beverly Madsen, Kathryn Holgate and Dorothy Hosick. The rest of the Jr. Class will take part in the stage crew, advertising committee and other odd jobs.

"Foot Loose" is a 3 act comedy and very appropriate for amateurs, yet has something constuctive to offer to everyone.

Sixth Grade Pupils Bring Historical Items

The Sixth Grade students have an interesting collection of antiques. In History, they are studying the Pioneers of America and have, in accordance with this, arranged their collection.

Some of the articles on display are: an old musket, used in the Civil War days brought by Roy Hardwick, and a powder horn, 90 years old furnished by Keith Greenfield. Nancy Johnson displayed a doll 2000 years old. There were other dolls also, that proved to be quite old, because of their white china faces. There are many post cards and pictures depicting the scenes in Belmond and neighboring towns, far back in the days of horse and buggy. Most of these were brought by Darlene Rierson. The newspapers that are on display contain pictures and articles that are dated far back in the 20's. Jon Hogenson brought a daguerreotype, two tintypes, and a call bell, all of these dating 100 years back.

There were many more interesting articles, a display such as this is very educational as well as interesting. Why don't you stop in the Sixth Grade and have a look?

Grade Four to Eight In Testing Program

An all day testing program was conducted in grades four to eight inclusive last Monday. The test given was the Stanford achievement test and was a complete battery of tests covering reading, language, arithmetic, social studies, science and spelling.

Because of its length the tests was given in four sittings ranging from 40 to 50 minutes each. After the last sitting which ended at two o'clock he grades included were dismissed for the day.

The reason for these tests was to analyze the pupil and classes to determine where the emphasis should be placed. Teachers have the complete record of the pupil's ability in each subject.

Mental tests have been given in various grades throughout the school in the past week. The new pupils in the school have also been tested.

COSTUME CLOSET

Do you have any old costumes or old fashioned clothing that could be used for costumes, cluttering up your attic? If so, why don't you send them to Miss Jensen as an addition to the collection of costumes she is making for a permanent school supply?

Almost anything is acceptable—clown suits, monkey suits, paper costumes, clothing of other lands. Many costumes are needed for the junior high operetta, October 26, so send yours along at once.

Seen & Heard
On and Off The Grid

In regard to the Broncos really gallant showing before the mighty Indians of Forest City last Friday night, the people of Belmond can have nothing but praise for the team and squad.

Breaking into the starting lineup and against stiff opposition many of the boys saw action for the first time. Rich Wagoner, center, started and played a full game of bang up football for the Broncos. "Pink" Walrod saw considerable amount of action as quarter-back and did a nice job of ball handling. The four seniors that played bang-up ball were "Dice" Campbell, "Nook" Goeman, 'Ozzie" Nelson who caught the pass for touchdown and Ed Banning who drove the other tally over the white line. Les Classick played a stellar game at tackle for the local team.

Showing a fighting spirit that has never been witnessed before by the Belmond followers our fighting eleven drew praise from every spectator and also from Coach Lansing.

Scoring two touchdowns, one a pass from Banning, a converted guard, to Nelson and the second, Banning drove over for the tally.

Forest City had just too much power as the score indicated but this was a moral victory for our gallant eleven.

The Indians remarked about the fact that the team didn't seem to know how to spell or sound the word quit. They were fighting all the way.

The next game is going to be with Renwick on the opponent's field. Let's all be at Renwick next Friday.

Students Dismissed As Teachers Issue Book IV

Registration Will End Friday

Classes were interrupted this week as the teachers went to work for the United States government issuing and registering Ration Book Number Four.

In order to handle the 2700 registrants expected at the schoolhouse, three periods have been arranged for the work, yesterday afternoon, this afternoon (Thursday) and all day Friday.

All grades from kindergarten to eighth were dismissed Wednesday at noon and the grade teachers were used to handle the work that afternoon. High school classes are being cancelled this afternoon and the high school teachers are acting as clerks and registrars.

Tomorrow morning, from 9 to 12, the grade teachers are again on duty while the high school teachers take over in the afternoon from 1 to 5. School is dismissed for all day throughout the entire school Friday.

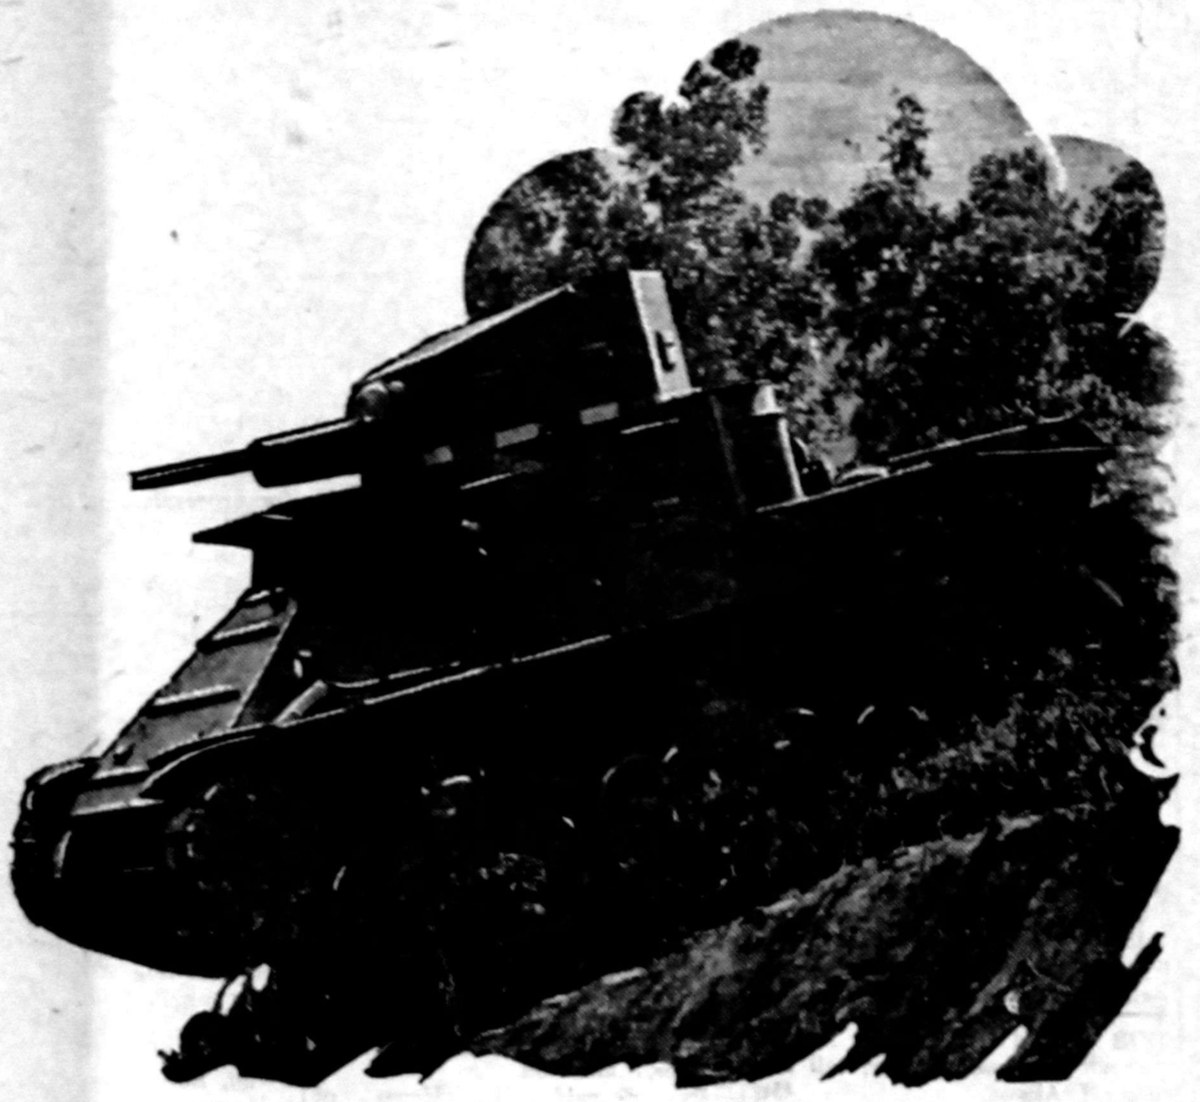
POWER!



The Money You Give To The National War Fund Is A "Powerful" Help to Our Allies

There are dark nights in Norway. Nights when Nazi sentries felt uneasy at their posts.

It is not what they hear that disturbs them. It is what they do NOT hear. The deep silence behind a bush. The stealthy quiet around the corner of a house. A terrible hush in the blackness all around them.

For the Norwegians lost their country without ever surrendering themselves. They wait now in the night to strike back at their opponents.

If they ever HAD really given in, there would be no need of the thousands of Nazi troops now in Norway. They could have been sent to the Russian front, or Tunisia. BUT THEY COULD NOT BE SPARED.

They can't be spared in Holland either. Or Poland or France or Yugoslavia or Belgium. In China, tens of thousands of Jap troops must also remain. And Axis troops will have to remain in countless countries so long as the people they have "conquered" have the stamina to resist. And it is to our advantage as Americans, to see that these people - - our Allies - - are kept in the fight...with help from America.

You can help support THIS ARMY ALREADY IN EUROPE - - - by your contribution to the National War Fund, which you make through our community's own war fund.

For this year the agencies that can do this job have banded together to make the collection and distribution of funds simpler, cheaper and more effective. Their job is three fold. To keep our fighting allies in the fight, in unoccupied - - and where possible - - in occupied countries. To provide, through the USO, friendly help for our men in the armed services. And to relieve distress where it is found here on the home front.

Because all these agencies are now banded together into one organization, you are being asked to contribute only ONCE for ALL of them. Because you are being asked to give only ONCE you are also being asked to give GENEROUSLY. Add up all you would have given to each of these agencies throughout the year, and then DOUBLE THE TOTAL! Is is one of the most important contributions you can make to victory!

Give ONCE for ALL these

If these plants get under way in time to process this year's crop, Iowa will be able to process nearly half of the soybeans grown in the state.

This will result in more of the high protein meal becoming available for use of Iowa feeders. Last year 75 per cent of Iowa's soybean crop was shipped out of the state for processing. The meal from that 75 per cent of the crop has a tendency not to return to the state.

The cost of shipping Iowa beans to an Illinois plant and returning the meal to a central Iowa farm amounts to $8.30 a ton, according to Dr. O. R. Sweeney, who has developed a safe solvent process of extracting soybean oil at Iowa State College.

By expanding the state's capacity for processing its own beans, farmers here will profit not only by the saving in transportation, but also by increasing soil fertility, in Sweneey's opnion. When a farmer hauls home a load of concentrated feed, he is returning about as much fertility to his land as if he had hauled home a load of commercial fertilizer.

Plans Underway To Observe Armistice Day

Church Women Planning Program

A committee of women, representing the churches of Belmond, met on Tuesday evening to make plans for an Armistice Day program on Thursday, November 11 in Belmond.

The program, which is not yet complete, will be held at the school house and will open at 10:30 in the morning with the song, "America." This will be followed by a responsive worship service with Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen as leader. At 11:00 o'clock the audience will stand and face east for a moment of silent prayer, as has been the custom on Armistice Day. J. Leslie Leonard has been secured to give an address on "Peace."

Navy Mothers will be special guests on the occasion and the general public is cordially invited.

Church women all over the United States are observing 'World Community Day" on November 11 and in this connection a national ballot will be held—answer yes or no—to two questions of national and world importance.

First question—"Would you be willing to instruct your Senator and Representative in Washington to vote for a bill which would authorize the United States to join a world organization for the purpose of insuring a just and durable peace and share in its expenses and all other responsibilities involved?"

Second question—"Would you be willing to continued for a period after the war such war-time regulations as the rationing of food, gasoline, restriction of travel, etc., if such were necessary to relieve distress, restore order and help other nations recover from war damages?"

The committee in charge of plans for the Armistice Day program includes: Mrs. W. C. Tyrrell, Jr., Congregational Church; Mrs. R. B. Banning, Fundamental Baptist; Mrs. Glenn Crapser, St. John's Lutheran; Mrs. James Barry, St. Francis, Mrs. R. E. Courson, Methodist.

Army Officer Thanks Belmond Red Cross For Knitted Garments

Last week the Belmond Red Cross Chapter received a letter from the commanding officer of a squadron at the Army Air Field at Great Bend, Kansas with reference to knitted garments made in Belmond. The letter is as follows:

"We have just received a shipment of knitted garments from the American Red Cross representative at this Field and upon inspection found that your Chapter had knitted some of the items.

"We wish to thank you very much for the sweaters and assure you that they will be gladly accepted by the men. The men in the Guard Squadron are on duty for long periods of time on the outside, and the weather and temperature in this section of the country requires that very warm clothing be worn. The job of guarding the vital installations on this Field is of most importance to the war effort and it is quite important that the men be kept as comfortable as possible while on duty and on leave.

"Again I wish to thank you on behalf of my men for the articles which we have received."

Jack A. Keller, Jr. 2nd Lt. A. C. Commanding

Prominent Journalist To Speak At Annual Farm Bureau Meeting

Heavy Scrap Iron Needed Drive Is On

Wright County Quota 100 Tons

Announcement is made this week by H. F. Graepler, Wright county scrap drive chairman, that the county's quota in the state and nationwide drive for heavy scrap is 100 tons. The drive now under way in the state will begin in this county at once and all available scrap must be in the hands of the dealers by November 15th.

In making the announcement Mr. Graepler said, "We all know that every farmer is especially busy at this time, but our boys on the front lines are busy too. The heavy scrap you collect and bring in is badly needed to keep our steel mills going. If every farmer in the county will only take just the few hours needed to search for and load up all scrap that may yet be on his farm and bring it to the nearest dealer, he will be doing an important job."

C. J. Uhlenhopp will be chairman in charge of the drive in Belmond, Pleasant, north Iowa and east Grant townships.

Services Held Tuesday For Mrs. George Hake

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the residence for Mrs. George Hake who passed away on Sunday, October 24 after an illness that had kept her bedfast for several weeks. Ministers who officiated were the Rev. H. J Knoploh and Rev. O. G. Poppen. Burial was made in the Belmond cemetery.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church of Belmond, Iowa, Saturday, Oct. 23, 1943, at 2 p. m. for Mrs. S. O. Windecker, who passed away Oct. 21. Mrs. Windecker had been in poor health for several years and had been bedfast for the last 10 weeks of her life. Interment was made at Iowa Falls, Iowa.

General Mills Consummates Purchase Here

May Start This Week On Rehabilitation Of Sugar Plant

Officials of General Mills, Inc., and the American Crystal Sugar Company met at Belmond on Wednesday to consummate final business and legal arrangements in connection with the purchase of the local sugar plant by General Mills, Inc.

W. E. Flumerfelt, manager of local operations for General Mills stated yesterday, "We hope to make this industry an asset to the city and vicinity." He indicated that the personnel which handled affairs for the American Crystal Sugar Company locally will be retained by the General Mills organization.

According to Mr. Flumerfelt, rehabilitation of the plant and new construction will begin as soon as engineers can be brought to the location. It is hoped that work will be started this week.

Officials present at the local plant Wednesday to close the deal included the following:

Representing General Mills, Inc. —Whitney Eastman, President of the Vegetable Oil and Protein Division; Ed Thode, Attorney and Assistant Secretary; Al Schulze, Engineer.

Washington Turkeys Feast On Iowa Corn

The demand for Iowa corn comes from far and wide.

E. F. Bailey received a letter recently from his cousin, Henry Fenton, who has a turkey ranch near Vancouver, Washington. Fenton's letter to Mr. Bailey was an urgent plea for shelled Iowa corn to help solve the problem of feed scarcity in the state of Washington for his 8000 turkeys.

After an exchange of telegrams, three car loads of corn were shipped to Washington from the Olaf elevator in good old Iowa, the state "where the tall corn grows."

More Iowa corn has been ordered by two other men out in that section of Washington and will be shipped as soon as the soy bean rush is over and railway cars are available.

It's Buffalo Center Friday At Belmond

Five Seniors Will Play Last Game

Five seniors, all in the starting lineup, will play their last football game for Belmond High as the Broncos face Buffalo Center here in the last game of the season Friday night, October 29.

Jack Campbell, letterman since his sophomore year, will start as left half and will carry the brunt of the ball-carrying from that spot. Jack has starred at guard for two seasons and still plays that position defensively, but his great speed is being utilized as an offensive threat this year by Coach Lansing, who has transferred him to the backfield.

Eddie Banning, another converted guard, will start his last game at the right halfback position. Eddie, like Campbell, won a letter as a guard last year and was playing that position again until the middle of the season. He is used primarily for blocking, but also does much of the forward passing for the team.

On the receiving end of most of the passes will be Bob Nelson, another senior, who has developed into one of the most brilliant pass catchers ever to play for Belmond. In every game he has made seemingly impossible catches, and he made Belmond's only scores against the strong Forest City and Garner teams. He will start at left end.

At right end the starter will be Myron Goeman, a senior who was never out for football until this year. He has come along fast and is one of the strongest defensive players on the team besides being exceptionally fast down the field under punts.

Bob McBride, who has been out for football four years but has never won a letter, will get the starting assignment at center. Because of size, Bob has never made the first string, but has never failed to report for practice in the fall. Alternating with Bob at center will be Richard Wagner, sophomore.

Other members of the starting backfield will be Larry Dorr, sophomore at quarterback; and Richard Michelson, junior, at fullback.

To complete the starting line Arthur Stockseth, junior, and Les Classick, sophomore, will be at the tackle positions; and Paul Wicks, sophomore, and either Richard Stockseth, sophomore, or Ernest Tudor, sophomore, will play guard.

Belmond enters this game with a record of three victories and four defeats. If they win over Buffalo Center they will close their conference season and their entire season with a percentage of .500.

Belmond Running 21% Under War Chest Quota

NAVY MOTHERS WANT MORE MEMBERS

At the regular meeting of the Navy Mother's Club, "Raymond Quigley, No. 302" at the home of Mrs. Helen Thompson on the evening of Nov. 21, all mothers who have a son in the U. S. Navy, U. S. Marine Corps, Navy reserves and U. S. Coast Guard are invited to attend. Mrs. Effie Greenfield, member of the commitee says, "Some new members have been taken into the club recently, but we would like many more."

Mrs. Omar Kelley and Mrs. Thompson are hostesses at the meeting November 2.

23 Block Wardens Have Not Reported

Thomas Hood, Chairman of the War Chest drive for funds, announced Wednesday that according to the number of books turned in to date, Belmond is running 21 per cent under its quota.

$1,287.50 is the amount of money solicited on the books of the block wardens who have already turned in completed reports, compared to $1,031.50 which was the amount received. There are still 23 block wardens who have not made their reports.

Belmond was assigned $1807.65 as its share of the quota of $20,000 set up for Wright county. E. F. Bisbey, War Chest Drive county chairman has reported that many Iowa counties have already gone over the top.

"Every American recognizes the worth of the war relief agencies, the home front services and the U. S. O., and would give to each one separately," said Hood "However, this year, through the National War Fund, the collection and distribution of the monies needed by these causes is much more effective and efficient. Because you are being asked to give but once, for all, you are also asked to give more generously. When you support the National War Fund by giving to your united community campaign, the War Chest, you are making one of the most important contributions to victory."

"Every resident of Wright county will want to do his part in this campaign," Chairman Bisbey states.

Long Pheasant Season Will Open Oct. 28

Get Landowners Permit To Hunt

With the longest season and the largest territory open to pheasant hunting, beginning at 9 a. m. Oct. 28, and ending Dec. 3, the annual reminder to ask permission from the landowner to hunt is in order.

The recent pheasant census figures reveal the greatest pheasant population in the state's history, and many farmers are anxious to have the surplus birds harvested. However, many "No Hunting" signs will be posted throughout the pheasant territory. Most of these "Keep Out" signs are posted because, at one time or another, the lack of sportsmanship and fair play on the part of hunters has necessitated them. Most of these posted properties are open to hunters in whom the landowner has confidence. It is therefore the responsibility of the individual sportsman to make himself welcome on these farms.

It is a mistake and a violation of the Iowa statutes to trespass with dog or gun on any enclosed or culivated lands other than public shooting grounds without first securing permission from the owner. Hunters cannot be urged too strongly to arrive at their hunting grounds in plenty of time to contact the owner of the property on which they expect to hunt. The importance of farmer-sportsman relationship cannot be overstressed, for on the agreeableness of it depends our upland game shooting. One careless or malicious act by a single hunter may close a given area to all for a long period of time. If everyone conducts himself as a true sportsman, the "No-Hunting" signs will soon disappear.

Front Page Editorial—

Last week the Belmond Independent had one of its biggest thrills and privileges in some years—the printing of a news story announcing the beginning of activities by General Mills, Inc. in purchasing the local property of the American Crystal Sugar Company and converting the plant to the purpose of processing soy beans.

Of course, those experts from General Mills, who carefully investigated the Belmond property, had already taken into consideration the desirability of location, which is in the heart of an agricultural territory most suitable for raising large quantities of soy beans.

What these men may not have been able to discover from their investigations is the general attitude of the people in Belmond toward this new operation.

In voicing the sentiment and opinion of the Independent, we know we speak for the other business men an citizens of the town. We shall watch the development of the General Mills' industry here with the keenest interest, we shall extend at all times our heartiest cooperation, and we shall cordially welcome new families who may be coming to Bemond to make their homes. We are sure they will find, as we have done, that Belmond is truly "the center of friendly service."

KEEP ON DOING AND GIVING FOR VICTORY

George C. Hansen, S 1-c, former editor of the Belmond Independent and now co-editor of the Fleet City News at the Naval Personnel Distribution Center, Pleasanton, California, sends in a poem published recently in the Naval newspaper. The poem was written by Lieut. Vincent DePaul J. Farrell, Editorial Advisor of the Fleet City News and director of the Physical Fitness program at the Pleasanton Naval Center. It constitutes an urgent plea to folks on the home front to keep on doing and giving—until it hurts—in order to help our Armed Forces win a complete Victory. Editor Hansen states, "Lieut. Farrell is tops. I am very happy to work under his direction."

The poem is as follows:

"To victory's goal we must, we can!
This drive should swell throughout our land.
For war's a job that calls for men
With hearts chucked full of purpose and ends.

The part we play may not seem much,
But we should drive with a certain touch.
The result depends on each pitching-in
Let's shoulder this privilege with plenty of vim!

So get in the scrap, save the tin,
Buy plenty of Bonds, work waist lines thin.
For in this great game no one can fall
What is our answer? Get on the ball.

Rule strikes out! Yes, let the Axis know it,
By using less war essentials we can show it.
Eat less food, save rubber, clothes and gas
These things are needed to give our fighters class.

It calls for greater production and sacrifice
To figure how; and learn to thrive
It demands the finest of thought and deed
For by striving hard we will succeed.

It makes it a duty of our loyal mass
To build and mould things, sound and fast!
For Mother at home to scrimp and save
Yet keep our loved ones well and brave.

We must carry on with that will to win
Yet, face our loss with a fighting grin.
For by sharing sadness, work or mirth,
We'll make our World a place of worth.

So let's sail into Dame Despair
By charging hard! and hitting square!
By getting up from the Japs sneak beat,
Our victorious smash will taste more sweet."

Lieut. Vincent DePaul J. Farrell, USNR
